Looking back at the start of Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving Day is an annual national holiday which we celebrate in the United States on the fourth Thursday of November every year. It has its origins in the 1620s, when the Pilgrims welcomed the Native Americans, who helped them survive the first winter. The day is now observed as a time of giving thanks for the abundance of the harvest.

In the United States, Thanksgiving Day was first celebrated on November 26, 1621, during the Pilgrims’ first harvest. It has been a federal holiday since 1863, when President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed it an annual observance.

On this day, Americans typically gather with family and friends to share a traditional holiday meal. The menu often includes turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, and other classic dishes.

This year, as we reflect on the start of Thanksgiving, let us remember the gratitude and generosity that underpin this holiday. Whether we are fortunate enough to have everything we desire, or fortunate enough to have anything we desire, let us all take a moment today to appreciate the blessings in our lives.

Happy Thanksgiving Day to all!

PARENTS, SCHOOLS WORK TOGETHER

By ROBERT BLUMENTHAL

The concept of parent involvement is a vital component of education. Recent research has shown that when parents are actively engaged in their child's education, students tend to achieve higher academic success. This can be achieved through various activities such as attending parent-teacher conferences, volunteering at schools, and participating in school events.

The importance of parent involvement is recognized at all levels of education. Schools are encouraged to develop programs that foster parent engagement, and parents are encouraged to be active participants in their children's education.

When a parent has a concern about his or her child's academic progress, it is best to notify the teacher and discuss the issue with them. The teacher can provide information and guidance to help improve the student's performance.

In addition, parents can also engage in the school community by participating in school events such as parent-teacher conferences and school assemblies. This helps to strengthen the relationship between the school and the parents, and allows for open communication.

Parents are also encouraged to get involved in the school's decision-making processes. This can be done by attending meetings and providing feedback.

In conclusion, parent involvement is a critical aspect of education. It is important for parents to remain active in their child's education and to work together with schools to ensure the best possible educational experience for all students.

Parents can also engage in many activities with their children to help them develop their academic skills. Some examples include helping with homework, discussing difficult concepts, and creating a positive learning environment.

In conclusion, the involvement of parents in their child's education is crucial to their academic success. By working together, parents and teachers can help to ensure that all students have the opportunity to reach their full potential.

The time is football, pool, driving, and boyfriend or girlfriend. It is the season when many students are focused on money for their own car payments. This can be a stressful time for many students.

However, there are ways to improve the situation. One way is to budget properly and avoid impulse spending. By planning ahead and setting a budget, students can avoid overspending and save money for important expenses.

In conclusion, by being mindful of their finances and planning for the future, students can avoid stress and enjoy the present.

Back-to-back District wins for Lady Lakers' squad

By JIM JAWORSKI

The Lady Lakers captured their second straight District Basketball title Friday with exciting wins over Bad Axe, 37-34, and Ubly, 56-32, last week.

Against the Hatchets, Carolyn Bollenbacher shot 2 free shots to start the game that set the tone for the first half. The Lakers held a comfortable lead throughout the first 15 minutes, thanks to their accurate free throw shooting. They shot 21 charity tosses while converting 15 of them, taking a 29-20 halftime lead. But the Hatchets came out swinging in the second half, causing numerous turnover overs. The Laker lead shrank to only seven points after three quarters, 33-26.

The final quarter was no different as Bad Axe slowly crept into the game and found themselves only one point down with four minutes left 33-32.

But a Kim Sturm basket and two free throws by Bollenbacher aced the game 37-34.

"Our passing was terrible in the second half but you have to give Bad Axe a lot of credit," Laker coach Paul Rechlicz said.

"Their hard work almost paid off." Bollenbacher finished with 15 points and Nicole Kolar added five, all at the free throw line.

UBLY: Before the Laker fans could get settled in their seats, Ubly's Denise Cook scored the first five points of the game.

But the Green Team came right back with a basket and two free shots by Darlene Jaworski and a short jumper by sophomore Kristin Damm, bringing the lead to 5-10 after the first quarter.

Bollenbacher converted a couple of big steals into layups and also banged in a long triple to bring the Lakers within three points at half time 23-22.

Trisha Rosenthal added four points in the quarter coming off the bench.

The third quarter could easily have been a preview of next year's team as the three sophomores capitalized from the junior varsity to contribute immensely to the 41-30 Lakers lead after three quarters of play.

But Ubly hit three jumpers and rolled in another two-pointer after a missed Laker free throw just before the buzzer.

Angie Weidman scored four of her six points off the offensive boards and Damm hit two of her six points in the third quarter.

Drought's long triple with five minutes left gave the Lakers their largest lead of the game, 47-42.

Ubly's Sue Penuski barked in a layup, but Kim Sturm and Jenny Murdoch sank two big baskets giving the Lakers a commanding 51-44 lead with less than two minutes to go.

Beatrice Sharon Karaby converted a three point play and Penuski netted a basket. But after a Jaworski layin and Michelle Bolda free throw, it looked like the game was a Laker victory.

Ubly didn't want to concede the victory when Krissy Wixtich hit a triple with seven seconds and the score was 54-52. Junior Bollenbacher cleanly swished two freebies to end the game at 56-52.

"It was a well-played game by both teams, but foul trouble really hurt us at the end," Ubly coach August Becker said.

"Cook fouled out and the Lakers made their free throws and that seemed to be the difference." Nine different Lakers scored with Bollenbacher and Damm netting 11 points and Jaworski adding 10 points.

"I'm extremely proud of this team, they worked their butts off in practice and in this game," Becker said. "Everyone worked hard and I'd like to think this game made up for some of the tough losses we suffered this year."

The Lakers overall record is now 16-4 and they were to meet Sandusky in the opening rounds of the regional playoffs on Monday evening, with the title game to be played on Wednesday, due to the Thanksgiving holiday.
