Scares and chills await visitors... at 13th annual spook house!

By AMY HEIDEN

Strange happenings have been reported at Jim and Linda Clabuwsch's shed behind their home on South Caseville Road, Pigeon.

Neighbors have reported seeing some rather eerie apparitions going in and out of the shed, and have heard weird noises from inside the structure.

One neighbor who wished not to be identified said that for the past 12 years, strange things have gone on in the shed around Halloween, and that this is the 13th year that there has been some sort of activity going on there, and this year they've gotten even weirder and weirder.

CHECKING IT OUT: Our extremely brave investigative reporter ventured over to the Clabuwsch residence and discovered that the shed is definitely haunted with spooks and goblins and all manner of uninvited guests.

"It's pretty scary in there," says neighbor Linda Clabuwsch.

"It's only like this two days out of every year, but since this is the 13th year, it might be even scarier than usual."

Clabuwsch said area residents will get a chance to see this Spooky House on Halloween weekend, this Saturday Oct. 29 from 1:30 to 6:00 p.m., and Sunday Oct. 30 from 1 to 4 p.m.

(Remember to set your clock back Sunday morning so you don't get to the Spooky House too early!)

BIG CAST: About 25-30 people will be helping to investigate the haunting this year, Clabuwsch says, and she invites the public to attend to lend their assistance to the process.

Since the investigation might turn up some pretty scary sights, Clabuwsch suggests leaving younger children (less than five or six) at home - but even the faint at heart should have a thrilling, spooky good time.

A free will donation will be accepted to defray the cost of the haunting investigation.

Credit Union grand opening celebrated

Grand opening ceremonies were conducted Monday afternoon for the Education Employees Credit Union on Railroad Street, Elkton, and lots of local and EECU officials were on hand for the celebration of the area's newest financial institution.

The building cost about $75,000 to construct and has 3,200 sq. ft, according to EECU General Manager Dave Pike. In addition, EECU was also building of Elkton was used, and the EECU has other offices in Caseville and Sycamore.

The cooperative business started as the Active Credit Union, then became West Thome Community Credit Union, operating in Elkton for the past 22 years. In March, 1986, the Credit Union merged with EECU and three employee owners were members.

"Before we merged, people up here wanted to know what if a big Credit Union was going to do the work here. They thought we'd come in and take over and go back to Sycamore."

"It's apparent that hasn't happened," Pike says. "We said if the members here would support us, we'd stay - and they have supported us. We really enjoy doing business here. The Village of Elkton has been very good to help us with the new building, and I don't think we could have done it without their help," Pike says.

Back row includes Village President Elmer Ropp, Councilman Alfred Santos, Jr., Village Clerk Janet Santos, Active Industries Plant Manager Bob Flowers, Elkton Chamber of Commerce President Phyllis Podlaskowski and Active Industries' Teresa Schmidt. The grand opening celebration continues all week, through Friday.

We humans have more compassion for animals...

TALIA S. JAFFE

In the great world of animals, we tend to forget that all animals are alive, and deserve to be treated with respect and dignity. This is especially true when considering the animal welfare and rights movement.

FAVORITE OF ANIMALS

Some people argue that animals cannot feel pain, but studies have shown that they do. Furthermore, there is evidence that animals have the ability to suffer and feel emotions just as we do.

WHY ARE ANIMALS IMPORTANT?

Animals are important because they are a part of the ecosystem that we live in. They provide food, fiber, and other materials for our use. Additionally, they help to control pests and diseases.

WHERE DO ANIMALS END UP?

Many animals are butchered for their meat, while others are used for labor or entertainment. There is a growing trend towards adopting alternative methods of obtaining these materials.

THE FUTURE OF ANIMALS

As we become more aware of the importance of animals, we may see a shift towards more humane treatment and conservation efforts. This will require a change in our mindset and actions.

In conclusion, it is important that we consider the welfare of all animals in our decision-making processes. Let's work together to ensure a better future for all living beings.

Pat Leitmann

Three years ago administration in the EPBP School District felt they could save money by consolidating elementary schools. At that time, the Pigeon Calendars made enough local to be transported and served at the Bay Port Elementary School. Two years ago, because of the removal of the Elkton Center was added. Last year the food was delivered to the Bay Port Elementary School. This year, the food was transported to the elementary schools.

The year, more improvements were made. The EPBP Food Service began the year by hiring a new supervisor who was in charge of all programs, accounts, ordering, and the day-to-day operations of our facilities.

The administration chose the Pigeon Inn, a restaurant called in and asked for a Bay Moll-ey-Moll's Inn, to be hired for the primary program and under his direction, the four elementary schools are in full operation.

The whole process takes about a minute - a clean improvement over the old system.
