Elkton offers residents a way to get rid of yard waste

Now that Michigan law prohibits yard waste from being dumped in landfills, many homeowners don't know what they'll do with the bags of leaves, grass clippings and small limbs they gather through the year.

Many villages ban burning, so that option is out, and when the trash hauler shows up in the morning, he'll leave those bags where he found them.

Now Elkton village leaders have come up with a way to help residents get rid of that yard waste, by contracting with Waste Management-Michigan Mideast, the village's current trash hauler, to pick up properly-bagged and bundled yard waste.

Beginning Wednesday, Aug. 23, Elkton residents can bag their grass clippings and this fall, their raked-up leaves, and small limbs and drivers from Waste Management will pick them up.

But they'll only be picked up if they're packaged correctly, according to a letter being sent to Elkton households.

All yard waste must be collected in large cans or carts that have a large "X" marked on it by masking tape, duct tape or paint.

And that "X" must be a foot high so it can be clearly seen. Large plastic trash bags, grocery bags or cardboard boxes can't be used, only the large brown paper compost bags available at large retail stores, lawn and garden stores and hardware stores.

they must be tied together in a bundle.

And there's a limit of 10 units—bags, bundles or cans—that a household can leave for pickup in a week.

Waste Management will deliver a 90-gallon cart to any resident who pays a separate $16 per year fee.

For details, contact the Elkton Village Hall at 375-2270.

Wooden Wonders opens in Sebawaing

By DUANE GUENTHER

Craft shoppers in the Sebawaing Area are going to have an easier time when looking for that special gift. Ann and Mo Eisengruber are seeing to that.

On Monday, their new craft shop called "Wooden Wonders" at 614 1/2 Unionville Road opened its doors to the shopping public.

The local sisters-in-law have operated a "cottage industry" craft shop for the last five years out of their homes.

Now, in the new store next to Subway sandwich shop, the women have loaded every available space with what they call the cutest and cleverest crafts to be found anywhere.

While the women will continue to market their crafts in the usual manner, the secret to their vast array of merchandise come from a consignment agreement with 12 popular crafters from the Thumb Area.

The craft shop will be open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturdays.

"We offer seasonal items displayed year around," adds Ann.

Display is hardly the word, as visitors to the new store will be amazed at the numbers of craft items available for their inspection.

Sebawaing Town Hall meeting is Wednesday

Fulfilling his campaign pledge for an open and public-spirited administration, Village President Dave Wineman is holding Sebawaing's first "Town Hall Meeting in the Park" ever, at 7 p.m., this Wednesday, Aug. 16.

The meeting will be in the pavilion in Sebawaing Village Park, and President Wineman invites all residents to attend — to get answers to questions, make comments or to offer suggestions.

Oeschger to attend, which would give the meeting a county-township-village aspect and broader information on what all local government is doing.

Officially, it's Sand Point, Mich!

It's official. Sand Point, MI has been officially recognized as a delivery address, meaning that any mail addressed to Sand Point, MI 48755 will be delivered without interruption as of last Thursday, Aug. 10.

The president says the village offers various services of which many residents aren't even aware. "For instance, the village picks up grass clippings from residents over 65, as a village service, and many do not know this," Wineman says.

Wineman says Huron County Commissioner Richard Haag has been invited, and he is contacting Township Supervisor Willet

Ok for sugar contract

Members of four locals of United Federation of Grain Millers, AFL/CIO, voted last Tuesday to ratify the contract reached by their negotiators and Michigan Sugar Company.

Glenn Peacock, Sugar Company director of communications, said the contract will run from July 31, 1995, to July 31, 1998. Signing is to take place this week.

Peacock said the vote was narrower than for the previous contract.

Elkton names Jaworski as Village President

James Jaworski was appointed by the Elkton Village Council as the village's new president, to fill the term of Barb Thompson who died last month.

Jaworski will serve until March of next year, when the general election is held. He has served on the village council since 1990, and most recently was president pro-tem.

At the same meeting, Marty Baker was named as the new president pro-tem. And village leaders are searching for a candidate to fill Jaworski's seat on the council until next year. Interested village residents can contact the Village Clerk before the end of August, so that an appointment can be made at the September meeting, Clerk Janet Santos said.

Council also agreed to a new yard waste contract with Waste Management-Michigan Mideast, the village's current refuse hauler. Waste Management will pick up yard waste, including leaves, grass and small limbs, and dispose of them. The cost will be $1 per month per household until December, and the village is picking up the tab for the program. Next spring, council will review the program.

The program is scheduled for an Aug. 23 startup. A committee headed by Dave Fisher was set up to designate a suitable memorial for Thompson, who served as Village President since 1990. About $400 in memorial contributions has been received, Santos said. Also serving on the committee is Marty Baker and Frank Kolar.

In other business, Elkton Council:

- Adopted a blood-borne pathogens policy for the Elkton Ambulance Service.
- Agreed to send DPW employee Bernie Champagne to a wastewater stabilization lagoon course in Lansing Sept 13-15 at a cost of $135.

The Newsweekly Forum

As we see it Where's America's new dining room?

Back when most of our readers were youngsters — perhaps in the 1960s — dining out was a special occasion, usually reserved for Mother's Day, a special birthday or straight As on kids' report cards.

Today, 30 years later, eating out is less a celebration and more an act of survival in our non-stop world. And the trend is expanding, rather than contracting, according to a recent story in Michigan Farm Bureau's "Rural Living" magazine.

A recent survey shows 98% of all households ate out last month, 85% ate out last week and 45% ate out yesterday. As more families have two working parent or simply one parent, there's less time spent in the kitchen... and more at the restaurant table.

The year 1994 was a transitional one: Americans now spend as much money eating out as they do eating in, according to another survey. In some cities, including Lansing, more than half of food budgets are spent on non-grocery store food.

That relates back to 1970, when every $1 spent eating out was matched by $2 spent on food at home. In 1980, the family kitchen still got 61% of every food dollar — which shrank to 55% in 1990. Now, it's an even match.

What's this mean to consumers, food producers who live here in the Thumb and even restaurant owners?

First, restaurants have risen to nutritional challenges by improving quality of food offered. There's never been more baked, broiled or boiled foods available, which are better nutritionally and offer less fat.

Plus, more restaurants are offering take-it-home meals, complete with everything from side dishes to beverages, to help families cope with life today.

Most of these changes aren't necessarily healthy for nutritional needs, but they don't have to be bad choices either.

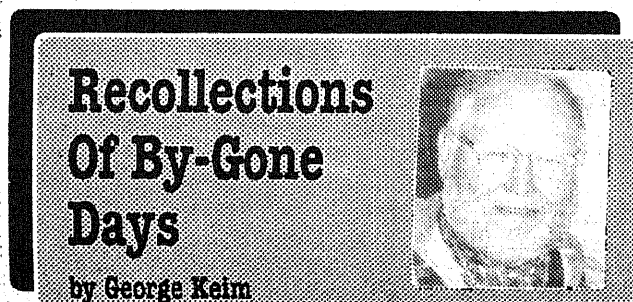

Spending family time together is even more important, and requires a greater commitment to paying attention to each other, listening to day's events and even relaxing, not screaming, while dining. If that's easier to accomplish in a restaurant than at home, maybe it's an improvement...

'Hug a farmer!'

By MRS. VIVIAN HOWELL, Fort Worth, TX
In the June 20 Newsweekly on Pg. 3A, your article "Sugar Industry May Lose in Farm Bill" stated "US farmers are the second most efficient farmers in the world..." What nation was rated first? By what authority?
In your July 11 editorial on Pg. 4, you granted fewer and fewer farmers are producing more food for us and the whole world. As long as I can remember in my 78 years, our USA has been shipping countless tons of food to all nations that are having catastrophes.

Though I was born and raised in Michigan, I've lived in many places in our country and I've had the privilege of seeing both East and West Germany, Switzerland and Austrian farms. When I returned to Unionville last month for a family reunion and class reunion, I thought I had never seen more beautiful crops.
Newsweekly writer Kate Pickering wrote in the July 25 issue, "And if you get the chance, hug a farmer!" and say thanks for all our good food.

Recollections
Of By-Gone
Days
by George Keim

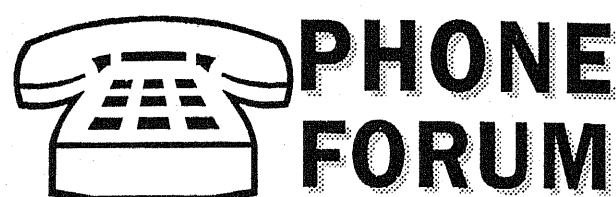

DEAR EDITOR:
Some time ago, I wrote about the trouble I had with the milk inspector. Well, I heard later that some farmer picked him up and threw him into the manure pile.
The man had just put in a new milking parlor and it had passed inspection. This little fellow found a lot of things wrong with it and the farmer couldn't take it anymore. So he did what a lot of other farmers felt like doing. I know one fellow used to invite him in for a cup of coffee and he got by with a lot of things I never could do.
Some lady called me up and told me she had trouble with the building inspector and she invited him in and gave him a lunch and got by with it. Well, I didn't see that inspector for a long time, but it's hard to forget what he did.

He'd advertise "Follow the crowd to Black's" and "Dollars had more cents at Black's." There was a lot of stuff stolen at Black's but nobody was ever arrested because the stuff that was stolen was so small. Oneman stole a Bible and old G.V. Black told him he'd forgive him even if he didn't confess to it.
Well, one Sunday morning his store caught fire and burned down. Most of the stuff burned too and he started another store in Colling. My folks drove over there and I got my first long pants at his store. Well, he burned out again and then went to Owendale and built a store there.
He passed away while he was there and Mrs. Black started a little store in Pigeon. When she died, Mrs. Gascho took over and started a good store in Pigeon.
She was there 'til she passed away and now her two daughters are residents at Country Bay Village in Pigeon.
Sincerely yours,
GEORGE KEIM

I got a letter from a woman who came from a big family that lived north of Pigeon. I knew most of the family. One of them had a thrashing machine and did a lot of thrashing in the neighborhood. They also did a lot of brick laying and cement work in and around Pigeon. She also asked if I remember G.V. Black's Store.
Well, at one time everybody knew about G.V. Black. He first had a store in Berne, then he moved to Pigeon in what was the buggy factory, which is now where Shetter Plumbing & Heating is.
It was a three-story building and Black had a lot of things to sell. He'd get to the city and buy stuff that was damaged by water or fire and he'd sell it for half of the price of new stuff. People came from all over to buy the You've heard about it, you've read about it — and this Sunday, you can see the new USA Middle School. The Open House and Dedication ceremonies are planned at 2 p.m. We've had an early tour (you'll see some of the results starting on Page 29 inside) and it's BEAUTIFUL!

I think back to the Mid-1930-era building we used at good old Sebawaing High, and I realize how important it is to have a technologically-current school today. See you there!

M. of Pigeon: Congratulations to Ben Smith. You're a great movie star!

LL. of Sand Point: Shame on the local attorney who damaged the Ann Street easement stairway. He was aware of the easement when buying his property and should know the legal rights of others to use it. Damaging this stairway was not the first time he's tried stopping residents of the Point from trying to get to the beach by way of the easement. He should be ashamed of himself and his actions.
(All the people involved in this should be able to find a solution, shouldn't they, L.L.? I would hope so!)

C. from Unionville: Why isn't the Middle School done? Who's running this? Is this the architect and builder who's deciding everything, and we have nothing to say about it? And what about the color scheme? Aren't our colors red, white and blue? I think we have to do a little more checking on what's going on, as parents and as a concerned parents for their kids. I don't understand why we can't get the school done. I feel everybody is running the school and we have too many chiefs and not enough Indians?
(You don't mean Sebawaing Indians, the old mascots, do you, C? Actually, as we say above, stop in this Sunday. You'll like what you see.)

B of Sebawaing: Sebawaing village residents, remember: Sebawaing Town Hall meeting, Wednesday, Aug. 16, 7 p.m., at the Sebawaing Village Park. Thank you.

M.D. of Unionville: This is about divorce: I think people don't try hard enough when they get married. I think many people don't work at making a marriage work, and they just think they can go out and just go out and get divorced if it doesn't work. I think a lot of people feel that way. They have to try. You shouldn't get married if you just think you can always end it by divorce. Thank you.

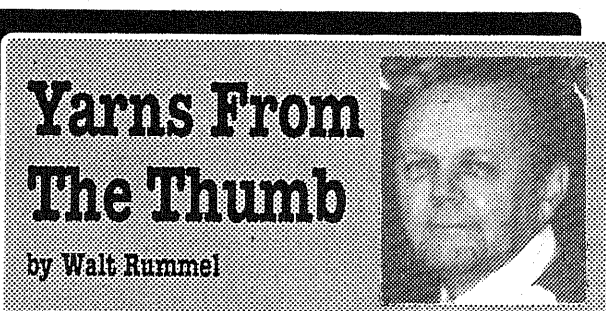

Rick from Unionville: I have a comment: it seems Pigeon and Lakers and that end of the county gets all the news coverage. We get one picture of the Unionville tournament and a few lines. Bay Port gets several pictures. That doesn't seem fair.
(Bay Port's parade offers more picture opportunities than a ball tourney, Rick, but we DID cover the fund-raiser and listed winners' names, too. We'll keep trying.)

D.B. of Sebawaing: Sebawaing Township residents, how do you feel about your Sebawaing Township Board spending over $76,000 on a new ambulance that's a size bigger than most of your ambulance crew requested? It cost almost $14,000 more than the size they wanted. Think about that when they're up for election next year.
(That's a good idea, D.B. I don't know the specifics here, but a Township Board is in office to make the best decisions it can. If a majority of the public doesn't like those decisions, it can change the Board. I'd wager they had good reasons to vote as they did.)

P. from Sebawaing: To the USA School Board: After reading my child's athletic code, I wonder why you let the athletic department discriminate against slow learners of the school? Why not do what other schools do, and go by the state eligibility rule?

Y. in Pigeon: I think the new park across from the bank in Pigeon is going to be beautiful! Thanks to Thumb National for adding it to the downtown area. It certainly is an improvement and it adds character to Pigeon. Thanks, Thumb National.

J. of Caseville: A special "Thank You" to the multitudes of volunteers who made the Bill Quinn Benefit Walk/eye dinner a huge success. So many people donated their time, labor, fish, food items and money that we could not begin to list all of them. You know who you are. Thank you so much. What a great party! Bill would have loved it.

Ehrlich und honest I

Ich hab recently ein Kaffee enjoyed mit ein local Businessman und da die Waitress die Bill brachte hat mein Freund in seine Pocket ge-reached, und sagte, "Dieser Kaffee ist mein Treat."

Mit seiner Hand brachte er some Currency und Silver heraus, ein Taschenmesser und etliche Slips Paper. Er war aber mystified von wo das Currency kam, so hat er es unfolded und auf den Tisch gelegt. Es waren 2 Zwanzig-Dollar Bills, 5 Zehn-Dollar Bills, ein Pfenner und 3 Singles. Total $90!

"Tragst du immer $98 worth of loose Bills in deine Pocket?" fragte ich.
"Ich weiss nicht wo das herkommt," sagte mein Freund. "Ich kann es nicht rememern."
Er hat alle die Slips Paper unfolded und durch ge-searched, aber fand keine Clue wo das herkam.

Ich hab ihn ge-kidded, und sagte, "Wenn due magic Hoson anahst, so das $98 jeden Tag appearen, lass mich die Hoson borrowen fuer eine Woche oder so."
About eine Woche spaeter haben wir wieder ge-meet so fragte ich mein Freund, "Hast du mehr $98 Amounts in deine Pocket discovered?"
Er hat ge-smiled und sagte, "Ich muss confessen, I hatte fuer 3 Tage keine Idea von wo das herkam. Auf einmal hab ich rememered: Ein alter Customer hat mir ge-meet bei ein Little League Game. Er war in sein Wheelchair, weil er so ge-crippled ist. Er nahm meine Hand und sagte das er kommt so seldom zu Town, und er wollte eine $98 Purchase bezahlen fuer Merchandise die wir zu ihn delivered hatten. Er hat insisted das ich das Geld nehmen sollte even though ich hatte kein Receipt und keine Bill die ich 'PAID' marken konnte."

Er sagte wir sind beide Witnesses das er ge-paid hat, so werden wir kein Problem haben.
Der Merchant hat dann den alten Customer ge-phoned, zu apologize das er noch nicht den Receipt ge-sent hat. Der alte Mann fragte, "Welches Payment?"
Der Merchant hat ge-replied, "Du hast mir $98 ge-handet beim Little League Game fuer die Order die wir dir brachten."

"Ja," sagte er, "ich weiss das du die Order delivered hast, und ich weiss wir haben ge-talked beim Little League Game, aber ich kann nicht rememern das ich dir Etwas ge-paid hab."

Der Merchant hat ihm assured das er hat gewiss $98 bezahlt, das er hat das Receipt fuer ihn, und das alles ist dandy. Er sagte, "Es macht mir ziemlich happy und confident das wir beide so ehrlich und honest sind. Das ist genuine kleines Town Living und ich bin dankbar das wir in solch ein Town wohnen."

Die Moral in die Geschichte ist, "Honesty ist immer noch die beste Policy."

More objections concerning construction at the new marina surfaced at the meeting. Resident Brock Peacock had questions, and later Village President David Wineman said the DNR will be contacted to be sure all actions are correct.

Another village resident requested Council consider closing the alley between Maple and Pine Streets. Council stated they would refer the request to the proper committee and study the matter.

Council discussed upcoming activity by the Huron County Road Commission along M-25, between Main and Pine Streets. The Commission will be removing sod and excess dirt from the area between the curb and the sidewalk. Over the years, grass planted there has resulted in heights which promote flooding of the sidewalks during heavy rains.

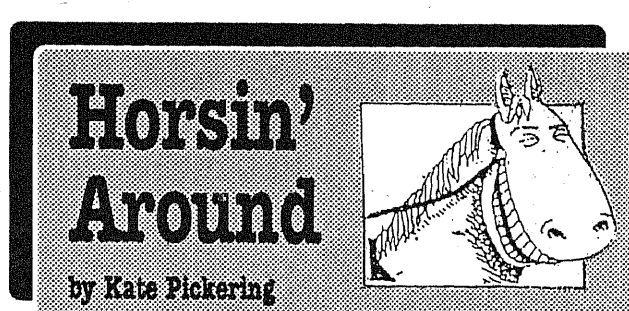

Questions raised included: How do we handle other residents? How do we handle the trees, and who will contact the property owners? Possible answers will be discussed at the Street Committee meeting on Monday, Aug. 14.

In other business, Sebawaing Village Council:
■ Set the Board of Appeals Hearing for 8 pm on Tuesday, Sept. 5;
■ Heard a report from the Harbor Commission on the progress of the marina, and the method to be employed for payment of the contractors.
■ Learned the Sebawaing River will be dredged in 1996.

Blackberries - Red blood

It's almost time... soon they will be ready!
It's a sado-masochist's delight. Pleasure and pain in one rich, full experience. Flowing red human blood mingled with intoxicatingly sweet vine-ripened fruit.

No, I am not a vampire or ghoul, or even a really sick wacko (well, maybe a little wacko). But anyone who's ever been in hot pursuit of wild-growing Michigan blackberries knows that blood and blackberries go hand in hand - and there is just no way around it!

Particularly in our back woods. The blackberry bushes which grow and thrive there are ancient, ancient life forms which - over the years - have developed stalks tall and thick and sport prickly thorns that are inches long, razor sharp and demon-possessed.

Oh, you can naively don two pairs of jeans, a sweatshirt and even try scarves and fingerless gloves to protect your delicate skin... but you'll come home needing a transfusion just the same. The hungry, eager claws on those gnarly old bushes tear at your clothing and rip at your flesh whether you are in denim, canvas or Sir Lancelot's own armor!

But the nashing, gashing, ripping thorns will be the least of your worries if you ever come blackberry picking with me! Very likely you won't get past the stumbling, uneven mile-long sloop through the nettle-strewn swamp, nor be able to endure the hummingbird sized mosquitos, bees and flies... not to mention the web after web of pin cushion size spiders who weave their flaxen traps from branch to branch and tree to tree, and which you - to your horror - will dismantle with your hair and face!

But should you make it past these trying tests of human endurance, surely you will falter in the oppressive, virtually breezeless heat which seeps in and settles on the thick forest floor, and causes you to begin melting away beneath the layers and layers of heavy clothing you thought would fool the thorny berry bushes!

So what lies at the end of such a harrowing experience that would cause a person to continue this pursuit year after year?
Naught but a tiny, unassuming, sweet little black marvel of nature which mimics the fruit of the gods and brings riches untold in the warm cobbles, luscious pies, sweet jams and fruity toppings of autumn and winter!

Over the next few weeks, Mother Nature will work her magic on the stubby little nubbins left by spring's snowy blossoms. Slowly and carefully - with the aid of warm weather and gentle rains - she will bring the berries into fullness, ripeness and rich, black sweetness.

So as the calendar spirals toward September, I will ready myself for this strange, early autumn ritual... and gladly sacrifice a little of my own red blood in exchange for a few quarts of God's little blackberries!

Principal Matt Airgood will be leaving for a new position within the next week. Airgood's departure leaves the district with only one administrator from last year's staff.

He will take over as the elementary principal of the Ovid-Elsie School District located in the Lansing Area.

"The district is twice the size of the USA district," Airgood says. "It is a good move for me professionally."

A native of Caro, Airgood came to the USA District for his first teaching assignment nine years ago. After serving in the classroom for three years, he was named to a supervisory position.

The superintendent's office plans to post the vacant position internally, and will list it in several college placement bulletins, with a deadline for application set at Aug. 25. Then the next step will be to assemble an interview team.

"This is not the best time to look for a new principal," USA Superintendent Rich Ramsey says. "Our goal is to select the best candidate we can find."

Ramsey indicated the district may fill the position on an interim basis, until a suitable candidate is found.

With the retirement of longtime Supt. William Dodge, the pink-slipping layoff of former High School Principal Dave Blossom Airgood's move, only High School/Middle School Principal Tony Grant remains as an administrator from last year's team.

Owen-Gage students to head to school on Aug. 29

Owendale-Gagetown Area Schools will open its doors for students on Tuesday, Aug. 29. This will be a full-day session with hot lunch served in each building. Applications for free/reduced lunches will be sent home with students the first week. Prices will remain the same as previous years: $1.00 for lunch grades K-6, $1.35 for lunch grades 7-12, $2 adult lunch, $1.00 adult breakfast, 80 cents for K-12 breakfast, 40 cents for K-12 reduced lunches, and 30 cents for K-12 reduced breakfast.

This year O-G will have kindergarten classes for all day sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Students will get on regular bus runs both morning and night. Bus runs will change somewhat this year. The first few mornings, the bus might be 15 minutes earlier than last year, officials say. Until a time schedule has been established, children should be ready earlier than in the past.

An open house is being planned by staff on Monday, Aug. 28 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Owendale building.

A new teacher to the staff will be Joel Douglas of Kalamazoo. He will teach American history, sociology, government/economics, civics and eighth grade social studies.

A new part-time opening in the Owendale cafeteria is available. If interested, stop in the superintendent's office in Owendale.

Owen-Gage teachers will report Monday, Aug. 28 to begin the 1995-96 school year.

Caseville's first day is Aug. 29

Caseville Public School's first day of school will be Tuesday, Aug. 29 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. for all students in grades one through 12. Kindergarten classes will run from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Elementary students will meet in their classroom at 8:30 a.m. The 7th through 12th grades will meet at 8:30 a.m. in the auditorium to review student handbook changes. The hot lunch program will be in operation the first day of school.

Cost of lunch will be $1 for grades one through six. The cost for grades seven through 12 will be $1.25 per day, or $6 for a five-day ticket. Extra milk or morning milk may be purchased for 20 cents per carton.

Kindergarten milk will be handled differently this year, due to a breakfast program available. Any kindergarten who wishes to have morning milk must pay for it by the semester or by the year at a cost of $18 per semester or $36 per year.

A breakfast program will be offered for Caseville students. It is available in the cafeteria from 7:50 to 8:25 a.m. The program will offer a variety of items, but mainly will consist of cereal, toast, juice, milk, etc. Cost is 75¢ and free and reduced price meals are available, officials say.

Bus schedules will operate similarly to last year. Buses leave the school in the morning about 7:30 a.m. Mrs. Cummins will be driving south of town and Sand Point. Mrs. Kitchen will be driving north of town and picking up students in town.

Most kindergartners will be picked up and dropped at their homes. For more information, contact Supt. James Stahl's office at 856-2940.

On Wednesday, Sept. 20, the Parent Teacher Group will hold an Open House to meet the staff and to visit classrooms. In addition, the annual report will be distributed and reviewed.

The following new staff members have been hired: Bonnie Wroblewski, teacher assistant; Ruth Dereadt, assistant cook; Jennifer Lochner, financial assistant; and Diane Bushey, principal's secretary.

Elkton's Jaworski taking Village Presidency day-by-day

By AMY HEIDEN

If next spring's election ballots include Jim Jaworski's name, it will be because of what happens between now and then in his new position as Elkton's Village President.

Jaworski was appointed by the Elkton Village Council last week as the new president to fill the position left by the death of Barbara Thompson, who died July 25.

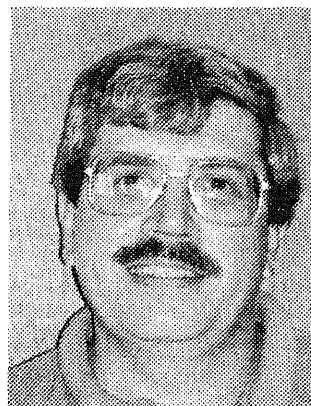

He has served on the council since 1990, and has served on numerous committees including the finance and personnel committees.

But his term as president will be key to whether or not he runs for election next spring, he says.

"I think this will give me a good indication of whether or not I want to run next spring," Jaworski says.

"I feel a great deal of responsibility and I need the help of the rest of the council. We have a real good council, and by all working together, we'll do fine."

Jaworski, plant controller at Active Industries, Inc., has inherited several projects, and he says he'd like to see them move forward.

JIM JAWORSKI
Elkton Village President

The Arthur Street Park project should be getting started soon, and the well-head protection project grant will be finished next month. Improvements to the Downtown area have begun, with the Main Street resurfacing and curb repair project finished.

Light poles in the area will be painted this week and new banners are being ordered to replace the wooden elk banners.

The York Street extension project is a priority, Jaworski says, with the village considering its options.

Originally planned as an industrial and business park, efforts to attract businesses have fallen short, so village leaders are considering turning it into a residential area.

"It's already zoned residential and water and sewer are already there," Jaworski says. "We're looking for a developer that might be interested in it."

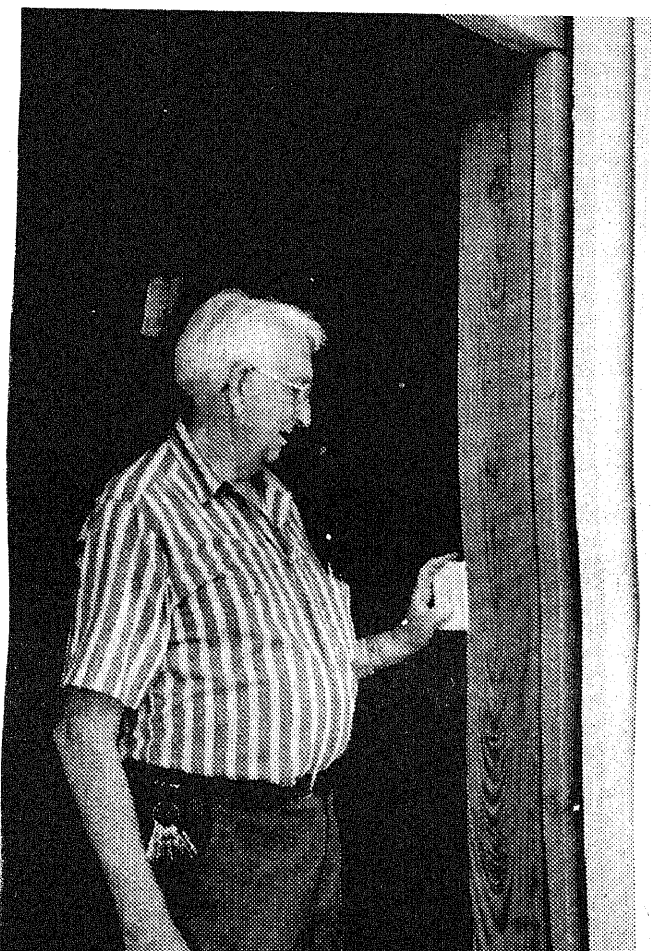

"There's a shortage of residential lots in the village, and by attracting new homes, we could hopefully attract new businesses."

He's already looking ahead to 1997, when Elkton will celebrate its Centennial.

"We will need tremendous community involvement in this," he says. "We need to set up a committee and get things moving because that kind of celebration takes a lot of planning."

Jaworski and his wife Aileen have three children, Darlene, 19, a sophomore at Saginaw Valley State University, Deanne, 16, a junior at Laker High School, and Dawn, 14, a freshman at Lakers.

CBM holds 14th annual awards banquet in Sebewaing

By DUANE GUENTHER

On Saturday, Aug. 5, about 140 CBM officials, politicians, DNR personnel, and award winners converged on the Sebewaing Sportsman's Club for Commemorative Bucks of Michigan's 14th Anniversary Awards Dinner. The dinner is a tribute to Michigan's trophy whitetail deer, bear, elk and wild turkey and the hunters who took them during this year's seasons. This is the third year the banquet, which draws hunters from all over the state, has been held in Sebewaing.

"We love it here," says Records Coordinator Tira O'Brien. "We loved to come back every year if they will have us."

Saturday's annual program was for trophies taken during the 1995 hunting seasons and awards were issued in 14 categories.

CBM was formed in 1981 for the purpose of recording and maintaining permanent records of trophy white-tail buck antlers and the hunters who took them. Widely-accepted measuring systems adopted by the Boone and Crockett and Pope and Young Clubs are used to score big game.

Michigan officially recognized CBM in 1988 when a joint Senate and House resolution was passed to denote CBM as the official record keeper of Michigan big game.

Any big game animal, legally taken in the state, can be entered in the records if it meets or exceeds CBM minimum scores. A statewide network of volunteers is available to measure trophies and to instruct hunters on procedures.

CBM has 164 official measurers located around the state. Don Carpenter of Unionville is one of those volunteers.

"We would really like to get the word out about our organization," Carpenter says.

"We know there are many big bucks taken who could be in the trophy books if the hunters who took them just knew how to go about it."

OZONE ACTION
Ozone Action conditions are good for creating smog. Here are some ways everyone can help curb pollution:
■ Refuel vehicles before or after an action day. If refueling is necessary, do it after 6 p.m.
■ Don't top off your gas tank. Make sure gas caps are tightly sealed. If the cap is missing, replace it.
■ Drive smoothly and avoid jack-rabbit starts that waste fuel and emit more hydrocarbons.
■ Combine trips on action day.
■ A hot engine produces fewer hydrocarbon emissions than repeated cold engine starts.
■ Delay lawn cutting and other maintenance activities that require gasoline-powered engines. If you must cut, do so after 6 p.m.
■ Refrain from using charcoal lighter fluid, solvent-based paints or degreasers on action day.
■ Don't idle gasoline engines unnecessarily.

Woods & Waters

Seal your seams

It was late afternoon when Sweetwife and I pulled into a secluded campground in southwestern Colorado.

We had been racing an ominous looking set of clouds sporting thunder, lightning and, I was sure, a deluge of rain.

The rumbling rolled across the grassy hillside as we were popping up the mountain tent. Sweetwife roared the tiny backpack stove into life and boiled water for the pasta, while I filled the tent with pads, sleeping bags, duffles, some reading material and a couple of flashlights.

We had just finished supper when the storm hit. The first drops of rain began falling as I stashed the kitchen box under the picnic table and covered it with a small nylon tarp. I had just reached the safety of the tent when the sky opened up and let go with a sheet of water.

The fury of the storm's front pushed the falling water horizontally at first, and as the leading edge passed over it gradually became more vertical, even though the volume had not diminished in the least.

I unzipped the back window of the tent, whose opening was protected by an overhanging rain fly, just in time to watch a couple of flower children struggle with an umbrella tent they had just pulled from the back of a Volkswagen.

I was about to jump out and help them, but had second thoughts. Nowadays, you have to be careful who you offer assistance to, lest you give the idea they are not capable of handling the task at hand.

And, in this case, they definitely were not capable.

When I had entered the tent, Sweetwife was already snuggled in her bag deeply engrossed in her book. A flashlight, ingeniously hung from a clip at the top of the tent, provided her with the necessary light.

By Duane Quanter

Within moments, I had hung my light and was busy flipping pages.

The rain droned on, harder now than at first. I checked the seam where the floor met the sidewall and found the first drips of water. The outdoor salesman may say their tents are waterproof, but in a downpour like we were experiencing, a little water is bound to leak in.

I laid a layer of paper around the inside perimeter of the tent, complements of the morning news, and went back to my book. The soothing raindrops caressing the rain fly was too much, and before I finished the page my head nodded.

Sweetwife nudged me a quarter hour later. The rain had stopped and the campground was coming to life.

"Let's take a walk before dark," she commented. We unzipped the tent, and I gathered up the slightly damp newspapers.

It would only take a few minutes for the cooling breeze to sweep away any humidity which had formed during the rain, and other than a few light spots on the paper, our old, and heavily used, mountain tent was as dry as a bone.

That was not true for our hippie-type neighbors. Their sleeping bags, soaked to the gills, were already hanging over the back of the VW, and they were busily, honest to gosh, pouring water out of their tent.

That didn't have to be — if only they would have taken the time to seal their seams.

Well, perhaps faulty seams were not the only reason they had a tent full of water, but in most cases are associated where the materials used to make a tent are stitched together.

Most quality tents are now made of nylon, as opposed to the heavier canvases of yesteryear. The floors and rain flies are usually made of taffeta and coated with a waterproofing, while the sides are made of a breathable nylon.

This allows for maximum protection while giving the structure the means to get rid of moisture given off by our sweaty, little bodies.

Since all of the external fabrics are waterproof, it leaves only one area unprotected — the seams. Most first-line, expensive tents have their seams sealed

840 enjoy meal for Quinn benefit

The people who attended the Aug. 6 Bill Quinn Benefit at the Caseville Rod and Gun Club were fed with more than just bountiful food.

They were able to feast on the memories of popular Caseville businessman Bill Quinn, who passed away on April 2 after a two-year fight with cancer — leaving behind his wife of 23 years, Hope and their children Ashley, age 10 and son Cody, age seven.

A total of 840 meals were served at the benefit, according to organizers Bob Gulash and Mike Walsh, who added that much of the fish that was served had been donated back to the dinner following the July 23 Bill Quinn Memorial Walleye Tournament.

Prize money from many winners of the fishing tournament had also been donated back, then given to Quinn's family.

"We are very pleased with the generosity of people towards Bill's family," says Gulash.

at the factory, while those in the lower price ranges expect the consumer to do the work. However, many campers don't know where to start, or what to do.

Any camping store has an ample supply of seam sealant. All you have to do is erect your tent on a warm day and apply the tube of "gook" to every needle hole you can find.

And then when you are done — do it again. And next year — do it again. You will be surprised how watertight your little abode can become.

Last week, on a camping trip to the western part of the state, Sweetwife and I were walking around the campground loops checking out the competition.

I was amazed at the number of blue, plastic tarps stretched over the tops of tents.

"Guess they don't have their seams sealed," I said casually.

Sweetwife nodded in agreement.....

Thanks A Million!

Reasons to liberate... and celebrate!

DEAR MR. ROSS: I wasn't to begin by telling you that I love my father. Most of my childhood, however, was plagued with heartache due to his alcoholism. Much of this stems from my dad's active duty in Viet Nam.

When he came back from Nam he also brought with him Agent Orange, post-traumatic stress disorder, manic depression and the terrible images (flashbacks) of what he saw in such a violent war.

With all these burdens to carry, my father still tried to act normal and start a family with my mother.

Things fell apart for him when he injured his back and had to have surgery. He then became disabled and unable to provide for his family at the young age of 25.

By Percy Ross

So, my mother went to work and literally slaved at two jobs to support us while my dad sat at home trying to down his troubles in the bottom of a bottle.

Over the years my dad has been treated by over 100 doctors, mostly psychiatrists. He's been in and out of V.A. hospitals, mental wards and numerous alcohol rehabs, yet nothing seemed to work.

Then I discovered the amazing power of prayer and I began to pray for my dad's sobriety. My father will be sober one year next month and I know in my heart that he'll never drink again. He also just turned 50 and he's still disabled.

My mother, 46, is working at the local dry cleaners and finally has one less thing to worry about. They will be married 28 years and I keep remembering my dad's dream

Ever since it was created, my father longed to see the Viet Nam Memorial in Washington, D.C. He says if he could just find the names of his friends on that monument, he feels he could lay that war to rest.

Mr. Ross, I ask that you pay for the hotel expenses on a week's stay in Washington, D.C. My sisters and I are other than to pay for all their other expenses, but it's impossible for us to provide it all. — Ms. V.C., Oneida, TN

DEAR MS. C.:

The Viet Nam Memorial is hardly the setting for a romantic wedding anniversary, but it definitely should provide the basis to allow healing to begin for you dad.

I'm sending a $400 check which will cover costs of a modest hotel for a week, plus a few other expenses.

As for your dad, I have a message from one of my employees who also suffered great effects from that senseless war: "There's a reason we lived through Viet Nam. When you find that reason, you'll learn your purpose."

DEAR MR. ROSS:

I'm writing to tell you about my parents. They've been married for 25 years this month and my brother and I would like to send them on a vacation. They haven't been away together for the past 12 years.

My parents have both worked hard to give us a good home life. They had planned to take a trip this summer for their anniversary sary and now they can't afford to. You see, my dad is a carpenter and was laid off this winter. My mom works in a convenience store to make ends meet.

I also work and am trying to save money for college this fall.

We would like to send them to the Grand Casino in Hinckley and rent a room for them overnight I think $200 would do it. — Miss S.G., Monticello, MN

DEAR MISS G.:

Some of my readers will call granting you request a frivolous move on my part. However, given the fact that half of all marriages end in divorce and the institution of "family" is crumbling, I deem your request anything but frivolous.

It's high time that average people who have struggled, yet made the grade, get some recognition. I'm sending your folks $250 for an overnight stay at Grand Casino in Hinckley, Mn., and I'll bet my bottom dollar that they have a wonderful time.

Happy anniversary Sandra and Kevin!

HISTORICAL THROWS FORSALE: This winter, you can cover up with a bit of history, with a 100% cotton throw from the Pigeon Historical Society.

The throws have ten scenes, each depicting a scene from Pigeon, according to Society President Marie Leppprandt. Only 100 of the throws were initially ordered, making them something of a limited edition.

The green-and-white throws are available at the Pigeon Depot Museum, and those who might not be in Pigeon to get theirs can reserve one by calling the museum at 453-3242.

The museum is open daily through August, Monday through Friday 8:15 a.m. to noon and again from 12:30 to 4:45 p.m. On Saturday, it's open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and on Sunday from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. However, the museum will be closed on Tuesday, Aug. 29, and will be open regular weekend hours through the Labor Day weekend.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING VILLAGE OF CASEVILLE ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Village of Caseville Zoning Board of Appeals has scheduled a public hearing for WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1995 at 5:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as may be possible, in the conference room of the Village/Township Hall, 6767 Main Street, Caseville, Michigan to consider the following:

Request of the Village of Caseville Planning Commission for an interpretation of the Village of Caseville Zoning Ordinance, Section 1286.28 (2), Certain Uses Prohibited, as contained in the Codified Ordinances of Caseville, Michigan. This request relates to the "pre-manufactured" structure located at 6600 Main Street, owned by Dolores Hartman, and proposed for use as a retail facility. Under provisions of Section 1286.28 (2) of the Zoning Ordinance, "the use of a mobile home, travel trailer or any other similar unit for any business, occupation or trade" is prohibited. Under Section 1284.03 of the Zoning Ordinance, the Zoning Board of Appeals shall hear and decide appeals from any order, requirement, decision or determination made by an administrative official charged with enforcement of zoning provisions and shall hear and decide all matters referred to it by other boards of the Village.

Persons interested in making comments on this application are invited to attend the August 23, 1995 Zoning Board of Appeals meeting. Those wishing to submit comments in writing prior to the meeting can mail them to the Village of Caseville, P.O. Box 1049, 6767 Main Street, Caseville, Michigan 48725; said comments will be read into the public record at this meeting.

Present: Sharpsteen, Bolzman, McBrayer, Pitcher, Beers, Schneider, Wineman
Absent: None

The minutes of the July 5, 1995 meeting were read. Motion by Bolzman, supported by Pitcher, to approve the minutes as read. Motion carried.

Brook Peacock approached the Council voicing his concerns over the following:

1. The survey received from Case shows 2 foot at the end of the canals and it should be 5 foot
2. The documents received from the engineers in reference to the street width and right of way
3. He is not in agreement with the turn around at the end of Davis Street
4. The dump station that was eliminated and what will be done about this
5. The contractors have dug up two active drains and he would like to see them reconnected
6. The resolution taking over Grover and Pitcher Roads and Lots 22 and 37 specifies that the lots are road right-of-way and this is wrong

Trustee Pitcher responded that the 24 foot right-of-way is a legal right-of-way. Bill Kauffold responded on the following:

1. That the turn around at the end of Davis is not designated as a public turn around it is basically to accommodate the residents of the area.
2. The dump station has been removed and the dump station that will be installed at the marina will be for unloading boats and will not be a dump station for campers.
3. The 5 foot buffer area at the end of the cuts is from the waters edge and that the survey stakes take in that area and this is in compliance with the Judge's orders.
4. The resolutions to take over Grover and Pitcher Roads and Lots 22 and 37 were all drawn up by the Village's attorney and have been handled through the Courts and if there are any questions pertaining to this, it would be a legal issue and should be addressed to attorney as the judge has already acted on this.

Sidewalks in the area were discussed. Trustee Pitcher reported that this will be looked at as part of the sidewalk program in town and that it may take time. This project did not include sidewalks because there was no sidewalk in that area prior to the start of the marina project.

Brook Peacock requested more time from the Council. Motion by McBrayer to allow more time than the allotted five minutes. There was no support to the motion. President Wineman recommended that Mr. Peacock visit the office with his questions.

Aaron Rackham and Phil Dast approached the Council requesting a parking lot on the south half of the Mast property located on Main Street for more parking for the downtown area. Mr. Rackham has purchased the building on the corner and is very interested in seeing additional parking space for the downtown area. Phil Dast has surveyed some of the businesses and they feel that parking is needed downtown. The estimated cost for this parking lot, for materials is $3,122.00. Motion by Beers, supported by Sharpsteen, to approve the parking lot on the south half of the Mast Property at a cost of $3,122.00. 7 yeas, 0 nays. Motion carried.

Two hour parking for the downtown area was also discussed.

Motion by Sharpsteen, supported by Beers, to recess the meeting at 8:07 p.m. and to call the Public Hearing for Sebawaing Industries to order. Motion carried.

The purpose of this hearing is to act on the request of Sebawaing Industries for an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate.

The resolution was read by the Clerk.

Jerry Lamoureux, representing Sebawaing Industries, explained the status of the current lay-offs and the future jobs at Sebawaing Industries. A new press mounted transfer unit costing $187,000.00 is required to help Sebawaing Industries remain competitive and automated.

Motion by Pitcher, supported by McBrayer, to adjourn the hearing and to reconvene the regular Council Meeting at 8:22 p.m. Motion carried.

Motion by Bolzman, supported by Pitcher, to adopt the resolution granting an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate to Sebawaing Industries for the installation of a new press mounted transfer unit costing $187,000.00 for a 50% tax abatement for a 12 year period. 7 yeas, 0 nays. Resolution declared adopted.

Jenny Leach, from Senator Gougeon's office, left a legislative update and booklets for the Village. The Village Council expressed appreciation for Senator Gougeon's support on the M24 project and other area projects.

Al Nietzke and Brian Hazzard from Nietzke and Faupel presented to the Village the annual audit report for the fiscal year ending March 15, 1995. Motion by Schneider, supported by McBrayer, to accept the audit report for the fiscal year ending March 15, 1995, as submitted by Nietzke and Faupel. 7 yeas, 0 nays. Motion carried.

The following building permits were reviewed:

1. Kerry McKellar, garage
2. Paul Schnicker, replacement windows
3. Diane Lister, pool deck
4. Walt Kuhl, storage shed

Motion by Beers, supported by Schneider, to approve the building permits. Motion carried.

The Ordinance Committee met and reviewed the sample contract with minor modifications and a recommendation for a demolition contract and demolition specifications are being sent to Richard Trovill, attorney, for review and approval and will be returned to the Village for final approval before advertising. This should be back by the August 7, 1995 meeting.

Trustee Schneider reported that the Insurance Committee met on July 7, 1995. Letters have been sent to the Accident Fund of Michigan and information has been requested from the Michigan Municipal League on Worker's Compensation. There has been no response as of this date.

Trustee Bolzman requested that the two hour parking limit be discussed by the Police Commission at the next meeting and that it be brought back to the Village Council on August 21, 1995.

Trustee Sharpsteen reported on the hearing in Lansing for Tom McBrayer as building inspector for the Village of Sebawaing. The outcome of that hearing was that he needed four years of work experience. This decision could be appealed but the outcome could be the same. A discussion followed and it was decided that Trustee Sharpsteen do more research with Mike Green's office and make a recommendation.

The minutes of the July 10, 1995 Police Commission meeting were reviewed. Trustee Pitcher reported on the activities of the Street Department.

A discussion was held on Beck Street. Motion by Sharpsteen, supported by Beers, that the Village have the Huron County Road Commission scrape along Beck Street between the sidewalk and the curb from Main Street to Pine Street. Motion carried.

A discussion was held on a bicycle path in the Village. Trustee Pitcher will continue to research this project.

Trustee Pitcher updated the Council on the activities in the Parks and Recreation Department.

The bills for the month in the amount of $44,132.35 were reviewed. Motion by McBrayer, supported by Pitcher, to approve the bills in the amount of $44,132.35 for payment. 7 yeas, 0 nays. Motion carried.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for August 7, 1995 at 7:30 p.m. Motion by Beers, supported by McBrayer, to adjourn the meeting at 9:20 p.m. Motion carried.

David W. Wineman, President
Maxine A. Kauffold, Clerk
