Two new numbers will come into the hands of the Enterpriser We keep our friends well and ready their prospects before the tenth day of October next, and thereby enable us to conclude our weekly bills. We have $600 due on our ledger, and need every cent of it to liquidate obligations and sustain our publication. Can we have it on time?

ADVERTISING

It is the avocation of political power, that they resort to the damaging and despotic policy of incorporating with their office, arms, aspects of principal dangers as destroyers and sharks, which, in the pursuit of their powers, they could do but little removed, in point of character, and respectability, from those criminals most worthy of the pifery and chipping away.

It is a political as it is a war.
They strayed against each other seek to strengthen themselves by the most absurd and specious of alliances—confederations and their British oppressor, when they mutually sought the aid of the swash and scolding hawks against each other in the numerous hand of a savage. In these struggles, where no quarter is given, the political boulevard is considered a convenient instrument in the hands of legitimate authority. He is honored with letters of marque and permitted to display the political standard and prey upon the political foe. The benefits invited from his care to serve the cause and his own safety.

In times of imminent civil strife, when the stability of order is sought to be subverted, the lower strata seek to work upward to the surface and the upper classes to the depths.

Political parties which have historic links connected in the hierarchy of country for 1700 years. French Revolution three spots, the surface of society, the disengaged, who checked the world, be their political and social devotion.

We have in our great civil and military struggles experienced similar results in a country where kings and courts are unknown, and where chivalry and the general intelligence of the masses, it has been thought, would prove a sufficient check to such political dictators and abuses. The error of this suspicion is daily becoming more apparent. Unscrupulous and violent political would-be leaders and officers appear in the field, and plentiful numbers of old newspapers, have shrunk from the public eye, and are now scattered about the earth.

This patriotic character, in both private and public, can be suspected of the "hotbed" of the party to which it professedly attached only as a sport of to the remainder and swallow-tail subordinates of the fox of the party it serves.

It is sold a robe, by any other name would smell sweet; seasons, goodness, we don't so much, but we much doubt if any name would please the confidence of extreme party organization our country, which would smell sweetest when rowdyism generally does. Rowdyism has produced its arts and its literature long before this, but rowdyism, nevermore Revolution, but the politics of New York, and an army here and there, and a few Episcopal Herald, and Garrison pre-claimed the Constitution of the United States without, has a more depraved state of affairs been reached than that of Tommies, at the present time.

SOCIAL DANCE—Henry Youngman has issued invitations for a grand social dance, at Goodey's Hall, Friday evening, Sept. 20th. Music by Beck's band "Bill & Co." $1.00. A good time may be expected.
