Dwight Gascho of Pigeon has been named interim Administrator of Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon, effective May 15.

Gascho was named to the position to replace George Desmarais, whose contract was not renewed by the Scheurer Hospital Board of Trustees, according to Board Chairman Paul Clabuesch.

Gascho, 42, says his first goal as administrator is to keep the 47-bed hospital moving forward. He has met with all department heads and most of the staff, and says he will lead the executive search committee to find a permanent administrator.

"We deeply appreciate George's hard work in these past 10 years to make Scheurer Hospital the excellent medical care provider it is. We hope to carry on that tradition," Gascho said.

A 1966 graduate of Laker High School, Gascho received his college education from Goshen College and Rosedale Bible Institute. He then spent 2 1/2 years in volunteer work as a surgical technician at St. Dominics Hospital, Jackson, Miss.

In 1977, he was named Executive Director of Blue-water Youth For Christ and now oversees a YFC staff of six fulltime people, from the Pigeon office, to serve all of Huron County.

DWIGHT GASCHO

The YFC Board has unanimously voted to retain Gascho as executive director in support of the additional time commitment needed during the interim period.

"I greatly appreciate their support as we search for a fulltime administrator," Gascho says. "I am grateful for the YFC Board's unanimous support of me at this time."

He and his wife, Mary Ann, a registered nurse, have three children, Chad, Vicki and Kim. They work the family farm near Pigeon with his father, and are members of Pigeon River Mennonite Church.

Desmarais, 56 of Sebewaing, came to Scheurer Hospital in April, 1981 from South Bend, Ind., where he had been associate administrator of South Bend Memorial Hospital for 15 years. A native of the Upper Peninsula, he served as a commissioned officer in the Medical Service Corps from 1956-59 and earned his master's degree in hospital administration at the University of Minnesota.

GRANT CEMETERY: Memorial Day Services at Grant Cemetery near Owendale are planned this Sunday, May 27 at 2 p.m.

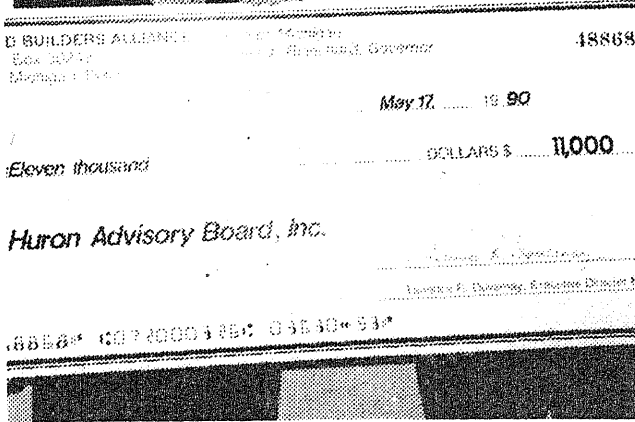

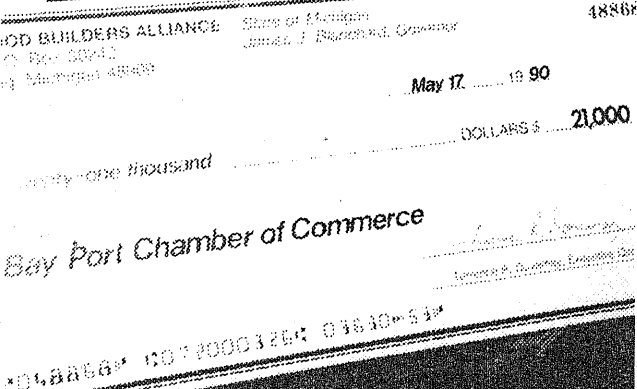

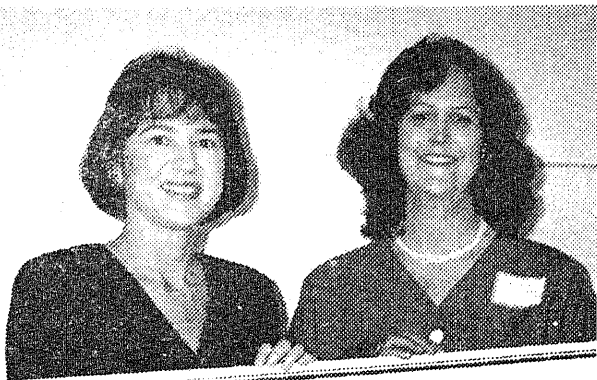

Featured will be a color guard, Owen Gage High School Band, local pastors and a combined choir. The public is invited.

BAY PORT: Veterans, members of the American Legion and Auxiliary, assisted by the Laker High School Marching Band, will march to the Steele/Lambert Post 533 Memorial on Memorial Day, May 28 at 9:30 a.m.

The public is welcomed, organizers say.

PIGEON: Tip of the Thumb VFW Post 2236 will assemble south of the Main Street barricade for an 11 a.m. parade to the Veterans' Memorial Park.

The Laker High Band will march, as will veterans and Auxiliary members. Interested persons are invited.

Janet Blanchard, wife of Gov. James Blanchard, made a swing through the Thumb last week, and during her visit, she presented checks to several non-profit groups. In a presentation ceremony in Bad Axe, George Willoughby accepted a check for $11,000 for the Huron Youth Advisory Board for their efforts to build a youth center for the county. And Sandy Chalou, representing the Bay Port Chamber of Commerce, accepted a check to be used to develop a community park, and for downtown beautification.

Mrs. Blanchard praised the groups' "exceptional effort to improve life in your communities." AMY HEIDEN PHOTO

HURON ELECTIONS SET

Two of the five seats on the Huron County Board of Commissioners feature multiple candidates, with winners to be decided in the Aug. 7 Primary and Nov. 6 General Election, following last week's filing deadline.

■ LOCALLY: In District 1, incumbent Republican Bruce Kuhl of Sebewaing will face challenger Gerald Elston of Unionville for another two-year term. Both are Republicans.

■ In District 6, Republican incumbent Martha Thuemmel of Port Austin is being challenged by former commissioner Warren Krohn of Elkton in the Primary. The winner will face Democrat Robert Quinn of Caseville in November, who lost a close contest to Thuemmel in 1988 to narrowly miss being elected the county's first Democratic commissioner.

■ CONTESTS: Former commissioner William Nugent of Bad Axe is one of four Republicans seeking the District 4 seat being given up by incumbent Jean Talaski of Harbor Beach, who defeated Nugent in 1982. Other G.O.P. candidates are Shirley Guza of Harbor Beach and Julia Heilig and Earl Longuski, both of Ubyly. The winner will face Alfred Grifka of Ubyly, a Democrat, in November.

■ UNOPPOSED: Incumbents in the other three commission districts are unopposed in seeking re-election. They are R. Dale Wertz of Bay Port in Dist. 2, Robert Hogan of Bad Axe in Dist. 3 and Robert Witherspoon of Port Hope in Dist. 5. All are Republicans.

■ COUNTYWIDE: For Huron County Prosecutor, Republican Leslie Hagen of Port Austin will face Democrat David Herrington of Bad Axe in November for the two-year term. The job, vacated last year when Karl Kraus of Caseville was appointed Huron County District Judge, requires the prosecutor to work full-time for the county for the first time, following a recent county board decision. The prosecutor is presently paid $38,125.

■ JUDICIAL: District Judge Karl Kraus and Circuit Judge M. Richard Knoblock are both seeking re-election to four-year judicial terms, and neither has opposition in the Primary or General Elections.

AREA ELECTION SUMMATION

Challengers plan to battle incumbents in State House, State Senate and U.S. Congress posts this fall.

■ Incumbent State Rep. Dick Allen (R-Caro) has two Democratic opponents challenging him for the two-year term in the 77th District. John Neeb of Bad Axe and Larry Samuelson of Cass City will battle in the August Primary, with the winner to face Allen in November. The District includes all of Huron and Tuscola Counties.

■ In the 78th District State House, G.O.P. incumbent Keith Muxlow of Brown City is unopposed in his bid for a sixth term.

■ Incumbent 34th Sen. James Barcia (D-Bay City) will be challenged by Republican Richard Thatcher of Bay City for the four-year term in the Nov. 6 General Election. The 34th District includes all of Huron, Tuscola, Bay, Arenac and Gladwin Counties.

■ Eight-term U.S. Rep. J. Bob Traxler (D-Bay City) is being challenged by a G.O.P. newcomer, James White of Caro, for the two-year Eighth District seat. Traxler has served since 1974. The Eighth District includes all of Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac, Bay and Arenac Counties and portions of Genesee, St. Clair, Lapeer and Midland Counties.

LOWEST LEVELS IN 20 YEARS

Lake Huron's water levels are at their lowest in 22 years, but are still 23 inches above their 100-year low, recorded in May, 1964.

Lake Huron is currently listed at 577.8 feet above sea level, nine inches below its average — and more than three feet below the all-time high for May recorded in May, 1986. Low rainfall amounts since that time have accelerated the declining lake levels, which are exposing sandbars, shoals and are grounding numerous pleasure boats and working ships.

Elkton Lions honor Tamblyn as 'Citizen of Year'

When the Elkton Lions met last week to celebrate the 30th anniversary of their club's founding, they also honored a "Citizen of the Year."

This year's honoree is Phyllis Tamblyn, currently Elkton's assessor.

Lion Merlin Farver, in making the presentation, noted that Tamblyn has lived in the village since 1948, and started her commitment to the community when her children started school. She was a member of the Elkton PTA for 15 years, and was one of the founders of Club 59, of which she is still a member.

Tamblyn also assists with the Lunch with Santa program, acts as secretary for the Elkton Civic Center since it was opened to the family. Other activities include the Cancer Drive, United Way, Scheurer Hospital Volunteer, past council member of St. Francis Borgia Church, and past member of the Ladies Auxillary VFW Elkton Post.

She also supported the park expansion in 1983 when bathroom facilities were installed, and assisted with financial aid for the project. She now serves on the election board for the Village of Elkton and Oliver Township, and she was appointed to the position of village assessor. She was re-elected to the post for three terms.

She is married to Earl "Barney" Tamblyn, and they have four children, James, Kay, Connie, and Tammy.

Former resident rides against child abuse

A former Pigeon resident will be riding her bicycle in an effort to raise funds to fight child abuse.

Marge Hall-Niemann, the daughter of Virgil and Verneta Bouck of Pigeon, and her husband will be riding in the Magic Ride for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect. The ride is scheduled for June 9 in Holt, just south of Lansing.

Hall-Niemann is a board member of the Child Abuse Prevention Services in Ingham County. She says along with her pledges from Ingham County, she has submitted a pledge form for Huron County.

Any pledges made from Huron County residents will be returned here for use in child abuse prevention efforts. Through the efforts of her mother and Doris Leipprandt, she says she already has pledged from the people of Hayes United Methodist Church.

"The statistics (about child abuse) are sad and they are scary, but we can do something to help. Child abuse is preventable and treatable, but it takes money—money to inform and to train parents in a better way," Hall-Niemann says.

Area residents interested in pledging to the her efforts in the Magic Ride should call Hall-Niemann at work, 517-349-2336, or home 517-487-3048.

Holodnick speaks at Sunday's Graduation

Steven E. Holodnick, 1976 graduate of Laker High School, will return to his home community to address the 1990 Laker graduates this Sunday, May 27 at 2 p.m. Commencement ceremonies at the Laker gymnasium.

Holodnick is presently employed as Director of Environmental Affairs, Gelman Sciences, Inc. in Ann Arbor.

Following his graduation from Laker High School, Holodnick earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry from the University of Michigan, then continued his education with a Master of Science degree in Environmental Chemistry and in 1988, earned his Ph.D.

Holodnick is the son of Leona Holodnick of Case-ville and the late John Holodnick.

His professional career has spanned from 1978, when he was a laboratory assistant at the Institute of Science and Technology in Ann Arbor to his present career as Director of Environmental Affairs at Gelman Sciences.

His brief talk this Sunday will be on the topic, "The Future of Each New Graduate in the Changing Global Environment." His words will highlight the importance of maintaining an educated and critical mind in light of pollution and general environmental concerns.

A total of 110 graduates, plus their families, friends and other interested community persons will be on hand Sunday for commencement exercises.

Michigan's First Lady visits area

FIRST LADY OF MICHIGAN Janet Blanchard was the guest of honor at a luncheon reception at Greenfields Restaurant in Pigeon on Thursday.

Mrs. Blanchard was in Bad Axe awarding local community grants, and she made a special stop in Pigeon to tour the Cooperative Elevator Company and join the special luncheon of 60 at Greenfields.

"I'm most comfortable in a rural setting like the Thumb," she said, having grown up on a farm in Williamston near Lansing.

DESK-CLEARING: Final word to the wise: because of Monday's Memorial Day observance, please be sure we have all news stories, photos and ad information by 5 p.m. THIS THURSDAY for next Wednesday's Progress-Advance.

That allows us to deliver a regular, normal newspaper to you on time!

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS in Michigan cost the state $7.1 billion in medical care, property damage and accident victim's decreased quality of life, says a U-M study. Most of that went for ambulance and mental health costs, researchers say...

WANT TO BUY A SATURN? Six dealerships for the revolutionary new Saturn car from General Motors are planned thus far in Michigan. The innovative car, to sell in the $10,000 to $12,000 price range, will be available from separate dealerships in Clarkston, Ann Arbor, Plymouth, Grand Rapids, Troy and Warren.

Our closest, Al Serra's dealership in Clarkston, will serve northeastern Michigan from a Dixie Highway and I-75 location. Serra is ready to break ground on the $2 million building this month...

YOU'VE GOT TO HAND IT TO Bay City Mayor Mary Donnelly, a Gageton native (of course!) To learn about problems facing the handicapped, she observed Barrier Awareness Day last week by riding through six blocks of downtown Bay City in a wheelchair.

She noted especially that every driveway is an obstacle, and said cars aren't friendly or courteous often.

She deserves credit for wheeling a mile in someone else's shoes...

TOP PAYCHECKS: Isiah Thomas of the Detroit Pistons is the Motor City's highest-paid athlete (probably highest paid PERSON), pulling down $2.3 million. Next comes Tiger pitcher Jack Morris at $2.1 million (not quite earning it this year...), then Tigers Alan Trammell and Lou Whitaker at $1.8 million each and Lloyd Moseby of the Tigers at $1.4 million.

Highest-paid Lion is Barry Sanders at $1.2 million and Steve Yzerman is rightfully the Red Wings' top guy at $1.2 million... Wonder what the top-paid woman gets??

HERE'S JOHNNY: Late-night TV king Johnny Carson has been at the top for an unbelievable 28 years... and he's just signed on for another year. "As long as I'm having fun, I'll continue," he says. The 64-year-old host (who looks about 50) will continue his Wednesday, Thursday and Friday work schedule on NBC...

NICE TRIBUTES to two Thumb Area folks or projects were observed this week. First, the Lapeer County Press ("America's Largest Rural Weekly") wrote a nice story about Pigeon's own Bill Hengy and his Michigan Directory Company, now being challenged by Ameritech in the county-wide directory business.

"It took Bell 13 years to wake up and begin putting out countywide books of its own," noted Editor Emeritus Len Ganeway (actually Bob Myers), under the heading "One little guy beat the corporation." Congratulations, Willis!

Secondly, Harbor Beach's city mural being painted in honor of favorite son Frank Murphy was featured this weekend in the Detroit Free Press. West Branch artist Dave Wiley is painting a huge historical mural on the Community House building, chronicling Harbor Beach's 154-year history...

Lake Huron Circle Tour now a reality

The Lake Huron Circle Tour, leading travelers along a 1,450 mile route, was officially opened last week by officials from the Canadian Ministry of Tourism, the Michigan Department of Commerce and the Michigan Legislature.

"I'm delighted that the Lake Huron Circle Tour is now officially open," said State Sen. Jim Barcia (D-Bay City) who participated in the ribbon cutting ceremony to commemorate the tour.

"We began our talks to create this joint international venture two years ago in Sarnia, and today Sarnia is appropriately the site of the grand opening," he said.

The Lake Huron Circle Tour runs through Michigan and Ontario along 1,125 miles of shoreline. Part of the route includes M-25 from Port Huron, through the Huron County towns of Harbor Beach, Port Austin, Caseville, Bay Port and Sebawing, to Bay City.

It then follows state and provincial trunk lines closes to the Lake Huron shore along the Eastern Michigan shoreline, through the Upper Peninsula, and back around through Canada to Sarnia in Ontario.

Signs posted every 10 miles will guide travelers along the tour route, and will be supplemented by a guidebook highlighting the attractions, lodging and dining along with route.

Local communities along with route are being encouraged to publicize their own special events and attractions, Barcia said.

The Lake Huron Circle Tour guidebook is available by contacting the Michigan Travel Bureau, P.O. Box 30226, Lansing, Michigan 48909, or by calling 1-800-5432-YES.

FOA STOCK TO NYSE

First of America Bank Corporation will begin trading on the New York Stock Exchange late next month, according to an announcement from Chairman and CEO Daniel R. Smith. The bank, with local offices in Caseville, Elkton, Gageton, Sebawing and Bad Axe, will trade under the symbol FOA.

Until that time, FOA's common stock will continue to trade on the NASDAQ National Market System under the symbol FABK, where it has been traded since 1978. First of America has $12.7 billion in assets and serves communities in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois from headquarters in Kalamazoo.

T.A.T. MILLAGE PASSES

Huron County voters approved continuation of Thumb Area Transit public bus service by a two-to-one margin in voting last Tuesday, to pass a two-tenths (0.2-mill) mill funding proposal for three years.

Of the 1874 votes cast, 1175 voted "yes" and 698 voted "no." About 7% of the county's registered voters cast ballots, said County Clerk Helen Lemanski. The millage plan generates about $150,000 annually.

THUMB GETTING S.H.A.R.P.

Area police agencies are beginning an accident reduction program on M-53 through the center of the Thumb now through Labor Day, called the Sanilac/Huron Accident Reduction Program (S.H.A.R.P.).

Cooperating police agencies including the Huron County Sheriff's Department, Michigan State Police Post at Bad Axe, Bad Axe City Police and others are working with the state Office of Highway Safety and Planning to improve surveillance and keep speed limits lower along the busy roadway, according to Sheriff Michael Gage.

Details of the program will be announced as they are received, officials say.

WBCM TAKEN OFF AIR

Northeastern Michigan's first radio station has been closed by the Internal Revenue Service for non-payment of withholding and Social Security taxes.

WBCM-AM radio in Bay City was padlocked Thursday morning by IRS agents, who told reporters the station owed more than $30,000 in back taxes.

WBCM went on the air as station WSKC on June 15, 1925 and was the sixth radio station to open in Michigan. It changed its call letters to WBCM in 1928 and operated from studios in the old Wenonah Hotel.

AM radio has been a difficult business in recent years, and the station changed from its news-talk format to contemporary Christian music in 1987. No one from Kathi Broadcasting Company of Chicago, which bought the station in 1987, commented on the closing. Seven people were employed full-time.

SCHOOLS EARN RECOGNITION

Three local school boards have earned honors for educational leadership from the Michigan Association of School Boards.

The MASB presented "Standard of Excellence Awards" to the Elkton - Pigeon - Bay Port "Laker" School Board, North Huron Board and Bad Axe Board this month. A majority of board members earned individual merit awards from the MASA by attending an assortment of school conferences and seminars.

Individual awards were earned by Dr. Richard Lockard of the Laker Board, Mary Ann Abbe, Jack Brinkman and Ronald Good of the Owendale - Gageton School Board and Frederick Fortsch of Caseville, member of the Huron Intermediate School District Board.

TUSCOLA CANDIDATES FILE

Four of seven incumbents on the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners are opposed for re-election to two-year terms, following last week's filing deadline for elective offices.

UNOPPOSED: Incumbents Terry Houhoofd of Akron (R—District 1), Arnold Krumnauer of Vassar (R-Dist. 3), Norma Bates of Caro (D-Dist. 4) and William World of Millington (D-Dist. 7) are likely to be re-elected in the November election, as no challengers filed nominating petitions for the Aug. 7 Primary.

CONTESTS: In District 2 surrounding Cass City, five newcomers are seeking the term of former Commissioner Kim Glaspie, who was appointed Tuscola District Judge earlier this year. The five are Republicans Jack Brinkman, Edward Scollon and Roy Tuckey, plus Democrats Mary Lou Burns and Richard Erla.

JUDICIAL: Judge Glaspie will seek election to a four-year term to follow his appointment, and is being challenged on the non-partisan ballot by three persons: David Myers and Duane Burgess of Caro and John Bishop of Vassar. The two persons earning the most votes in the Primary will face each other in November.

As we see it

When the cure is worse than the illness...

School districts throughout our state will likely save millions of dollars in asbestos removal expenses under a proposed law that would forbid them to rip out the cancer-causing substance from their buildings.

The bill, which passed the state senate 37-0 last week, would ban the removal of asbestos in most cases. Usually, it would allow the districts to seal the asbestos in, to prevent fibers from being released into the air — and possibly getting into human lungs.

This is a proposed law which makes sense. Finally. And even so, it's coming too late for many districts.

No one knew that asbestos fibers could lead to cancer in humans, when the fire-resistant substance was routinely applied in public buildings such as schools in the big building boom of the 1950s. Too late, districts learned the substance COULD get into the air supply, even though nearly all asbestos was in boiler rooms, above ceilings or in other restricted places.

But then federal and state officials stepped in, saying schools had to tear out asbestos if a building contained it anywhere the public may encounter the stuff. No matter the cost, no matter the minimal contact — no matter that disturbing the asbestos often was worse in spreading its danger than simply leaving it alone!

Most local school districts obediently tore out asbestos coatings in the past three years, sometimes encountering expenses in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. Such work was done in summer months to minimize human encounters — and the substance was disposed of in expensive landfills.

Now, though, at least state lawmakers are sensibly realizing that it's usually cheaper to seal up asbestos, which also keeps it away from people... and at far less cost.

This is what we'd call a "logical law." It makes sense, it's simple, it's straight-forward — it's intelligent.

And it's about time. Hopefully, the hundreds, thousands and even millions of dollars saved with such an astute bit of legislation can go toward improved education of those youngsters. After all, they're the reason the schools were built, with or without asbestos-covered pipes, ceiling tiles or all the rest...

THE BEST LAID PLANS

In keeping with my obsessive/compulsive need to over prepare when confronted with a particularly challenging upcoming event, I made an all-out effort to be the best prepared "got-it-together" rider on our riding club's annual season opener which was held the first Saturday in May. I spent 23 of the 24 hours that made up that Saturday cleaning, cooking, grooming, packing and planning for Sunday's trail ride. Falling into bed Saturday night - exhausted - I felt I had the situation more than well in both hands as I dozed off to sleep.

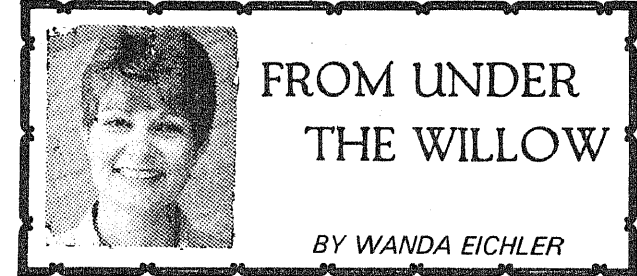

When I woke, (well before the alarm rang) I felt like a child on Christmas morning, brimming with anticipation, eager to get on with the day's adventure. Never before in history, I thought to myself, has such a perfect day dawned. Bright-bright-bright and breezy, brisk and beautiful! I had a light breakfast (so as not to be bogged down by heavy food.) I applied just a touch of make-up (being careful to slip a chapstick in my pocket,) brushed my hair, brushed my teeth, brushed the lint from my clothes, took the food and pop from the 'fridge, loaded them into the pick-up, called for my sister to hurry up, then double checked everything once over. There could not possibly be one trick I'd missed. I had to be the most completely prepared horseman in the state of Michigan on that sunny Sunday morning. Self-satisfied and confident, we headed for the farm.

When we pulled in the driveway I instantly spotted the loose wire and the downed posts at the corner of the pasture. As if an anvil had been dropped upon it, my heart sank deep into the pit of my stomach. Having been a pawn of the fates one too many times, I knew this could mean only one thing . . .

"Somebody is in shreds," I muttered. I jumped from the pickup and called for the horses. Brandon came quickly from the pasture, happy to see us and ready to go. But Tex - Tex did not need my call, very unlike him. He instead headed - gingerly - toward the barn, his head hanging, his pace slow. We checked Brandon from head to toe, not a mark on him. Then I went to the barn to fetch Tex, and in the dark stable I'd noticed nothing. But when I led him outside and we emerged into the bright sunlight, my sister let out a shriek. There, big as life and smack dab across his right knee, was a bright crimson gash oozing blood. No trail ride for me. End of discussion. We gently swabbed the wound clean and dabbed on a salve, covering it lightly to keep the insects away. I helped Mary load her horse Brandon into the trailer and waved good-bye as the truck and trailer rumbled down the dirt road out of sight.

Well, the good news is: the gash wasn't fatal or debilitating, nor did it require any stitches - a little peroxide and some penicillin and now Tex is as good as new - but there's a lesson to be learned here. Just as soon as I figure out what it is, I'll let you know. Probably something like —

"The best laid plans of mice, men and me . . ."

WASHINGTON, HO!

I MUST BE CRAZY THIS WEEK BECAUSE I'M GOING TO WASHINGTON, D.C. May has been a month of almost nothing but travel for me. The house is a mess, my desk and correspondence need attention, and the garden has yet to be planted. But, I'm going to Washington!

I MUST BE CRAZY THIS WEEK BECAUSE I'M GOING TO WASHINGTON WITH THE LAKER EIGHTH GRADE CLASS!

Now we're getting serious crazy here. By the time all you Progress-Advance readers turn your attention toward this week's paper, over a hundred of us pickled parents, petrified teachers and trying teenagers will be touring the nation's capitol. Why, we're even scheduled to be at the White House early Tuesday morning! (Don't tell anyone, but I figure that they take us to the White House the first day because we'll be too tired from the overnight bus ride to do anything outlandish!) Elementary Principal Todd Bigger who is also THE OFFICIAL LAKER EIGHTH GRADE TRIP PLANNER has all the angles covered. He's getting us into a dinner theatre (I think we do the dishes), going to subject us to subway rides (sociological study for a paper he's doing called "Effects of Urban Transportation Systems Upon Rural Residents") and has even arranged for a traditional group photo in front of the capitol building (proof positive that we really did get to D.C.)

Mr. Bigger "figgers" that he knows all the tricks of the eighth grade mind and held a secret meeting last Wednesday with the adults who've volunteered for a week of safari into the governmental jungles accompanied by, OH NO!, adolescents. We learned the rules and all the ways that 15 years of Laker kids have broken them. Then we spent an hour trying to determine what rules would be broken this year. Wonderful orientation!

So, we're off and running and please don't drink too much the first hour on the bus because we're not stopping until Toledo because Mr. Blair said so.

OH, THE BUS!
I MUST BE CRAZY THIS WEEK BECAUSE I'M GOING TO WASHINGTON WITH THE LAKER EIGHTH GRADE CLASS... ON A BUS!

Once, when working as roving reporter for The Progress-Advance, I rode Willie's school bus route with him in order to do a story about the Laker transportation system. I swore off bus transportation after that contribution to journalistic inerrancy.

Buses and I don't get along. They bounce where I don't. They make much larger noises than my 80,000 plus mileage Sunbird. AND they require patience to load and unload. But you oughta see the buses we take to Washington. Mr. Bigger found fantastic vehicles that can't even be called buses. These are "motor coaches!" (By Friday, after one night of sleep on these things and several days of funning around D.C., I'll be calling them buses again, no doubt!)

I must be crazy, but we're off. I have an ultimate threat in mind for the kids who plan any shenanigans around me. "Hey kid! You do that once more and I'll write about it in the paper!" That oughta give me some leeway. Maybe I'll leave my deodorant home, too. (Accidentally!) Bon Voyage!! "A motoring we go!

RECOLLECTIONS
Of By-Gone Days
BY GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR,
Years ago, at this time of year when there were still country schools, we used to look forward to our school picnic — always held on the last day of the school year. All the parents and many of the children used to come and we'd have a potluck dinner. It was up to the teacher how big a picnic we'd have.

Once we had one in a woods several miles from our school. A neighbor rigged up a picnic table and we had a lot of people come.

We all brought something along to eat and had a good time. Somebody brought some ice and some brought freezers and they made ice cream right out in the woods. We ate it as fast as they made it.

The old men played ball with the big boys and everybody had a good time.

There was a deep ditch going through the woods and some kids took off their shoes and went wading. One kid caught a big fish, but his mother made him put it back.

Once we had a peanut hunt in the yard. Several girls took some big bags of peanuts and threw them into the deep grass and of course, they told their best friends where they threw most of them.

Well, I wasn't lucky enough to be one of their friends and I only found about six of them.

Then once we had a picnic at the school and one man

Letters from our Readers

Thanks to Elkton supporters!

DEAR EDITOR:
This letter is addressed to Elkton area residents and businesses.

On behalf of the Elkton Area United Fund Board of Directors, I would like to thank all of you for your fine support this year. With all of us behind us, we were able to meet our goal, which will enable us to continue to help support the groups and organizations who do so much good for so many people.

Once again, our heartfelt thanks to all of you.

THE PAST IN PRINT

From The Archives Of
The Pigeon Progress and The Elkton Advance

90 YEARS AGO JUNE 8, 1900

The cargo of corn, 200,000 bushels, which Americans were asked to send to starving India, is now well on its way, in the big steamship Quito. The corn will go through the hands of American missionaries, directly to the starving.

The German Evangelical Society has purchased the lot just north of their church and are having hitching posts placed there. They will build a walk from the church to J. W. Leipprandt's corner.

Best granulated sugar 5 1/2 cents lb. at Hirsbergs. Bedroom suites for $14 at G. D. Heineman's. Solid oak sideboard $12.

The '00 class of Pigeon School gave an ice cream festival on E. Paul's lawn Tuesday evening.

Bicycles ranging from $15 up at J. A. McLean's.

80 YEARS AGO JUNE 10, 1910

For the first time in the history, Pigeon Schools will graduate a class from the 12th grade, two boys, Bert Hartley and Oscar Thiel. The extra grade was added to the course last year by the board of education. Commencement exercises will be held in the Evangelical Church with a small charge of 10 cents to cover expenses.

A Class Day program will be given June 16 at Diebel Hall by students of the first eight grades in Pigeon. On the program will be Hazel Haggitt, Daisy Harder, Wilma Loosemore, Mabel Thiel, Darrell Holtzman, Letha Schriber, Etril Haggitt.

The Hotel Arlington barn was moved by Frank Schoefeldt, and he will erect a large addition to it for one of the most up-to-date livery barns in the county.

Kaspar Rehle sold his 80-acre farm to Jacob Jutzi of Wilmont, Minn.

70 YEARS AGO JUNE 4, 1920

James K. Pedler, age 75, a well-known citizen of Winsor Township, died Saturday. He is survived by a wife, five daughters and three sons.

Herb Kreh is attending a millers' convention at Cincinnati, Oh. this week. Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Elenbaum and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Foster spent the weekend at Weale.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilfang, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. George Anklam, James Spence, J. W. Leipprandt and E. Clabusch attended the Knight Templar doings at Saginaw.

Boost for a better electric service for Pigeon.

60 YEARS AGO JUNE 6, 1930

Pigeon High School graduated a class of 12 seniors. They are Alice Moeller, Lulu Wurtz, Irene Daum, Olive Steinman, Dorothy Richmond, Martha Nieschulz, Irma Kleinfeld, Sarah Kreh, Floyd Woodward, George Smith, Leonard Webber and Walter Dufty.

R. S. Wurm & Co. will open a new gas station soon. The corner of their building now used as a showroom will be remodeled for the station. A plot of land, between five and six acres, adjoining the school grounds, has been purchased from Henry Moeller for the proposed athletic field. The price is understood to be at the rate of $300 an acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Braun and daughter, Leona, Roberta Bessler, James Braun and Barney Fahrner spent Decoration Day at Tawas City.

50 YEARS AGO JUNE 7, 1940

George Dutcher, 72, of Bay Port, died Saturday. Surviving are three sons and one daughter.

Mrs. Simon Langley, 87, passed away at her home in Lake Township. She is survived by her husband and four sons.

Commencement exercises for the 24 graduates of Pigeon High School will be held Thursday evening. Salutatory will be by Bob Gueltech and valedictory by Eileen Aytte. Class president is LaVerne Sturm.

About 40 members of the Cross Lutheran Church choir and friends gave Mr. and Mrs. Ted Heine a surprise party at their home in honor of their 19th wedding anniversary. Ida Schulz was the hostess.

40 YEARS AGO JUNE 9, 1950

The famous Little Charity Island, only 5.37 acres, has been sold to the highest bidder, Bay Port Fish Company, according to Otto Schmidt, company president. Officers of the newly organized fish company are Mr. Schmidt, Melvin Dutcher and Henry Engelhard. John M. Frank, 56, died at his home in Winsor Township. He had owned and operated Frank's Dairy Bar in Pigeon since 1947. Three daughters survive him. Members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Linkville, are busy assisting in the resettlement of a displaced family of six from Europe, of Latvian nationality, according to the Rev. Martin H. Sonntag, pastor.

High silos being constructed by Pigeon Cooperative Company are now about 90 feet high, with 15 more feet to go. The nine silos will hold about 100,000 bushels of grain.

30 YEARS AGO JUNE 9, 1960

Receiving various scholarship awards at commencement exercises Friday night at Pigeon High School were Elnora Smith, Richard Buchholz, Sally Anderson, Richard Fogle, Mary Ann Strieter, Charles Schmidt, Mary K. Davies, Gene Henderson and Sharon Fredrick. The Polewach Store, celebrating its 21st anniversary in Pigeon, recently received a new store front. The store has been managed by Mel-drum and Dorothy Barewolf for the past 21 years.

Pigeon students graduating from Central Michigan University include Delton Barewolf, Carol Schuette and Alan Sturm.

20 YEARS AGO JUNE 4, 1970

Linda Eberly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eberly of Bay Port, ranked third in the graduating class of Eastern Mennonite College, Harrisonburg, VA. Three Pigeon elementary school teachers will retire at the end of this school year. They are Mrs. Alvin Newman, Muriel Morrison and Mrs. Arthur Schumacher. They were honored at a tea in the school cafeteria. Frederick Henkelmann of Pigeon, graduated from Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, with a BA degree.

10 YEARS AGO MAY 29, 1980

Their were 114 members of the Laker High School graduating class of 1980. Among these were class president Cathy Kretzschmer, salutatorian Lisa Schuette and valedictorian Keri King. Stanley A. Mannon, age 82, father of Mrs. Harold (Ruth) Schulz of Pigeon, passed away Monday, May 19. He is survived by one son, Robert and one daughter, Ruth.

Dr. George A. Sturm, age 76, prominent veterinarian in Bad Axe, passed away Tuesday May 13. He is survived by his wife and three sons.

Nine Cub Scouts of Pigeon's Den 1 competed in the Pine-wood Derby Competition. Local winners were Alan McBride, Todd Roestel, Jay Anthes and Phillip Schember.

Out in the Field

WITH "FARMER BOB"

RAIN, RAIN GO AWAY: That's the story in a nutshell about this past week OUT IN THE FIELD. More than an inch of rain was recorded this past weekend, making it difficult for Farmer Bob to take his machinery into the fields. The downpour won't affect sugar beets greatly, since they're just beginning to come through. Farmer Bob had to replant some beets that were blown off with last week's high wind (which came before the rains), but he's done that four of the last five years anyway -- so replanting isn't really unusual. Hopefully, this week's weather will dry sufficiently to allow Farmer Bob to return to the fields and apply herbicides -- plus cultivate as needed, as his crops grow modestly. WAIT! What's that?? Could it be a photo of the elusive RACCOONBUCK? It sure looks like it -- so you never know what you'll find OUT IN THE FIELD!

Eagles Auxiliary awards art students

Thanks a Million By Percy Ross

Couple needs baby items to help addicted babies

DEAR PERCY: I'm a homemaker, am married to a wonderful man and have two daughters. My husband makes enough to support us, so we have decided to help our community.

We are presently undergoing licensing to become an "Emergency Temporary Shelter for Medically Fragile Infants." These babies are born drug-addicted and require lots of love. We will pick up newborns from the hospital, and they will stay at our home for six months to eight months. The pay is $13.69 a day, which will provide diapers, formula and visits to the hospital.

Because these babies did not choose to be born drug-addicted, I would like to give them the best care and love their little hearts can handle. This brings me to why I'm writing. We are starting from scratch and have no baby supplies.

I had a rude awakening when I priced the items we'll need: car seat, infant carrier, stroller, diaper bag, sleepers, receiving blankets, T-shirts, crib sheets, and the list goes on. All the supplies I get will stay with us for the next infant. We would appreciate any help you can provide to get us started.—MRS. S.R. AND FAMILY, Fremont, Calif.

DEAR MRS. R. and family: After reading your letter, there was no question in my mind that I would help your cause. But how can one make sense out of such a travesty? Would you believe a 7-year-old child helped me put it into perspective?

This little girl came into my office with her mother for some emergency assistance. Feeling overwhelmed by the problems of our society, I asked her if she knew what drug addiction was. She nodded her head "Yes."

Then I asked her if she realized that babies could be born addicted, because their mommies took drugs while they were pregnant. She looked at me and said, "But God still loves the babies even though their mommies don't, doesn't he?"

Pondering the answer to her question, while choking back the tears, I sat there speechless. She then took her hand and patted my aging one and said, "It will be OK, Mr. Ross. I'm sure God loves all of us." Right now I wish I had her faith. However, I've managed to dry my tears and send off a check in support of your cause. I wish you every success in making a difference in the lives of those little babies. —————

DEAR MR. ROSS: I find your "glitting" to be extremely self-serving. You are doing a disservice to communities and people who really do give without the search for praise and attention. As for me, I give plenty, but always anonymously.

So, you can keep writing endless columns, "give" your paltry sums and accept your undeserving gratitude from the less fortunate. But you'll never have serenity, because you think you can buy it. Your obvious arrogant need for acceptance through money will leave you an empty shell.

When you die, you'll never know if anyone is there because they really care about you or if they just want more of your money. Give unconditionally and without making it public to anyone, and you will grow and find peace like me.—MS. A.L., Cedar Rapids, Iowa

DEAR MS. L.: To each his own, and am I ever happy I've got mine. If you're an example of a person who is at peace with herself because of anonymous gifting, I'll take public gifting (with a few cruel remarks) any day. —————

DEAR MR. ROSS: We have a small country church we are remodeling. It will be ready to move into in about two weeks. Our desperate need is for folding chairs. I have checked

You may write to Percy Ross in care of The Progress-Advance, P.O. Box 35000, Minneapolis, MN 55435. Please include your telephone number with your letter.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

The Caseville Village Council of the Village of Caseville will hold a public hearing on a proposed increase of .2544 mills in the operating tax millage rate to be levied in 1990.

The hearing will be held on Thursday, May 31, 1990 at 7:00 p.m. at 6767 Main Street, Caseville, MI.

If adopted, the proposed additional millage will increase operating revenues from ad-valorem property taxes 2% over such revenues generated by levies permitted without holding a hearing.

The taxing unit publishing this notice, and identified below, has complete authority to establish the number of mills to be levied from within its authorized millage rate.

4 visit Kentucky's Red Bird Mission

Four women from Caseville United Methodist Church viewed "Christian love in action" when they traveled to the Red Bird Mission in Beverly, Ky. in April.

Shirley Krieg, Marion Gardner, Doris Meyer and Sylvis Wisner carried clothing, crayons and coloring books on their trip as donations to the mission. While there, they toured the facilities and watched the mission work being accomplished there.

CHANDLER GUILD
The Chandler Presbyterian Guild members met on Wednesday, May 2 in the Rita Kalka home. A dessert luncheon was served. Denise Arneson was co-hostess. Marge McPhee opened the business meeting with prayer. Eight members answered roll call. Margaret Fleming presented the lesson from John. She also gave the least coin selection. Mildred Kain read a current event on health.

A garage and bake sale will take place May 25-26 at the Margaret Fleming home one half mile south of Pinnebog. The June 6 meeting will be with Millie Kain.

30 volunteers in attendance came from all over the U.S. and included retired teachers, nurses, doctors, pilots, military personnel, lawyers and others.

Their length of volunteer service ranges from a couple of days to several years.

The UMW women toured the mission, which included the medical clinic, the Community Store, the Craft Store and the High School, where they attended a preview performance of the Cardinal Singers, a group of 10 high schoolers who were going on an Easter week tour of Washington D.C. and area churches. Charlene Helton, director of volunteers, led the women on a tour up into the hills to Middlefork, where they toured the Middlefork United Methodist Church and Recreation Center. The women worked in the Community Store, sorting

Bay Port UM plans Bible School 'Marketplace'

The Bay Port United Methodist Church will be holding Bible School this year June 10-14, Sunday through Thursday from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. each evening.

This year's theme will be "The Nazareth Marketplace" which is based on Jesus' childhood. Bible School will be held outdoors with each Hebrew "family" having their own tent. The tents will be placed to surround a Hebrew Marketplace with crafters coming in each evening to demonstrate for the children and workers.

Thursday evening before Bible School begins a Hebrew meal (picnic) will be served in the Marketplace to all of the children and their families. Also, a puppet show will be provided for everyone's entertainment.

Children who are three years old to those going into clothing and at the Red Bird Center, stuffing packets requested by the Tennessee Annual Conference.

On their way home, the women toured the restored community at Shakertown in Pleasant Hill, Ky.

Methodist women enjoy mother-daughter banquet

Caseville United Methodist Women presented "Fashions in Music" as the theme for their annual Mother-Daughter Banquet on Saturday, May 12.

In addition to a special meal, the ladies enjoyed a program of music and poetry provided by members of the congregation. Eighty-eight mothers and daughters attended.

Fellowship Day feted

The St. Roch Women's Society were the guests of Caseville United Methodist

A total of 84 women and two men enjoyed a salad luncheon and a program of music offered by "Living Truth," a Christian musical group which also includes playing antique instruments in its repertoire.

Women and Circle 1 on Wednesday, May 16 for their Fifth Annual May Fellowship Day celebration.

"TAKE OUT THE JUNK"

"Get rid of all moral filth and evil that is so prevalent!" James 1:21

Suddenly mankind is realizing the problems that large populations, wasteful habits, industrial pollution, and disregard for natural resources impose on our world. Finally we are aware that we are spoiling the very planet that is our home.

It's that way with our minds, and hearts and souls, too. By way of junk put through our TV sets, filthy entertainment in shows, and trash in magazines, books and newspapers, we are constantly assaulted by foul talk and actions. Lewdness and rudeness are so common today we are spoiling our minds just as surely as garbage is spoiling our environment.

The computer industry has a slogan which says, "Garbage in, garbage out". It means that what we put into the machines is returned to us when we recall it.

Surely, if we fill our hours with nothing but filth and dirt, we can expect nothing better in our thoughts and words. James knew that when he wrote his general epistle. In Chapter 1, Verse 21 he warns us that such filthiness can destroy our souls.

LORD JESUS, help us remember You are always with us, so help us have higher thoughts to be a good influence in the world. AMEN.

Scheurer Hospital receives gift

The Caseville Library Club recently presented a $1,500 check to Scheurer Hospital Interim Administrator Dwight Gascho for the hospital's use. Here, Phyllis Love, president of the club, and Jennie DeBoer present the check to Gascho. Love said the funds are mostly generated by the group's annual Holly Berry Fair, held in December, and always guaranteed to draw a big crowd.

Detroit Edison sponsors job training program

By AMY HEIDEN

As part of her training in Office Occupations at the Huron Skill Center, Laker junior Carie Hill is learning more than operating computers and typing letters.

She's taking part in a program sponsored by Detroit Edison in partnership with the skill center called Job Shadowning. The program is designed to expose students to various office skills and business procedures, according to Tim Mulligan, manager of Edison's Bad Axe office. Hill has been working at the utility's office for the past three weeks, working with the secretaries, a field operations analyst, and observing customer transactions.

The program lasts four weeks, and students must apply for the program just as if they were applying for a real job.

Before Hill was selected for the program, she submitted a resume, then was interviewed by several Edison supervisors. That interview was the toughest part, Hill said. "I was kind of nervous about that. I thought a lot about it the night before."

Hill spends an hour at the Detroit Edison office every morning, then returns to the skill center to finish her classes. In the afternoon, she returns to Laker High for her required classes in government and history.

She has one more week left in the job shadowing program, then she will submit a letter of resignation explaining why she is quitting her "job" at Edison.

Hill says she is learning a lot about the business world during her time at Detroit Edison.

"Being here is a lot different than being in school. I've learned to work with different computers, and to work with other people," she says.

The partnership program is the 19th for Detroit Edison, and the first to involve a centrally located school such as the Skill Center.

Mulligan says all of Edison's previous programs have been in partnership with single schools, but in this case, the company can reach more students.

"We're please to be able to offer this to the kids at the Skill Center. It gives them a taste of the real life," Mulligan said.

Pigeon news items

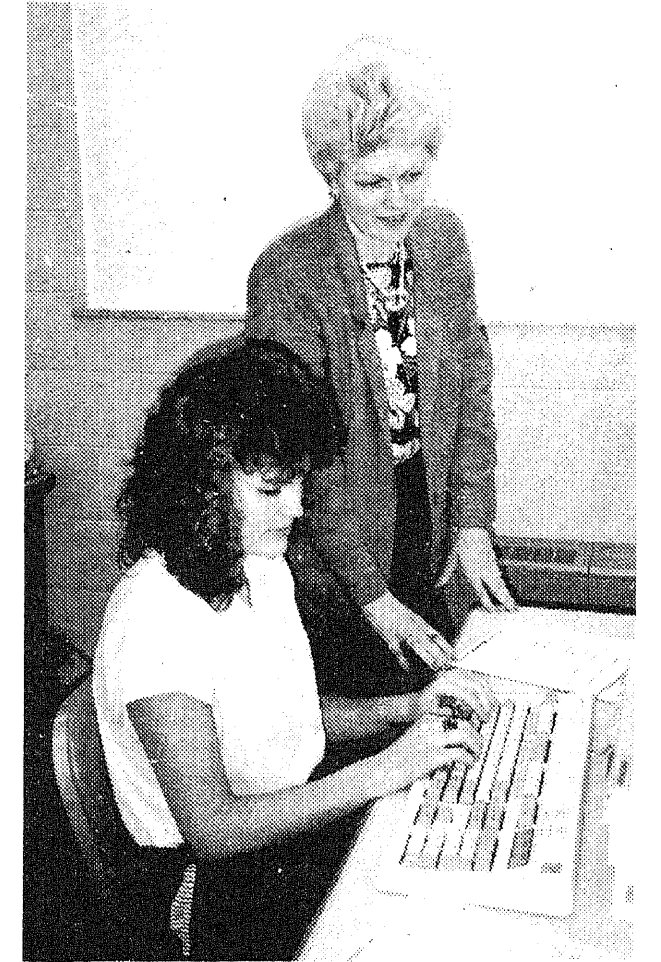

Mrs. Howard Jarvis returned home Saturday after spending several days with her sister Mrs. Max Hahn in Unionville.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wangelin of Sterling Heights spent Monday with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Collison.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bergman attended a graduation party for Marci LaUalley in Caro on Sunday held at the VFW hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Rathje spent Saturday with their son, Professor and Mrs. Randall Rathje and family in Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Freeman visited with their son-in-law, Mel Manyen at Bay Medical on Thursday.

LAKER JUNIOR CARIE HILL is learning "on the job" skills in a special training program sponsored by Detroit Edison.

WE REMEMBER

Memorial Day, let's pause a moment from our daily lives...our comfort, our peace and our freedom...to remember the men and women who fought and died so that we may enjoy the privilege of being Americans. Proudly, we honor all the people of our armed forces...from all wars. Their courage was our greatest triumph, their sacrifice our greatest loss.

LISTENING EAR

Write: LISTENING EAR, Box 143, Pigeon, 48755, or Box 116, Elkton, 48731 or drop off at Progress-Advance Office in Pigeon by 5 p.m. Fridays. Selected contributions will be published.

The Laker class of 1975 will have its 15 year reunion on Saturday, July 7. We need an address for Ann Urbanik. Please call 453-2399 with ANY information of her whereabouts or of someone who might know. If you know of someone who did not receive an invitation and should have, please call 453-2399.

I am glad to read that music companies will let the public know if there are dirty lyrics in the songs. Our young people should not be exposed to such dirty devil words and meanings.

It is not that the Action Auto store was not busy, that is not why it closed. The company is in trouble and losing money. That is why the store is no longer open.

Pack #3586 Den #4 Bay Port Cub Scouts would like to thank Little Caesars of Caseville for the great tour and pizza that was given to us on a recent field trip.

Also, thank you to the Bay Port Fish Company for showing us your FLOPPING FRESH FISH!! It was GREAT fun!! Thank you both!

The mayor of Caseville always seems to lay the blame for everything on everyone else. He says the newspaper doesn't quote him right, yet he can't get along with even a minority of the council, the workers or anybody else. Hey, wake up: it's not that everyone else is out of step, you are. And, you say the people who elected you have spoken. Well, just remember if a handful had voted the other way, you'd be like the rest of us, on the outside looking in.

A recent TV broadcast showed that people were protesting using animals for research. How many of these concerned people ever gave a moment's thought to the killing of unborn children?

I am nobody's friend. My name is gossip. I have no respect for justice. I maim without killing. I break hearts and ruin lives.

I am cunning, malicious and gather strength with age and time. The more I am quoted, the more I am believed. I flourish at every level of society. My victims are helpless. They cannot protect themselves against me because I have no name and no face.

To track me down is impossible. I am nobody's friend. Once I tarnish a reputation, it is never the same. I topple governments, wreck marriages, ruin careers, cause sleepless nights, heartaches and indigestion. I spawn suspicions and generate grief. I make innocent people cry in their pillows.

Even my name hisses. Before you repeat a story, ask yourself "Is it true? Is it fair? Is it necessary?" If not, shut up.

With garbage rates rising so much, why don't we get a discount for separating trash? Last year I began separating paper, plastics and metals. I wash everything out and put them out in different bags, marked. What happens? They all get thrown into the same truck and buried somewhere.

Why is there so little to do on the weekends? Even the beach at Caseville is only open for a few months. People say they don't like kids drinking or partying, but what else is there to do?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Keep watching for the Youth Center to open for all Thumb Area young people in Elkton. That's a wonderful start for people with nowhere to go.)

I see they are trying to start a recycling program. But once again, just like all the courts, intermediate school and everything else, it's based in Bad Axe. Why? If those jobs and those buildings would be spread out in the county, more people would be willing to support them. But everything goes to Bad Axe. Why?

Deadline for next week's LISTENING EAR column is 5 p.m. this Thursday, due to the Memorial Day holiday.

Police always give out tickets if you are going 10 mph over the speed limit, and sometimes even 5 mph. But it is not fair that people driving at 10 mph or more under the limit don't get some kind of ticket. They are dangerous, too, and can cause road hazards.

I would like to THANK all those who rode and sponsored our riders in the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon Saturday, May 5. As soon as all money is collected, we will let you know how much was raised.

A special thank you to Pam Thick, Pat O'Brian, Bill Forge and Kurt Kelly for helping make the morning go so smoothly. Also thank you to Gumbly's of Bay Port, B's Electric and Pigeon IGA for your generous donations and help!! I feel safe to say it was a success and could not have been done without everyone's help and participation. Thanks so much!

Signed, Sandy Chalou.

Hagen runs for Huron County Prosecuting Attorney

Leslie A. Hagen has announced her plans to run for Huron County Prosecuting Attorney on the Republican ticket. The position is now occupied by John Ferris who was appointed to the office last fall and is not seeking election to the office.

Hagen, the daughter of Wallace and Sonia Hagen, is an Ubyly native who graduated from high school in 1981. A 1988 graduate of Valparaiso University School of Law in Indiana and a 1985 graduate of Alma College, Hagen worked 1 1/2 years for the Michigan Court of Appeals in Lansing.

While working for the court, Hagen handled primarily felony criminal cases. She has worked since February in Midland County as a full-time assistant prosecuting attorney. As an assistant prosecutor, Hagen is assigned criminal cases in the Circuit, District and Probate Courts. She also spends a good deal of time in probate court handling abuse and neglect cases concerning children.

Hagen is a familiar face around the Huron County Courthouse. During the summer of 1984, she worked for Clark and Clark, P.C. Following that summer's experience, Hagen said her mind was made up to pursue a career in law.

Hagen worked for Circuit Court Judge M. Richard Knoblock during the summer of 1986 and served as an intern assistant prosecuting attorney in the Huron County Prosecutor's office the summer of 1987.

While in law school, Hagen worked two years for a criminal defense attorney, Peter L. Benjamin, in Merrillville, Indiana. She also assisted law school professor, David Myers, in writing a textbook on entertainment law.

Hagen sees child protection as a major challenge facing the legal system.

"Because many convicted felons in Michigan prisons started out as abused children, it is important to break the pattern of abuse, violence and crime found in some families. This cycle can be broken by education and by stiff prosecution when a law has been broken."

Hagen will also take a strong stand on victim's rights, drugs, drunk driving and traffic enforcement.

Hagen added that, "While I have lived in a variety of places, nothing beats or even comes close to the Upper Thumb. I have spent most of the last ten years working my way back here."

Hagen maintains a Port Austin residence. She sits on the Board of Directors for both the Port Austin Community Players and the Port Austin Reef Light Association. She attends the United Protestant Church in Port Austin.

ELKTON SENIOR CITIZENS

Members of the Elkton Senior Citizens were invited to preview the elementary school children's production of "Steamboat" presented at the Laker auditorium, in place of their regular meeting on May 15.

A story of the part steamboats played on the Mississippi River, told in dialogue and song. Directed by teacher Laura Witczak, the musical was enjoyed by 42 seniors.

Following the musical members were served a chicken dinner at the Elkton Elementary school. Members expressed thanks to Principal Ben Phillips and the cooking staff at the school.

Working Together, Growing Together.

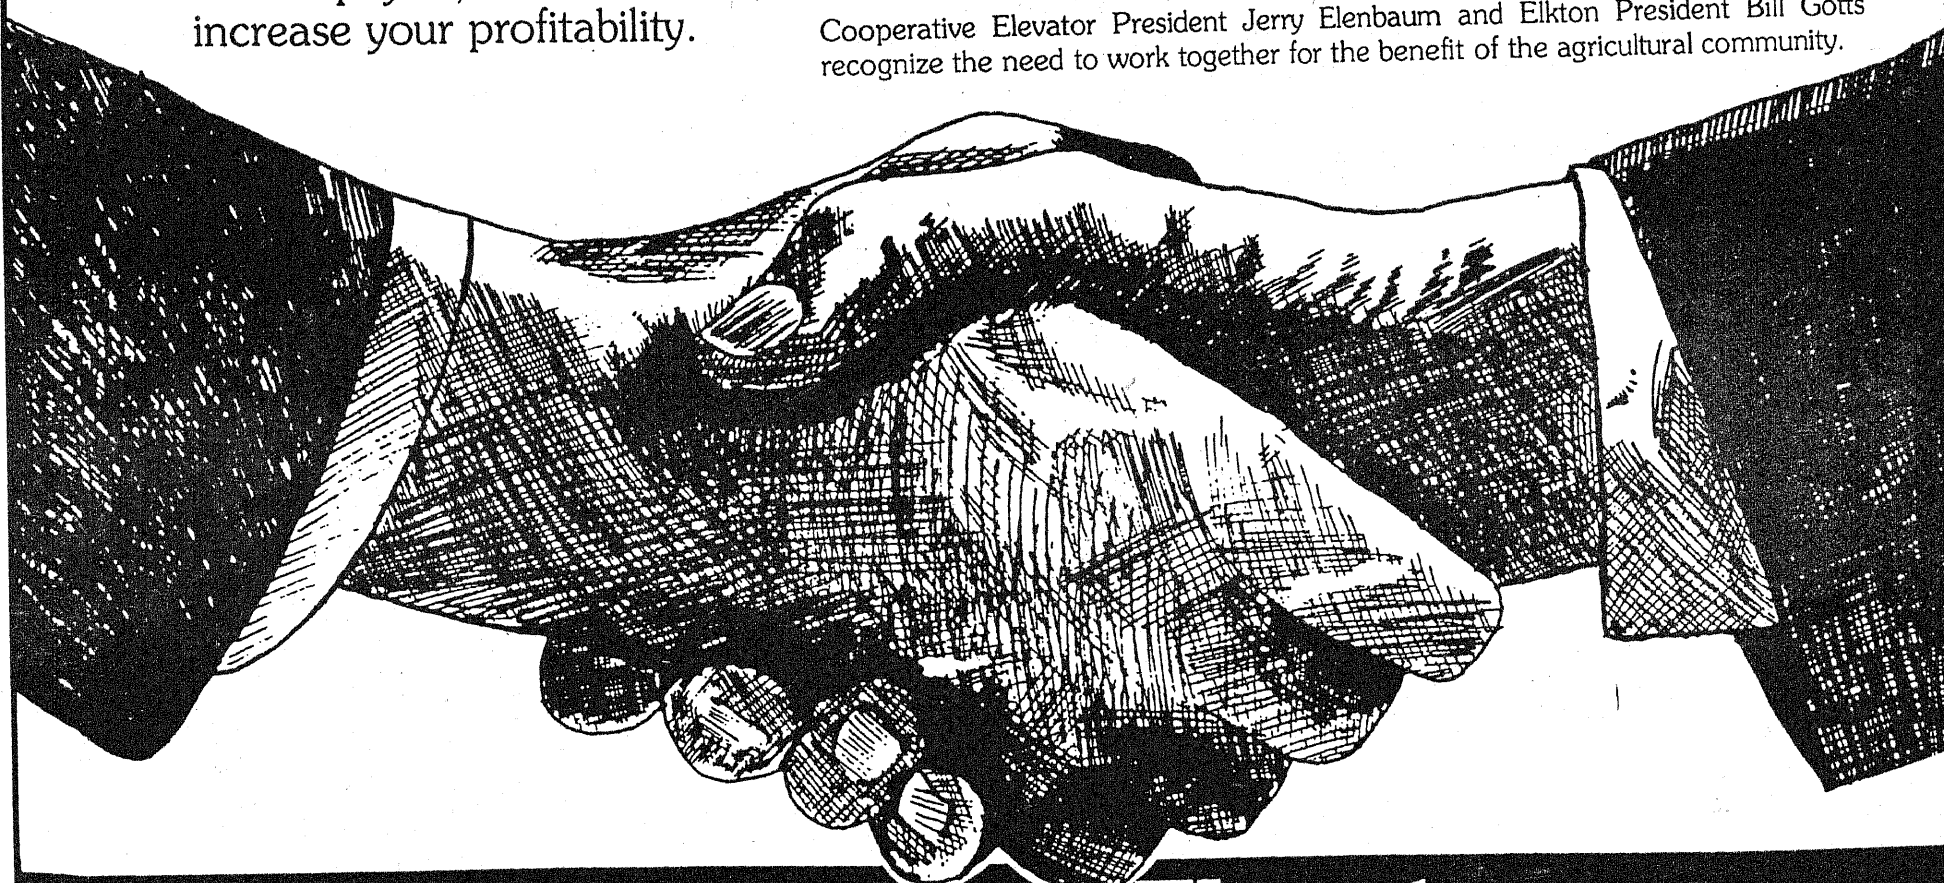

The Cooperative Elevator Company is pleased to announce that the stockholders of the Elkton Coop Farm Produce Company have agreed to merge operations with the Cooperative Elevator Company.

The merger makes both organization's members stronger, and brightens the future of Thumb-area agriculture. Together, we are stronger, and better able to compete more successfully with larger agricultural markets. To continue our agricultural future there is strength through unity.

And that competitive edge will help you, our members, increase your profitability.

Cooperative Elevator President Jerry Elenbaum and Elkton President Bill Gotts recognize the need to work together for the benefit of the agricultural community.
