By WILLIAM DILLER

If you ask most men what their favorite sport is, you're likely to get responses such as football, basketball, hockey or baseball.

But for Dan Duffy of Caseville, the answer is a sport that's faster and noisier than most traditional sports.

Duffy follows stock car racing—NASCAR racing in the specific. NASCAR stands for the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing.

"NASCAR is really growing in popularity," Duffy says. "It's the fastest-growing sport in the world. There are some of the tracks being sold out anywhere from two months to a year in advance."

"Almost every track on the NASCAR circuit has been a complete sellout for the last few years."

Duffy attended his first NASCAR race in 1974 at Michigan International Speedway (MIS), in southeastern Michigan near Brooklym. The 39-year-old has been hooked on NASCAR racing since that first trip, and has been to MIS a dozen times in the last 20 years.

His children, Dan Jr., 18 and Jody, 16, share his interest in racing, to varying degrees. And his wife Roxanne enjoys NASCAR racing almost as much as he does. She comes from a racing family; her father was a professional race driver for several years and knew a number of drivers on the circuit.

Earlier this year Dan and Roxanne traveled to Florida for the Daytona 500. They didn't have tickets ahead of time. They didn't need them. Her father lives in Daytona Beach and still has connections on the race circuit. He could have gotten tickets on race day but it was too late. They settled for a nice long visit.

Duffy's interest in NASCAR racing doesn't end at the track, because he takes it home with him. He has a collection of NASCAR memorabilia that fills an entire room.

His collection started when his father-in-law sent him a couple of model cars. From that point the collection of NASCAR-related memorabilia has grown immensely. The highlight of Duffy's collection are his 1:64 scale NASCAR race cars. He has 227 of them! He also has 14 haulers, (scale models of the trucks the race teams use to haul their cars and equipment.) These are all in 1:64 scale. He has additional cars in 1:43 and 1:24 scale.

"When I started, I was only going to collect Bill Elliott, and Roxanne liked Richard Petty. But then I started going to stores and different shows, and that developed into this," Duffy says, indicating the collection covering all four walls of the room. In the past he purchased quite a few cars in discount stores. But now he limits his purchases to memorabilia from collectors/dealers, through magazines from as far away as Florida and North Carolina.

Duffy's collection includes entire sets of racing cars, trading cards like baseball or football cards. His collection of cars started, you guessed it, when his father-in-law sent some cards to Duffy's son.

He saved those first cards and now has more than three full albums, purchasing complete sets from as far back as 1988.

The collection includes 250 pencil sharpeners, cereal boxes, a set of comic books, over 225 postcards, watches, calendars, beer cans and pop bottles, as well as newspaper and newspaper clippings dating back to 1979, all with racing themes.

Duffy doesn't have a written record of his collection, it's all in his head.

"If someone would ever come in here and move something, I'd know it right away," he says. "I can walk into any collectors place, or any store and never be a duplicate." He enjoys walking into his "nice room" and reveling in his accumulation of NASCAR collectibles.

When other people are watching basketball or football, Duffy is likely to be absorbed in a NASCAR race.

You can bet it won't be a duplicate of something he already has.

BRIAN BEACH

JENNIFER SMITH

Lakers High Honor Student 2015

Brian Beach and Jennifer Smith have both been selected as the top student-athletes for the Caseville High School. They have been selected based on their academic achievements and their performance in sports.

Brian Beach, a senior, has been an outstanding student and athlete. He has been a leader on and off the field, and has been a role model for his peers.

Jennifer Smith, a senior, has been equally impressive. She has excelled in her studies and in her athletic endeavors.

Both students are being honored for their achievements and are expected to attend a special ceremony to celebrate their accomplishments.

Michigan "by the numbers"

PIKE POTWATER: In the early 1900s, Maine's 4-H Club was begun. Later, the Agriculture Department was formed, and the Maine Extension Service was established. Today, the 4-H Club is one of the most successful programs in the state, with over 20,000 participants. The program is run by the University of Maine, and is funded by the state and federal governments.

Fisher quits as Elkin Ambulance Coordinator

Fisher Barlow, who had been the Ambulance Coordinator for the Elkin Volunteer Fire Department, has resigned his position. He was appointed to the position in 2013, and had served for over two years. Fisher Barlow is currently working for the Elkin Volunteer Fire Department, and has been involved in the community for many years.

Barlow's resignation comes after a series of issues with the Elkin Volunteer Fire Department, including financial difficulties and personnel problems. The department has been struggling to provide adequate service, and has been facing criticism from the community.

By the Numbers

Over the years, the number of participants in the 4-H Club has grown significantly. In 1920, there were only 100 participants. By 1950, the number had grown to 1,000. Today, there are over 20,000 participants in the program.

The 4-H Club is open to children ages 9 to 18, and is divided into two age groups: the Junior 4-H Club (ages 9 to 13) and the Senior 4-H Club (ages 14 to 18). Participants can choose from a variety of projects, including agriculture, homemaking, and technology.

In 2015, the 4-H Club received the Governor's Award for Excellence in Education, recognizing the program's contributions to the community.

As we see it

Thumb deserves better reputation

Once again, the big-city media spotlight has been turned on the Washington area. This time the focus is on the nation's capital, where a move to give Congress the power to review military actions is gaining momentum.

The Washington Post's editorial page last week called for such a review, arguing that it would help prevent future wars. But the idea has been met with resistance from some lawmakers who fear it could undermine presidential authority.

The issue is complicated because of the ongoing conflict in Afghanistan and the possibility of another war in Iran. Nevertheless, the Post's editorial is a step in the right direction.

Our readers write!

John Smith: I live in Sebewaing and I believe the historic building deserves to be saved.

Mary Jones: I agree with John. It's a beautiful structure and we should do everything we can to preserve it.

John Smith: I've heard that the building has been scheduled for demolition.

Mary Jones: That's not true. It's a misunderstanding. The building is actually being restored.

John Smith: I'm happy to hear that. It's great to see our community coming together to save something special.

Mary Jones: Yes, it's wonderful. The Sebewaing Historical Society is leading the effort.

John Smith: How can I get involved?

Mary Jones: You can start by volunteering at the society's annual fundraiser.

John Smith: That sounds like a good place to start.

Coast Guard won’t place river buoy this year

by Claude Guenther

The Coast Guard may have its first mission in the waters of the Great Lakes, but it is the U.S. Coast Guard District 9.3 that will have the final say. The mission involves the deployment of a buoy on Lake Michigan in the area of the Mouth of the Chicago River.

The mission is set for Thursday, May 5, at 5:30 p.m. The mission will involve the deployment of a buoy in the area of the Mouth of the Chicago River.

The Coast Guard said they would not publish the mission until the river was deemed navigable.

Antiques By-The-Bridge opens in Sebewaing

By DUANE GEINTHER

Duluth News-Tribune from the 19th to 20th century. It is a family operation, and what you’re having is best.

The story of one of Victorian officials is the subject of the book "Victorian Antiques," which is available at Pigeon Library.

Although it is the official site of the Sebewaing Antiques Show, the store offers a wide variety of antiques and collectibles.

The store offers both collectible items and "one-of-a-kind" pieces of furniture, such as a headboard, table, dresser, and mirror. The pieces are hand-crafted and are made to order.

The store is open Wednesday through Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and is located in downtown Sebewaing.

Celebrating 50 Scheurer Hospital years

Since its establishment in 1945, Scheurer Hospital has served the community with dedication and compassion. Over the years, it has grown and evolved, adapting to the needs of the community. The hospital has been a beacon of health and healing, providing care to generations of families. Today, it continues to lead the way in healthcare, offering a wide range of services and maintaining a commitment to excellence.

Many current hospital and medical staff members were also employees of Old Mission Peninsula Community Hospital, which merged with Scheurer Hospital in 2013. This union has strengthened the hospital's ability to serve the community, offering more resources and services than ever before.

Laker High Counselor's Corner

By Sue Frederikman

As March draws to a close we are busy working on the new schedule for our students and parents. The counseling staff will be going door to door with the new schedule so that they can make an appointment to view the new schedule. Many classes are required for students to take before graduation. The choice of electives will be yours. Juniors and seniors have the additional choice of attending the Honor Academy. This year the Academy will be held before school starts.

One student wrote about something familiar and interesting to each student. This year the Academy will be held before school starts.

The students will be working on an assignment that "counted for something". Mrs. Elder's idea was to make "Attract the semester team. Have the students write a letter to the principal about the things that make this their favorite school subject.

Elementary COUNSELOR'S CORNER

By Dave Wojicki

The 4th and 5th grade students have recently completed an activity called, "What is A Friend." It involved 4-5 steps depending on individual classrooms.

Step 1 was a class brainstorming session on characteristics we look for in friends. Characteristics varied from class to class, but most were at least 20 good qualities. Some were discussed in more detail on why they are important.

Step 2 was to discuss how students' thoughts were in relation to their expectations for friends. Rather than a student believing a friend should be friendly, this part of the activity required them to ask themselves, am I friendly? Most students were able to identify at least one quality they could work on. The saying "do unto others as you would have done unto you" was certainly given meaning through this activity.

The final step asked students to complete the following statements:

1. I believe my best quality as a friend is that I'm... ( fill in answer )
2. One quality I can improve on is... ( fill in answer )
3. I can do this by...

In asking the students to complete the statements, it forced them to take a good look at themselves. It brought closure to the activity. Included are some examples of what students came up with for the statements. Also I am including the top 8 qualities from the 3 elementary. Along with the 4th and 5th graders, maybe we all can learn a little from this activity and become a better friend by working on one of these qualities.

Top 8 qualities listed in rank order:

1. Honesty
2. Keeping secrets
3. Drug-free
4. Loyal
5. Friendly
6. Good sportsmanship
7. Nervous
8. Pettiness

K-GARTEN ROUND-UP

Kindergarten Round-Up for Elton-Pigeon-Bay Port students will be held on Thursday, March 23. Parents need to bring their children to Lake High School at 7 p.m. in order to complete their registration. Parents will also need to bring their child's birth certificate, immunization record and Social Security card.

MARCH STUDENTS OF THE MONTH

The following students were chosen as March "students of the month" by their classroom teachers:

Developmental Kindergarten:
- Ashley Noonad
- Kindergarten: Ricky Davis and Eric Wahler
- 1st Grade: Brian Edg and Jennifer Thiel
- 2nd Grade: John Williams and Brad Hare
- 3rd Grade: Ryan Anderson and Marco Bing
- 4th Grade: Jacob and Casey Woodruff
- 5th Grade: Kristin Dube, Becky Diebel and Riley Guden

ANIMALS GALORE

Pigeon and Bay Port students were recently visited by a group of rather unusual creatures. Mr. Gildge spent time at both buildings on March 3. In his presentation, there was discussion about the different habitats and environments animals live in, what is causing some animals to become endangered or even extinct, and information about the animals he brought, which included an African Grey Parrot, a New Caledonian, an alligator, two tortoises, a skink, two ferns, an iguana and a boa constrictor.

PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCES

Spring Parent-Teacher conferences have been set for Thursday and Friday, March 30 and 31. Teachers will meet with parents on Thursday from 1 to 4 and 6 to 9 p.m. and on Friday from 1 to 4 p.m. For kindergarten students, Thursday, March 28 from 6 to 9 p.m. and Wednesday, March 29 from 1 to 4 p.m. have also been added.

If you have not yet scheduled an appointment, call your child's school office to make an appointment. Students will be served lunch and then dismissed at 12:15 p.m. from the elementary buildings. Some suggestions to make this a positive and productive conference:

1. Have any questions prepared beforehand;
2. Ask for a clear explanation of any terms or expectations you do not understand;
3. Share any information about your child that might help the teacher;
4. Seek information about your child's social, emotional and physical progress, as well as academic.

BICYCLE SAFETY

Are your children prepared to ride bicycles on the street? Do they know the rules of the road? Are they safe riders? You must be sure to teach your children bicycle safety.

MEGASKILLS TIME

It's not too late! There are still two more sessions of the Megaskills Workshop Series that will be offered in April. The topics discussed on April 4 at Elton Elementary, will be "Caring and Teamwork." On April 25th at Bay Port Elementary, "Common Sense and Problem-Solving" will be covered.

All meetings are held from 7 to 8 p.m. Babysitting is provided for ages three to 15. These Megaskills play a strong role in determining success in school and beyond. They can be taught by parents. They are the values that support our work ethic, our national character and our personal behavior.
