'91 Summer Farm Tours begin Saturday

COOPERATIVE ELEVATOR BEAN PLANT: At the Co-op’s bean plant on Berne Street, visitors can see the processing and sorting of different varieties of dry beans.

By SALLY RUMMEL

Did you know that 200,000 tons of limestone used to construct the Zilwaukee Bridge came right out of the quarry of Wallace Stone Plant in Bay Port?

Did you know that most of the horses racing in the Kentucky Derby are fed a special diet of “designer oats,” grown right here and processed through the Specialty Feed Plant of the Cooperative Elevator Company in Elkton?

Did you know that many styles of solid oak furniture labeled “designed by Menomonee craftsmen” in Art Van Furniture showrooms are shipped from Pigeon furniture artisans L.J. Coacher and Western Thumb Area farmers and agri-businesses will spend the summer of 1991 telling their agricultural success stories in a summer-long series of Farm Tours in Michigan’s Land of Plenty. Visitors will learn why Pigeon is the Western Thumb recognized as one of Michigan’s largest agricultural areas. They’ll have a chance to find out more about Michigan’s #2 industry — agriculture — which is second only to tourism in the number of dollars generated in the state budget.

Even more importantly, visitors will get to see, first-hand, what it means to the land, and keep them there for generations...

All tours will begin at 10 a.m. unless otherwise noted, and will last from one to two hours.

Kicking-off the tours will be a visit to the Cooperative Elevator Co. Bean Plant, located on Berne St. in Pigeon, this Saturday, June 1. Visitors will view the Co-op’s modern facilities which receive, dry, process and store a variety of grains and beans.

The Co-op is one of the largest cooperatives in the Midwest and is the supplier to major food companies with the familiar names of Campbell’s, Heinz, Quaker Oats, Bush’s Beans and more.

Dr. Duane Schulze, DVM, “The Livestock Doctor,” will open the doors of his pet and livestock veterinary practice to the public on Saturday, June 8 at 2 p.m. (note the time).

His unique practice combines all the caring of a “country doctor” from years ago with the modern skills and research which is the hallmark of today’s veterinary practices.

Come visit his very unique setting located at 1277 N. Canadton Road, northeast of Pigeon.

The Renn Sheep and Cattle Farm located at 5674 Stein Road, near Pigeon, will be the tour destination on Saturday, June 15.

Owner Terry Renn has constructed a state-of-the-art barn for his sheep operation, which is known as the Sheep/Lamb Breeding Market. In addition, Renn breeds and produces a dairy herd.

L.J. Gascho Furniture Co. might not sound related to agriculture, but entrepreneur Lyle Gascho will share his tradition of solid oak furniture craftsmanship in a special tour on Saturday, June 22 at 1:30 p.m. (note the time).

Gascho has turned his one-man furniture making operation into a 20-person thriving business, supplying handcrafted oak pieces to furniture giant Art Van.

His entrepreneurial spirit, his attention to detail and his love of fine wood furniture will make it worth a visit to his showroom, located at 8300 Halst Road — on his family’s farm.

Visitors on Saturday, June 22 are encouraged to tour the farm and visit with the animals.

COOPERATIVE ELEVATOR SPECIALTY FEED PLANT: These giant grain storage domes can house thousands of bushels of corn and oats, both of which are used in making specialty feeds for the racehorse industry. See the fascinating process of mixing and bagging different types of feed on a tour of the plant Aug. 31.

KIDS AND CALVES AT MAUST FARMS: A young visitor enjoys making friends with another youngster at Maust Farms. Owners Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Maust will open their farm to visitors on July 25.

Woods & Waters

Several years ago I was hiking on a poorly-organized trail in the Smoky Mountains when a group of 50 people piled their backpacks in the middle of the trail, forcing us to climb over them. We then proceeded to hike over the backs of those people, which I later learned was a very common practice there. I told one of the hikers that I especially appreciated a group of people who had been walking up ahead of us, helping to clear the trail. The hiker said, "Oh, we just climbed over them and said, "Oh, we just climbed over them and didn't want to block the trail." I told them, "Well, that's an interesting solution." They said, "Well, it's working for us." I said, "Well, it's working for us too." And we all continued our hiking trip.
