Sugar Creek restaurant offers variety menu in Sebewaing

By MARY DUNER

Scheurer Wellness Center now offers a new restaurant, Sugar Creek, at 44 N. Center St., opened July 13 where the former Antelope's restaurant was located.

Sugar Creek is owned by Gail and Frank Burget.

The Burget family brings plenty of restaurant experience with them. They operated "Shokab's" restaurant in Vassar, which was also their family home.

"We opened Sugar Creek because we felt the town needed a restaurant downtown," said Gail Burget.

A lot of people said it would be a success and we decided to give it a try.

"We can serve, ready, to go as we do, as people want.

The building, which was recently remodeled, was once a home to the New Family business. After separating the business and opening, the home became a pub on the first floor.

The new Sugar Creek offers a variety of menu items and a comfortable dining area.

"We have a special offer on our menu items, which are different from what we offer in our previous restaurant," Burget said.

After a long and successful career in the hospitality industry, the Burget family is excited to bring their new restaurant to the community.

USA plans Sept. 27 election for centralized campus

USA School District officials are working with local school districts to approve ballot language for the district's May 27, 2023, referendum. The district, which includes Thos., Ma-tch and northern land, must have ballot language that is approved by the state before it can put the proposal on the ballot.

The board will vote on the proposal during a meeting at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 1, at the district's board office.

If approved, the proposal will be put to a vote in the Nov. 4, 2023, general election.

Child may have set fire

A nine-year-old boy is suspected of starting a fire that destroyed two cabins and damaged one building on David Dobler's property.

The boy, who is in the group of being arrested by the fire department, is suspected of starting the fire by setting the fire in the daytime and making it continue through the night.

The fire caused more than $10,000 in damage and equipment.

The investigation continues and a date has not been set.

Mr. Dennis Jewell, 76, of Pigeon, passed away on Saturday, July 17, 2021, at his home in the Thumb. Mr. Jewell was born in St. Ignace, Michigan, on May 26, 1945, the son of the late Edward and Virginia (Larkey) Jewell. He had lived in the Thumb area for the past 25 years, where he owned and operated Jewell's Tire and Auto. In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his wife, Arlene (nee Lopetig) Jewell; and his brother, Thomas Jewell. Surviving Mr. Jewell are his son, Keith Jewell (wife, Paula) of Pigeon; three grandchildren, Michael, Beth, and Sarah; and several nieces and nephews. A memorial service will be held at a later date. Arrangements are under the direction of Deis & Deis Funeral Home in Pigeon.
Bay Port's Fish Sandwich Days coming August 7-8

The annual Bay Port Fish Sandwich Days also include a Throne, which has been part of the tradition since 1974. This year, the event will be held on August 7th, and tickets are available at the Bay Port High School during school hours.

The event features a variety of activities, including a Throne, Fish Sandwich Days, and a Grand Parade. The parade will take place on Saturday, August 7th, and will feature floats, music, and costumes. The event is open to the public, and admission is free.

Bay Port's Fish Sandwich Days are a popular event in the community, and attract visitors from all over the region. The event is hosted by the Bay Port Rotary Club, and proceeds benefit local charities.

The Bay Port Fish Sandwich Days have been a tradition for over 40 years, and have become a beloved part of the community's calendar. The event is a great way to celebrate local history and culture, and to connect with friends and family.

For more information, please visit the Bay Port Fish Sandwich Days website or contact the Bay Port Rotary Club at 665-5621.
Schubach Ostrich Farm tours offered for Farmers’ Festival

By AMY HEDDEN

From baby age, each Schubach Farms tour starts young ostriches. Back then, Schubach was farming and working for a local contractor.

The farm’s success has allowed Schubach to expand and introduce all kids to raising ostriches.

It’s a full-contact activity, stopping young ostriches and learning about the animals up close.

Schubach has about 90 birds of all ages, breeding and providing for thousands of families.

The ostriches live in a compound that is low, low-humidity, and high-growth.

They’re so safe to take care of! Schubach says, "They’re remarkably docile, and they adapt to the cold."

All you need is a stick and a few minutes, and you’re breeding and feeding.

Of course, all breeding is regulated, as the birds normally go through two or three seasons of breeding in a year. They’re usually bred from mid-April to mid-June.

But during that long time, the farm produces eggs every other day or so. There’s a steady supply for both the eggs and the young birds, throughout the year.

Schubach says the farm is self-sufficient and doesn’t rely on outside vendors for food.

On Thursday, the farm will offer a free parking lot for all visitors, with a free-roaming tour of the farm.Visitors are welcome to bring their children and enjoy the farm’s offerings.

Sebewaing Carrier does MORE than just deliver the Mail!

By MARY DRIER

Brundin delivering letters, U.S. Post Office carrier for 35 years of part-time work—brings him and his wife, Mary, into their empty home on especially cold windy winter mornings. While Mary's health reduces her mobility to the west side of Sebewaing, Sebewaing Carrier, Peggy Unzner finds one of her postal carriers, 96-year-old Olga Wendal, bad vision and had been unable to deliver. Sebewaing Carrier, Peggy Unzner, accepted Wendal's request to do it for her.

Unzner sat in front of the house and placed letters into her mailbox. As she rode in a vehicle, she drove around the block and dropped off the mail. "I did it as much as I could as long as I could," said Unzner.

"She was a very nice lady," said Unzner. "She is a little bit of a mystery to me, I don't know much about her life."

The other portion of Unzner's duties go to John Billings, who has been an employee for 15 years. Billings has the title of assistant and helps with special deliveries, such as flowers, medicine, and other items.

Medical Care, Bay City, talked with Unzner Friday night about the ongoing situation. He said the mail was delivered on time, but there were no letters or packages.

"We have plans to deliver," said Lebeau.

A-F millage vote Sept. 27

Voters in the Alcona-Pigeyg School District will again set the polls on Monday, Sept. 27, to decide a tax issue to help raise the district's financial woes.

"We're trying to get a better deal between revenues and expenses during the 1984-85 school year," said Joel Hageman, the district's financial officer.

"We have to find a way to raise more money," he said. "We're trying to get a better deal from the state and federal governments."

Pigeon is a 'crafter's paradise' this week!

Pigeon will be a crafter's paradise during Farmers' Festival this year, with three different craft shows throughout the village.

- The original Farmers' Festival Hobby and Craft Fair will be under the tent in the village's Main St. parking lot on Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All kinds of crafts will be on display and available for purchase, including stained glass, baskets and much, much more.

- The Dolls, Bears and Critters Sale/Exhibit is set for Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the farmer Donald's building at the stoplight corner.

Organizer Donna Orr says that the sale and exhibit will feature unique porcelain dolls, bears made from mohair, mink and Persian lamb, cartoon bears, plus a variety of doll accessories including handcrafted quilts, clothing ensembles and doll mattresses and pillow sets.

Visitors are invited to browse through the displays and purchase whatever strikes their fancy.

- Michigan Crafters, Inc. will sponsor a three-day show and sale on the airfield behind J & P Plumbing west of Pigeon.

Their hours are noon to 6 p.m. on Friday, Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Sunday from noon to 4 p.m.

Michigan Crafters organizer Marilyn Tibbitts says the group is made up of crafters from all over the state who banded together to organize their own sales and shows.

So far, nearly 40 crafters have signed up for the three-day event. Tibbitts says some of the crafts available will be wood crafts, ceramics, jewelry, dried flower arrangements and china painting and much more.

ONE OF THE MOST UNIQUE Farmers' Festival events this year will be the Human Tractor Pull, set for this Saturday, July 24, at 6 p.m. at the Municipal Parking lot in downtown Pigeon.

Organized by a group of employees from the Cooperative Elevator Co., this event is modeled after one held at a festival in Chatham, IL. Each year organizers keep adding additional teams because the event has become so popular.

Five-person teams, age 18 years and older, are currently being sought to participate, according to organizer John Kohr, Jr. Both men's and women's teams may sign-up by contacting the Cooperative Elevator Co. at 453-4500. A small per-team entry fee will be charged at the time of registration.

Whether you sign-up for a team or not, this first annual Human Tractor Pull promises to be a thrilling event to watch, organizers say.

Sam Conkey writes about family, beans, past and future

Sam Conkey, a TVA gradua-
tate of Glencoe High School, recently completed an internship in the Family History Institute of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in Salt Lake City, UT. He has been writing for the "Family History" column since 1990.

Conkey is currently working on his book about his family's history. "The Boots Above," being written to his 21 grandchildren, will be a great-grand- child and the era was the book of the national society of the Michigan Genealogical. Conkey's recipe book came about while he was still a student in a class on family history at Georgia State University and began his book with research and genealogical skills.

Conkey's book will be published in a series of books on Georgia State University and will be available through his book store in early 1993.

Conkey and his wife have lived in Atlanta since 1989. He has been active in community and political programs for over 20 years, serving on the Atlanta Area Boy Scout Council for 1.5 years and recently as a consultant to the Georgia Lottery, according to his children.

Here are Saturday's "explosive" events

Saturday night's Festival events will "go off with a bang," highlighted by fireworks that will start at 9:30 p.m. on the Parkway in downtown Edenton. The fireworks, set off at 9:30 p.m., will be visible from all areas of the festival grounds. For those attending, fireworks will begin at 9:30 p.m.

There will be plenty of activity at the Festival Park, which is also a prime viewing area for the fireworks. Festival organizers are expecting a large crowd to attend the events.

Chancellor drama: spreading the word visually

By William Diller

As the performance started on the stage at Grace United Methodist Church, the audience was greeted with a banner reading, "The Welcome Banner." The banner was held by members of the church and included the words, "Welcome to Grace United Methodist Church." The audience was then greeted by a member of the choir who introduced the performance, "The Welcome Banner." The performance was divided into three parts: the first part included a song about the welcome, the second part included a drama about the welcome, and the third part included a prayer for the welcome. The performance was well-received by the audience, who applauded after each part. The performers were dressed in the traditional attire of the church and included young children and adults. The performance was a great source of inspiration for the audience, who were encouraged to spread the word visually about the church and its message of love and inclusion.

Good Shepherd Church's chancel drama

I think we are starting to develop a reputation of having that's unique in church ministry...

We're starting to go beyond what just a Christian play...we've seen several plays...that have been very successful, especially in the last few years. We've had several productions where we've had a lot of feedback from the community and the audience.

Growing A Bright Farm Future...

The Cooperative Elevator Company proudly supports Michigan and Thumb-Area agriculture during the 20th annual Pigeon Farmers' Festival!

But support of local agriculture is our 52-week-a-year business, because our goal for over three-quarters of a century has been to improve the lives of the Thumb-area’s farm families.

Cooperative Elevator Company and Thumb-area farmers are partners in progress, because we share the same goals — making farming a growing, profitable and successful industry by providing farm commodities and agricultural products to help feed the world and give farmers and agricultural products to return for their labors.

The Cooperative Elevator Company has provided full services to farmers — planning, planting, harvesting and marketing — to make farming more success and more efficient.

Again this year, our goal is to continue that program because we know that working together works for everyone involved.

Have a great time at the 1993 Pigeon Farmers' Festival!

We Can Be Proud To Call Pigeon "Home"

If you are associated with the Pigeon area as the place you either live, work or vacation, you’ve never had more reasons to be proud of your “home” town. A new 30-unit senior living complex, plus duplexes, is being constructed on land north of Scheurer Hospital, thanks to the cooperation of both the Village and Township with members of the Scheurer Hospital Foundation, which is sponsoring “Country Bay Village” and Kolb & Associates, managing consultants. Now seniors who have had to leave the Pigeon area to find quality senior housing can stay close to their family of friends. Scheurer Hospital is an increasingly important healthcare center in the Thumb.

The new "streetscape" project in Pigeon’s downtown has brightened and beautified the streets, and pumped new energy into the shopping area. Pigeon is a beautiful, warm and friendly community, and we welcome you to the 1993 Farmers’ Festival!

The newly-completed streetscape project has pumped new energy into Pigeon’s downtown district, bringing pride and progressiveness to our shopping district. Pigeon merchants boast the strongest, most active Chamber of Commerce in the county, resulting in a commitment to service, quality and competitive prices. The increase in giant merchandise centers nearby has led Pigeon merchants to market more specialized goods and services, bringing shoppers back to Pigeon again and again, as they find unique items not available “in the city.”

The streetscape project has also helped Pigeon residents maintain their roots, as families, groups and businesses memorialized themselves in Pigeon’s unique tree-planting project. Over 45 trees were planted downtown, each bearing its own unique bronze memorial plaque.

Now visitors to Pigeon can enjoy a “walking history tour” as they read the names of people who chose to remember loved ones memorialized on a plaque. Pigeon residents’ love of their heritage and family roots has been shown in the dedication of the Pigeon Historical Society to the Depot Museum, which is open every day during the summer. Historical Society members are hoping to share Pigeon’s history with even more visitors by linking the Museum more closely downtown through the proposed Mini-Park, which is now being planned by members of the Society and Pigeon’s Strategic Planning Beautification Committee. A brickwalk would connect the Museum with downtown and would provide shoppers with a shady bench to rest upon while enjoying a day downtown and at the Museum. The newly-constructed information kiosk, which is now installed just south of the Village Hall, would become a centerpiece of that mini-park, giving visitors needed tourist information about Pigeon and the surrounding area.

Add to these reasons to be proud of your “home” town the Pigeon District Library, Pigeon’s outdoor Band Shell, a soon-to-be-completed Master Recreation Plan and you can see that Pigeon isn’t heading into the future “sitting down.” Pigeon residents have always been “get the job done people,” and we can all feel the pride of the wonderful town of Pigeon that is the result.

Come And Enjoy The Pigeon Farmers' Festival!

For 20 years Mid-Michigan families have traveled to the heart of the Thumb to enjoy one of the most entertaining weekends of the entire year, The Pigeon Farmers' Festival.

It's a hometown-style celebration saluting Michigan agriculture and our state's vitally important farm industry. During the past 150 years, Michigan's farm families have created a uniquely American lifestyle. In the process, they have also helped create the most abundant and efficient food production and distribution system in the entire world.

Highlights of this year's Festival include children's games, parades, stage shows and entertainment, great food, antique farm equipment displays, and lots of fun.

I want to extend a special invitation to you and your family to join us at the Pigeon Farmers' Festival, July 21 - 23!

U.S. Representative Jim Barcia

State Trailways Act okayed

Meet 1993 Farmers’ Fest Queen candidates!

BY SALLY HUMMEL
It’s the first time in more than 20 years that the Farmers’ Fest Queen competition has been open to the public.

The competition, which will be held on Saturday, Aug. 27, will feature six candidates vying for the title of Farmers’ Fest Queen. The candidates will be judged on their knowledge of agriculture, their ability to speak in public, and their overall appearance.

The six candidates are:
- Jennifer Ann Lavelle, daughter of Thomas and John Lavelle, and granddaughter of Albert Lavelle, from the Lavelle family.
- Jessica Popp, daughter of Debra and Richard Popp, from the Popp family.
- Kristy Speers, daughter of David and Teresa Speers, from the Speers family.
- Leigh Anne Smith, daughter of Gary and Carol Smith, from the Smith family.
- Sara Thompson, daughter of Larry and Sandy Thompson, from the Thompson family.

The competition will be held at the Farmers’ Fest Queen pageant, which will be held at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 27, at the Farmers’ Fest Queen pageant stage.

Petting Zoo was a favorite at Sebewaing’s Sugar Festival

A new, low-interest commercial loan program for the manufacturing industry in the United States has been introduced by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

The program is available under the terms of the Omnibus Trade and Competitiveness Act, which became law in January. The program provides loans to small and medium-sized companies that are not eligible for other sources of funding.

The program offers loans at interest rates that are lower than those available from other sources, and the terms of the loans are flexible, allowing companies to repay the loans over a longer period of time.

The program is designed to help companies that are struggling to stay competitive in today’s global market.

No more training in high winds, after ‘91 fatal jet crash

By MARY DRIER

A new pilot training program for the U.S. military has been announced, following a series of accidents involving pilots in high winds.

The change is intended to prevent any further incidents like the one that occurred in 1991, when a jet crashed during a training mission.

The program includes a series of monthly training sessions, starting with basic flight training and progressing to more advanced techniques.

In addition, the program includes a new pilot training simulator, which will allow pilots to practice their skills in a safe and controlled environment.

These changes are expected to significantly reduce the risk of crashes in high winds.

Rural hospitals often lead Michigan's job growth

Michigan's smaller rural and community hospitals have the potential to lead the state's economic growth in the next two years. According to the survey, 75% of hospitals are in small communities, with 24% in rural areas. These hospitals are critical to the health of their communities and are expected to grow in the next two years.

The survey also found that 58% of hospitals are in communities with a population of less than 10,000, and 42% are in communities with a population of 10,000 or more. This indicates that rural hospitals are doing well and are expected to continue to grow in the future.

The Michigan Hospital Association (MHA) has been working to support these hospitals and help them grow. The MHA has been working with the state and federal government to provide additional funding and resources to these hospitals to help them continue to provide quality care to their communities.

In conclusion, rural hospitals are a vital part of the Michigan economy and are expected to continue to grow in the next two years. The MHA and other organizations are working to support these hospitals and ensure they continue to provide quality care to their communities.
