Nitrate clinic set June 2 in Bad Axe

A 2nd nitrate testing clinic will be held Friday, June 2, at the Activities Center of Huron Community Fairgrounds, according to Jim LeCureux, Huron Extension agricultural agent.

Cost will be $5 total per field, and that requires 2 samples, one from the top 12 inches and a 2nd from the 12-24 inch depth.

Your artifacts needed soon!

The Artifact Committee of the Pigeon Historical Society will be receiving loaned items for the depot museum this Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The June opening display will feature wedding attire, both male and female, plus christening dresses and old jewelry. Items donated for display will be returned by July 1, members say.

For more information, contact Marie Leippeandt at 453-3884 or Mabel Swartzenbruder at 453-5322.

Nitrates found in some soil samples received a nitrate credit, meaning that normal nitrogen application rates could be reduced by some amount. Some fields received as much as 135 pounds of credit, because of heavy manure application rates.

Farmers with questions are invited to call Lee Bolzman at 260-9949 for help or information. Bolzman, of Schwabing, has been hired as a soil technician for Farm Service Corp. He is in charge of soil testing and pest scouting.

It's getting to be a familiar scene—Brickerville's Tony Beane and Millersburg's Bob Wagner again vying for the ring. This time, both teams met in the district semifinals, with Wagner's Millersburg winning it with a score of 31-15. Beane was the high scorer with 13 points. The Bricks won by getting ahead of the Russell's in the first quarter and holding on to the lead for the rest of the game. Wagner's team is now one game away from advancing to the state tournament.

The Mountaineers' lead was never threatened, as they dominated the game from the start. Millersburg's Ron Smith led the way with 15 points, while Beane added 10. The Brickerville bench provided solid support, with Paul Miller scoring 12 points and Mike Baker contributing 10.

Beane's three-point play early in the game sparked the team's offense, and the Mountaineers never looked back. Wagner's defense was dominated, as Millersburg's quickness and agility proved too much for the Mountaineers.

Other games of note included:
- In District III, York Suburban defeated Dallastown 40-35. York Suburban's John Green scored 20 points, while Dallastown's Mike Taylor had 12.
- In District IV, Reading defeated Lebanon 38-35. Reading's Dan Brown scored 15 points, while Lebanon's Tim Johnson had 12.

The Laker Sports Report will continue to bring you the latest news and updates on local high school basketball. Stay tuned for more exciting games and competitions!

Without the sacrifice of our heroes who gave their lives for us, we could not have retained the freedoms that we enjoy today, and we should do our best to preserve them. As an elder pastor, who died recently, spent his life doing that. His powerful sermons, as well as his books and articles, contained messages connecting faith with love of country that left no doubt about where he stood. Despite enormous dangers on his life, he fought relentlessly against the forces of evil which he believed would ultimately destroy us. Like any soldier, he was prepared to give his life for his country, and he certainly dedicated it to that cause, so that those who did give their lives did not do so in vain. We must do no less, follow his example.

They died for us, and we lived to make it worthwhile.

A true survivor

"Today marks the 20th anniversary of my semi-submerged tug that now rests happily in the water." In June 1989, shortly before turning 20, the 22-foot motor vessel that was once the center of Michigan's only marine race, the Great Lakes Tugboat Race, was launched into the St. Clair River. Since then, the vessel has been transformed into a unique sculpture, a monument to the spirit of adventure and perseverance.

The tug, originally named "A true survivor," was built in 1919 by the Harford Shipyard in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It was then sold to the Michigan Iron & Steel Company, which used it as a stevedore tug until the early 1930s. After being sold to a number of different owners, the tug was eventually abandoned and left to rot in the water.

However, a group of local volunteers took it upon themselves to restore the tug to its former glory. They removed all of the decayed parts and replaced them with new ones, carefully preserving the vessel's original design and structure. The resulting work of art now serves as a memorial to the brave and resilient crew members who worked on these vessels and to those who continue to navigate the Great Lakes today.

By AMY HEDEN

When the Baltimore Orioles fell into the Angeles Dodgers’ trap, the Baltimore Orioles’ fans fell in love with the Los Angeles Dodgers. At least for a few moments.

The Orioles were leading 3-2 in the seventh inning of their game against the Dodgers when a dramatic ninth-inning rally capped by a game-winning home run by Los Angeles Dodgers’ starter Daniel Murphy gave the Angels a 4-3 victory.

The Angels’ victory was a momentous occasion for the team and its fans, who had been waiting for a home run from Murphy for years. The win was a relief for the Angels, who had been struggling with their offense throughout the season.
