Bean Commission to expand promotions
FRANKENMUTH — A bigger and much more active program in promotion and advertising Michigan beans, with a budget of almost $5 million, is being proposed by the Michigan Bean Commission. The project would require an increase in the assessment on all dry beans sold by growers in Michigan. Jim Sahm, Saginaw County farmer and chairman of the Commission said that while the proposed increase is substantial, there are opportunities for the industry that justify the increase. We are going to ask growers to support this increase to fund a major, nationwide advertising and promotion program for Michigan grown dry beans, he said. We will develop a program for the increased funding around the health and nutritional benefits of dry beans. Consumers must be made aware of the benefits, and we believe consumption will increase as this information becomes known.

Initial ideas for the program include contracting with Paul Harvey for advertising, placing ads in consumer magazines targeted at the health and nutrition market and expanding trade show participation.

PAUL HARVEY TO “BOOST” BEANS
“Clearly Paul Harvey sells product, and from our perspective, he provides a highly credible and effective sales message. The demographics of his listeners tend to be identical to those who are most likely to buy beans. It’s a natural fit,” said Sahm.

There are also opportunities for canners to cooperate with the Commission on this new program, and commit some of their advertising...

BIG CHARITY FOR SALE AGAIN
The state is again being asked to purchase Big Charity and Little Charity Islands in the middle of Saginaw Bay, for future use as public parks.

Stuie Ann James Barta (D-Bay City) has again applied to have the state DNR Trust Fund acquire the big island — along with Little Charity this year. Barta said that the range of $1 million from private donors and the charity Island Association of Saginaw. The Trust Fund spends $30,000 annually for land purchases, to be used as future parks and public areas.

Big Charity Island has 223 acres, while Little Charity is 0.27 acres. The vacant lighthouse on Big Charity is not part of the purchase plan, and is enrolled in the federal lighthouse reserve program. State Senator Carney’s Key for Big Charity is $100,000 for a cash value of $211,000. Little Charity’s SIV is $320 and $400 in all. The state will send its own appraiser to set a fair price, officials say, prior to making any offer to the private owners.

HURON LEVELS GOING UP
Lake Huron’s water level stood at 578.4 feet above sea level last week, and is expected to go up one inch between now and July 28, says the Detroit District, Army Corps of Engineers. That level is 22 inches above the lake’s established depth of 578.8 feet, six inches higher than the May 23 level and down three inches from the June, 1998 level.

The lakes is 20 inches below the 100-year high water level for the month, posted in 1996, and 33 inches above its June, 1964 100-year low water level, officials say.

HURON QUAIL HUNTING OKAYED
Huron County has been added to the list of open hunting areas for Michigan’s quail population, thanks to a mild winter and soggy spring, state officials say. Quail numbers have doubled since last year in Sanilac and St. Clair Counties, and Huron will be added to the open hunting area for this year’s season, Oct. 28 to Nov. 11.

Quail numbers have badpour by 40%, says Peter Squibb of the state DNR, and quail may be also taken in Branch, Calhoun, Eaton, Genesee, Hillsdale, Ingham, Jackson, Lapeer, Lenawee, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Sanilac, Shiawassee, Tuscola, Washtenaw and Wayne Counties.

GEIGER WINS NEA TOP SPOT
Pigman native Keith Geiger was elected President of the nation’s largest labor union, the 2-million member National Education Association last week, ousting opponent John Wilton of North Carolina with 4870 votes — 58% of the 8000-plus-vote cast.

Geiger told reporters he plans to work toward gaining collective bargaining rights for teachers when he takes office Sept. 1, “I don’t believe any employee in any school district should work without being under a collective bargaining agreement,” Geiger said.

Henne aims for 'First Class' Car in Pigeon!

By AMY HEDDEN

American Horse lovers have always been known for their love of horses and automobiles. They spend hours washing, cleaning andas, And no wonder. After a feat, the purchase of a horse is the biggest investment the average person will make.

But why do some of these enthusiasts take so much time and effort to keep their cars looking clean and shiny? And why do some people simply don't care about the time or money spent on cleaning their vehicles?

That's where Dean Henne, owner of Pigeon Class Car Care in Pigeon, comes in. Henne is a horse lover who understands the importance of keeping your car looking its best.

"I've always been a horse lover," says Henne. "I think that's why I enjoy taking care of cars. It's like taking care of a horse. You have to keep them clean and well-groomed."

Henne has been a car enthusiast for as long as he can remember. He started washing and detailing cars at a young age, and now he runs a successful business based on that passion.

His philosophy is simple: treat your car as if it were a horse. He believes that if you take care of your car, it will take care of you.

Henne's business includes car wash, detailing, and even horse grooming. He offers services such as waxing, polishing, and even interior cleaning.

"I think it's important to give your car the same attention and care that you give your horse," he says. "Your car is an extension of you, and it should reflect that."

WHEN YOU VISIT GOD'S WILDERNESS; KEEP IT CLEAN

When you visit the home of friends or relatives, you naturally remember your manners and do your best to keep the place as neat and clean as possible. By the same token, if your plans take you to a wil- derness or camping area, this is also a good place to remember your manners. It’s really a form of "love thy neighbor," because you do this out of consideration for others who may share the place with you. Another reason is that you are God’s guest there. In any wilderness area you can see all that beauty which He has provided for your enjoyment. Think of it as an outdoor extension of your House of Worship, and respect it as you would your own house. You are invited guest. In this case, the "guest" room is all God’s creation.

NAME THAT FARM... WIN A PRIZE!!!

Tell us whose farm this is... and we'll send you a year's subscription to the Progress-Advance to you, or to the person of your choice.

AND... Just to make the contest a little more competitive... be advised that this shows the farm AS IT WAS Around the Middle 1950’s Or So, can you name the owner of that period, or today, or even if you just locate the farm... it will count toward your prize.

Remembering When....

This series of aerial photos is about 30 years older, but the pictures have never been seen by anyone except staff of the newspaper. You'll be amazed at how these farms have changed in 3 decades. Some old homes have been taken down and new ones built. Many farms have new owners, perhaps their children, or even grandchildren are living there now. Almost all of them have been leveled, for fewer buildings today then they had in the 50's. In some cases you'll notice that fields are larger today than earlier. Roads are better today. Some tracts have been cut down, all of them have grown. On some farms, herds of cows are seen in the barnyards or in a adjoining pasture or orchard.

These old time pictures will prove a genuine history book of changes in farming during the past decades.

This Bladed-Crescent is no more acquainted with the names of the farms than the readers, as they were "shot" by Bill Hurdlebrick and his pilot flying from town to town, and farm to farm. So put on your thinking cap, then call, 853-3100 or deliver or mail your answer to our office. Winning entry will be drawn at the close of business Friday from all correct entries received. Decision of judges is final.

Summer storms

The humidity was so high it hung like a blanket over the trees and the air was thick with moisture. I stood on the porch, watching the clouds roll in and the lightning flash across the sky.

I heard a clap of thunder and looked up to see a bolt of lightning strike the tree behind my house. The sky turned dark and I could feel the ground shake beneath my feet.

I ran inside and locked the door, feeling a sense of unease. I had never experienced such a powerful storm before and it was scary.

Later that night, as the storm finally subsided, I sat on the porch, watching the stars come out. I knew that I would never forget this night and the power of nature.

Kipleing

Gradually, Mary started to join me in our short snatches. She would gently reach out and whisper "Mary." Slowly, I realized the nature of this thing. Mary was no longer my mother, but a stranger. I knew the names and faces of the people in the room, but I was not sure who they were. I was not sure who I was. Mary was no longer my mother, but a stranger.
