SPRING BREAK

Schools in Huron County agreed to set the third week in March as the spring break next year.

SADD UPDATE

Lisa DiCamillo, Laker chapter advisor of Students Against Driving Drunk reported on activities of the organization. She noted the Laker High assembly which provides information about the effects of alcohol on the body and thanked the Huron County Sheriff Department for its cooperation in the assembly. DiCamillo also informed the board about other group activities which are aimed at making the prom-graduation season safer for high school students.

 renewal 1676 "yes" to 1144 "no" votes, according to unofficial figures from Huron County Clerk Helen Lemanski. Most local municipalities approved the measure, but Brookfield and Sebewaing Townships turned it down.

TAP officials

Some leadership is scheduled and demand buses are up, and that service will continue thanks to the approval.

POLICE BLOTTER NEWS

A wood stove is the likely starting point for a May 9 fire which destroyed a shed at the Dave Damm residence, 872 Brown Road, Bay Port, about 15:30 a.m. Winser Township Firemen responded, along with assistance from Fair Haven Township Firemen.

besides the shed, an all-terrain-vehicle and snowmobile were destroyed. No value has been set on the loss.

COURT PROCEEDINGS

In Tuscola County Circuit Court, Judge Patrick Joly ruled last week when:

- Clarence C. Bittner, 28, of Gagetown, was found guilty by jury of felonious assault, following the December knife attack on his wife, Sherry L. Bittner after a domestic dispute. Clarence Bittner will be sentenced soon, and $300 bond was continued.

In Huron County Circuit Court, Judge M. Richard Knouck presided last week when:

- Joseph Phillips, 21, of Caseville, was sentenced to six months in the Huron County Jail, following his March 27 guilty plea to receiving and concealing stolen property over $100. He was charged following a January incident in Pigeon involving long guns originally owned by a Caseville couple, as investigated by Michigan State Police and Caseville Police.

Phillips was ordered to pay $296.91 in restitution, $100 fines and costs and is on probation for three years.

- Thomas V. Emerson, 17 of Pigeon, was sentenced to 18 days in jail, fined $300 and directed to pay $250 in restitution, following his March 27 guilty plea to a charge of larceny over $100, following a March 4 incident at a Pigeon residence involving loss of $50 in cash, as investigated by Pigeon Village Police. Emerson has pleaded aickey full submission and said his future participation in the guiding of his two-year probation if all probation conditions are met:

- Dwayne L. Drexler, 19 of Elkton, was sentenced to one year in jail following his March 27 guilty plea to breaking and entering a building with intent to commit larceny, following a Nov. 28 incident in Elkton, investigated by Elkton Police.

In 3rd District Court, First Division (Huron County), Judge John Schubel recently heard these pleas and made the following recommendations:

- Jeffrey S. Flockhoner, 21 of Bay Port, and Chris M. Bolzman, 36 of Sebewaing, both pled guilty to larceny under $100, following damage to an advertising sign in Brookfield Township. April 9, investigated by Huron County Sheriff's Deputies; ordered to pay $150 fines and costs each, and make restitution of half the damages when determined;

- Three persons pled guilty to impaired driving and received similar fines and loss of driving licenses. Leslie Ann Jacoby, 21 of Sebewaing, Sandra K. Miller, 18 of Port Austin and Donald W. Carter, 41 of Caseville, each were fined $150 and lose driving rights for 90 days.

- Bentley D. Phillips, 24 of Bad Axe, pled guilty to the disorderly persons charge, following a May 5 incident in Huron Beach Road, Pigeon, investigated by Huron County Sheriff's Deputies; fined $75.
