First woman ever in that job
Lisa DiCamillo named Asst. Principal at Laker High

By AMY HEIDEN

Laker students and parents have known Lisa DiCamillo as "Miss D" for nine years now as a teacher, advisor, and confidante, but now they will know her as "Miss D, the assistant principal."

DiCamillo was unanimously approved as the new Assistant Principal of Laker High and Lake Junior High on Monday night's school board meeting.

"I don't think the gender thing is going to be a problem," DiCamillo says. "I think it's how you approach the position and discipline is just being consistent with kids, treating them as individuals but against the standard.

"If you have broken a rule, then there are going to be consequences," says DiCamillo. "I just don't see it as a concern."

STRONG ASSET: Craig Douglas, new Laker and Lake Junior High principal, says of Lisa, "I think Lisa will bring a tremendous knowledge of the area and the staff and duty to the job. And as far as gender being gone, I see a lot of advantages in relating with students."

She dismisses concerns about her being a woman in an tough administrative position.

"I don't think you can hang up on that. I'm just here to do a job. My job is working with kids and I see myself always working with kids."

RUST TEACHER: During the years "Miss D" has been at Laker, she has taught history, geography, and science and other courses related to the field of Social Studies. She has also been an advisor to the cheerleading squads and the Mock Trial team advisor, and she plans to continue duties along with acting as assistant principal.

DiCamillo's educational needs are simple. "Learning never stops. Just because you have a diploma doesn't mean you have finished learning. It's an ongoing process."

Students are the main focus at Laker, she says, and pride in the school is the strength of the schools. "People see themselves as Lakers and they're green and white. That's our real strength."

Laker Board hears from Douglas; buys buses

By AMY HEIDEN

The Laker School Board Monday night approved the hiring of Lisa DiCamillo as Assistant Principal of Laker High School and Lake Junior High School, following the recommendation of the鹏ove Board of Education. There were no objections to the decision. A survey regarding Christmas '88 will be delivered to each chamber member prior to the meeting, and members are asked to bring their completed questionnaires to the meeting.

Past Christmas promotions have included cash and gift give-aways each week for a month prior to Christ- mess and last year a brand-new automobile was given away in an effort to keep shoppers shopping locally for the holidays.

Support youth at Thursday's cattle sale!

We made this statement exactly one year ago, and what held true then is still fast true today. You're invited to attend a special event tomorrow (Thursday) which could just help a youngster have the most memorable moment of his or her life.

The annual Harris County Junior Livestock Association Sale of 4- and Future Farmers of America Livestock Projects is a big center for a unique and enjoyable event: the annual sale of cattle, swine, and sheep projects by local students.

Harris County Fairgrounds, and that's the place to be at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, August 14, 1975.

There have been countless hours and thousands of dollars raising these animals, and they really need a buyer for each and every one. YOU could be -- and should be -- the buyer for as many animals as you can handle. These youngsters are not just like young farmers. They raise their livestock on the hope that come one will be around to purchase them when they're ready. All calendars, eyes and attention are focused on completing the cycle, and buyers MUST be there to complete the cycle. There are ways to purchase a partial ownership, and there are methods of being involved and getting around without buying animals for handout boxes. Either way, the Junior Livestock Association has answers for you -- paper crop sale Thursday at 1. You're certainly needed. We're there (as we were last year). How about you?

How does the board stack up now?

The message should be reasonably loud and clear. As happens in these United States, the people speak. Two recent amendments made by the Harris County Board of Commissioner's will make it easier for people to watch and understand the decision.

Warden Karlson and Alther Tamm have done honest, dedicated service on the County Board, but their constituents apparently expect something right around time.

This spring, with the end of the term of office and the opening of the first term, the members of the board will be an election. The election is not only an election, but an election to the board. The board, as a whole, has a responsibility, and that responsibility includes the service to the community. The community, as a whole, has a responsibility, and that responsibility includes the service to the board. The two are inextricably linked.

The election will make it easier for people to watch and understand the decision. It is a step in the right direction.

Bob Dale Woods of Bay Port and Bruce Khalid of Jacksonville were featured on TV as part of the other four County Board members. The number of a vote this past year were a record. And, that majority group even breaks precedent and is hopeful better choices at the Board Chairmanship.

Will these changes work? How will they work? We're not sure. But the changes are a step in the right direction. They are a step in the right direction.

My guess is that their feelings were not out of that many, nor were they thoughtful. After all, this is the year that we had to pay for our own television. All things were possible tomorrow now. But look at the way our young people are today. They just play and enjoy the game. They have fun and have fun doing it. They won't be the kind to go to our shopping center and say, "I don't want to go to our shopping center."

My guess is that their feelings were not out of that many, and they didn't think about the way they were going to do it. After all, this is the year that we had to pay for our own television. They won't be the kind to go to our shopping center and say, "I don't want to go to our shopping center."

The 50s and 60s were a time of change. The 70s and 80s are a time of change. We are in a new era, and we are in a new era.

Shop for Back-To-School items in the Western Thumb!

Fresh fruits, vegetables & more ready as school nears

August means back-to-school shopping, and it means the start of the school year when there are deals to be had. Here are some tips for how to save money on your next shopping trip.

1. Plan your list and know what you need. Make a list of everything you need for the upcoming school year. This will help you avoid impulse buying and save money.

2. Shop during sales and promotions. Check out local store websites and social media pages for any back-to-school sales or promotions that are currently running.

3. Consider buying in bulk. If you need multiple items of the same type, consider buying in bulk. This can often be cheaper than buying individual items.

4. Don’t forget about coupons. Make sure to check for coupons before you make any purchases. Most stores offer coupons in-store or online.

5. Use a credit card with rewards. If you plan to use a credit card for your purchases, make sure to choose one with rewards that will benefit you.

6. Shop at discount stores. Discount stores often offer lower prices on name-brand items, so consider shopping there for your back-to-school supplies.

7. Check out local second-hand stores. If you need items that are in good condition, consider shopping at local second-hand stores. This can often be a cheaper option than buying new.

8. Consider DIY projects. If you need something that isn’t readily available, consider making it yourself. This can save you money and be a fun way to get creative.

9. Prioritize your purchases. Make sure to prioritize your purchases so that you don’t spend too much money on non-essential items.

10. Start preparing early. Start planning your back-to-school shopping early to avoid last-minute stress and save money.

The continuing drive against drugs in a school system and other communities, was underscored recently in the role played by a former County Jail officer, Ron Bert. The school district has been facing drug problems, and efforts have been made to combat them.

Sgt. Woodward has role in drug-fighting safety video

Woodward suggested a bold idea and project which came to life in the form of a video and a comic book to educate students about the dangers of drug use. The video, produced by the district, features a scenario where a student is confronted by drug dealers in the school parking lot. The video serves as a warning to students about the consequences of drug use.

We're Asking You...

This week’s "We’re Asking You" question, asked by Brenda Buchler:

What is your favorite C-O-O-L summertime refreshment? And, why?

Good times depend on good vision.

You can’t hit it if you can’t see it. You also can’t bowl, aim, drive, watch TV etc. if you have trouble seeing faces, reading scoreboards, following a ball or keeping your eyes open in sunlight, you need visual correction. An eye examination could help you have a lot more fun. Call for an appointment today.

What I'm asking for is $900. I figure she can buy a reasonably good quality special telescope that would be charming. As is, she's been asking for it the last two or three weeks, and I've noticed that it's been coming up in our conversations, as she's been asking for it the last two or three weeks.

DEAR MIKE: I'm writing for my sister because she's too busy and I'm hoping you can help her out with just one more thing that she can't seem to find.

Most of the time I'm here because I'm working on my book. I've been writing for her, and I've been trying to help her with her work on her book.

I know that my mom can't remember much about her, so I'm asking if you could help her out with just one more thing that she can't seem to find.

Family reunion

SCHWEITZER

The descendants of John and Augusta Schweitzer, formerly of Pigeon, held their fourth annual reunion Saturday at the home of Mrs. and Mr. Wolf Schmidt of rural Pigeon.

A total of 72 family members enjoyed a meal together. In the morning, the host, Mr. and Mrs. Wolf Schmidt, served breakfast to the guests in the dining area. After breakfast, the guests were divided into two groups. Group A took a bus tour of Loretto, St. Louis, and Jena until noon. Meanwhile, Group B had a picnic at the local park.

After the picnic, both groups gathered back at the Schmidt’s home for dinner and a program. The evening included a slideshow of photos of the family over the years, as well as stories and memories shared by the guests.

Among the highlights of the reunion was the presentation of a plaque to Mrs. Wolf Schmidt, the current owner of the family home, commemorating 75 years of family ownership.

The event was a great success and brought together family members from across the country. The Schweitzer family looks forward to continuing this annual tradition in the future.

How to use time

READ JIGGLE 8-30

Let us dance with our feet, our hands, our whole bodies, our faces, our entire being. Let us dance in the joy of the Holy Presence of God.

"Just don’t have enough time in the day to think it all through."

We often think if only we were doing what God wants us to do, if we were in agreement with God’s plan, we would go down someday.

Well, well, well!

Anyway, even if we are doing in a way we can reason is eight-day week, this is still the time given to the family of God.

LORD'S PRAYER:

Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name, your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory for ever. Amen.

Faith Calls the Family: The Basis of Our Civilization

Since the dawn of civilization, the family unit has always been the framework of our society. We can find simple lifestyles to our complex world of today. The family has lasted through the ages, although it now takes some strange forms. There are marriages and remarriages, children, stepchildren, and adopted children. Many a couple, even with children of their own, have opened their homes and their hearts to others who may be handicapped, of different ethnic origin or that ultimate tragedy, the war orphan. At your House of Worship you will learn how the family unit has carried out the will of God, as the explicit instructions throughout the Bible would attest. A harmonious home is a haven to which families return with joy in their hearts and security in their souls. It is our center of happiness here on earth.

The family has lasted through the ages, although it now takes some strange forms. There are marriages and remarriages, children, stepchildren, and adopted children. Many a couple, even with children of their own, have opened their homes and their hearts to others who may be handicapped, of different ethnic origin or that ultimate tragedy, the war orphan. At your House of Worship you will learn how the family unit has carried out the will of God, as the explicit instructions throughout the Bible would attest. A harmonious home is a haven to which families return with joy in their hearts and security in their souls. It is our center of happiness here on earth.

Faith Calls the Family: The Basis of Our Civilization

Since the dawn of civilization, the family unit has always been the framework of our society. We can find simple lifestyles to our complex world of today. Laker Board's August action

BACKGROUND: DiCamillo was born and raised in East Detroit and attended school there, but before her last two years of high school, her family moved to Evart, between Evart and Clare. She graduated from Evart High School and attended Alma College, where she earned her degree.

She credits her brother with finding the position as teacher. DiCamillo said, “I had been typing letters and resumes all day and I was ready to give up. My brother looked at the CMU placement bulletin and said he knew one of the McCormick boys from there. ‘He told me ‘You’ve got to write that letter.’ So I did, and it got my interview and an eventual job. I then nominal the way things turn out.”

HER GOALS: DiCamillo is frank about her ambitions in the school system. “I want to learn as much as I can about the assistant principalship and then perhaps learn enough to go and be a principal.” She sees herself as staying in a high school setting for the duration of her career, saying that her niche in life is working with high school students. She also encourages others to consider the profession, saying, “I really do enjoy the high school age students and think that’s where I fit best.”

$3.60 per student, approximately $4,780 per year.

Drury also presented staff assignments for the coming school year. Due to a marked increase in enrollment, two sections of kindergarten will be held in Eklint and Pigeon and one session in Bay Port.

Drury said JanKenne will be teaching one-half day in kindergarten in Bay Port and one-half day of fourth grade, while Bill Love will teach one-half day of fourth and fifth grade combination classes, and one-half fifth grade, due to small class sizes at the school.

The two grades will be combined for music, physical education and art, then split for their academic work.

The Board also accepted the resignation of Virginia Carr, secretary at Eklint Elementary. Candidates for the position are currently being interviewed, according to Drury.

Dr. Richard Lockard, former secretary at Laker High School, will take the secretary’s position at Bay Port Elementary, following the retirement of Alma Stahl.

HANDBOOK WORK: Dr. Douglass told the Board he and DiCamillo will be meeting with representatives of the school staff to review and junior and senior high student handbooks. He said some language may be clarified or deleted, but a complete overhaul of the handbook was not necessary at this time.

APPOINTMENTS: Committee assignments were announced at the meeting.
