Flooding common in Thumb

By MARY DRIER

Rain, rain go away — and we aren’t too sure if we want you back another day soon. While the weather looks clear now, last week’s storms created a lot of damage in the Thumb Area.

One Unionville farmer said his farm received over 13 inches of rain since June 24 — and swears there are carp swimming in his beet field.

The Wiscocin Drain on Cass City Road between M-138 and Sheridan Road wasn’t draining fast enough on Friday, so the water had to go somewhere else — and that was into the field.

In other storm news, Unionville Firemen responded to a fire about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday at the William Laura residence on Dickerson Road. During last week’s storms, the home was struck by lightning.

Laura’s quick action kept the damage contained to the attic area and had the fire out before the fire department arrived, officials said.

The lightning strike melted some wires and caused some minor damage, said Unionville Fire Chief Ray Strinter. Also, M-46 is closed because a culvert under the roadway washed out. County officials expected to have the road open in about a week.

Elsewhere in the Upper Thumb, up to five inches of rain was measured last week near Caseville. Several farmers noted one more rain would have caused serious flooding damage, but that most crops are still salvageable.

“We didn’t need this much rain, but good thing I can minimize the damage,” one said.

NOW THAT’S “AIR CONDITIONING” IN THE SUMMER! This old barn located near Bay Port offers plenty of chances for fresh breezes and uninterrupted bird flighting.

4 more Band Shell concerts...

Four big concert dates remain in the 1994 Summer Schedule of the Pigeon Band Shell/Entertainment Committee.

"Endless Summer," a 1950’s/600’s “feel-good” rock ‘n’ roll band, will hit the stage this Thursday, July 14 at 7 p.m. and is expected to draw a large audience.

Country music singer Jeanie C. Riley, whose 1970 hit "Harper Valley P.T.A." flew off the charts, will make a special Pigeon appearance in just a few days — Tuesday, July 19 at 7 p.m.

Concert-goers are invited to come early and bring comfortable seating, and enjoy reminiscing with Riley, as well as her new country and gospel repertoire.

The Tomsley Dorsey Orchestra will make a return visit to the Pigeon stage on Wednesday, Aug. 17, hoping to exceed the excitement felt when almost 1,500 Big Band fans filled the Band Shell audience during the summer of 1992.

The final concert of the 1994 season will be an appearance by the New Reformation Dixieland Band with Dave Oppermann — immediately after Pigeon’s popular Corn Roast — on Sunday, Aug. 28 at 6 p.m.

Attendance at the opening three concerts this summer has been sparse, with the Band Shell Committee hoping that residents and visitors will make an extra effort to put the July 14, July 19, Aug. 17 and Aug. 28 concerts on their “must-do” calendars.

"People expressed excitement about the variety of entertainment planned for this summer, but the audiences just haven’t been there yet,” say representatives of the Band Shell Committee.

“We’d like to bring in big name entertainment with recognizable names, but first we have to have some interest from the community before we can leap into expensive big-name entertainment,” said a representative of the committee.

“Our entertainment budget for this year is over $15,000 and unless we have much larger audiences for the next four concerts, the money won’t be there to pay for this year’s events, let alone what ideas might be from the community for next year.”

Thoughts of Winter: Recent hot temperatures throughout the Western Thumb are reason to recall how the end of the Caseville Brookwall looked on March 29, as this photo shows. Saginaw Bay ice and water exerted tremendous power to bend the side rails.

Local water watchers say they don’t recall this ever happening before — but don’t expect it again in the next few weeks...

No action on PMC zoning

Pigeon’s Planning & Zoning Commission made no recommendation to Pigeon Village Council, on a request to rezone the property at the corner of Hartley and John Streets to industrial, at a public hearing Thursday night.

Owner Robert Spencer had sought the rezoning, to sell the parcel to Pigeon Manufacturing Corp., which wants to build a $500,000 die storage yard there.

PMC General Manager Thomas Smith told about 40 people attending the hearing his company would add 80 new jobs in addition to nine recently hired, if the request is granted. Large amounts of work, mostly from General Motors, require greatly expanded die stores, to replace the hazardous die piles now located east of the plant.

Neighbors and some Planning Commission members didn’t believe Smith’s proposal to build a eight-foot grass berm and fence, to hide up to 1,500 tons, which would be stored one-high.

Now, many dies are stored two- or three-high.

Pigeon Village Council was to consider the rezoning request Monday night, with no Planning Commission recommendation, after planners tried 3-2 on a motion to disapprove the request. “The town got to help me,” Smith told planners.

Sebewaing street work starts

Street improvement profits will soon begin in Sebewaing, as Village residents will see $30,000 worth of upgrades.

Midland Contracting Co. of Bay City will asphalt Union Street from Center Street west to the railroad tracks and widen the road’s shoulders about three feet, for $10,000.

The project was tabled in June by Village Council members and a bid for only one bid was received. Midland Contracting was awarded the three bids received after the June meeting. Street sealing/cracking work went to J&M Enterprises of Kalkaska for a bid of $17,623. Soil compacting will be done to portions of the following streets: West, Pin, S. Miller, N. Miller, Main, and First Street.

In other developments, Sebewaing Village Hall will soon have central air-conditioning. Approval was given to have Kndrager & Knol of Sebewaing install central air-conditioning for $5,147.

Although the other bid from Kothe Plumbing & Heating was about $1,600 lower, it wasn’t the type of cooling system Council felt was needed to efficiently handle the office.

“They were two different types of systems. The one from Koehn & Koehn had duct work and the one from Kothe was a wall-mounted unit without duct work,” said Deputy Clerk Lorraine Fangue.

“The way our office is set up, we need duct work to get air up to the front part of the office.”

In other action, Sebewaing Village Council: ■ scheduled a public hearing 8 p.m. Monday, August 15, for the proposed closing of a portion of Davis Street for harbor construction.

■ approved seeking bids for the sewer extension for Terry McKeller, after Huron County Board of Public Works okayed it.

■ sold the 1991 police car to Larry Heider for his lone bid of $1,000.

Anyhydrous leak in Pigeon

Pigeon Police Officer Allan Glaza directed traffic around an anyhydrous ammonia release about 10:30 a.m. last Wednesday, as Caseville Road was closed temporarily. The road mile north of Pigeon was closed for four hours while area emergency agencies responded to the scene.

“My understanding is that a hydraulic failure on a tractor and didn’t shut off the valve on an anhydrous applicator,” said Mel Kuhl, director of safety for the Cooperative Elevator

Rescue highlights Sebewaing Walleye journey

By WALT RUMMEL

Flies was watching a heavy autumn drizzle as he sat in the cockpit of his small plane and then climbed over Sebewaing last Wednesday. He was on his way to the Great Lakes for a fishing trip, and he had a problem. His plane’s engine wouldn’t start, and he was stuck in the air. That’s when Taylor rescued him.

Taylor, a 28-year-old, third-generation T.J. Taylor, owns and operates Taylor’s Bait & Tackle in Sebewaing. He had been flying for most of his life, and he was taking Flies to a nearby airport. But he had a problem. His plane’s engine wouldn’t start, and he was stuck in the air. That’s when Taylor rescued him.

Taylor’s Bait & Tackle is a popular fishing spot in Sebewaing, and he has been helping people with their problems for years. He’s known for his friendly demeanor and his ability to make people feel welcome. Taylor’s Bait & Tackle is located on Main Street, just a short walk from the lake. It’s open year-round, and they offer a wide variety of fishing supplies and tackle.

Cross School ‘ties up this fund-raiser!’

By SALLY RUMMEL

It’s that time of year when Art Waterfield of P-J goes to get his tax refund. That’s because he’s been looking forward to buying a fishing trip for the past year. He’s been saving up his money and has finally accumulated enough to take a trip. He’s going to go fishing.

But it’s likely to be a special trip from somebody. Work is the organizer of the annual Walleye Club fund-raiser and is hoping to raise money to support the Walleye Club. The club is a group of fishermen and women who enjoy fishing the Great Lakes. The club is located in Sebewaing and is affiliated with the Cross Lutheran Church.

There are a number of ways to participate in the Walleye Club fund-raiser. One way is to purchase a fishing trip for yourself or someone else. Trips are available for different locations, including Lake Michigan and Lake Superior. You can also purchase a fishing license or a fishing membership. There are a number of different membership levels available, including individual, family, and business memberships.

The Walleye Club fund-raiser is held annually and is a popular event among fishermen and women. It’s a great way to support the Walleye Club and to have a fun day on the water. So plan on attending the Walleye Club fund-raiser and help support the club.

St. Paul plans outdoor service

St. Paul Lutheran Church of Sebewaing invites a group to attend special services. The church is located at 138 W. Main Street, Sebewaing. The service is scheduled for 10 a.m. on Sunday, July 30.

The service will feature a special guest speaker and a theme of “A New Beginning.” The church will provide coffee and donuts following the service. The public is invited to attend.

The church also has a youth group that meets every Sunday evening from 6 to 8 p.m. The group is open to anyone who wants to participate. For more information, contact the church at 989-737-2651.

A complete list of dates, times, and locations for the fund-raiser can be found on the church’s website, www.crosslutheran.org.
Let's have another 'party' soon, USA...

There were a lot of smiling faces Sunday afternoon, at the first USA Athletic Foundation Millennium 4u-10K run in the Upper Reservoir. Thousands of people turned out for the event, including former Mayor of San Francisco Barbara Lee and several other well-known personalities.

Just like the previous year, the race was well-organized and run smoothly, with clear signage and marked paths. The route was challenging but enjoyable, with beautiful views of the city and surrounding areas.

The event was supported by several sponsors, and the proceeds will go towards helping children in need. Overall, it was a great day for everyone involved, and we are looking forward to next year's race.

Octopus found in Caseville... HONEST!!

By MARY OYEN

Tail failuring tales abound in the Thumb. The most recent story is that an octopus was found dead on shore near Caseville over the last weekend. An investigation is underway to determine if the octopus was killed by humans or natural causes.

No matter what the circumstances, an octopus WAS found in the Thumb, and we are here to confirm it! Let’s keep our eyes open for similar reports in the future.

New Salem VBS coming

The New Salem Lutheran Church will be hosting a Vacation Bible School for children from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Monday, June 14. The theme for the week is "Journeying to Jerusalem," and all children in kindergarten through fifth grade are welcome to attend.

On February 2, the church will publish the first book of the "Journeying to Jerusalem" series, "The Journey Begins," which will be available for purchase at the VBS. The book includes stories, activities, and crafts related to the Bible.

"Nonsense II" at PACP on weekends

Getting to be a "silly" tale. Three Little Sisters of Ho- nolulu sent back some contact tickets to the band, which already owns the tickets. The band is planning to use the tickets for their upcoming tour.

Port Austin Community Theater presents "Nonsense II" every Friday and Saturday night through July 14.

The show opens on the first Friday and Saturday night from 8 p.m., and is followed by dinner at Tacos At No 1. Refreshments will be served at the bar. Tickets are $20 per person and can be purchased at the door or online.

Lake-Chautauqua News notes

Cap'n Jack Southcoast Returns to the stage at the PACP on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of each weekend. Cap'n Jack and his band are known for their playful and eccentric performances.

Southcoast is known for its lively and energetic shows, featuring a mix of original and classic tunes. The band is based in Port Austin, Michigan, and has been entertaining audiences for over a decade.

In the name of the people, the community of Michigan has entered into a new alliance with the Port Austin Community Theater. This new partnership will bring a variety of entertainment options to the area, including live music, theatrical productions, and other cultural events.

The new arrangement is expected to benefit both parties, as the community of Michigan gains access to high-quality entertainment options, and the Port Austin Community Theater benefits from increased exposure and support from the community.

The Name To Remember

In my view, the commission should reflect the beliefs and opinions of the constituents it represents. I feel we have to improve communication between governmental units and constituents in District 1.

We also have to support our towns and chambers of commerce to create a climate conducive to tourism. This includes improving our parks and recreation facilities to attract tourists, and also means supporting and maintaining our roads and drainage systems throughout the county.

Without a strong tourism industry, our towns and regions will struggle to attract visitors, and this will have a negative impact on the local economy. It is essential that we work together to ensure the future of our area, and in order to keep our young people, our district's highest ex- pectation, here at home working in well-paying, dependable jobs.
Kids learn from MSU hoop star at Bay Shore

By PENNY HARRISON

The Big Ten made a surprise house call to the West End last week, when MSU guard Shavonte Zellous was named as an alternate in the Blue-Gold women's basketball tournament at the Big Ten basketball tournament. She was the second player to be named to the team, joining Kiah Gillespie, who will be a freshman next season.

Zellous, a junior guard from Bay Shore, was selected to play for the team because she is the only player on the roster from Long Island. She is also the only player from Long Island to be named to the team in the past five years.

"It's a dream come true," Zellous said. "I've been waiting for this opportunity for a long time. I've been working hard to make the most of this opportunity."
Summer fishing

The other day, while mowing through a group of brush, I noticed a fish in the water. It was a small one, about the size of a finger. I decided to try my luck and caught it.

My clothes were simple: a t-shirt, jeans, and tennis shoes, but the fish was a colorful one, with red and blue stripes. I couldn't believe my luck. I took a picture of it and posted it on my social media. Since then, I've been getting a lot of attention from people who want to catch the same fish.

Time flies by, and before I knew it, it was time to leave. As I was packing up, I noticed a group of fish in the water. I decided to try again and caught a bigger one. I took a picture of it and posted it on my social media. Since then, I've been getting a lot of attention from people who want to catch the same fish.

My fishing equipment was always well-made and ready for the next catch. I usually ran out of new Necklace net, and I'd go back to the store for another. I used to try different ways of catching fish, mostly by using a fishing pole and a fish net. I got used to the feel of the fish's body when I caught them.

Now, I'm retired and have more time to fish. I prefer to fish in the early hours of the morning, when the water is still and the fish are more active. I enjoy the challenge of catching fish and the sense of accomplishment when I do.

My fishing buddy, Louie, and I have been fishing together for over 20 years. He used to catch all the fish, but now I'm catching them all. I think I'm getting better at fishing, and I'm hoping to catch a record-breaking fish someday.

Thanks for reading. If you have any questions or comments, feel free to reach out. I'd love to hear from you.
