Pauly 'nets' top coach honors

By AMY HEIDEN

Laker football and basketball teams have always been teams to be reckoned with, with championship trophies lining the trophy case.

But some of the less visible sports come by their fair share of trophies, too, and have their own winning traditions.

Take the tennis team, for example, coached for the last 13 years by Dick Pauly.

Since 1979, the team has compiled an enviable record of 106 wins in dual meets with only 28 losses.

Now Pauly is getting recognition for leading those teams through their winning seasons. He was recently named the Class C-D Coach of the Year by the Michigan High School Tennis Coaches Association.

Pauly began teaching in the Laker District in 1972, and started the tennis program in 1978. That season, the team was winless, but since then, they've won five regional titles and were runners-up once.

The secret to his success as a coach? Pauly credits a supportive administration and staff, helpful booster club, supportive parents, and most of all, dedicated players.

"We try to set goals at the beginning of the season. We may not meet all those goals, but they try to do their very best," Pauly says.

His teams play 'Laker tennis,' he says, steady but not flashy. "We just hit it back, and eventually the opponent is going to make a mistake."

He says he always stresses to his players to give their best effort every time they step out on the court, and hopes that type of behavior will carry over to other aspects of life.

"I tell them to have fun. Work and play hard, but have fun," Pauly says.

Benefit Brunch to help the Hospital

More than 400 dinners were served Sunday, during the second annual Scheurer Hospital Benefit Brunch.

All types of foods were offered for the dinners, with Auxiliaries from the Scheurer Hospital Auxiliary serving the fare prepared by Hospital Cafeteria Dietary workers and Auxiliary volunteers.

Various foods, from juices to breakfast favorites to traditional ethnic recipes were presented. Highlight of the selections was round of roast beef, with a hospital professional -- but not a surgeon -- doing the carving, this time around. These were all topped off with a wide array of desserts.

Proceeds will go to purchase new equipment.

HERE, Hospital Administrator Dwight Gascho, right, offers a slice of roast beef to Robert Drury.

EMT CLASSES TO BE OFFERED

An Emergency Medical Technician program will be conducted at Huron Area Skill Center, Bad Axe, starting Oct. 15 and continuing to Jan. 16, 1991, according to Huron County Sheriff Mike Gage.

Classes are planned every Monday from 6-10 p.m. and every Wednesday from 6-10 p.m., plus occasional Saturdays, the Sheriff says.

The intensive Basic EMT course will provide students with a well-rounded combination of classroom, clinical and field experience to become a successful member of the pre-hospital care team. Anyone with questions may contact Ellen Engler, I/C, at the Sheriff's office, 269-6435, or Kevin McAlpine, EMT-P, I/C, course instructor, at 313-392-2633.

NEW EXTENSION GROUP FORMS

A new Extension Homemakers Study Group is forming in the Owendale Area.

Huron County Extension Homemakers work together to improve themselves, their conditions and their relationships, says Barbara Neuman, Home Extension Agent for Huron County's Cooperative Extension Service. They are involved in family education with materials provided by Michigan State University.

Neuman serves as advisor to the new group, which is also affiliated with the Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers. Socializing is also an important part of Extension Study Groups, organizers add.

Any persons interested in joining the new group, as yet unnamed, or in receiving more information should contact Diana at 375-4295 or Jane at 678-4377.

A DOZEN BACH FESTIVALS

The Village Bach Festival will continue its tradition of celebrating the Thanksgiving Holiday by performing the music of J.S. Bach, in Cass City Nov. 20, 23, 24 and 25. This 12th annual event involves hundreds of local people and features a chamber orchestra of 30 players and four vocal soloists.

First Presbyterian Church in Cass City will again be home for the annual event. This year's program will include a one-day residency in Campbell Elementary School by the Lone Star Brass, a quintet of five brass players from Midland, Texas, directed by Maestro Don Jaeger. He has been artistic director and conductor of the Village Bach Festival for its entire life. The quintet will also perform a Nov. 20 concert at First Presbyterian Church in Caro.

Les Ackerman of Texas will be featured organist with the quintet and other musicians at separate Cass City concerts Nov. 23, 24 and 25. Featured will be works of J.S. Bach, Vivaldi, Britten, Wagner and Dittersdorf.

Tickets and more information are available from Village Bach Festival, P.O. Box 27, Cass City, 48726 or by calling 872-3465.

GET TV NEWS ON THE RADIO

WKYO-AM 1360 in Caro has begun simulcasting the WNEM-TV 5 news broadcast at 6 p.m. each night, for the first such joint venture of its kind in Michigan.

"The simulcast provides a service to TV5 viewers who may not be available to watch if they are away from home," says TV-5 General Manager Paul Virigiglio.

WKYO will sell commercial time inside the newscast to local customers, and may also use highlights from the TV5 broadcasts in local radio news programs, says WKYO General Manager Bill Jackson.

Mideast Crisis hits school buses, too!

By AMY HEIDEN

Motorists pulling into the gas station are shocked at the prices on the gas pumps, with gas selling for up to $1.49 a gallon. School officials all over the state are shocked, too, when their fuel bills arrive for their fleets of buses.

The same is true for the Laker School District, which expects to spend up to 40% more for fuel for its 11 buses.

Supt. Robert Drury said that last year, the district spent over $46,000 for diesel fuel, and that over $64,000 has been budgeted for the 1990-91 school year.

The 231-square-mile district picks up and delivers about 1,000 of its 1,400 students to one of its four school buildings every day, averaging about 1,300 miles per day, Drury says.

That's almost 238,000 miles per year for buses that average about 6 mpg on a regular run, and 9-11 mpg on a trip such as transporting an athletic team to a game, or an elementary field trip.

Drury says the district will be forced to pump money from other programs into the transportation budget if fuel prices continue to increase.

"The money won't come from instructional programs. It would probably come from our maintenance budget," Drury said.

OBSERVATIONS BY CO-PUBLISHER MARK RUMMEL AND ANYBODY ELSE HE CAN GET TO WRITE 'EM!

IT SURE LOOKS FAMILIAR: Tom Craig of Pigeon was visiting the Traverse City area recently, when he was surprised to see a reminder of home.

Tom drove past this sign, for Progress Printers of Traverse City, and thought it looked familiar. "Right away, I realized it was the same type style as you use for the newspaper," he told us this week.

"I wondered if you had set up a new location." So Tom took a picture of it, and we're passing it along here. We did a double-take, too, but it's simply a coincidence: that company and ours both happen to use the type style called Revue — which leads to the similarities.... It's a small world after all!

HEARING FROM YOU: We've received this special letter:

Dear Mark and Sally, Before my husband, Victor, went overseas during World War II, we lived near Paterson, N.J., where he was stationed. Imagine our surprise when he (now 73 years old) received his summons late in August, 1990 to report immediately for active military duty! Nearby bus and train service is not available as it was in the 1940s, so I hailed my grandson's school bus driver and asked what would be the quickest way to get to New Jersey. "Don't worry," he replied without hesitation, "Hop in! I'll drive you there!" And then I woke up!

Sincerely, MILDRED KAIN 361 Fillion Road Fillion, MI 48432

P.S. That's when I decided not to spend so much time watching and reading news concerning the Iraq situation. Do you think any of your readers can top this??

Hmm, Mildred — that's a good question! How about it, folks? Have you got any similar unique stories?! And, thanks, Mildred, for giving us a good laugh!

the Great Lakes. Part of the research discussed deals with how to control the mollusks, as well as how to keep other nuisance species from entering the Great Lakes.

Other pesky species, such as alewives and sea lamprey, have entered the Great Lakes system in the past, but none have posed as great potential problems as have the Zebra Mussels, experts say. The Zebra mussels are believed to have entered the system when saltwater ballast was dumped by ocean-going ships two years ago.

The Zebra invasion will get worse — but once we learn how to coexist with them, we can put them to use in cleaning up the water, says V.N. Karnaukhov, a Russian biophysicist.

FEWER MUSSELS BEING FOUND

No mass colonization of zebra mussels has been found this year in Saginaw Bay or Lake Huron — to the surprise of scientists studying the creatures. "To date, there is no evidence (of them) that we feared would happen this year," says Stephen Stewart of the Sea Grant Service of Cooperative Extension.

The mussel, no larger than a human thumb, are believed to have entered local waters in ballast water from European ships coming up the St. Lawrence Seaway. They were spotted in Lake Erie in 1988 and in Lake Huron this year. They block water intake pipes and can harm other lake life, due to their prolific reproduction, including trout, walleye and salmon.

Meanwhile, federal funding to fight zebra mussels has been cut, experts say, due to the gulf crisis.

HERE COMES ERIE'S 'BESSIE'

Move over, Loch Ness monster — Lake Erie has its own serpentlike creature. Sightings were reported in 1985 and 1987, but the Sept. 4 discovery of a snake-like water creature has even led to a name — "Bessie."

Harold Bricker and his family reported to Ohio State Park rangers they saw a large creature moving in the water off Toledo, about 1000 feet from their boat. It was black, about 35 feet long and had a snake-like head. Since then, at least five other persons have reported sightings.

Now, can the animal swim up the Great Lakes here into Saginaw Bay?

JUPITER TO BE MOVED SOON

Salvage operations are expected to begin this week on the MV Jupiter near the mouth of the Saginaw River at Bay City, which exploded in flames Sept. 16. About 50,000 gallons of gasoline must be off-loaded before the 384-foot-long burned hull can be moved, experts say.

In all, damages totaling more than $7 million are expected to be announced, as the inquiry into the tanker accident continues.

FINED BY STATE

Clayton Calvin Purdy, Jr., and Purdy-Strongman & Associates, Inc., of Pointe Aux Barques, has been fined $2000 by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation's Bureau of Commercial Services. The fine, effective July 5, was for failure to account for or remit money belonging to others, in violation of the company's state real estate license.

THUMB FATALITIES DOWN

Thanks to increased law enforcement programs and better passenger protection, traffic fatality numbers are down through 1990, compared with 1989 figures.

According to the state Police Traffic Services Division, Huron County reported 12 fatal accidents in 1989, accounting for 15 deaths. This year, four have been reported officially.

Seat belt usage is up, too, police say. In Tuscola County, 24 persons died last year — 17 of whom did not use seat belts. In Sanilac County, 17 of the 19 persons killed in 1989 did not wear seat belts.

MOST ACCIDENTS: Four of the top five intersections for accidents in Huron County last year were in Bad Axe, accounting for 64 accidents in all. Fourteen persons were injured in 11 of those accidents, police say. The M-53 and Port Crescent (M-142) stoplight corner in Bad Axe had 18 of the accidents, with one injury. That was followed by Port Crescent (M-53) and Watkins Place near Northgate with 16 accidents, including six injuries. M-25 and M-53 in Port Austin was third, with 11 accidents, while Bad Axe addresses M-53 (Port Crescent) and Hopson at 10 and M-53 and Irwin at nine were fourth and fifth.

In Tuscola County, Grant Street and M-81 (Caro Road) in downtown Caro was the top accident intersection last year, with 16 recorded. Next came M-81 and Hooper Street with 13, M-46 and M-24 south of Caro with 13, including two fatalities, and Sherman Street and M-81 in Caro at 12 in fourth place. Tied for fifth were Caro's Burnside and M-81 and M-81 and the Bay County Line Road in Reese, with 11 each.

In Sanilac County, the top accident intersection was Sanilac Ave. and Sandusky Road (M-46) in Sandusky, with 17 total accidents and eight injuries.

LAKER ROYALTY: Here are the 1990 Laker High School Homecoming King and Queen, as chosen by students during the past week of festivities. Brian Keim was named king, while Brenda Beyer was crowned queen during halftime of Friday's game. Brian is the son of Wayne and Joyce Keim of Bay Port, while Brenda is the daughter of Jerry and Linda Beyer of Bay Port.

As we see it

It's about time for strong drinking law

A bill is currently in the state House, seeking to automatically suspend for 30 days the driver's license of anyone convicted of drunken driving. The bill, sponsored by Litchfield Republican Rep. Michael Nye, is being endorsed by District Court judges, AAA of Michigan and Mothers Against Drunk Driving (M.A.D.D.), among others.

It's needed in our state and is a no-nonsense method of dealing with people who endanger sober motorists. Besides, nothing else has worked well thus far.

Under the plan, a driver's license will be revoked automatically for failure to pass an alcohol breath test. The driver would receive a temporary permit good only until the case is resolved.

Everyone convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol would receive a 30-day mandatory license suspension, and restoration of the suspended and revoked licenses would be much more difficult than now. M.A.D.D. spokesmen say this is important because it would get drunk drivers off the road.

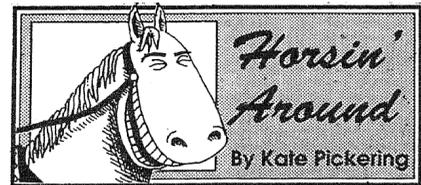

Plus, the bill carries strong five- and 15-year felony provisions for drunken drivers who cause incapacitating injury or death to other people.

M.A.D.D. felt this was such an important topic that it has temporarily put aside other group priorities, such as lowering the legal blood alcohol level at which a person is considered legally drunk. And it appears the group has an excellent chance of gaining passage, given the recent anti-drunk driving mood in our state.

The license suspension bill makes much more sense than does setting up police check lanes to catch drunk drivers. As we've said before, such check lanes invade the privacy of the innocent majority while searching for the guilty minority.

Rep. Nye's bill does better than check lanes. It suspends driving privileges for persons arrested, getting offenders off the road. Plus, it makes getting back on the road more difficult when people are found guilty.

This proves our state is serious about fighting drinking drivers. It's about time and we hope our state lawmakers see the sense in passing such an important law.

WARM HOUSE

House warmings - or as the case may be apartment warmings are often held in an effort to help friends and relatives who have moved or built new homes feel at home in their new places. It seems like a funny name doesn't it, "house warming?" But no one argues the point.

The gifts and good wishes given during the festivities by the kind, caring, generous types who throw said "warmings," are often vital and necessary parts of daily survival, and other gifts are beautiful and tasteful home decorating accessories. (One might argue that those are just as necessary and vital a part of daily life.)

And then there is that very extra special gift... that one particular item you long longed for deep in the darkest recesses of your heart. Something beautiful and appealing - yet unattainable - that you gawped at for hours like the proverbial hungry kid who eyes up the fresh, warm, pastries inside the bakery window on a frosty winter morning. And like that same pathetic little kid, no matter how deep you dug into your pockets, all you came up with was lint, so with a heavy heart you heaved a sigh, took one long last fond look, and left the object of your affection hanging on the wall where you found it. Now, an item like this is something that only your truest of true friends even know you desire, something that perhaps one day you just happen to mention to one of them wistfully in passing, and this friend snatches that little bit of information, clings to it, and remembers it many months later...

... let me tell you, this is the kind of gift that you receive maybe one or twice in a lifetime, and once you've got it, it takes on a whole new meaning - a meaning that goes way beyond the actual material possession. This particular treasure now represents what must have been an incredible investment in time, money, forethought, planning and effort. In short - it's now a living monument to the human spirit, and to those people in your life that you absolutely, positively, do not deserve to call your friends!

But back to the question at hand - can these things - the gifts, food, surprises, balloons, laughter, and that once-in-a-lifetime-gift - actually make your house (or apartment) any warmer, as the name implies? Well, the many beautiful things I received have completely dispelled the cold and unfriendly ghosts of stangeness and unfamiliarity that first dwell in the dark corners of my apartment. Living with me instead now, are the happy memories of good people and the BIG laughs we had at my party, and these memories come flooding back every time I pick up a spatula, or dry a dish, sip from a new glass, or gaze in admiration of my coveted "Ruffian."

If love, kindness, and good wishes can make for a warm house (or apartment) then I know that mine is positively ON FIRE!!

THEY WANTED TO SEE THEIR NAMES IN THIS COLUMN, and far be it from me to disappoint them - so here goes... MANY SINCERE THANKS TO: Mark, Sally, Jim, Joanne, Nella, Margaret, Judy, Robin, Vicky, Bill, Amy, Linda, Janet, Marge, Barbie D., Tammy, Betty, Fran, Hope, Christopher, Sarah, Andrew, Mary Jo, my whole family, Blitzen, & if I forgot anybody - God help me!

A SUNDAY VISIT IN KANSAS

The Kansas fields stretch out miles. They roll on and on, this wondrous part of America's Great Plains. "You'll go west of Wichita and get into the sandhill country. Then start watching for the sign for Byers," is what our Kansas host told us. So three of us, interested in small churches and rural life, headed west on Highway 54 on a Sunday morning.

Our destination was Pratt County - population 14,000 - a county that lies due west of Wichita - population 300,000. The Kansas farmer in our study task force, a multi-talented man who loves rural life, had tried to prepare us for the visit. "You just really need to see what things are like in these small towns and small churches," he told us.

We missed the sign for Byers and realized it just beyond Cullison. Turning back, we found the road, a county trunk in good condition, and headed north 10 miles through fields of milo and hay, past an alfalfa pellet processing plant and past more than a few oil wells.

There was Byers, this leftover looking little town. The recreational park needed tending and mowing. The streets are dirt. The housing ranged from moderate and well cared for to low-income and rundown. The school, abandoned in consolidation days of 1967, was falling in, its yard fenced off with chain link and grown up with scrub brush and trees.

The people of the little Byers United Methodist Church welcomed us warmly. Only a few of them live in Byers. Most of them live in the surrounding area on farms or drive out 15 miles from the county seat of Pratt. Twenty-four of us worshipped and studied together. Then we chatted over a lunch of sandwiches and salads.

These people are the surviving pioneers of America. Their ancestors came to work the land and raise families. Now the economic times and social changes take their children elsewhere. Education is precious, but getting an education means leaving and probably not coming back to stay.

As we talked into the afternoon, I wondered if I had the perseverance and patience that I saw and heard in Byers. They were animated and still a bit angry when they described how the town went downhill after the school closed. They've done a survey and discovered 59 people in the five-mile radius around their church. They work alongside the Pleasant Plains Friends Church, four miles from Byers. They helped a town resident pull in and set-up a new trailer home last year and were still glowing from the good it did them jito help.

The new pioneers of America are the people who face life in rural America and stay. While they are few, they still see a mission and a necessity for community. "We'd appreciate some ideas, but we know we've got to do for ourselves," one older member said.

We left Byers having seen people who care about each other and care about community, but who face great odds as rural America continues to change.

RECOLLECTIONS
Of By-Gone Days
By GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR:
In my last article, I wrote about working on M-25 from Caseville to Bay Port. Well, I could write a lot more about it.
They always had a lot of men who they had to keep working, so all the men who didn't have a certain job would start on what they called "the fine grade." That was getting the ground ready to pour the cement. Then the different foremen would come along and pick out some men for different jobs.
They had a little railroad that they hauled out the cement and gravel to the cement mixers. They'd come along and take up the track that they didn't need any more and haul it to the yard. They were in sections about 10 feet long and a good man could take one end and put it on the truck.
Well, some of those city guys weren't strong enough to do it so the foreman always picked us country fellows to help. We didn't like that much because those city guys got as much as we did and didn't work as hard.
So I asked my boss about it and he said when I saw that foreman come, I should quick go into the woods and hide 'til he was gone. So I did and it worked pretty well.
Another job was to string the water pipes along the road for the cement mixer.
SINCERELY YOURS,
GEORGE KEIM

Just One More From the Editor...

DOES IT EVER GO DOWN?

The company which provides Percy Ross' weekly column to us sets the weekly cost of his writing based on the Consumer Price Index. I've always thought that was a novel way of "pointing the finger at others" as you raise your rates. Well the letter we got this week tells us, "Although the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates an increase of 5.7% in the Consumer Price Index for 1990, we have decided to limit our 1991 rate adjustment to 5%." They note "we are aware that the newspaper industry is facing an extremely difficult economic climate."

Sounds reasonable, I suppose. But when I first got such a letter several years ago, I called that company with this question: Would your rates go DOWN if the CPI went down some year?

Hmm, the spokesman laughed. "We never expected that would happen. But I doubt it."
So, the rule is: In good times, you pay more, and in bad times, you pay more!

LETTERS FROM PROGRESS-ADVANCE READERS

Commissioner Thuemmel responds to 'Listening Ear' comment

DEAR EDITOR:
Many of your readers enjoy reading the Listening Ear column. It is a shame that comments in the column suggest something is wrong when it is not.

The comment that the county's financial situation is getting pretty scary and our government isn't doing a thing about it because it's an election year is an example.

I read the comment after coming home from work where I spent the day as vice-chairman of the Finance committee for the County Board of Commissioners, working on the 1991 county government budget.

We are beginning what will be several weeks work to put together a BALANCED budget for 1991, just as we did for the 1990 budget. All departments have submitted their budget request. Our Finance committee will meet with each and every department to discuss their needs and priorities. Difficult decisions will be made to make the budget balance. Setting the county budget is one of the major responsibilities of the County Board of Commissioners. We take it very seriously, even in an election year. Thank you for this opportunity to answer the Listening Ear.

Sincerely,
MARTHA THUEMMELE

LETTERS AND NUMBERS

The summer is over! The calendar and the weather tell us that. Another indication is that I have quit writing about letters (TTLM and TDGA) and can get back to numbers (4—FORE!).

TTLM is Top-of-the-Thumb Leisure Ministries, in case you aren't aware. That is an ecumenical group, sponsored by 32 Thumb Area churches. It has a 20-year history of sharing Christ's Gospel to those at leisure in our county. This year a staff of three young people conducted the summer program in parks and campgrounds, providing worship services, children's story hours, and castle contests, beach volleyball and Christian witness and fellowship.

One part of TTLM is a weekly Vesper service, held each Wednesday evening at the Caseville United Methodist Church. Ten programs were offered, including clowns, puppets, a speaker, musical groups and a Singpiration. It kept me busy letting you know about each of these programs.

The assessment is that 1990 was a good year for TTLM. The board of directors feels that the staff was an outstanding group. They are hard workers and did a fine job. Thanks to all who support TTLM and if you have any questions, give me a call.

My summer writing also covered TDGA, Thumb District Golf Association. Ten area golf clubs have teams which compete throughout the summer. The top four women golfers from each club play matches, earning points for team standings and gaining recognition for low scores. These results get reported each week so golfers know how each team is doing. The standings were close all season and Scenic and Vassar were tied after the final round. I think we all looked back to a match where we might have taken a half-point if only that putt had gone in the cup. The first play-off in the history of TDGA resulted in Scenic taking the championship.

Cataract surgery doesn't have letters or numbers, but that was another summer activity that kept me busy. It's wonderful to have friends who mean it when they say, "Let me know if I can help." Three trips to Lapeer with three different drivers meant no transportation problems.

Waiting for my turn in the operating room was the hardest part of the procedure. Patience is not my long suit! The operation took about 30 minutes—the easiest surgery I've ever had. I was driving the next day, golfing and swimming by the fifth day, and reading for as long as I wanted. And it's great to be able to see road signs again.

That's especially true on the Florida trek. I know you just got on I-75 and go. But if you're not careful you might end up in the wrong lane and before you know it, you're on I-85 instead. In Atlanta there is a gas station with a big sign in the window. "To return to I-75.....". You don't even have to ask for directions—just read the sign. It helps a little to know that you aren't the only one who goofed.

One exit that you don't have to worry about is Stinking Creek Road. Did you see the picture story in the Free Press recently about Stinking Creek? It is a mountain town in southern Kentucky and the road to it exits I-75 in northern Tennessee. That exit is unique in that there is nothing there—no gas station, fast food place, or shop of any kind. It's just a curving road going off into the mountains.

I think it is the only such exit from here to Florida. By personal experience I know there should be some facilities there. When nature calls I stop, and with my Girl Scout primitive camping background I can tend to needs. That's why this particular exit is referred to as Stinking Feet Road in my travels.

Let's keep all our letters and numbers straight now—football and basketball scores, baseball stats (how about that Cecil?), pars, birdies, and eagles, and especially Fore!

Red Hawks can't stop the Lakers!

By AMY HEIDEN

The season's not even half over, and already, the Lady Lakers are the favorites to take home all the marbles in the Thumb B Association championship.

And two victories last week move them a couple of steps closer to that goal, raising their record to 5-0 in the TBA and 6-2 overall.

Long-time rivals USA came to visit Tuesday night, but the Lakers weren't very good hosts, as they sent the Patriots home with a big 53-32 loss. USA was having trouble moving the ball against the Laker guards, plus the ball just wouldn't fall in the basket for them. At halftime, the Lakers had a huge 31-11 lead.

Anne Sturm and Holly Esch paced the Lakers with 12 points each. DaviJo Ferris had 9 and Jodi Weisenbach scored 8.

Murdoch scores high as Caseville faces loss

By KATHY MEYER

The Caseville girls' basketball team lost two more games last week.

On Tuesday, Akron-Fairgrove handed them a 63-33 loss. Penny Murdoch scored a season-high 15 points for Cass City presented a tougher challenge for the Lady Lakers, but the Green and White still prevailed 61-53.

The score in the first half promised to be a repeat of the USA blowout, with the Lakers ahead 38-19. But the Lakers came out sluggish in the third quarter and the two teams battled it out. Cass City turned up the heat in the fourth quarter, outscoring the Lakers 24-13, coming within 4 points at one time.

Laker coach Paul Beachy said that his offense had some trouble in the second half.

"Offensively we weren't working any patterns at all. We weren't moving our feet. We opened the door to let them get back into the game," he said. Foul trouble plagued the team late in the game, the Lady Eagles, and Kim Pittenger scored 8.

On Thursday, the score wasn't as lopsided as they fell to North Branch Wesleyan 44-30.

Murdoch again was the high scorer with 10 points, and Pittenger scored 9.

YOU'RE NOT GOING ANYWHERE! Lakers Anne Sturm (44) and Tracie Filion (54) team up to defend a Lady Patriot, in the Lakers' 53-32 win.

JUNIOR VARSITY: The JV team split a pair of games last week, with a win over USA 48-32, and a loss to Cass City 40-31.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

John A. Champagne
— Director —

FUNERAL DIRECTOR AS RESOURCE

Not surprisingly, most funeral directors are veritable encyclopedias of information regarding the events surrounding death. Funeral directors deal daily with events that are unknown to many and frightening to most. Funeral directors virtually become guides for the bereaved in a strange and unknown land.

The information they possess is invaluable for the ritual that marks that a life has been lived. It can also be extremely useful in the reorganization of the lives of individuals who continue. Rules, regulations, traditions and benefits are only some of the areas of specialized knowledge that funeral directors possess that their clients need. Good decisions are based on good information. Funeral Directors should share as much information with the public as possible in order for the funeral to be of maximum benefit to survivors. Ignorance breeds fear; knowledge, on the other hand, leads to understanding.

Lakers shoot down Red Hawks, 50-0

By AMY HEIDEN

The Laker Green Machine continues to roll on and over its opponents, leaving those utterly defeated teams to wonder when that scoring machine will finally come to a halt.

Cass City was the latest victim to get stomped and flattened, with a big 50-0 loss Friday night during the Laker Homecoming.

Runningback Reggie Ignash was the star of the "Laker Homecoming Show," with three touchdowns, including two scoring punt returns of 65 yard and 70 yards each. His third touchdown was a 65-yard run up the field in the second quarter.

The score was only 8-0 at the end of the first quarter, but by halftime, the score had jumped to 29-0 with Ignash' touchdowns and a 2-yd. run by Scott Fisher.

Other scorers for the Lakers were Eric Wissner with a TD and the 2-pt conversion, carrying 8 times for 60 yards. Dan Gonzales scored on a 9-yd. pass from quarterback Jeremy Esch, and Brian Bol-lenbacher scored on a 15-yd. run late in the game. Betto Navarro was 4 for 4 kicking extra points in the game.

"We knew we were the better team going in," said Laker Coach Bill McLellan. "Sometimes with all the homecoming activities, they forget about the football part of it, but we played well through the whole game."

C'ville golfers lose 2 matches

The Caseville golf team lost a match to Sandusky 178-213 last week at Scenic Golf and Country Club. Shawn Dunn was low with a 48, and Peter Ruiz de Castilla had a 49.

On Wednesday, the team lost to North Huron 202-208 at the new Bird Creek Golf Course in Port Austin.

Peter Ruiz de Castilla and Shawn Dunn each scored a 44.

The Lakers, ranked fifth in the state, are now on top of the Thumb B rankings, at 4-0 in the league, 5-0 overall.

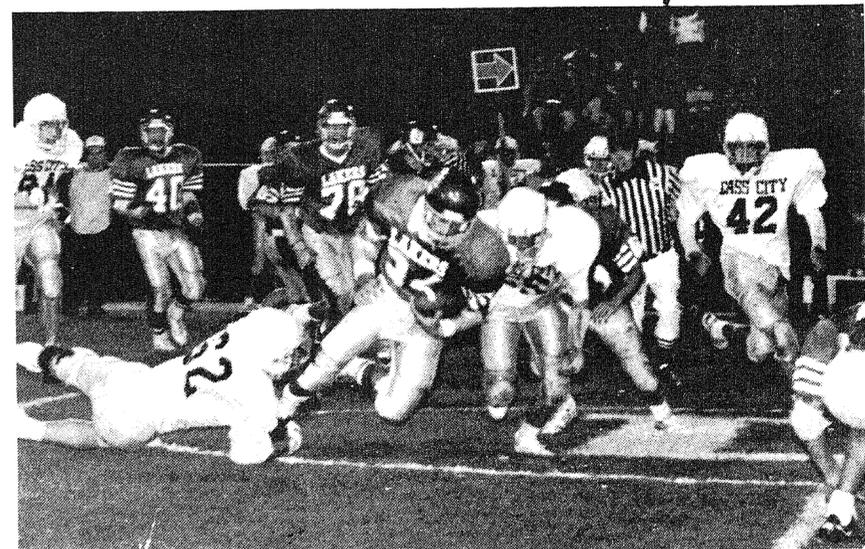

The toughest contests are yet to come, with Millington visiting Friday, and the long-awaited contest with Marlette next week.

JUNIOR VARSITY: The JV team battled to a draw with the Cass City team, 14-14.

The Lakers scored twice, first on a 9-yard pass from Jason Krohn to Brian Gebauer, and a 35-yard run by Chris Schember. The 2-pt. conversion after the second touchdown was run in by Eric Maust.

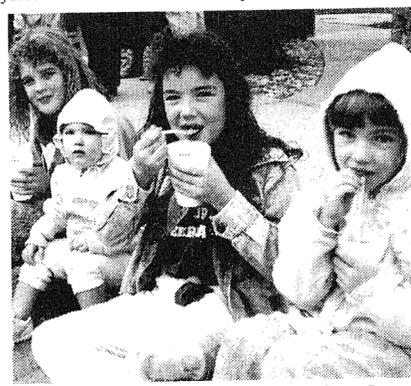

Quarterback Krohn completed 7 of his 13 passes for 84 yards, had 3 interceptions, and was sacked 3 times by the Red Hawk defense.

Maust carried 8 times for 37 yards; Josh Santos carried 13 times for 107 yards; Chris Schember carried 11 times for 77 yards, and had 13 tackles on defense; and Krohn carried twice for 18 yards.

RUNNING BACK Scott Fisher (34) cuts through a line of Red Hawk defenders in the Lakers' 50-0 drilling of Cass City.

Juniors build #1 float!

There's nothing like tasty, hot Michigan Bean Soup to warm up folks of all ages, as these four kids show during the Laker Homecoming Parade Friday night. They are Courtney Rozema, 8, Tasha Rozema 1 1/2, Kristin Dubs, 6, and Becky Dubs, 4.

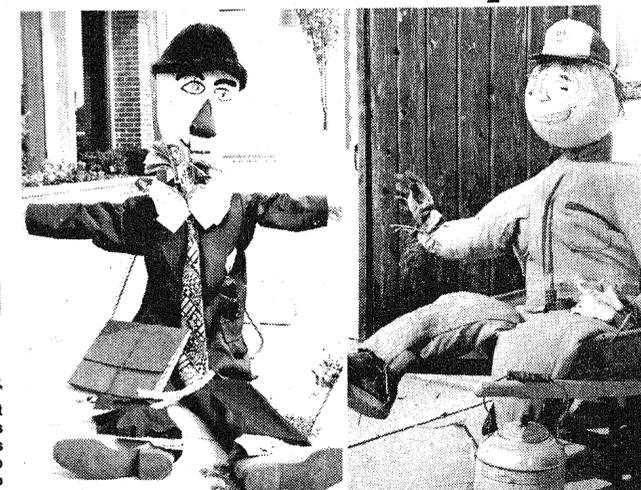

The Laker High School Junior Class took a first place in Homecoming Float competition Friday night, building a miniature version of "Our Town: Pigeon."

Dutch Kettle earns $25 'Scarecrow' prize

PIGEON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE President Rhonda Buehler is pleased to present $25 in Pigeon Funny Money to representatives of the Dutch Kettle Restaurant, winners of the 1990 Scarecrow Contest. The Dutch Kettle served up "Red Hawk Burgers" on its sign and dozens of other businesses participated with scarecrows that brightened up the Pigeon downtown area, hosts of the Homecoming Parade. Pictured at right are two scarecrows also worthy of recognition: Thumb National Bank's second place winner and Eicher's Cleaners third place winner.

FACTS ABOUT 4-H

What does "4-H" mean?
The "H's" in 4-H stand for Head, Heart, Hands and Health. Through their 4-H clubs, members in rural, small town, urban and suburban areas learn to strengthen and develop these personal characteristics.

What makes 4-H fun?
4-H gives you the opportunity to do things you've always wanted to do. From mountain climbing to clowning and gardening to horseback riding - 4-H volunteers can help you learn new skills, make friends and enjoy a variety of activities.

Some 4-H members enjoy learning about government and travel to Lansing or Washington, D.C., to get hands-on experience. Others are interested in international experiences and visit other countries or host international visitors in their homes.

Most Michigan 4-H members visit the campus of Michigan State University, the sponsor of 4-H youth programs, on a regular basis. Exciting state events are held each year at Michigan State University, including Explorations Days, Animal Science Week, the state horse show, Capitol Experience and many others.

4-H members choose from hundreds of projects and activities. They are involved in one or several, and they commit as much time and energy to them as they want.

Where do 4-H clubs meet?
There are 4-H clubs in every county in Michigan. In cities large and small, suburbs and rural communities, hundreds of thousands of young people belong to 4-H. 4-H clubs meet in friends' or leaders' homes, schools, community centers and churches.

What does it cost to be a 4-H member?
There are no state or national dues required of 4-H members and leaders. Some local clubs do charge dues, however, or hold money-making activities to raise funds for club events.

The cost to 4-H members varies from project to project. For example, a youth involved in a foods project might use household supplies at little or no expense. However, a 4-H member with a horse project might invest hundreds of dollars to purchase and maintain an animal. Time and money investments are left up to the member, the member's parents and the 4-H leader.

I'm looking for a record of Jan Peerce singing "Bluebird of Happiness." My mother remembers the song being played in 1946.

If anyone has that song by that artist, I would like to borrow it to make a tape of it. Thanks.

Congratulations, Mike H. You're a great model with hometown roots. Look out, New York!

It is terrible what the Big 10 is doing to a founding member, Northwestern. They will be kicking out this team, just because it doesn't win often in football or basketball. They should have more respect for it.

You have to admire how Pigeon works together to have a sale. There were hundreds of people in town before 6 a.m. for the Early Bird Sale, and the stores offered good bargains. The way they work together is really amazing.

I would like to respond to the person who compares senior citizens to Robin Hood in reverse.

Doesn't the person know they did what they could to raise their children, send them to school and made many sacrifices for them?

It may be true that some senior citizens do not need the 10% discount, but most are living on limited fixed incomes and have very little other income, unless their children are helping them. The person who objects should have second thoughts, because if he or she lives long enough, they will become senior citizens themselves. Maybe do not have a parent or loved one who is a senior citizen.

Let's not be bitter toward the aged, because they certainly deserve what little they get.

The person wanted an answer, and this is my reply. Signed, C. Battane, Caseville.

I just attended my first Junior High football game and was very upset with the program. I thought J.H. was supposed to be a time to learn -- not win. Every kid should be playing and learning and having fun. But it's far from that. Most of the kids sit out the whole game, only to be humiliated by having to play a 10-minute "fifth quarter."

After speaking up, I found that many parents are unhappy with the program and filled out surveys last year stating so. Also, that many seventh graders who sat out all last year didn't bother to join this year.

I think this is a problem that needs to be brought to attention. Riding the bench is for high school, J.H. is supposed to be for learning.

With only 30 boys on the team, there is no reason they can't all be playing. Maybe then we would finally win a game.

Talking about which driver is dangerous, it is often the second driver, who is driving faster, not the slow person in front. The second driver gets angry and causes problems.

Are there any more answers about how to hang the U.S. Flag for display?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Several people responded to a readers question in last week's Listening Ear about which side the field of stars should face, left or right, when an American flag is hung on the wall facing downward. According to a pamphlet entitled "Our Flag," the stars should always be in the flag's own upper right corner, or to the observer's left. Anyone wishing to order copies of "Our Flag" can do so by contacting the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington D.C. 20402.

Does anyone know why the thin three-foot wide asphalt emulsion strips are being applied to some of our highways? The application pattern doesn't seem to make sense.

Two strips in places, three in others and even four. Some in the wheel tracks, some between the wheel tracks, some at the edges, some on pavement seams, some on shoulders, some on poor condition highways, some on good pavements. Signed, Lowell E. Kraft.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Our understanding is such stripes are an experimental method of patching now being tried. Does anyone else have a better answer?)

LISTENING EAR: You are one of my favorite columns. Here are some helpful hints for the person whose cats or dogs have flea trouble. It works.

I give my cats four brewer's yeast tablets a day. They eat it like snacks. My daughter gives her shepherds about 10 a day.

To the person with the moles, put picky clippings or barbed wire in the ground. I am happy I could help someone. Please excuse my English, but I've come from Germany! Signed, Gerta Hajdo, Pigeon.

P.S. Maybe someone would like to flatten their tummy.

Here's how: The 20-second miracle: Sit upright or stand straight. Suck in your stomach, holding it in for about 20 seconds. Don't hold your breath while doing the exercise. Just breath normally.

Repeat this several times a day, about 16 times or so. You should see results in a short time. Your abdomen will start to look flatter and feel tighter.

This is to people who are tired of supporting welfare people. I think people should be forced to work, or at least to try, maybe every week. That way, they will try to get off assistance more readily.

But, I do not agree with the people who want to break up families, just because they are on welfare. That should never happen.

In answer to the letter last week, the Saudis do not want Bibles in their land because that is against their religions. Look, folks, we are there uninvited and not because they want us. We would not embarrass them if we didn't need to, and apparently Bibles offend them.

Other people walked the Mackinac Bridge, too. Why don't you publish their names?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: That's a good question. We know of a few Labor Day walkers, but not all. Tell us who they are and we'll print them.)

EPBP & McCormick Motors Maintain Business Partnership

In the last couple of years there has been a growing emphasis in regards to cooperative relationships between school districts and businesses within the school community.

For our school district, one such example of cooperation and a willingness for a business to become involved in the task of education, has been the 30-year working relationship between our Driver Education Department and McCormick Motors of Pigeon.

During the September school board meeting, a resolution was passed commending McCormicks, and as a token of appreciation, presented a plaque signifying the dealership's involvement in our driver education program.

SELECTING THE COLLEGE OF YOUR CHOICE

According to statistics from the Michigan Department of Education, about 105,000 students will graduate from high schools in Michigan this year. Of this total, less than half will continue on to college. In some cases, the decision on where to attend college is fairly simple, but for most, the decision of where to go to college is a very difficult process.

The process can be simplified if students and parents plan a systematic approach to choose the right school. One of the worst reasons for going to a particular college is because someone you know goes there. Just because a college is right for someone else does not necessarily make it right for you. Students must realize that no school is right for everyone.

Knowing what you want out of life will help you with your decision. Armed with an awareness of who you are, what you like and what you want, start looking for a college that fits you. Is the school local or distant, urban or rural, large or small, religiously-oriented or not? What about the cost, academic status, social life...? All of these things must be considered if you are to make a wise choice.

Visiting with admission representatives that visit our high school or you see at college night is fine, but there is no substitute for visiting several campuses. Call ahead and make an appointment, stay overnight, visit with the faculty and talk with some students on campus. All of this will help you narrow down your choices when it comes time to fill out your applications.

Included here is a time-line for high school juniors and seniors to follow in order to make the college selection process a little easier for them. Talking with our guidance counselor, teachers and other students will help you build the self-knowledge necessary to choose the best school for you.

EPBP STUDENTS ARE GETTING READY FOR THE MEAP...

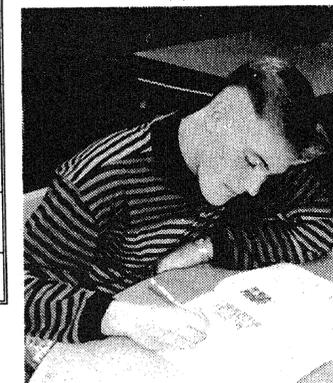

October means apples, football, hunting and the Michigan Assessment Test.

EPBP students at all of the centers are busy preparing themselves for the upcoming MEAP test which are given statewide to all fourth, fifth, seventh, eighth, 10th and 11th graders. These tests measure ability in the areas of math, reading and science.

The tests are important for both the students and the school. Test results can help us work on deficiencies individual students may have, and also give proper data for class placement. Schools, on the other hand, use the results to parents work together, great things happen to kids.

Other things you can do to help your child are: be interested in school; ask to see your child's papers; talk with and listen to your child; go to parent-teacher conferences; let your child know that learning is important; make sure homework gets done; ask your child to read aloud to you and know what your child watches on TV. If you have any questions on the MEAP test or its results, don't hesitate to contact your building principal. He will be glad to help you.

SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM BEGINS ANOTHER YEAR

Under the supervision of Louie Leiternann, the EPBP hot lunch program is off and running for another school year. This highly successful venture does not happen by chance, but comes from expert management and long, arduous hours of preparation.

While the school lunch program is governed by federal and state regulations, the local manager (in this case, Louie) makes all decisions concerning menus. While he can't serve whatever he likes, he does create tasty, nutritious meals by following the meal pattern requirements set forth by the governing agencies.

Students are required to choose from four food groups including: meat or meal alternate, vegetable and/or fruit, bread and milk. Some people claim that school lunches are starchy, but nutritionists recommend that all Americans increase their intake of complex carbohydrates and decrease their intake of fats.

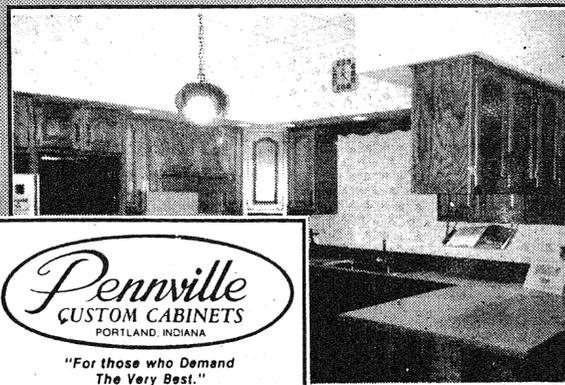

It makes more sense to have your child buy a school lunch rather than bring it from home, because the school lunch program assures that your child is receiving a nutritionally balanced meal. More variety is easier to achieve through school menus. Also, the subsidized school lunch is less expensive than a lunch of equal nutritional value prepared and packed at home.

NOTES....

from Laker Secondary Assistant Principal
LISA DiCAMILLO

I would like to highlight the work of Laker parents, teachers, administrators, secretaries and students. The attendance policy for Laker Junior and Senior High students was examined and reviewed at great length during the 1989-90 school year. Input from all segments of our school population was utilized and appreciated. The end result of everyone's hard work was a new attendance policy for the junior and senior high students.

We addressed the student attendance issue, in our quest to become a more effective, efficient school and as part of our school improvement goal to encourage and develop student responsibility. Statistically, the 743 Laker secondary students had a poor attendance record. For example, the 1989-90 second semester school year percentages were as follows: students who missed 15 days or more was 2.96%; 10-14 days was 13.72% and 7-9 days was 20.32% of the total secondary population. In addition, students missed class time in order to be involved in school sponsored activities. Given our goals and statistics, a new attendance policy needed to be developed.

The Attendance Review Committee studied our policy and 13 other policies from surrounding school districts and those policies identified by Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals as policies that work. Once the review was completed and input from all groups was accessed, our policy was written from a positive point of view.

It is expected that ALL students attend school EVERY day. If a student's attendance is poor, then the student will be placed on an improvement contract. The contract will identify the problem areas and suggestions of remedies for solving the attendance concerns. The contract will be signed by the student, the parents or guardians and the student's teachers. The team approach to attendance is expected to reduce absenteeism.

In addition to contracts for students, the student's school-sponsored activity days will be monitored. We have also re-instated activity period for student meetings, thus reducing the number of times students need to be out of class for club meetings.

The most exciting part of working on attendance improvement has been the input from Student Council. The Council has been involved in developing an incentive/recognition program for the Laker students. We can look forward to having the program in place by second semester.

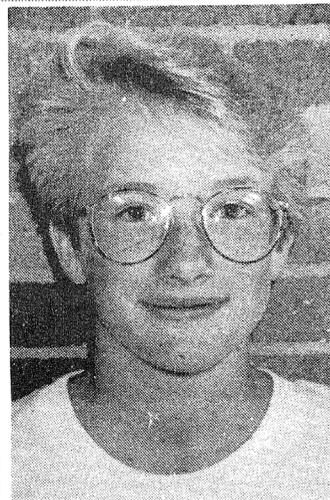

Overall, the attendance program emphasizes a positive approach to attendance issues. Through the efforts of many people, students can show improvement in attendance. We believe that with student, parent, teacher and administrative support, the new attendance program CAN and WILL be a success.

Here are LJH Students of the Month...

EIGHTH GRADE: Carolyn Bollenbacher, daughter of James and Marilyn Bollenbacher, has been selected for this honor, based upon her helpfulness and positive attitude. Carolyn's favorite subject is social studies and her favorite pastime is playing basketball. She also looks forward to the eighth grade trip to Washington D.C. and finds that the friendly students and good teachers make Laker Junior High a great place to be. Carolyn anticipates attending college after she graduates in 1995.

SEVENTH GRADE: Zachery Deming, son of Douglas and Cori Deming, is our seventh grade student of the month. Zach was nominated for this honor, based upon his good character and attitude. Zach's favorite subject this year is science with Mr. Dean. He also enjoys playing basketball and hunting and fishing. Laker Junior High's friendly environment is "a real plus," according to Zach. He enjoys school and plans to become a pilot in the navy after high school graduation.

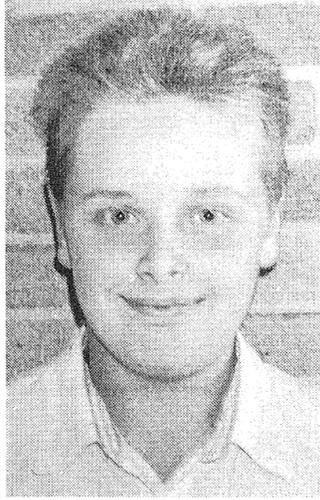

SIXTH GRADE: Eric Zarnke, son of Linda Zarnke and the late Vern Zarnke, is our sixth grade honoree. Eric likes his science class best this year and also enjoys playing baseball. Since coming to LJH for the first year, he has found his helpful teachers to be a real asset. Attending college is one of Eric's future goals. We are glad to have Eric at Lakers and enjoy his positive attitude.

Bay Port & Pigeon
Elementary Principal

September is now over. During the first month of school, friends have been reunited, new friends have been made and growing minds have been reactivated for duty.

The beginning of this school year finds us with 180 students in Pigeon Elementary and 147 in Bay Port Elementary. The only staff changes this year are with Mrs. Kristine Swartzendruber moving to second grade in Pigeon, Mrs. Jeanne Swartzendruber moving to P.M. Kindergarten in Bay Port and the addition of Mrs. Nan Stalter as full-time paraprofessional in Bay Port.

Our first Open House of the year was held this month in both elementarys. It was a very impressive evening as parents turned out en masse to share this experience with their children and staff. The many different classrooms and hallways radiated a true welcome to one and all.

Students from Bay Port visited the Pigeon Elementary School this month for their first assembly of the year. The assembly, presented by Vandee Puppeteers, was a huge success. Students enjoyed "The King With the Golden Crown" and were treated to an impromptu demonstration by puppeteers Mr. and Mrs. Ross. The theme of the day was to encourage the use of "Imagination."

This year a strong push is underway to bring relevant programming to parents of elementary students in our district. At the different Open House meetings, parents were given an explanation of the purpose of the meetings. The main idea is to provide parent programming for the 1990s while providing a program for students in grades K-5 at the same time. This year's tentative programming schedule is as follows:

October 4 — PARENT PROGRAM: "Homework Without Tears" (Part II) (Some review of last year's program plus new material)

COST: $4.00 per adult
STUDENT PROGRAM: Magic Show plus film (no charge)

PLACE: Laker High School
TIME: 7 to 8:30 p.m. (promptly begin at 7)

November 12: PARENT PROGRAM ONLY

TOPIC: Assertive Parenting/A Lee Canter Program
COST: $2.50 per person
TIME: 7 to 9:30 p.m.

November 20: PARENT PROGRAM ONLY

TOPIC: Mrs. Jan Clark/Communicable Disease
TIME: 7:30 to 9 p.m.
PLACE: LJH Library
COST: No charge

November 29: PARENT PROGRAM: Educational Fair/Pre-Christmas Spree
STUDENT PROGRAM: Film: Theater, etc. . . . presents its Christmas Program

COST: No charge
PLACE: Pigeon Elementary
TIME: 7 to 8:30 p.m.

WHAT HAPPENS

WHEN YOU REGISTER WITH SELECTIVE SERVICE?

March 25: PARENT PROGRAM: Mrs. Dinghy Sharp/Dept. of Education Resource Program

TOPIC: Learning Styles
COST: To be determined
STUDENT PROGRAM: Being planned
TIME: 7 to 8:30 p.m.

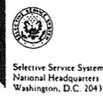

It is our hope that through selective programming, all parents will have an opportunity to keep abreast on issues and topics of the decade. A last reminder to parents of town walkers and bike riders: It is very important to stress safety rules for your child from the time he/she leaves your home. Also, arrival time at the elementary is between 9:10 and 9:15 a.m. The students are not supervised before this time. Thank you!

Men... These Signatures Meant a Lot to Our Country. Yours will too.

If you're within a month of your eighteenth birthday, it's time you registered with Selective Service at any U.S. Post Office.

Men, if you're about to turn 18, it's time to register with Selective Service at any U.S. Post Office.

Wilb's first deer

By DUANE GUENTHER

Wilbur was a strange friend. I had met him a few weeks after moving to a small up north town and within days we were almost inseparable. We had little in common, I was a college graduate, he was a high school drop out; I was unemployed, he had a job, and a good one at that; I loved to play golf, he thought it was a sissy game, but one thing seemed to hold us together -- bow hunting for deer.

Wilb, as he liked to be called, was a fanatic when it came to hunting. He, like most of the young men in any northern Michigan town, was a meat hunter. Rules didn't matter. Putting meat on the table was the only important item. But when he was introduced to hunting deer with a bow and arrow he suddenly changed, and I think it was this aspect of the sport that drew us together.

We both belonged to a loose-knit hunting group of 6 guys that formed out of our summer archery league. All of us shot recurved bows, as the modern compound was not on the market as yet. Port Orford cedar shaft arrows were the ticket of the day, and everyone hunted on the ground. To this group, bait piles were so despicable they were never mentioned.

The group was more of a social gathering than a serious hunting club, and good-natured ribbing was allowed -- even encouraged, although mostly by those not being ribbed. About the only rules enforced were that you hunted legally, and if you downed a deer you must report it to the group so everyone could join in the search.

Wilb was the black sheep of the group. Although he was 25 years old and had lived his entire life in this deer infested county, he had not been able to connect with a bow. So, as a special project, the remaining 5 hunters decided that this season we would commit ourselves to getting Wilb his first deer.

For the first 3 weeks of the season everyone worked in earnest, and as a group had managed to place Wilb and several unsuspecting deer in close proximity to each other. But in each case the results were the same. Either an errant deer or an errant shot would spell disaster.

During this time, Wilb's concentration was kept at a razor's edge, but the rest of the group was fast growing tired of their pre-season promise and on more than one occasion contrived evil plots in order to speed up the success of the original plan. One of the guys even suggested shooting a deer, let rigor mortis set in, and then prop the carcass in a runway and lead Wilb in, properly blindfolded, of course.

As the calendar edged itself toward the first of November, each evening, near dusk, found Wilb guarding the edge of an unfarmed rye field. We had a special meeting to determine if it qualified as a bait pile or not, and after several heated discussions, he was allowed to continue his vigil.

On the third night after finding the field, Wilb was rewarded when he spotted several deer making their way out of a small woods located to his right. They were feeding nonchalantly, and if they continued on course, would enter the field right where Wilb was sitting. The deer moved slow, the setting sun moved fast, and when Wilb and the deer came face to face it was almost pitch black.

Wilb eased the bow back and let the arrow fly. A thud, a grunt and the night exploded into a melee of flying hooves. Wilb, although beside himself with anticipation, followed the hunting group's guidelines and headed back to the truck where the other 5 members were waiting.

"I think I finally got one!" he explained breathlessly.

We calmed him down, waited for a good hour, and dug the gas lanterns from the pickup box. It was a merry group that headed to the edge of the rye field that evening. Wilb led the way in a shuffling dog trot, and the rest of us picked up the pace, happy that an end would come to our efforts.

When we reached the spot where Wilb had been hiding everyone spread out and began looking for blood.

"I found him," Jack shouted from the edge of the field. We all headed in his direction with Wilb in the lead.

There, not more than 15 feet from his hiding place, Wilb's arrow had plunged dead center into a 5-inch Aspen tree.

"You want to take it home," Jack said amusingly, "or should we get it here?"

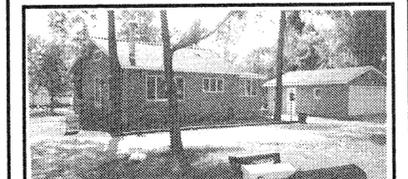

The field exploded again. This time with laughter, lots and lots of laughter.....

WITH "FARMER BOB"

HERE HE IS, REVEALED AT LAST! Many readers have asked us to tell them Farmer Bob's true identity, so we decided to come clean with the truth. We're also confident that no one will make unkind comparisons between our Farmer Bob and the scarecrow in the "Wizard of Oz!" Seriously, though, just like the scarecrow, Farmer Bob is pretty ragged this week, trying to finish harvesting his beans, plant wheat, and harvest sugar beets. Rains last week delayed his bean harvest, since he had to wait for his pulled beans to dry before he could combine them. The Michigan Sugar Company also began accepting sugar beets and that has had Farmer Bob on the road a lot, delivering beets to Sebewaing.

Sixty Seconds

"BEFORE THEY CALL" "BEFORE THEY CALL, I WILL ANSWER; WHILE THEY ARE SPEAKING, I WILL HEAR". ISAIAH 65:24

Have you ever sat or walked near a phone, thinking of a certain person to call? Just then the phone rang and there was that very person?

It happens occasionally, and it startles us when it occurs. With God that is common, as He told the captive Israelites in the Old Testament, through the Prophet Isaiah. BEFORE they call, I will answer, He told the captives, because even then He already knew He would send them a Savior, His own Son.

Whenever we suffer for our sins, when we are in distress, when we wonder if God indeed hears us, we should think of Isaiah's words, remembering "before we call" and "hearing us while we speak".

And in Matthew 7:7 Jesus tells us that if we ask, He will give, if we seek, we will find, and if we knock, the door will be opened, in His own way and time!

THANK YOU, LORD, FOR YOUR LOVE TOWARD US. AMEN.

PIGEON DISTRICT LIBRARY
— News And Notes —

PRESCHOOL STORY HOUR

The theme for the Oct. 9 Preschool Story Hour will be "Fire Prevention" with the story "Benjamin Rabbit and the Fire Chief." Exercises, fingerplays and flannelgraphs will be part of the activities planned for the children. There will also be a field trip to the local fire station for hands-on experience on safety.

SENIOR FILM FEST

Feature films for the senior citizens on Thursday, Oct. 11 beginning at 1:30 p.m. are "Island of the Tradewinds" that led Captain Bligh and Cook to their discovery of the loveliness of the South Seas; "Ballad of the Irish Horse"—focus on the horses of Ireland and their role in history, tradition and business of the Irish people who ride, tame, train and breed them for pleasure as well as for worth and "Midget Car Maniac"—while being chased by the police Costello accidentally enters a midget car race. These films are open to all area seniors, so bring a friend and pass the word!

DROP BOX REMINDER

Patrons: When you drop books off in the outside drop box at the library, PLEASE make sure the books are pushed clear so they don't hang out of the hinged door and it closes completely. Many books have gotten wet and damaged from foul weather. Thanks!

TIME FOR FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, OCT. 8-13

Young children are often afraid of fire, so Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 8-13, is an excellent time to talk about fire safety with them. Emphasize PREVENTION and the idea that they can help prevent fire from touching their home. Also tell them if an accident does occur, here's what they can do:

- 1) Never play with matches or a lighter.
- 2) Learn how to STOP, DROP and ROLL, if clothes catch fire.
- 3) Know two different ways to get out of your room or house, in case of fire.
- 4) Make a family escape plan to get out of your house.
- 5) Sleep with your bedroom door closed. If you hear a smoke detector alarm, feel the door to see if it's hot. If it's not, leave your room. Never hide!
- 6) Always listen for instructions from the fire fighter.
- 7) Use smoke detectors in your home. Check batteries often.
- 8) If there is smoke in a room, crawl under it.
- 9) Tell an adult if you see or smell smoke.

NAT'L POPCORN POPPIN' MONTH

Oct. 1-31, celebrate the wholesome, economical, natural food value of popcorn, America's native snack.

Here are a few books on the subject: "Popcorn" by Frank Asch (a fictional bear story); "The Popcorn Book" by Tomie dePaola (what is it? How is it cooked and stored? Popcorn recipes, how different Indians made it, how much popcorn Americans eat and other stories and legends); "Cornzappopin'" by Barbara Williams (popcorn recipes and party ideas for all occasions).
