Laker High School has a new principal as the Lake School Board officially approved the hiring of Craig Douglas of Oscoda for the post at the school's Board meeting.

Douglas, a Concord, Mich., native, was the assistant principal of the Oscoda Area High School, a Class B school serving 850 students. He replaces James Ballard, who is resigning in August to accept a position with the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals between Lansing and Ann Arbor.

Douglas' salary will be $44,000 a year, according to Acting Laker Superintendent Robert Druy.

Douglas, 36, has a strong academic background. He holds a master's degree in education. Twelve of those years were spent as a teacher.

CRAIG DOUGLAS

New Laker High Principal

and varsity basketball coach, was hired to replace the late principal J. Fred Jones last year.

IMPRESSION: "We were very impressed with his knowledge of secondary school districts. We feel that he is a team player and we think he'll fit in very well here," Druy said.

Douglas and his wife, Mary, and children, Christopher, 9, and twins John and Katie, 6, will be moving to the area in late July or early August.

"I am very excited by this opportunity," Douglas said. "I interviewed with several districts and I felt this was by far the best opportunity for me, not only professionally, but for my family, too."

"I was very impressed with the friendliness of the people and especially the community support. The facilities here are second to none," Douglas said.

LATCHKEY AGAIN: The Latchkey Program may be offered again this year, if enough parents are interested.

Pigeon Village Council decided Monday night to study replacement of the present DPW building on N. Main Street, and appointed its DPW Committee to bring back possible solutions to the present building overcrowding.

President Dave Gerst and Council members cfiff

Fobmaa and Ken Lichtman comprised the committee, which will study renovating and expanding the present building, purchasing an existing structure or constructing a new building.

"We've got to do something. That building is not going to last. It's getting bad," Gerst said. The committee will bring recommended options to Council soon.

CROSSING AID: Village Supt. Janet Heckman told Council state transportation and Chippewa System officials have approved smoothing and repaving sidewalks and curbs on the railroad crossing across S. Main Street this summer, prior to a full reconstruction with a rubber base crossing in 1986.

The crossing has been the scene of complaints from pedestrians. Drivers and bike riders for several years. Dennis Hadley's Yarnell Petrozzi will likely do the temporary work, at a cost of $400.

NEW WINDOWS: Council will get bids on replacing broken windows at the Recreation Park building, another source of continuing problems. No dollar range is yet known, Mrs. Heckman says.

MORE ROAD AID: The Superintendent also discussed her recent efforts to turn over parts of several streets from designation as local streets to major streets, to receive more state funding for greater traffic flow.

Pigeon Village to study new DPW building plan

They include parts of E. Michigan, Bliss, Moorel, Park and others.

Last year, 2.33 miles of major streets earned Pigeon about $23,000 in state aid, while 4.8 miles of local streets brought in about $19,000.

"If the dollars are available, why not try to get them for the village?" Mrs. Heckman said.

AIRPORT WORK: Council approved seeking more written information about possible village responsibilities for its role in sponsoring the Bay Area Airport, now seeking more than $1.2 million in federal funds. Village Attorney Michael Otto will prepare a list of specific questions.

OTHER BIZ: Village will furnish labor to add 10-ft. concrete aprons on horse-shoe pits at Pigeon Recreation Park.

REALLY COOKIN'! Pigeon Lions Club member John Krueger has a great seafood recipe to share with you. John is the head chef at The Bluefin Restaurant in Bay City, and he is known for his delicious seafood dishes. His secret ingredient is a blend of spices that he has carefully selected to enhance the flavor of each dish. He says that the key to a successful seafood dish is to start with fresh, high-quality seafood. John recommends using fresh, local fish and shellfish whenever possible, as it will make all the difference in the world to the final dish. He also advises to avoid overcooking the seafood, as this can result in a tough and rubbery texture. So, if you're looking for a delicious seafood dish, give John's recipe a try! You won't be disappointed.

Divert Great Lakes water? No way!

The ongoing debate about whether or not to divert the Great Lakes' water to the west should be diverted elsewhere shouldn't even be considered by the U.S. government, as it's simply a solution that doesn't make sense. The water in these Great Lakes should stay put — to be enjoyed by all. To divert water from Lake Erie or anywhere else — and then ship it to the west — doesn't seem like a viable approach.

A possible solution to this problem could be to develop more efficient methods for water conservation and management, rather than diverting it. By improving infrastructure and reducing water waste, we can ensure that the water in the Great Lakes remains a valuable resource for generations to come.

Bits and pieces

The concept of preserving natural beauty and wildlife is a common theme in nature conservation. However, the preservation of nature can sometimes be a challenge, especially when it comes to large areas of land.

As the population continues to grow, the need for open space and natural habitats becomes increasingly important. The government and conservation groups are working together to preserve these areas and ensure that they are protected for future generations.

The challenge lies in finding the right balance between development and conservation, while also providing access to natural areas for the public.

In pursuit of the elusive Walleye

By AMY HEIDEN

The Walleye is the most sought after fish from the Mississippi River and it is truly a blessing when you catch one. Many fishers look forward to this season's fortune, and one of the best places to catch the elusive Walleye is on the Mississippi River near Casileville.

The Walleye is a popular choice among fishers because of its flavor and its size. It is a predatory fish that is known for its sharp teeth and aggressive hunting behavior. They can be found in a variety of habitats, including shallow waters, muddy bottoms, and rocky or gravel bottoms. The best time to catch a Walleye is during the fall months, which is the perfect time to enjoy the beauty of the Mississippi River near Casileville.

The Mississippi River is one of the most diverse and ecologically important river systems in the United States. It provides habitat for a wide range of fish species, including the Walleye. The river is also home to a variety of other wildlife, such as white-tailed deer, waterfowl, and songbirds.

Casileville is a small town located on the western shore of the Mississippi River in Minnesota. It has a population of around 100 and is known for its beautiful scenery and friendly community. It is a popular destination for those who enjoy fishing, boating, and outdoor recreation. The town is also home to a number of local businesses, including restaurants, shops, and a few hotels.

In Casileville, the Walleye are abundant and easy to catch. The river is well-frequented by fishers, and there are several local fishing spots where you can try your luck at catching a Walleye. Some of the best fishing spots include the Mississippi River near the town, the Mississippi River at Spring Grove, and the Mississippi River near Marilyn, Minnesota.

So, if you are a fisher and are looking for a great place to catch the elusive Walleye, Casileville is the perfect destination. With its beautiful scenery and abundant wildlife, it is a great place to enjoy a day on the water.

Casileville’s Walleye Tournament runs from this Saturday through Sunday, July 24.

Some misconceptions will arise
From trusting in illusions.
So people get their exercise
By jumping to conclusions.
And from the way things appear,
This saying came to be:
Don’t count on anything you hear,
Nor half of what you see.
Now though someone has been inclined
Toward detrimental acts,
Just try to keep an open mind
Until you know the facts.
But though appearances deceive,
Your faith can be restored;
Through and through all things you can believe,
By trusting in the Lord.
