85 TNU arrests recorded in '93

By MARY DRIER

The Informa Narcotics Unit had a busy 1993 according to reports during the recent annual meeting at the Tuscola County Courthouse Annex.

The TNU handled 123 complaints which resulted in 85 arrests with 222 drug trafficking charges filed last year, said Detective Lieut. Gordon Good, TNU commander.

In Huron County, eight persons were arrested with eight counts filed. Tuscola recorded 22 arrests with 48 counts filed. LaPeer counted 27 arrests with 49 counts filed, and Sanilac had two arrests with two counts filed.

Tudor, there were 26 persons with 134 charges pending.

"The arrests were about the same (as 1992), but the size of the dealers and the amount of drugs being dealt was much higher," said Good.

"Drug seizures were up this year by almost $5 million. We had a real successful year in seizing some large scale drugs," he said.

In 1992, 127 complaints were reviewed, with 38 arrests and 109 drug trafficking charges filed.

In 1993, total value of controlled substances seized/ destroyed was $8.8 million, compared with 1992's $8.2 million.

Good credits the Multi-County Citizen's Grand Jury in helping curb drug trafficking.

"A lot of it was through the Grand Jury investigation and some through development of operation HIMP (Help EliminateMarijuana Plants)," Good said.

The jury was set on 60-day terms in June 1993 which expired in December 1993. A second 60-day extension was renewed earlier this year.

The first grand jury took testimony from about 180 witnesses and handed down indictments for 84 people, with eight persons arrested for Tuscola County residents.

TNU is a multi-jurisdictional cooperation of sheriff's departments, Michigan State Police, township and village police in the Thumb working together to stop drug trafficking.

It covers a population of about 203,500 in Huron, Tuscola, LaPeer and Sanilac Counties, and has been in operation for about five years.

Award presentations were also made during the meeting. Tuscola County Sheriff Thomas Kerr, Huron County's Fair Haven Township Chief Kurt Kelly and LaPeer City's Detective Sergeant Thomas Smith were presented with Officer of the Year awards.

An exciting new business is open in Sebewaing.

Casey's open the end of May, with a drive-thru service, 4 N. Central Ave.

Although the new store's offerings and services are not yet finalized, Casey's president, John Casey Jr., said the franchise will be ready to open in late May.

They have been busy setting up their new store and ensuring that everything is in place for the opening.

Casey's is a well-known chain that offers a wide variety of food and beverages. With the addition of this new location, the Sebewaing community will have even more options for quick and convenient meals.

The new store will feature the same menu as other Casey's locations, with items such as sandwiches, salads, and drinks. Customers can expect the same high-quality service and fresh ingredients that Casey's is known for.

The grand opening of Casey's will be a great opportunity for the Sebewaing community to support a local business and enjoy the convenience of having a Casey's store nearby.

This story was often repeated by the Swede in Towner, and it became a favorite among the town's residents.

While many small family farms across the United States are struggling to stay afloat, one farm in particular, "family farm" is making a name for itself as a leader in sustainable and certified organic farming in the unique "orchard."

Shupe and a delegation of other organic fruit and vegetable growers from around the world will be attending the 2015 Organic Trade Association (OTA) Organic Trade Show in Chicago in June.

While the show will be the focal point of their trip, Shupe is also looking to explore the "orchard" side of farming and learn from other growers.

The trip to OTA is made possible through the support of the Organic Trade Association, which has provided over $11 million in support to organic farmers since 1996.

CAN TUOSCOLI'S 8-2 SIDED BERN BE SAVED?

By MARY DIER

Recent efforts are underway to save the orphan Bern with a special 7 p.m. meeting on Tuesday April 30 at the Tuscola County Museum.

This group of people is interested in saving the Bern, but they do not want to do it alone. The Bern needs to be saved, and they are willing to work with whoever will help.

The Bern is an endangered breed, and it is estimated that there are only about 150 Berns left in the world. They are known for their intelligence, their loyalty, and their ability to adapt to different environments.

The group plans to form a committee to work on saving the Bern. They are open to anyone who is interested in helping.

A proposal to create a regional dispatch center in the Township with strong opposition from county officials during an emergency meeting last Wednesday at the County Emergency Management Building in Holly. The proposal would transfer the responsibilities of the present county's Emergency Dispatch System to a new regional center, which would be staffed by the county's existing dispatchers.

The new center would be housed in the former county's Emergency Dispatch Center, located at 325 W. Main St. The center would be staffed by a team of trained dispatchers who would be able to handle a variety of emergencies, including medical emergencies, fires, and police incidents.

The county's current dispatch system is housed in a small building and is staffed by a limited number of dispatchers. The proposal to create a regional center would allow for a more efficient and effective response to emergencies.

The county's Emergency Management Director, Mark Diederich, said the proposal would help to improve response times and reduce costs. He also said that the new center would be able to handle a larger number of calls simultaneously.

The proposal to create a regional dispatch center was met with opposition from county officials, who argued that it would be too expensive and that the county should continue to manage its own dispatch system.

The proposal will be discussed further at the next meeting of the county's Emergency Management Board, which is scheduled for next month.
