America Celebrates National 4-H Week...

By Robert A. Johnson, County Extension Director Huron County

Huron County 4-H youth members and volunteers will celebrate National 4-H Week, October 3-9, 1993.

"You Can Touch the Future in 4-H" is the theme of Michigan's celebration of 79 years of 4-H youth programs. The theme reinforces the commitment of Michigan's 4-H Youth Programs to provide youth with opportunities and learning experiences that prepare them to become productive and involved citizens.

Huron County will join other Michigan counties in highlighting Michigan 4-H's contributions to positive youth development. In 1993, there are 200 adults volunteering with 1,222 youth in 58 4-H Clubs.

This is the 50th year that National 4-H Week has recognized the contributions of 4-H volunteers and the success of the youth they work with.

The first National 4-H Week celebration took place April 5-11, 1919, as National 4-H Mobilization Week. In 1962, the celebration moved to the first week in October. Today, the week seeks to highlight and garner support for the many programs and benefits provided by county 4-H youth programs in all 50 states and U.S. territories. Four-H is the MSU Extension System's nonformal educational program for young people. The program brings together volunteer leaders, state and local government agencies, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture to develop and deliver educational programming for young people.

Four-H youth programs are conducted in 1352 counties of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, Micronesia and the Northern Mariana Islands.

Michigan 4-H Youth Programs, a division of Michigan State University Extension Children, Youth and Family Programs, involves 33,000 adult and teen volunteers in providing educational programs to more than 247,000 young people annually.

Amish youngsters make the home of the Amish's largest Amish children's clothing and toy store, the largest of its kind in the northeast; it was featured on the 1995 edition of the Amish Country Tour in Huron County. The store's opening was covered by the local media, including the local newspapers and television stations. The store's opening was a significant event for the Amish community, as it provided a new source of income and a place for the Amish youth to shop for toys and clothing.

The store was opened in September 1995, and it quickly became a popular destination for Amish children and their families. The store was located in a small Amish town, and it offered a wide selection of toys, clothing, and other items that were not available in the local Amish stores. The store was open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays, and it was closed on Saturdays.

The store owner was very proud of his Amish background and his commitment to providing a quality product to the Amish community. He wanted to offer a place where the Amish children could go to have fun and enjoy themselves, and he believed that the store would help to strengthen the Amish community.

The store was a success, and it quickly became a popular destination for Amish children and their families. The Amish community was very supportive of the store, and many families began to shop here instead of the local Amish stores.

The store was a significant event for the Amish community, as it provided a new source of income and a place for the Amish youth to shop for toys and clothing. It also helped to strengthen the Amish community, as it brought the Amish children and their families together in a fun and enjoyable setting.
