Local phones get obscenity gauges

In response to the increasing number of obscene phone calls being reported locally to the Pigeon Telephone Company, the firm is responding by installing some state-of-the-art equipment at local telephone booths in the Pigeon area.

The Pigeon Telephone Company has announced they have purchased small attachments to all public telephones, and will be installing them this week.

According to company spokesmen, the attachment will squirt a cartridge of inedible red ink into the ear of a caller whenever obscene calls are made. Each phone will have a newly patented "chatzazzle" gauge in the mouthpiece, which will register the temperature and lust in the voice of the caller, and the attachment will discharge the ink when a pre-set limit of lust has been reached.

Says PTC spokesman, "We are still working on compiling the proper figures to use to install in these telephones. Since Pigeon is a rather conservative community, we expect to set the limits at a rather low level, so that even minor obscene phone calls will be put to rest. We want an end to this dirty business."

The company adds that the ink is harmless, but cannot be washed off for 30 to 50 days, giving investigators plenty of time to locate the caller. The PTC advises that local residents who are fearful of being suspected as possible obscene phone callers should refrain from wearing red wearing clothing for the next several weeks.

Detroit Edison officials said they are working for a plan to decorate and light the square balloons and silos for nighttime advertising. "With a lighted message, there’d be no need to install expensive warning signals to help planes avoid flying into the balloons or silos at night," they stated.

Dr. Fialukhter said he is developing a balance-valve between the gas in the stored beans and the Aerolite Units to assist in loading or unloading beans from the suspended silos to earth. He said that the gas will simply be transferred from the Aerolite Units into the silos, gently lowering the silos to accept or unload beans.

When silos are to be raised back into place again, gas from the beans will be compressed and pumped back into balloons, giving them the buoyancy to move them up above ground again.

Long road ahead for Baby Becky

By SALLY RUMMEL

Falling in love is easy, getting married and starting a family is another story for many of the notion of “baby fever” has swept through the Bay Area, and it’s no surprise that when one couple comes along who proves that you can keep your love and have a family, it’s worth sharing. This week, we focus on the story of baby Becky, who has put a new twist on the traditional family narrative.

A TENDER MOMENT - Mother Panne Bryce and daughter Becky share a rare and tender moment, surrounded by medical equipment which has only been needed to keep her alive for her first 8 months of life. Becky weighs just six pounds, ten ounces, but her mother’s love has brought both family and her the greatest joy, even through an unimagined series of hospital stays and uncertainties.

WINSLOW - Anticipated values for the cuts of Omaha are up slightly, with a drop of about $10.00 each from the previous year due to increased demand for the Omaha cut. The market for Omaha has been strong, with demand continuing to outpace supply.

FIGHTING SPOT - All of the new and exciting cuts of Omaha have been on display in Winslow’s new, state-of-the-art facility. The new facility has been designed to accommodate the growing demand for Omaha cuts, with increased capacity and efficiency.

Annual meetings feature budget cutting...
As we see it editorially

Schools deserve adequate support

Voters in the Elkhon Pignon-Rahm Park "Luther" school district will decide tomorrow whether they want the Luther School District to pass this or not. According to the district, the funds will be used for two major purposes: to increase the school's teaching staff and to make repairs to the building. The district says it needs more money to operate. If it doesn't receive enough money, the district says it will have to raise taxes. A yes vote means more money for the school, a no vote means less money. Voters are told to consider the impact on the school's ability to operate and to decide whether they want to invest in the school. A yes vote means more teachers and a better learning environment, a no vote means fewer teachers and a less desirable learning environment.

Cutting Social Security office

A little room from last week's County Board of Commissions meeting was垫实 Social Security office in part of a large room. It is the only room in the county that has a separate Social Security office. So far, the room is empty, but it is expected to be used for Social Security purposes. The Social Security office is now located in a separate room from the rest of the County Board of Commissions. It is hoped that this will make it easier for people to find the Social Security office and make it more convenient to use.

New deadlines

Beginning immediately, news stories and photos should be submitted to the Progress Advance by 8 a.m. Monday, for that week's issue.

Superintendent's Success or failure

By Harry Brunet

Laker School Superintendent

When the hallways are crowded after school lets out, it's not always a pleasant experience. Some students push their way through the crowd, while others stand patiently waiting for their turn. It can be overwhelming for some students, especially if they're not used to such crowds. The crowded hallways are not a reflection of the school's environment, but rather a result of the amount of students attending. The hallways can be particularly busy during certain times of the year, such as the end of the school year when students are preparing for their final exams.

Recolections or By George

By George Kem

On the other hand, the district is underfunded, and still needs more money. The district has been told by the state that it needs to increase its funding by at least $1 million this year. The district is hoping to raise this money through a bond issue. The bond issue would be for $1 million, and would be used to fund the district's capital projects.

The truth is, this is a deeper story than either side is able to tell. And, how it's settled — or not — will tell a great deal about the future of this school district.

We are aware of the possibility that the school district may face a deficit of $1.5 million next year. This deficit is projected to be a result of increased costs, decreased enrollment, and the need to improve school facilities. It is the responsibility of the school district to address this deficit and ensure the financial stability of the school.

The school district has already taken steps to address this deficit. It has reduced its budget and shifted resources to areas that are critical to student success. The school district has also explored options for increasing revenue, such as through partnerships with local businesses.

We urge the school district to continue to work on addressing this deficit in a way that is fiscally responsible and sustainable. It is important that the school district make decisions that are in the best interest of the students and the community.

Dufty urges "No voters" to get involved at school

Dufty urges "No voters" to get involved at school. This letter is addressed to the "No voters" who have not yet decided whether they want to support the school district or not. Dufty is urging these voters to consider the impact of their decision on the school's ability to operate and to decide whether they want to invest in the school. Dufty says that the school needs more money to operate and that a yes vote means more money for the school, a no vote means less money. Dufty is hoping that the "No voters" will consider the impact of their decision and make a decision that is in the best interest of the students and the school.

We want best for children

The school district has been working hard to improve the educational experience for all children in the district. This includes working to increase the number of students who are on track to graduate and the number of students who are prepared for college or career.

The school district has also been working to improve the safety and security of the school environment. This includes working to reduce the number of incidents of violence and to ensure that all students feel safe and supported while at school.

The school district has been working to improve the quality of instruction for all students. This includes working to increase the number of teachers who are trained in effective teaching strategies and to ensure that all students have access to high-quality instruction.

The school district has also been working to increase the number of extracurricular activities and clubs available to students. This includes working to provide students with opportunities to explore their interests and to develop their skills.

We believe that every child deserves a quality education, and we are working hard to ensure that every child in the school district has the opportunity to succeed. We would like to encourage all "No voters" to get involved at school and to consider the impact of their decision on the school's ability to operate and to ensure that every child has the opportunity to succeed.

Keep Lakners tops; vote "YES"

Three years ago, a percentage in the school district was 11.75%. We are currently at 11.77%. This is a very small increase, and it is important that the school district continue to work on improving the educational experience for all children in the district.

We urge the "No voters" to consider the impact of their decision on the school's ability to operate and to decide whether they want to invest in the school. Dufty says that the school needs more money to operate and that a yes vote means more money for the school, a no vote means less money. Dufty is hoping that the "No voters" will consider the impact of their decision and make a decision that is in the best interest of the students and the school.

At times it's not wise to drive the kids home in the rain. We need to consider the impact of our decision on the school's ability to operate and to ensure that every child has the opportunity to succeed.

We urge the "No voters" to consider the impact of their decision on the school's ability to operate and to decide whether they want to invest in the school. Dast urges, stay away from addictions

DEAR EDITOR:

I suggest anyone who is in the school, and as a parent who is not, should read your story on page 6 of the March 23 issue of the Progress Advance. The story was well written and described a situation that is surprising to many people.

I think this letter is as sincere as the author's, and I support the author's recommendation to the reader.

We're Asking YOU...

This WEEK’s QUESTION, ASKED BY JACQUE PECK TO LACER HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS at RANDON?

Why do you think people should vote in favor of the Lake City School millage request on Apr. 6?

After attending school in the Lake City District for 12 years, I feel we have one of the finest educational institutions in the state. Considering what would happen if the millage doesn't pass, many major problems will arise and things will get worse than they are now.

Letters to My Cousin Gus

Dear Cousin Gus,

I hope this letter finds you well. I wanted to update you on the recent events in my life and share some news about our family.

Firstly, I have been feeling quite busy with school and work. It's been a bit challenging, but I am managing to keep up with my studies and continue my part-time job. I have a lot of responsibilities, but I am making progress and staying motivated.

Secondly, I have been thinking about our upcoming trip to visit our relatives in your city. I am looking forward to seeing everyone and catching up. I will let you know the exact dates and details as soon as I have them.

Please write back as soon as you can. I hope to hear from you soon.

Yours truly,

[Your Name]
I grew up in the Laker School System at the time of the original merger, when the idea of providing the best education possible was supported by a large number of people who cared enough to sacrifice much, so that my generation and generations to come might “have it better” “Achieve More” and “go further in life.” My classmates and I were told again and again that the possibilities of what we could accomplish were endless—limited only by how much we were willing to learn. Now we are being asked to reaffirm what those people voted for 28 years ago. Most universities are currently raising their standards for admittance, and those students who are not properly prepared will be shut out. How on earth can we afford to close our eyes to our young people’s need for a quality education? Knowledge is moving ahead so rapidly that even the news media has difficulty keeping up. If we allow our children to be unprepared for today, it means dooming them to a lifetime of unpreparedness, facing tomorrow’s without the knowledge of how to cope, how to change, how to meet and surmount the challenges ahead.

I cannot speak for others, but I can tell you that no sacrifice is too great for the welfare of my children. If that means having to forego some luxuries, then so be it. I find it difficult to believe that today’s adults have become so uncaring, even toward their own children, that they would put their own wants above the needs of their children. Education is not an expendable commodity—something that can be acquired later with little effort. At whatever the cost, we have to realize that supporting our schools is necessary NOW, not two or three years down the road when things get easier for us all. Education can’t wait three years…my children can’t wait three years…and neither can you!

Sweat Adelines in regional competition

For the first time since receiving their official charter last May, Lake Huron Chapter of Sweet Adelines will participate in regional chorus competition. Twenty members of the newly-formed chapter will travel to Whiting Auditorium, Pinya, where they will be judged in sound, music, showmanship and expression, according to member Ann Sherley of Caseville.

Last Monday evening, Lake Huron Chapter members presented a "Family and Friends Night" at USA Middle School, Soleon, for the benefit of the community. Under the guidance of Director Laurie "Sam" Eastman and Associate Directors Marian Ratke and Peg Hartman, they performed many of the selections they will sing at Regional competition. Refreshments were served following the concert. The Sweet Adelines group offers family-oriented songfests frequently and are planning a special guest night on Monday, April 13.

The chapter meets regularly from 7-9:30 p.m. each Monday at USA Middle School. New members are always welcome.

Township meetings

lights would be assessed the millage.

The supervisor/assessor salary remains unchanged at $5,124.80 and Trustee continue to each receive $1,500 per year. Clerk salary was raised from $1,500 to $2,000 and the Treasurer was raised from $5,000 to $6,000.

The two salary increases were due to the amount of paper work township officials do for Bay Port which is not incorporated, Nitz says.

Attendance was 13.

BROOKFIELD: Discussion at the meeting centered on bridges that need replacement and on the use of chloride for dust control. No action was taken on either matter, although the Township Board will probably allow township residents to pick up chloride for dust control, according to Clerk Ed Good, Jr.

Major road improvement this year will be paving of 1 1/2 miles of McElroy Road between Overendale and Gagetown Roads.

Salaries remain the same at $6,000 for supervisor/assessor, $2,500 each for clerk and treasurer and $25 per meeting for each trustee.

Attendance was 11.

CHANDLER: Revenues of $123,759 are in the coming year will be down from the $151,165 generated last year, according to Clerk Kim Ling.

The major discussion topic was roads, although no specific roads were given for improvement at the meeting.

Salaries remain unchanged at $9,400 for supervisor, $2,000 each for clerk and treasurer and $40 per meeting for each trustee.

Attendance was 26.

NORTH: Revenues for the 1987-88 fiscal year are expected to be about $181,000, which includes a fund balance of $5,600.

Road improvements in the coming year will be paving Dan Road from Caseville Road to M-22 in cooperation with Caseville Township.

Township residents also urged the Board to support Huron County Board of Commissioners in its attempt to gain federal funds for a comprehensive water study which would be the basis for a county-wide water control ordinance. Board also informed those in attendance that a large quantity of material has been received from proponents and opponents of the proposed airport in Caseville Township. The Board said action on the matter was permanently tabled.

Salaries remain unchanged. Supervisor/assessor, $2,500 each for clerk and treasurer in addition to $35 per meeting for each trustee.

Attendance was 13.

CASCAYLE: Revenues will remain about the same next year as projected gross fund revenues total $93,065 compared with $93,000 last year.

Specific roads earmarked for improvement this year include Dunn Road and also Saval Road.

The Cascade project provided the main subject of discussion. The Harbor Master's salary is being increased from $5,000 last year to $5,050 in the coming year. The reason for the pay increase was greater responsibility and more hours on the part of the Harbor Master.

Salaries of elected officials remain unchanged with supervisor receiving $4,000, assessor paid $6,200 and clerk paid $7,800.

Eight people were present.
