What Prop. A's o.k. means to you

By MARY DRIER and AMY HEIDEN

What one government action gives with one hand, other government action is taking away with the other hand.

Passage of Proposal A lowers property tax throughout Michigan, but before last Monday's vote, action was already underway to raise property values.

Tuscola County Equalization Director Ed Karr said he expects agricultural values to increase about 2% and residential properties to increase about 3% this year.

Also, Huron County will remain about the same as last year, officials say.

"Board of Review action has been quiet this year," said Huron Equalization Director William Kerr. "We don't expect much of an increase over last year."

Exact figures won't be known for at least another month. Boards of Review in Huron and Tuscola counties won't finish meeting until the end of the month.

Even after the boards finish several other governmental agencies will review the proposed figures and can make changes.

Although the overall county rates aren't expect to change much in the Thumb, some areas may see significant changes, the equalization directors noted.

in Caseville Township, Assessor Janice Prillsaid assessments have risen some, "but not anywhere near what we've had in the past."
Residential assessments had the biggest increase, jumping from last year's $78.13 million to over $83.37 million this year. About half of that $5.24 million increase was due to higher assessments, and the other half was new construction, Prill said.

Commerical property in the township increased in value just over $116,000, from $3.34 million in 1993 to $3.46 million this year.

In landlocked Oliver Township, the assessed value of residential property increased just over $141,000, from $8.52 million to $8.66 million, according to Supervisor Lawrence Krohn.

The value of ag land, which makes up the biggest part of the township, went up about $50 per acre, for a total increase of $468,400. SEVs for ag land went up from $15.3 million to just over $15.81 million, Krohn said.

On the western edge of Huron County bordering Saginaw Bay, Sebewaing Township Supervisor Willet

Oeschger said residential property values have gone up about 4 percent, while ag property values have risen about 2 percent.

Agricultural land values

Agricultural land values have risen from $18.23 million to $18.6 million in Sebewaing Township, while residential values have go up slightly, from $20.167 million to $20.894 million.

There's $199,000 worth of new construction in that increased residential figure, Oeschger said, and about $200,00 in new construction in the ag values.

The following are "tentative" recommended equalization ratios and estimated multipliers to compute individual State Equalized Valuation.

These ratios and multipliers can change because of action of assessing officials, boards of review, county commissioners or the State Tax Commission.

"The chart shows the ratio being assessed at the present time before the adjustment is applied. When the adjustment is applied it will bring the figure back above 49% which is allowable with the State," said Karr.

The state equalized valuation, or SEV, is half of what a property is worth. So if a piece of property's SEV is $25,000, it is worth $50,000.

To find your total taxes, multiply your SEV (found on your township tax notice or assessment notice) by the total millage rate, then muliply the resulting figure by the multiplier listed for your township and class of property.

Taxes are paid in mills. Each of which is equal to $1 per $1,000 of assessed value.

Increased valuations mean higher taxes unless millages are rolled back either by local government units or because of the Headlee Amendment to the State Constitution which limits increases to the rate of inflation.

"Headlee still applies for this year, but won't after next," said Karr. "People will pay less property tax, but more in other taxes."

One central USA precinct?

Voters in the USA School District may all vote in one place — someday, but not at any time soon. For the near future, the district will continue to use two voting precincts.

"We have been talking about changing to a one precinct district for years," said Supt. William Dodge. "We put it on hold because it is too costly.

"To change to one district, we would have to notify every registered voter in the district by first-class mail and we would have to make a new voter registration precinct book." Dodge estimates it would cost between $4,000 to $6,000 to change to a single precinct district.

Having one voting precinct in Unionville and one in Sebewaing dates back to the 1980s before the former Unionville School District and the Sebewaing School District merged to form USA Schools.

In other election matters, the USA Board of Education members approved the annual election for Monday, June 13. Two Board seats are expiring at that time. The seats belong to Charles Squires and Kurt Ewald.

Petitions are available at the Board of Education office, 628 E. Main Street, Sebewaing, and due back by 4 p.m. Monday, April 11.

POPULATION MAKE-UP: Michigan's population is 82.8% white, slightly higher than the national average of 80%, says the U.S. Census Bureau. Whites make up about 200 million of the nation's 250 million residents. Michigan's population is also 13.9% black, 2.2% Hispanic and 1.1% Asian.

New Laker gym floor ok'd

When the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port girls' basketball team takes the court next fall, they'll be playing on a brand new surface.

The Laker Board of Education accepted a bid from Bay Area Interiors to replace the original high school gym floor, at cost of $129,553. The project will include ripping out the old 1963-era floor, installing a single-membrane latex underlayment, a waterproofed subfloor system and a ventilation system that will remove moisture during high-humidity times.

"This is a fairly new type of floor for this area," Supt. Robert Drury said. "It has a high degree of resiliency."

The same type of floor will also be installed at Valley Lutheran High School in Saginaw, Drury noted, replacing their famous (or infamous) carpeted gym floor. But the Lakers won't play the Chargers again, because of the new make-up of the Thumb C Conference. The Lakers will be full members of the TCC next season, and will pick up Bay City All Saints as an opponent instead of Valley Lutheran.

The top layer of the floor will be one-inch maple boards,

The gyrn's ceiling will also be painted this summer, with J&L Painting of Pigeon submitting the lowest bid. The job will from newborn to age two in Huron County are properly immunized against childhood diseases like polio, measles, whooping cough, tetanus, etc.

That statistic has prompted three local service organizations to join hands with the Huron County Health Department to take a shot at increasing those numbers.

Rotarians became interested in this local immunization project through their involvement with Rotary International's Polio Plus, project, which has the goal of immunizing the world's children against polio.

Pigeon Rotarian Jerry Dietzel contacted public health nurse Cindy Gentner of the Health Department, and together they joined forces with the Sebewaing and Caseville

This joining of hands between the service clubs and health department came at a time when the Center of Disease Control in Atlanta, GA. set forth the goal for states to have 90% of children from newborn to age two immunized by 1998.

While each state allocated a small amount of additional funding for each county to help accomplish this goal, the Huron County Health Departtive methods, such as:

Beers Family sells Dairy Barn to Hollands

Not many of today's customers at the Sebewaing Dairy Barn on South M-25 remember when it was "Doc's Spot." That was the name 24 years ago, back in early 1970, when Warren and Mary Beers purchased the business and transformed it into the Dairy

At that time Warren was a police officer in Detroit. Marv. a Registered Nurse, was expecting the Beers' third child. Warren and Mary remember those years well. Their menu small—hamburgers, hot dogs, fries and ice cream. Burgers were 45¢, and cones came in three sizes-10¢, 20¢ and 30¢ for the big ones.

For years, the entire Beers Family chipped in to make the Dairy Barn a success. Warren retired from the police force, Mary gave up nursing to work in the business and the children — Debbie, Amy and Glen — all played their expected roles in helping with the business.

Heading down that info superhighway

so many appeals and advertising choices from all types of mediums, from cable TV informercials to printed pens and even sky-writing. Now, however, we're all about to be exposed to the information superhighway, and how it will impact us as consumers will carry into that elusive, far-away 21st Century (even though it begins less than six years from today!)

The information superhighway, as we've discussed in this space before, is the coming possibility that we will someday all be linked by a new hybrid of computer, TV, voice and data which will do all sorts of wonderful things for us. We'll be able to order theatre tickets, or airline tickets, shop for groceries or buy anything desirable by just pointing a few typewriter keys... and charging it all on a bank credit card... from the comfort of our living rooms.

And, under legislation now moving through Congress, the number of choices for telephone and cable TV services which will be available to us in coming years is staggering. Competition will be Cable TV service may come to your home through your local phone company, in the near future. And, maybe a dozen satellite or phone-line cable TV suppliers will offer you service, meaning that home-phone connection will be important.

Regarding local phone service, we're supposed to get more choices there, too. In a turn-about, cable TV companies may offer you phone service (through cable TV lines, not phone lines,) although that's expected in metro areas before it comes to smaller hometowns such as we have here in the Thumb.

And, long-distance phone service may find these seven regional Bell companies competing against each other, instead of staying geographically separate, as they have since deregulation.

We CAN predict smart companies to expect us all to be confused... and offer one overall package of cable, local and long-distance service, rolled into one convenient plan. That certainly makes sense, because we're certain to BE confused.

And they'll let you pay it on one convenient bill, too, to round out this new technological age!

DEAR EDITOR:

Last Sunday night on March 13, the Pigeon Mens' Community Chorus gave a musical program at Pigeon River Mennonite Church. I enjoyed it verv much.

The group sang several hymns that I haven't heard for a long time.

How long do sweepstakes run before they finally quit? The Reader's Digest $12 million game has been on for how long? More than a year, maybe 18 months or so, but there are signs that it's finally coming to an end. Those who've been in it must have received several hundred pieces of mail, and it's a marvel how interesting, how well-planned and intricate all the required steps really are.

Like weeds sprouting along the pathway, a dozen or so lesser sweepstakes blossomed, too. Their design often resembles Reader's Digest's, and they often sound like the real thing so that many receiving these also-ran games are led to reply in the mistaken-notion that they're dealing with Reader's Digest. The latest involves the "guarantee" that you won $10,000 and all you need to do is to make a preliminary purchase of one of many choice pieces of jewelry. Some of the pieces have "genuine one-carat diamonds" and their value is "up to" $3,450 or thereabouts. All you need do is pay a measly preliminary fee of $19, plus $2 or $3 postage and handling. With that simple, inexpensive act, presumably, the $10,000 prize will be yours.

Let's see, that's a total of $13,450 in money and diamonds, minus the $22 "preliminary fee," leaving you with a net gain of (before taxes) $13,428. If you get that grand offer in the mail, too, look it over before you rush to grab your checkbook. Remember! If it's too good to be true, it probably is ...

The fender you save...

Nowdays you can order a new vehicle with everything but a built-in whirlpool. (I take that back - you probably CAN get a jacuzzi in a conversion van!) So it seems a shame that some of the most luxurious cars on the road are going around with tilt steering, air conditioning, dual climate control and CD players . . . but no turn signals!

Maybe automobile manufacturers have just made the "turn signal of olde" too complicated, as the once singularly-purposed stick-like protrusion now houses the stereo, washer wipers, hi-beam, cruise control, tilt steering and more!

After all, when you have the capability of setting different air temperatures for your passengers, how important can a turn signal be? "Heavens, we're too busy debating where we want the tilt steering to worry about signaling for a left turn. And how can we be expected to indicate a lane change when we are struggling to set the cruise at just the right speed?"

It's frustrating and maddening to BE the motorist duped by another's failure to indicate, but more importantly, it's just

After all, in my lifetime I've been stopped for such meager infractions as having "too many things dangling from my rear view mirror," and have been ticketed for traveling just 5 miles over the speed limit. So why aren't more motorists called on the carpet for blinker neglect?

It's frustrating and maddening, like I said, but petty pet peeves aside, it is simply dangerous to change lanes or careen around corners without signaling your intentions to other

When I applied, I picked unit K for two reasons.

First, it is a large area, encompassing approximately 10 counties, with 7500 permits available for the final season and second, my brother owns 200 acres in some of the best turkey country in Michigan.

Lucky, you say? Hardly. When it comes to turkey hunting, I am the unluckiest guy in the world.

This permit marks the first time in the last three years I was picked. Reports of low bird numbers and thus some restrictions on the number of total permits the DNR would issue this year, caused me to lose interest even before I extension of the Multi-County Citizens Grand Jury for another six months. The grand jury began operating in June, 1993, to cover Tuscola, Huron and Lapeer Counties.

The first grand jury took testimony from about 150 witnesses and handed down indictments for 54 people, of which about 30 were Tuscola County residents.

Besides drugs, the grand jury investigation resulted in the arrest of Leroy Boyer, 20, and Floyd Elliott, 20, both of Kinde, for the alleged 1992 murder of Helen Schaefer, 88 of Kinde. A second six-month grand jury term was approved in February by the Michigan Court of Appeals. This is only the third time such a regional grand jury has operated in the state. "Grand juries investigate the use and distribution of illegal narcotics and drugs and can obtain information that is unavailable in regular court proceedings," said Huron County Prosecutor Leslie Hagen. "It also can subpoena witnesses, compel them to testify and grant immunity.

Seventeen Area residents serve on the grand jury and Tuscola Circuit Judge Patrick Joslyn will continue to preside. Grand jury proceedings are kept secret.

"About a year ago, we identified 20 major drug dealers in Huron County as targets for the grand jury. I am confident we will indict the majority of those targets within the next several months," said Hagen. "We have information on dealers from here to Florida along with who they sell to.

I need to ask you for bunkbeds because of my oldest son (12 years). He's a resident at Green Chimney Resident at Green dential housing for emotionally disabled children. He's doing great now and soon he'll be home for good.

But, before he can come home I must have adequate space and furnishings.

Bunkbeds would help because I could then put the boys back in their room and the girls and I can share the master bedroom. Ultimately this means my son's return would not be postponed.

Ross Voelker of Caseville was voted the most valuable player of the tournament. He had 22 points in the final game, and for Kuhl Construction, Tom Koch who scored 20 point in the Jim Sharamske was the three-point champion. He made 14, three-point shots over the weekend.

A new feature this year was highlighted games by school classes with the winning team playing the faculty. The seniors won the class competition but were soundly beaten 36 to 32 by the teachers.

"The players really enjoyed it. There was a lot of good games," said USA High School Coach Tim Travis. "The tournament went really smooth and I can't thank the boosters enough for their help with concessions, taking tickets and cleaning up, the students who manned the clock and played and the spectators."

The annual March basketball tournament at USA took on a new purpose this year. For years the event was called the Gary Loeffler Tournament and proceeds went to offset the USA graduate's medical expenses from a football injury. However, the Loeffler Family decided they no longer wanted to participate in the tournament — but boosters and local teams still wanted a tournament to go on. so school officials decided to keep the tournament and have the proceeds go towards school projects. Proceeds from the tournament will go towards paying for the $8,000 setup of the new weight room at the high school.

Pigeon strike continues

Picketing continued this past week at Pigeon Manufacturing Co., Pigeon, where a three-week strike by United Paperworkers International Union Local 7320 has nearly shut down produc-

Local 7320 President Dick Kundinger said Thursday that no talks between the union and management have taken place since the strike began March 1.

The union struck the plant when contract negotiations broke down. Management, led by Plant Manager Tom Smith and owners Peter and Anthony Barclae, wanted a 10% pay cut, elimination of cost of living allowances, changes in health insurance and other concessions. Union officials are asking for a 4% pay raise for unskilled workers and an 8% raise for skilled workers, along with keeping COLA raises and maintaining their current insurance.

Plant Manager Smith had no comment on the ongoing strike. Stampings are still being produced at the plant, which makes stampings for the automobile and truck industry. Lines are being manned by about seven men who hadn't finished their probationary period and thus hadn't joined the union, and by supervisory personnel.

Kind of like a replay of last year's regional championship, when the Hawks deeated the Lakers by one point n overtime for the title. It was a bit of revenge for the

After a so-so regular season, they started a winning streak by soundly tromping conferclean sweep through the district playoffs.

The biggest scare of the night came late in the first quarter, when starter Ben Krebs' shoulder popped out and he headed for the locker room. Hamady's Hawks were up 16-9 and the absence of Krebs' inside play could have seriouly hampered the Lak-

But Bill Smith canned a bucket and a triple to bring the Lakers back and the quarter ended with Hawks up 18-

The Lakers managed to take the lead in the second with baskets by Brian Gebauer, Andy Mitin and Heath Krohn. With 12 seconds left in the half, Hawk Rivad Howard put Hamady back within two points, but Kevin Iantzi swished a triple just Jantzi fouled out with 3:10 left to play, and after relaxing enough for his shoulder to pop back in its socket, Krebs came back in to grab some key rebounds.

Hamady's Eric Fykes tossed in a jumper from the top of the key to give the Hawks the akers, who have given cre- 59-58 lead. Fykes then stole dence to the saying that the an inbounds pass and was post-season is an entirely new fouled, but missed the front end of the one-and-one.

Kreb's rebound shot with a minute left gave the Lakers the one-point lead, and with ence champion Cass City, 23.5 seconds left, added one then followed it up with a of two free throws. He again visited free throw land when Carlton picked up his fifth foul, and tossed in a free throw for the 62-59 lead with 14.6 seconds left.

But the Lakers weren't safe yet, as Larry Johnson forced the overtime with a triple with 3.6 seconds remaining.

The overtime period wasn't one of Hamady's finest moments, as they made only one

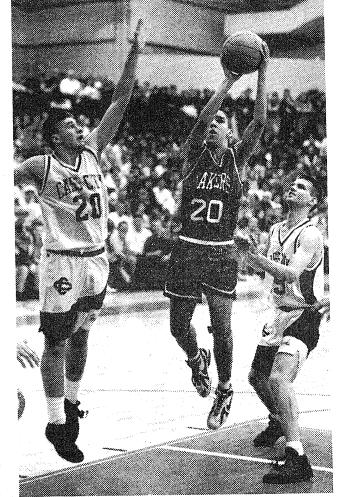

Smith and Seth Maust made both ends of one-and-one foul shots, while Krebs put up two rebound shots. Smith added two more free throws at the end to finish out the game.

"The key to the overtime was we got off to a good start early and made some key free throws at the start of it and got the lead and kept the lead," Laker Coach Bill Mc-Lellan said.

Losing Krebs early in the game was a concern, he said, but not the only one. "You never like to lose one of your starters but we've had kids that have been coming off the bench and doing well, McLellan said.

"What worried me is the big run they had early. They're the kind of team that gets

As time ran out, the Hawks battled to keep their edge, and Jantzi's three-pointer at the buzzer wasn't enough to overcome the Hawks.

"We dug a pretty good hole and we were taking some wild shots and not shooting well the whole ball game," McLel-

"We scrapped and scrambled and got back in it later, but the biggest problem was every time we'd make a real legitimaterun, we'd maketwo or three mistakes in a row. We never got over the hump." Poison-Proof Your Home & Farm During...

NATIONAL POISON PREVENTION WEEK

This year alone an estimated 135,000 children under the age of five will become victims of accidental ingestion of harmful medications and household products.

But fortunately, there are many things you can do to help keep your "young explorer" from making a tragic discovery.

Isn't it worth taking the time to check for and correct these potentially risky situations around your home?

- 1. Keep household products and medicines out of sight and out of reach from curious hands. Alocked cabinet or closet is your safest option.
- 2. Remember, children act fast. Never leave a cleaning product or medication in sight, even to answer the doorbell or phone.
- 3. NEVER refer to medicine as "candy" It's easy to see how this deceptive ploy could lead to disaster.
- 4. Store cleaning products and medicines in a separate place, away from food. Keep all products in their original containers.

The family of Victor F. Gremel wish to thank family and friends for their thoughtfulness with plants, flowwith caring notes, telephone calls of support from across the country and monetary help for myself.

Special thanks to Pastor Hagenow for his prayers and comfort, to Brad Haist for his comforting words during the service and introducing the pallbearers who were all special friends in Vic's life. Warren, Sandy and Owen for their help and kindness. A special thank-you to Shirley and Arliss Kraft and Madeline Irion for their support throughout the difficult time. many friends of our children were there to show support, the Ladies Aid women who served a wonderful luncheon were also caring friends.

Now I know why Vic never left his town. He loved and lived to help care for Sebewaing. I had him 45 years as a husband, companion and my best friend. I thank all who have helped and continue to. We bless you all. Nancy, Gail, Terry and Wanda Lou.
