A Co-op plans oats expansion at Elkton; buys Gagetown plant

Ag watchers hope '88 is better than '87

FARM Observers Say: Sugar support program should remain intact; falling dollar value will help dry bean markets; milk markets look bad in '88, and watch for more land values decline.

MORE THAN 100 people attended the Co-operative Farmers Elevator Association's annual general meeting at the Gagetown Community Hall recently.

The meeting was held in the Co-op's newly renovated hall, which was opened last year.

The Co-op's annual report was presented, and the board of directors was re-elected.

The Co-op plans to expand its oats processing facility at Elkton and to buy the Gagetown Co-op's grain elevator.

The expansion will allow the Co-op to increase its oats processing capacity from 5,000 bushels per week to 10,000 bushels per week.

The Gagetown Co-op's grain elevator will be acquired to provide a new location for the Co-op's oats processing facility.

The Co-op is also exploring the possibility of expanding its wheat processing facility at Elkton.

Abby Eades, the Co-op's general manager, said the Co-op is looking for ways to increase its grain processing capacity to better serve its members.

``We want to be able to process more grain,`` Eades said.

``This expansion and the purchase of the Gagetown Co-op's elevator will help us do that.``

The Co-op's annual report showed a profit of $321,400 for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1988.

The Co-op's total assets increased from $8.8 million to $10.4 million during the year.

The Co-op's membership increased from 712 to 738 during the year.

The Co-op plans to continue its growth and expansion, Eades said.

``We want to be able to provide our members with the best possible service,`` Eades said.

``That means expanding our facilities and increasing our processing capacity.``

The Co-op's annual report also showed that the Co-op paid out $635,000 in dividends to its members during the year.

The Co-op's board of directors is made up of 12 members, who are elected by the members.

The Co-op's annual general meeting is held each year to elect the board of directors and to discuss the Co-op's business operations.

The Co-op is a member-owned cooperative, which means that the members own and control the Co-op.

Huron Board lacks real fairness in '88

A new year may be upon us, but some of the nation’s most important problems apparently remain in place — the housing crunch, the housing affordability, the feeling of being trapped in unaffordable rooms.” Too’s it’s a sad commentary on our society, as solved, that our nation is facing a growing number of people who are living in poverty, that are not adequately housed.

Some people believe politics are everything, but does everything have to be political? Too many people suffer when that, as I say, our society, is broken.

Lakers start '88 with two wins!

By TIM BLANKLEY

The Lakers won two games last week, the first time the team has won two straight games since late March. The Lakers won 111-104 at home against the New York Knicks on Monday and then defeated the Golden State Warriors 102-89 on Wednesday. Pau Gasol scored a team-high 25 points on 11-of-16 shooting, including 7-of-9 from the three-point line. The Lakers improved their record to 12-14.

LEADING SCORER: Pau Gasol scored a team-high 25 points against the Knicks on Monday. He also added 11 rebounds and 5 assists.

JAVAJEY: The Lakers are currently 20-13 on the season, with 12 wins and 8 losses.

WAKEUP: On Saturday, the Lakers play the Denver Nuggets at home. The game is scheduled to start at 8:00 PM PT.

Caseville School in the News

By BRANDY PLOE

Caseville School's basketball team is looking forward to the upcoming season. The team has a new coach, Scott Johnson, who has been hired to lead the program. Johnson previously coached at Caseville High School and is excited to bring his knowledge and experience to the team.

Outdoor report

The Saginaw Bay area is seeing a significant increase in outdoor activities. The weather is improving, with temperatures reaching the mid-60s and clear skies. The Area of the Week is Caseville, where the Caseville State Park offers a variety of outdoor activities, including hiking, fishing, and camping.

By TIM BLANKLEY

While the Lakers are on the court, the Caseville School's basketball team is also on the rise. The team has a new coach, Scott Johnson, who is looking to bring the team to new heights.

Wrestlers place fourth in tourny

By TIM BLANKLEY

The Caseville High School wrestling team placed fourth in the regional tournament. The team competed against several local schools, including the three-time defending champion. The Caseville team was led by senior John Johnson, who placed third in the regional tournament.

John Orr of Pine Grove remembers the day in 1939 when he was a young teenager making his way to work on the train. He was one of the first workers at the new plant being built by the Guarantee Telephone Company. It was during the Great Depression, and jobs were hard to come by. Orr had been working for the company for 50 years and had seen the company grow from a small rural telephone service to a major telephone company.

FRANKLIN LIVED: THE LIFE HE PRESCRIBED FOR EACH OF US

DEAR BETTY CROCKER

DEAR BETTY CROCKER,

I am writing to ask for your advice on a matter that has been troubling me. I have been following your recipes for some time now, and they have always given excellent results. However, I recently tried one of your recipes and was disappointed with the outcome. I followed the recipe exactly as written, but the dish did not turn out as expected. I was hoping you might be able to help me understand what I did wrong.

I am particularly fond of your recipe for strawberry shortcake. I made it as I usually do: I mixed the flour, sugar, and butter together, then added the fresh strawberries and baked the mixture in a cake pan. However, my cake turned out to be dry and crumbly, unlike the moist and fluffy shortcake I usually get.

Could you please provide some guidance on what I might have done differently? I am eager to learn from your expertise and improve my baking skills.

Thank you for your assistance and for all the delicious recipes you share.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

DEAR BETTY CROCKER
