Julee Leipprandt, Darren Jantzi lead Laker '89 class

Valedictorian Julee Ann Leipprandt and Salutatorian Darren Jantzi have earned recognition as academic leaders at Laker High School, according to Principal Craig Douglas.

JULEE ANN LEIPPRANDT is the daughter of Charles and Doris Leipprandt of Pigeon, has compiled a 4.12 grade point average during her three years at Laker and one year at the Interlochen Arts Academy.

She attends Hayes United Methodist Church where she has served as youth president, and currently is the senior representative. A member of the National Honor Society, Leipprandt serves as their secretary/treasurer. She was president of her sophomore class and has served on student council.

Leipprandt has been both a football and basketball cheerleader, played softball in her freshman year and this year is participating in forensics, drama and track. She was a member of the YFC youth group "Cornerstone" and belongs to the National Member of Student Musicians for Piano.

As a member of the Laker Band for two years as major and playing the French horn, Leipprandt received many honors, including superior ratings at district and state and state first proficiency for piano.

In addition to extracurricular honors, Leipprandt received academic honors in earth science, algebra, English 9 and 10, health, Band 9 and 10, Spanish, geometry, biology, intro to law and typing and received an academic and art scholarship to attend Interlochen Arts Academy in her junior year.

She plans to attend Alma College, where she has earned a Trustee Scholarship to major in biology, mathematics and Spanish.

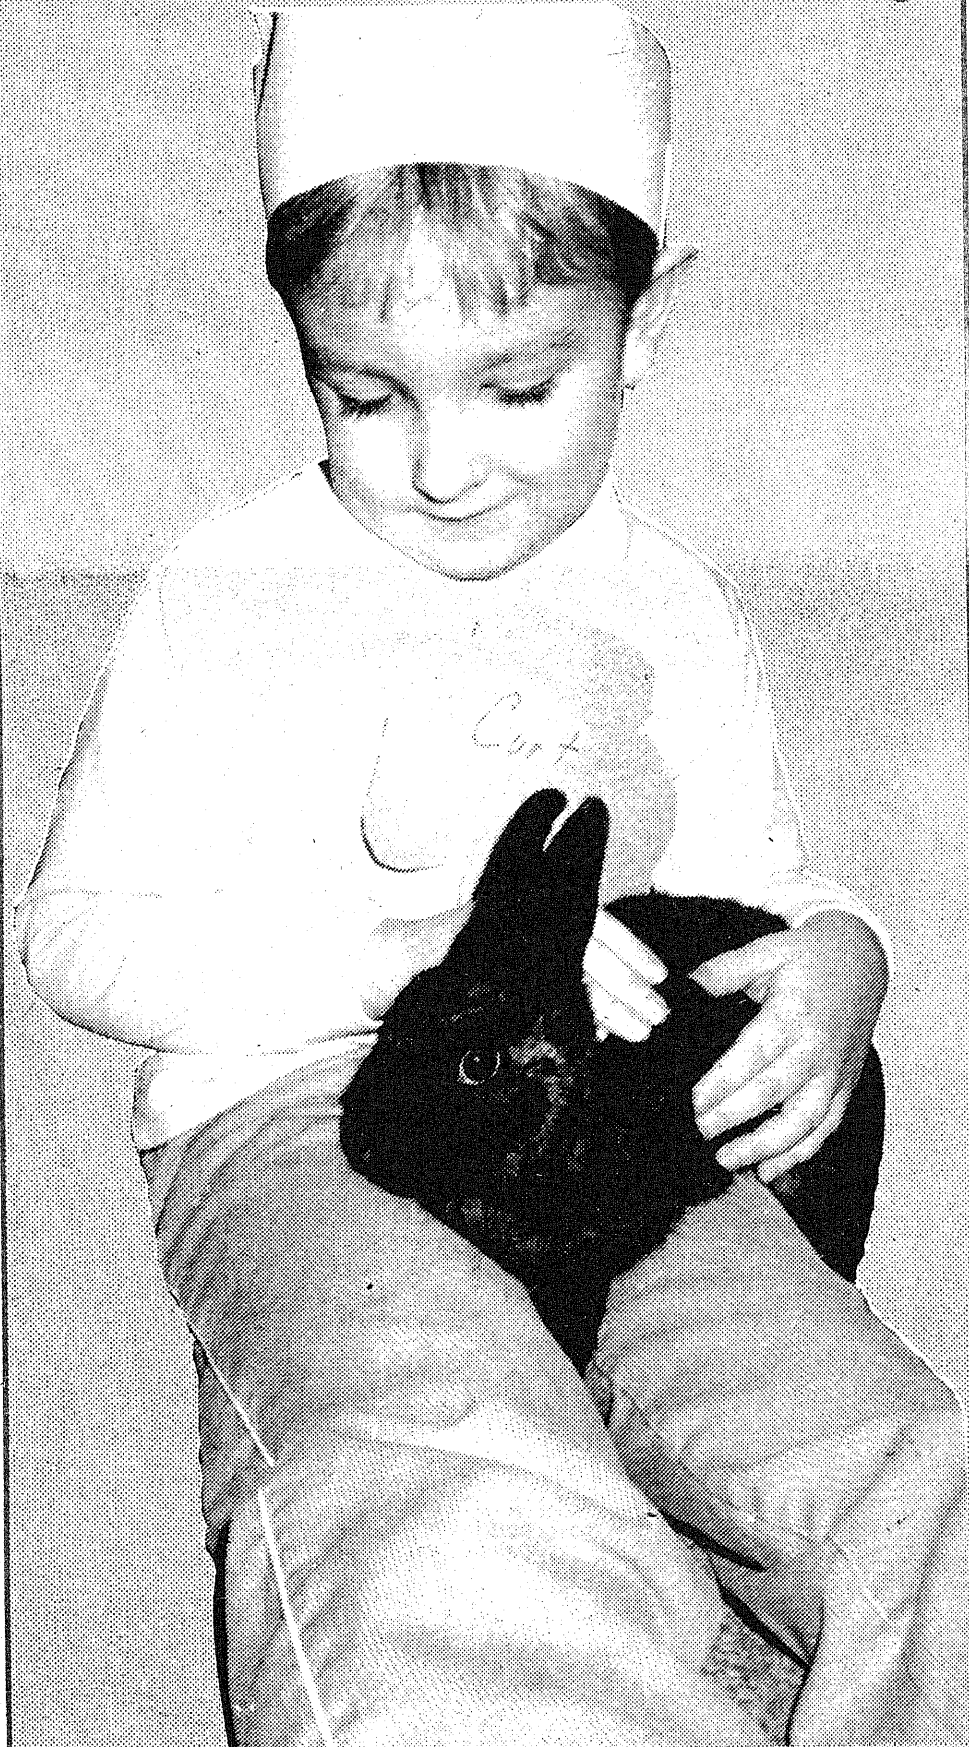

SALUTATORIAN DARREN JANTZI, son of John and Naomi Jantzi of Pigeon, earned a 3.90 grade point

Police don't get enough credit

Recent news reports have discussed the six-step procedure police use in attempting to do their jobs every day. When you consider the various abilities needed by law enforcers to perform their very vital tasks, you realize such a priority system is needed... but can you imagine how difficult it must be to quickly make the correct choice?

Here are the six steps — or choices — police have to gain control in any situation, from arresting a jaywalker to stopping a killer:

- #1: Establish their presence (coming to the scene, with badge, uniform, vehicle and gun indicating police status);
- #2: Voice command (telling possible lawbreaker to stop or merely ask a speeder to step out of their vehicle);
- #3: Physical restraint (stopping a person from fleeing with arms, handcuffs or other assistance);
- #4: Chemical restraint (more serious method of stopping possible perpetrator);
- #5: Disabling temporarily (knocking out, place in back of police car, shooting in non-fatal place such as leg), and
- #6: Kill on sight (obviously speaks for itself).

In a written form, these seem amateurish or simple to casual observers. "Of course that's what lawmen should do," they may say. But there's far more to it, from the policeman's point of view.

But the choices are DISARMINGLY simple — yet can be deadly if not properly chosen.

Within an instant, a law officer must choose WHICH of these options is proper. He/she cannot choose an option which provides greater force or power than is needed, or else lawsuits charging "police brutality" will certainly be filed against them and their department. This would easily result in months or years of costly, time-consuming litigation.

But consider the other choice. If a law officer chooses TOO LITTLE force, he or she may be hurt — or killed — for that choice, too. A dangerous person could overpower a police officer and hurt the officer, innocent persons or passersby.

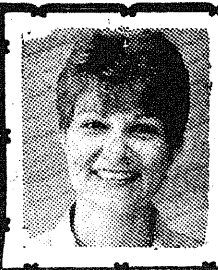

If our law enforcers were computers, this would be easy. A computer can analyze data and make one of six choices in a fraction of a milli-second. But law officers are human beings.

On average, they have 2/10 OF A SECOND to choose the proper response to the situation they find themselves in. Choose too strongly, and unintended injury may result to others. Choose too weakly, and danger can befall the law officer.

We ask a lot of our peace officers. They must use force to keep that peace, but they're only human. We all struggle with choices in our daily lives, but none so dangerous or powerful as these.

We don't appreciate the superb job, amid great danger, which most of our police provide us.

Law officers have to be dead-right in their split-second decisions... or they may be dead wrong...

Bits and pieces

IT'S MARCH 20, THE FIRST DAY OF SPRING and we're listening to forecasts of more snow. The weekend's snowfall and slippery roads brought us right back into winter mentality, even though pots of daffodils and Easter lilies crowd grocery store aisles already.

Sunday, March 26, will be an early Easter. The last two years of Easter on March 26 were 1967 and 1978. We will not have an Easter this early (on March 26) from now until the end of this century. Here in Michigan, Easter will have to be celebrated in its Christian meaning of the resurrection of Christ since there may be very few signs of spring by this Sunday! Perhaps that is good, for it will force us to focus on the warmth in our hearts, not the weather.

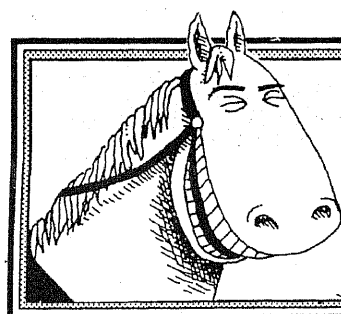

THE BARN HERE AT GRAYWOOD FARM is home to a pile of lambs, all of them jumping and frolicking. Ten lambs make for quite a ruckus at feeding time. Our favorite time comes in early evening after feeding chores are done. We'll go out just to check animals before bedtimes. That's when the lambs put on their best show with their hopping and jumping, their ducking in and out of the creep pen. I opened the door into the barnyard to haul out manure (we have lots of that, too!) last Saturday and immediately curious lambs and ewes wanted to get outside. Sheep must be geared toward the seasons just like people. Maybe our flock has cabin fever (or would it be barn fever) and is as ready for spring as we are!

THE LAKER HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT BAND competed in Saturday's District Festival under the handicap of not having about 15 of their players present. The snowy roads didn't force cancellation of the Festival, but did prevent many band students from getting to the high school for the 8 a.m. concert time.

Listening to the smaller band play, I could sense their disappointment in not being able to perform as they had practiced for the annual ratings. Any discouragement didn't bar these kids from getting a first in their sight-reading competition, though.

The sight-reading judge listened to the two required pieces, music which the band members pull from envelopes, talk through with Director Bill Denbrock, and then play. After the performance, the judge informed that there are two times when judges don't have anything to say to the bands after sight-reading competition. One time is when they are really good and the other is when the band is really bad.

The Laker kids were in the "really good" category, something obvious from listening to their fine performance in sight-reading. Congratulations, band kids! You made a difficult challenge into what looked like an easy accomplishment. And you make good music!

EASTER WEEK

† Didn't we just celebrate Christmas? It seems mere days ago that we were shopping our butts off, caroling, cooking, carding and getting ready to celebrate Christ's birth. Now it seems only moments later, and yet, by the calendar it is time to celebrate his death and resurrection.

The week before us holds a variety of meaning to many people. For those who do not ascribe to Christianity it has no meaning, it's business as usual. For school age children it may mean only "vacation," or for college kids, perhaps a fun filled Floridian excursion awaits. For devout Christians everywhere it is a solemn and contemplative time, followed by great joy and jubilation come Easter morning. To still others it is only another holiday to compound their grief and loneliness, and remind them of their sorrow or misfortune. And of course, for the makers of fine chocolates and jelly beans, it's "cash-in" time!

For me personally, it's a favorite time, a time to reflect on the fond memories of this holiday during my childhood. It's a time for remembrance and renewal. A time for rebirth, spiritually and physically. It is a time to find new within the old. During the church services that are conducted throughout the week we follow the same scripture and perform the same rituals that we have for centuries. It is a challenge to us to find new strength in the old words, new meaning in the old customs. To be genuinely solemn at the solemn hour — and truly joyful on the joyful morning.

It is also a time to see, feel and hear the renewal of the earth, for with every passing day we draw nearer to the inevitability of spring. According to the calendar, it has come. Already the days are growing longer, the geese and ducks can be seen flying home, and we received our spring catalogs MONTHS ago! Soon the horses will be snatching at the earth, searching for shoots of green grass and clover. Why already the surest signs can be seen — Tom cats serenading the females; coits flirting with fillies; free puppy ads in every newspaper, and those dreadful flying ants that cling to the porch, creep up your pant legs and into your hair!

Although this is just another Easter, as one thousand, nine-hundred and eighty-eight Easters have come and gone before, it is always new and will be new every year to come — spring after spring.

RECOLLECTIONS Of By-Gone Days
BY GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR:

This world sure is changing and sometimes we wonder how it will be 50 years from now.

Kids get hauled to school and don't get enough exercise so they have to practice basketball and run up and down the racetrack and play in the gym, lifting weights and skipping rope, jogging and a lot of other things to keep in shape. Now certain things one eats causes cancer and high blood pressure.

Well, I wouldn't like to go back to the good ol' days, but back then we got all the exercise we needed just doing our regular work. When I was still quite young, we kids ran around town and in the winter, we caught rides on bob sleds, built snow houses and threw snowballs at each other.

When we moved to the country, we got lots of exercise and didn't even feel it. All of us country kids had to walk from 1 to 2 1/2 miles to school. There were no gravel roads and if we could, we'd walk between the fence and ditch or in the middle of the road in six inches of mud.

If we got to school a little early, we'd play a game called hunter or soccer until school started. There were 54 of us in one room and all eight grades were taught by one teacher. We didn't miss a class and once in awhile the teacher asked one of the upper grades to help with the little children's grades. But most classes she took care of herself. We kids behaved pretty well because the teacher had a rubber hose in her desk and she could use it if it was necessary. If our parents found out about it, you'd get another one! Talking about exercise, once a year we'd go to a different country school and play soccer and have an arithmetic match and a spelling bee. I wasn't very good at numbers, but I didn't do too badly at spelling.

Once we decided I go to a school south of us to play soccer. We had to walk 2 1/2 miles and play one hour. They didn't have enough boys to make up a team so they put two big girls in the team. We used to get pretty rough with each other but those girls were pretty rough. We weren't supposed to touch the ball with our hands but those girls used their fists. I found out they had sharp fingernails and although our boys were bigger than theirs, they almost beat us. Then after the game we had to walk 2 1/2 miles back to school and another 1 1/2 miles back home.

Dad wasn't home so I did do the chores. Dad was at an auction sale just like I always do and I was so tired I could hardly put one leg ahead of the other. But I enjoyed every bit of it!

In I Cor. 13:11 it says, "When I was a child I understood as a child, I thought as a child, but when I became a man I put away childish things." So even if I am getting older, I still like to remember what I did way back then. I have pleasant memories of my old school days.

PALM SUNDAY SWEET ROLLS
Serve these quick-to-make orange rolls warm from the oven for breakfast or brunch. The same powdered sugar-orange mixture is used for the filling and frosting.
HOLIDAY BRUNCH CAKE
This beautiful brunch cake has a "jeweled" look.
4 to 4 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
2 pkgs. active dry yeast
3/4 cup sugar
1 t. salt
1/4 t. ground ginger
1 T. grated orange rind
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup water
1 cup butter or margarine
4 eggs
1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup currants
1/2 cup chopped candied mixed fruit

'Rise & Shine' With Easter Breads

"On Easter Sunday the sun dances, and those who rise early can see this performance."

This old myth is one explanation for the origin of the sunrise service on Easter morning. The first sunrise service in the United States was thought to be held in Bethlehem, Pa. in 1741 and continues to this day as a traditional way to begin Easter celebrations.

- TRINITY EASTER BREAD
A traditional Greek break, which according to tradition represents the Trinity. At Easter time, each person is served a slice from each of the breads.
4 to 4 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
2 pkgs. active dry yeast
1/3 cup sugar
1/2 t. salt
1/2 cup water
1/3 cup milk
1/3 cup butter or margarine
2 eggs
2 T. grated lemon rind
1 jar (10 oz.) maraschino cherries, well drained and halved (about 1 cup)

- FILLING AND FROSTING:
1 cup powdered sugar
1 t. orange rind
1 T. butter or margarine, softened
4 t. orange juice
Preheat oven to 400 degrees. In large bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water (110-115 degrees) and let stand 5 minutes. Add one cup flour, sugar, butter, salt and egg and stir until smooth. Gradually stir in enough remaining flour to make a soft dough. Knead on floured surface for 1 min. Cover, let rest 15 minutes. Prepare filling and frosting; blend all filling ingredients until smooth. On lightly floured surface, roll or pat dough to a 14x7-inch rectangle. Spread half of filling and frosting over dough. Starting with longer side, roll up tightly. Pinch edge to seal. Cut into 14 slices. Place in greased 9-inch layer cake pan (10 around outer edge, 4 in center). Cover; let rise in warm place until double, about 30 minutes. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes until golden brown. Cover pan with wax paper; invert onto rack. Cool 1 minute and remove from pan. Let rolls stand about 3 minutes for filling to "set." Cover rolls with wax paper; turn right side up. Place on rack. Spread remaining filling and frosting on rolls. Serve warm. Sliced almonds may be sprinkled over the top for a festive touch.
- GLAZE (optional):
1 cup sifted powdered sugar
1 t. softened butter or margarine
1 to 2 T. hot water.

- Preheat oven to 375 degrees. In large mixer bowl, combine 1 1/2 cups flour, yeast, sugar and salt. Mix well. In saucepan, heat water, milk and butter until very warm (120 to 130 degrees — butter does not need to melt). Add to flour mixture, add eggs. Blend at low speed until moistened, then beat 3 minutes at medium speed. By hand, gradually stir in lemon rind, cherries and enough remaining flour to make a firm dough. Knead on floured surface until smooth and elastic, 5 to 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover and let rise in warm place until light and doubled, about 1 hour. Punch down dough. Divide into 3 parts. Shape each third into a smooth ball. On greased large cookie sheet, place 3 balls together in cloverleaf shape. Cover and let rise until double, about 45 minutes. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. If too dark, cover loosely with foil for the last 5 to 10 minutes of baking. Remove from cookie sheet and cool. Drizzle with powdered sugar. Glaze and garnish with chopped nuts and cherries, if desired. Yield: one large coffee bread.

THESE DELECTABLE Easter goodies will grace your holiday table: pictured here in front, Palm Sunday Sweet Rolls, in middle, Trinity Easter Bread and at back, Holiday Brunch Cake.

- 1/4 cup chopped candied cherries
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1/2 cup sliced almonds
- ORANGE GLAZE:
1 cup powdered sugar
1 t. grated orange rind
1/4 t. vanilla
5 to 6 t. orange juice
- Preheat oven to 375 degrees. In large mixer bowl, combine 1 1/2 cups flour, yeast, sugar, salt, ginger and orange rind; mix well. In saucepan, heat milk, water and butter until very warm (120-130 degrees; butter does not need to melt). Add to flour mixture. Add eggs and cream cheese. Blend at low speed until moistened. Beat 3 minutes at medium speed. By hand, gradually stir in fruit, coconut and enough remaining flour to make a stiff batter. Arrange almond slices on bottom of well-greased and floured 12-cup Bundt pan. Spoon batter into pan. Cover; let rise in warm place until double, about 1 1/2 hours. Bake at 375 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes until golden brown. Cool 15 minutes in pan; remove from pan. Drizzle glaze over cooled cake. Prepare glaze: combine glaze ingredients; blend until smooth.

Mock Trial Team places in state

Once again, the Laker Mock Trial team has had success in the tournament arena. At a tournament last weekend at the Detroit City-County Building in Detroit, the team placed fifth to qualify for the state tournament in Lansing in April. The tournament was sponsored by the Michigan Law-Related Education Project, the University of Detroit School of Law, Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, The State Bar of Michigan, and Youth Legal Education Committee. Cases were "tried" before practicing judges and the teams were judged on their presentation and preparation. The team competed against Kettering High School, Renaissance High, Southwestern High, and Lutheran High School North. In preparation for the tournament, the team participated in a practice tournament against USA and Harbor Beach on March 7 with Probate Judge David Claubsch and Prosecuting Attorney Karl Krause lending advice. When the team travels to Lansing for the state finals, they will argue their cases before members of the Michigan Supreme Court. Members of the team include, front, left to right, Andrea McIlhargie, Trina Christner, Stephanie Leipprandt, and Malisa Burkeen. Rear, Brian Swartzendruber, Carl Heiden, Chad Daniels (aka Perry Mason), Marcy Eisinger, Brian Keim, and Dan Beckett.

DEAR MR. ROSS: I had to write and let you know that there are people like us, who are old and worn out. We need every penny we can get just to buy food. My husband had to retire at 62 because of his eyes and hands. He is now 67 and can't drive - his hands get numb and go to sleep on the wheel. I need eye glasses and to have my false teeth realigned, but these are things we can't afford. Please tell your readers to give their unwanted items to people like us, rather than carrying them off to the dump. That way, we could afford to buy the simple things in life. - Mrs. B.L., Polk City, Fla.

DEAR MR. ROSS: I am writing in regard to my neighbor. She is disabled and lives with her mother, who has cancer. The only income they have is the little bit they get from the government. They're all alone as the daughter has never been married. They have no car, so they never get out. No one goes to visit them except for us and a few Christian neighbors. It hurts my heart to think of the emptiness of being so lonely. The reason I'm writing is because I know they are without a television. They had an old black and white the daughter found on the curb, but it was on its last leg when she found it. It finally broke down. I know in my heart that a television would take away some of the loneliness. Unfortunately, my husband's income barely pays our bills and provides for our three daughters. God knows if I had it to give, I would buy them one. - The "P" Family, Akron, Ohio.

DEAR "P" Family: A television is just a machine and it doesn't come remotely close to that which human contact provides. However, as long as it's used to supplement visits from you and your family, I won't feel guilty giving your neighbors a TV set and thinking it will help fill their void of loneliness.

Why? Because I'm confident I can count on your continued visits to brighten their lives! My check is in the mail for a new TV and

Commission Order - CFI-104.89A

(Under the authority of Act 230 of the Public Acts of 1925, as amended)

Statewide Trout and Salmon Regulations

Under the authority of Act 230 of the Public Acts of 1925, as amended, being sections 300.1 to 300.5 of the Michigan Compiled Laws, the Natural Resources Commission, at its February 10, 1989, meeting, ordered that for a period of four years:

The open season on lake trout in Lake Huron and its tributary streams and in Lake Michigan and its tributary streams shall be from May 1 through Labor Day.

On the Great Lakes and connecting waters the size limit for trout and salmon shall be 10" and the possession limit shall be 5 fish singly or in combination but no more than 3 of any one species except pink salmon nor more than 2 lake trout or splake from Lake Michigan. A bonus of 5 pink salmon may be taken from the St. Mary's River from the last Saturday in April through September 30.

On inland lakes the size limit on trout and salmon shall be 10" and the possession limit shall be 5 in any combination. On streams from the last Saturday in April to September 30 the size limit on trout and salmon shall be 7" in the Upper Peninsula and 8" in the Lower Peninsula and the possession limit shall be 10 in any combination but no more than 3 over 16" unless they are pink salmon; at all other times of the year on streams open to extended trout and salmon fishing the size limit shall be 16" and the possession limit shall be 3 trout or salmon in any combination.

This order modifies the Commission order entitled "Statewide Trout and Salmon Regulations," effective April 1, 1988 and assigned number CFI-104.88.

This order shall take effect on April 1, 1989, and shall remain effective through March 31, 1993.

I just heard that these weather stations, like the one at Flint, were going to be closed. Now it seems the lawmakers in Washington have re-voted and will keep them open, to keep spending even more money. When will we realize government cannot be extended farther and farther, if we are ever going to spend less? You have to stop spending somewhere, but everyone always wants it stopped someplace else.

Nicky L. Ewald, 20 of Elkton, was sentenced to 45 days in jail for probation violation; he was ordered to serve one additional year of probation, and John M. Hill, 21 of Sebawaing, pled guilty to larceny from a building, following a recent incident in Sebawaing; sentencing to be set.

MUTUAL MEETING MARCH 28

The 101st annual meeting of shareholders of Mutual Savings and Loan Association, F.A., is scheduled for Tuesday, March 28 at 4 p.m. at its offices at 623 Washington Ave., Bay City, according to Chairman J. Ronald Gaffe. Two board members are to be elected for one- or two-year terms, and three members are to be elected for three years.

Mutual Savings, with local offices in Pigeon, Sebawaing and Cass City, has assets of $1.034 billion. Shareholders are welcomed to attend, or are asked to return proxies prior to the meeting, Gaffe says.

WRITE-IN WINS AT OWENDALE

Republican newcomer Bonnie Gaeth was top vote-getter with 35 votes, to earn one of three available two-year terms on the Owendale Village Council. Incumbent Democrat Willa Radabaugh won re-election with 26 votes for the second position available in last week's elections, while write-in candidate Jerry Stirett won the final post with 24 votes.

Two other write-in candidates weren't successful in seeking election. Homer Kretzschmer received 18 votes and Dick Glidden had 11.

PIG LAW STARTS SATURDAY

Starting March 25, a new animal health act affecting pig producers, will go into effect. The new law was passed recently by the Michigan State Legislature, and requires that feeder pigs must originate from herds that have been tested and found to be free of pseudorabies, also known as PRV, according to Beth Ellen Doran, Extension livestock agent for the Thumb.

To satisfy requirements for PRV-free status, a feeder pig producer must have a sub-sample of their herd blood tested for PRV. The number of animals tested depends on herd size, and feeder pigs must be identified by an ear tag or ear tattoo.

Producers are advised to contact their local veterinarian, Doran stated.

Additional information is available from Dr. Brad Thacker, College of Veterinary Medicine, MSU, East Lansing, at (517) 353-3713.

FIRE DESTROYS MARSH GRASS

Between 300 and 400 acres of marsh grass were burned last Monday in a grass fire at the Rush Lake State Game Area, northeast of Caseville in Caseville Township. Caseville Firemen were called at 10:45 a.m., after an all-terrain vehicle set cattails afire earlier in the day.

Firemen had difficulty getting to the fire site, since the marsh land has no access roads. Four-wheel vehicles with water tanks were used to get through the ice and snow in the shallow lake area. Firemen from Port Austin and Kinde assisted Caseville, as did personnel from the state DNR and Sleeper State Park plus Port Crescent State Park workers.

KUHL NAMED TO MAC VP POST

Bruce Kuhl of Sebawaing, District 1 Commissioner on the Huron County Board, is in line to become first vice-president of the Michigan Association of Counties. A four-year member of the MAC board of directors, Kuhl was elected second vice-president in August, 1988.

He is due to move up the ladder to first vice-president, following the resignation last week of First Vice-President Susan Bailey of Flushing, who took another job in Flint. Doug Bovin of Gladstone in the Upper Peninsula, is president of MAC.

Kuhl served a three-year term on the board, and was reelected in 1988 to another term. MAC serves the interests of all county governments in Michigan, and helps pass or reject bills that come before the Michigan Legislature. Members of the board of MAC engage in lobbying in behalf of bills that are deemed helpful to county and local governments.

BAY PORT WOMAN'S CLUB

The Bay Port Woman's Club met at the home of Eunice Melinich for their March meeting with 13 members present.

Dessert and refreshments were served by the hostess. The meeting was called to order by President Margaret Faltyn with the Club Collect and Pledge to the Flag.

Card Chairman Donna Deming reported she sent 13 cards. A thank-you from the Pigeon District Library was read.

Roll call was "An Event About St. Patrick's Day." Margaret Faltyn was awarded the house prize. Mrs. William Shaw had the most green on, for which she won a prize. A St. Patrick's Day game was won by Betty Smith.

Mrs. Faltyn led the discussion on "Tipping" and "Body Language Expressions." The April meeting will be with Alma Stahl.

WORTHY STUDY CLUB

Members of the Worthy Study Club met Wednesday for a noon luncheon at the Country House in Caseville.

Del Lukasiak presided at the business session. Roll call was "A Michigan Tourist Attraction." A card was signed for Lola Tropea, who is recovering from surgery.

Program chairman Marion Watterworth presided at a question and answer memory game on members' childhood. Mona McBride will host the April 12 meeting.

RUSH LAKE FARM BUREAU

A potluck supper preceded the March 16 meeting of the Rush Lake Farm Bureau group, conducted in the home of Fred and Mona McBride.

Mrs. McBride presided at the business session, leading in the Pledge to the Flag and the Farm Bureau Creed. Mildred Ballagh read the minutes which were approved, and an article on "Farm Bureau Benefits."

Opal Duffy led the discussion on "Infrastructure Improvement," saying that good roads, highways and bridges are the cornerstones of economic activity on farms and forests. A May meeting is planned.

TIP OF THUMB AUX. #2236

The Tip-of-the-Thumb Ladies Auxiliary Post #2236 met March 14 for their regular meeting with 17 members present. The business meeting was conducted by President Jessie Otto. A thank-you note was read from Pigeon Brownie Troop

#807 for the flag and stand donated by the auxiliary.

Marie Darby reported that the gifts collected for the Saginaw VA Hospital amounted to $50. Joyce Bannick bought a lap robe, crocheted by her daughter, for the hospital.

Eleanora Trost reported that a student in the Caseville School entered the Young American Art Contest.

It was reported that the auxiliary will not have a table at the Craft Show on April 22, but will be serving food from the kitchen.

Plans were also made to serve lunches at the VFW Hall during Farmers' Festival. Members voted to reimburse Verna Thede for the ad she placed in the Department President's Testimonial Book.

ELKTON SENIOR CITIZENS

President Mike Renn welcomed 46 members and guests to the March 14 meeting of the Elkton Senior Citizens.

Guests were John and Annabelle Knechtel and Patrick Essian. Mae Coote, Audrey Rinner and Mildred Tilt were back after long absences. A moment of silence was observed in memory of William Proffitt. Della Trudgen read an Irish Blessing as the table prayer.

The afternoon session opened with the singing of "America" and the Pledge to the Flag.

Program chairman Marie Hoffman introduced Patrick Essian who spoke on "Medicare Catastrophic Coverage."

Following the program, Mildred Tilt, Alvin Wilde and Alvin Knechtel were honored with The Birthday Song. "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" was sung for Orville and Bernice Eidt in honor of their 64th Wedding Anniversary.

Thank-yous were expressed to the Edits for the cake, to Alvin Knechtel for the ice cream and to Kathy Southworth for playing the piano while the regular pianists are away. Alvin Knechtel thanked everyone for his 90th birthday card.

Emily Podlaskowski was to chair the March 21 program.

CASEVILLE RETIREMENT CLUB

The Caseville Retirement Club met March 14 at the American Legion Hall with Vice President Beulah Adams presiding in the absence of President Margaret Wilhelm. A total of 109 members were in attendance, plus three guests: Michael Slavin and Michael and Rosaleen Scally.

Dinner was provided by the Huron County Commission on Aging. Adams welcomed back Jim and Mary Keena and Art Morosini, who had been ill.

Monthly reports were given by Secretary Virginia Krieg and Treasurer Norma Farver. Ed White reported on the meeting of the Advisory Board. The potluck is to be March 28 with the club providing the turkeys. Peg Hill is donating one turkey toward the total of four.

Gay Garrard reported the group will attend the Chesaning Snowboat on July 13 to see featured performer Mickey Gilley. Sign-up will begin April 4.

Adams thanked Alice Dean and Edna Schultz for the early bird goodies.
