Many food buys this Thanksgiving!

The forecast for the 1987 US cranberry crop is 1.88 million barrels — down fractionally from last year. Look for smaller berries due to a severe drought during the summer.

The US and the Michigan apple crops are very large this year, and prices are way under those of a year ago. At today’s prices, shoppers may want to feature apple pie or at least apple desserts this month.

Belish plate is a modern addition to traditional holiday dinners. Shoppers should find excellent quality carrots, celery, broccoli, cauliflower, radishes and green onions at attractive prices. Don’t forget to make a stock of a part of the relish plate as Michigan is the No. 1 producer of picking cucumbers in the country.

The USDA forecast of all US cranberry output for the 1987-88 season is 1.83 million boxes — 19% higher than a year ago. But California navel crop is substantially smaller and shipping has been delayed. Grapefruit for the 1987-88 season is 66.4 million boxes — 6% above that of a year ago.

HE GOT HIS: A lucky shot at Opening Day of the Detroit Tigers Sunday resulted in a big check for Pigeon carver Robert Damm. Hunting in state land near Owosso, Damm got this 90-point buck at 10:30 a.m., just a few hours after the 1987 season began. He’s the only excited person in his household. His wife Karen ran to the telephone as soon as her husband called with the good news... and she won $95 for being the first “Deer Widow” to report a successful hunt to The Progress-Advance!

EAST LANSING — Food shoppers can look forward to one of the most economical Thanksgiving holidays in recent history.

For openers, frozen turkeys have been selling at or near last year’s feature prices for some months. Retailers will sweeten the deal even more with pre-Thanksgiving features.

Reasons for the bennis are ziffs — a record-high production up a sharp 20% from last year to 3.54 billion pounds and overall turkey stocks up 24%. With supplies this plentiful, retailers have indicated they will be making purchases as needed for Thanksgiving and Christmas rather than buying for both holidays together. They must have these in the past. Thus, buyers are gambling that prices will go down even farther after Thanksgiving.

Large crops of many of the other traditional holiday foods will also hold down the cost of Thanksgiving dinner for those who choose to dine at home. Good crops of fresh white potatoes across the country ate holding prices down. Sweet potatoes and yams are also offered at attractive prices.

Is there really a rural crisis?

By MAVIS ELDRED

There are a lot of reasons why some people might think that the rural areas of America are in crisis. While it's true that many communities are facing challenges, it's important to remember that rural areas are diverse and dynamic. Some areas are experiencing growth and development, while others are facing more difficult times. It's important to approach the topic of rural crisis with nuance and understanding, rather than simply dismissing it as a single, monolithic issue. By taking a closer look at the specific challenges faced by different rural communities, we can better understand the complexity of the issue and work towards finding effective solutions.

L automation is changing the world, and it’s changing the way we live. With the rise of smart homes, self-driving cars, and other technological innovations, we're seeing new ways of living and working emerge. While these changes can be exciting, they also come with their own set of challenges. It's important to approach this transition with care and consideration, making sure that everyone has access to the benefits of automation while also addressing any potential negative impacts.

Lady Lakers break Bronco winning streak

By RICH SWAMONTHUR

Often times labeled as a basketball power by locals, North Beech High School's Lady Lakers remain under the radar. The small school in the county's northeastern corner seems to be just as potent on the hardwood as they are in football.

Doing so, the idea, the Lady Lakers were faced in the title game of the 1987 Gold Coast Invitational with the Viewpoint. If they were to win, they'd be crowned champions of the title with a single victory.

In the girls, the game was evenly matched and, in the end, the Lady Lakers broke through to win.

Cassieville girls' final loss

By RICH SWAMONTHUR

The Cassieville Lady Indians may have been second best in the conference, but they managed one goal of points in each of the first and third quarters. In the final count, Cassieville lost to the Lady Indians by only one point.

Kim Muday led Cassieville with 11 points, while Susan Muday followed with 10. Cassieville lost to the Lady Indians by only one point.

Winterize car for safe driving

The best thing to keep in mind when you're driving is to drive defensively. Lefebvre said, and always look ahead. You should always be looking for the car in front of you. Make sure the car in front is there. If you don't see it, you don't see the car. You have to look far enough ahead to see if there's a car. This is the best thing to look for when you're driving in bad conditions. Always check your headlights and taillights and make sure they're all working.

Unknown Wishes

It seems like every year the wish list gets longer. It's true. Last year we began to wonder what kind of a wish list we would have to make this year. But then we remembered that we didn't have to make the wish list. We could just make the wish list for ourselves. We could make the wish list for our friends. We could make the wish list for our family. We could make the wish list for our community. We could make the wish list for our school. We could make the wish list for our town. We could make the wish list for our country. We could make the wish list for our world. We could make the wish list for the universe. We could make the wish list for the entire universe. We could make the wish list for everything.

Woods & Waters
Up, down or inside

By DUANE GUENTHER

Within the last month I have read more than a few articles about deer hunting and I must admit, I’m pretty excited about the upcoming deer season. Hunting is a true blue Blood Sport to me, but I also love to track and stalk deer on foot, and I find it very rewarding when I can bring home a nice buck. There’s something about being out in the woods, alone, with just the sound of your footsteps and the occasional rustling of leaves that makes the experience so peaceful and calming.

In other words, most deer are killed by accident, and if you’re lucky, you connect and if you’re unlucky, you miss. I’ve been hunting for a couple hundred thousand years, you’ll get skunked, years after year.

I don’t really care when the season opens, but as long as it’s legal, I’m ready to go. I’ve already stocked up on my favorite snacks and drinks, and I’ve got my gear all set. This year, I plan on hunting solo, just me and my trusty rifle. It’s time to get out there and make some memories.

We’re Asking You....

This week’s "We’re Asking You" question: Are you in favor of the proposed casino in downtown Flynn? Do you agree with the decision to have Allen Ginsberg withdraw his name as a U.S. Supreme Court nominee? Why or why not?

We’re trying to teach our kids not to use drugs, so why should he be any different?

Christmas Gingerbread Memories.....
Planning A Safe Holiday Season.....

As every holiday season brings a rush for gifts, it's easy to get carried away with excitement. But remember, safety should always come first. Here are some tips to help you plan a safe holiday season:

1. Gifts for Children:
   - Safety First: Choose toys that are age-appropriate and free from small parts that could be choking hazards.
   - Check the Packaging: Ensure that the packaging is sturdy and cannot be easily torn.

2. Gifts for Seniors:
   - Health and Safety: Consider gifts that promote physical activity or mental well-being, such as puzzles or exercise equipment.
   - Easy Open Packaging: Gifts with easy-open packaging can be a big help for seniors.

3. Gifts for Pets:
   - Toxic-Free: Make sure that the gifts are safe for pets to chew on or play with.
   - Suitable for Activities: Gifts that promote physical activity or enhance their playtime can be a great idea.

4. Gifts for Travelers:
   - Portable Items: Gifts like travel-sized toiletries or compact electronics can be a big hit.
   - Safety Features: Consider gifts that have additional safety features, like a surge protector for electronics.

5. Gifts for the Environment:
   - Eco-Friendly: Look for gifts that are made from sustainable materials or are energy-efficient.
   - Reduce Waste: Gifts that reduce waste, like reusable gift bags or non-plastic wrapping materials, are a great choice.

Remember, a safe holiday season is not just about the gifts, but also about ensuring the safety of the people around you. Happy Holidays!
