As we see it

Thumbs up & down for ongoing projects

Here is a selection of views, thoughts and comments about projects and efforts which are being kicked around the region, from the perspective of the editor's chair:

FORE!

By Mary Pacheco

The life of a firefighter involves much travel. Those of us who spend part of our time fireside begin to get weary of the first Fourth of July. That's the time to look to the calendar and make plans for fun and relaxation.

So it was back in June when I went to the summer camp at the Boy Scout of America, held at a boy scout camp in the Adirondacks. The camping was great, the food was delicious and the activities were fun.

And, if you haven't seen the new Stuttgart Activity Center yet, it's a must-see. It features a large indoor pool and a health and fitness center. I highly recommend it to anyone looking to stay active and healthy.

Too bad we can't say the same thing for the average homeowner who has been dealing with flooding arrangements and determining property insurance.

In Grand Ledge Cemetery south of Pigeon, these people have no sense of security — and are setting very bad examples for others who may be considering starting a fire on a windy day.

There's a regular stream of wood and burning wasteland. I heard a whisper of construction in this area. This is a great place for woodwork and a place to remember the days of the great lumbering days. I wish I had been able to go to see this.

The pleasant way to walk through Tennessee is to follow the Kentucky state line and Tennessee state line. The gray cement wall and the sky are beautiful.

One of the best efforts we've been aware of involves observing National Newspaper Week or International Reading Day on September 6.

Some newspapers observe a Day of Silence. As a class (or staff) content only one on paper, with one spoken word. This helps increase interest.

As a student, I always loved the way Tennessee is the only state that has a capital.

The most happiest day of my life was when I was able to see the Tennessee Volunteers play the Ohio State Buckeyes. It was a great game, and the Volunteers came out on top.

The day I heard the news of my two favorite teams playing, I was ecstatic. I couldn't wait to see them play.

They get a real workout right here in town! They help a family buy, build or improve a home in Pigeon or the surrounding community. They help folks buy cars, a farmer finances his crops, merchants carry a large inventory. Your savings pays salaries, makes jobs, and promotes prosperity.

Your dollars are the lifeblood of the community, and we make certain they do their part in making our town a better place in which to live and do business!
We're asking YOU

What upcoming summer movie are you especially anxious to see? Why?

“What About Bob?” I’ve heard that it’s a really funny film and worth seeing.

MARY BETH NIMTZ, Elkon

“Shipwrecked,” besides being in action it also has a lot of big shots and I like big shots. CHRISTINE WILL, Bad Axe “Soapdish,” because I really liked Whoopi Goldberg in the movie “Ghost” and I hope her performance in this film is just as good.

SUSIE GRANIELLO, Cassville

“Dont Tell Mom the Babysitter’s Dead,” because it looks funny and interesting.

JASON WHITE, Elkon

“Backdraft,” because of the action and adventures.

JIM GIELOW, Cassville

Four area women got a birds-eye view of the workings of the General Federation of Women’s Clubs when they gathered at the 100th national convention of the GFWC in Arlington, Va., June 9-15. The women are Ruth Simmons, Pigeon White Club; Barbara DeJong, Tuscola White Club; Shirley Dow, Florence White Club; and Betty McClellan, who joined over 500 women from throughout IL and IA.

Special highlights of the convention were guest speakers Lynda Johnson, Rohb, Dr. Joyce Brooks, Governor Judy Walker and 127 White House Bureau Chief Helen Thomas. An emotional event, according to the Pigeon delegates, was the "Presentation of the Colors" by the U.S. Air Force Band and the singing of the Naional Anthem.

An inspirational message was also brought during the convention by Margaret W. Lewis, General Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education in Washington D.C.

The Pigeon delegates enjoyed participating in the GFWC's 100th anniversary celebration and the program at the National Press Club.
