Washington. The following letter was sent to General Sherman by the Secretary of War: 'W. F. DENNETT, WASHINGTON, April 3, 1877. 'To Gen. W. T. Sherman, Commanding United States Army. 'General Sherman, I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 29th inst. and to inform you that the same has been forwarded to the proper authorities for their consideration. I am, Sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant. 'W. F. DENNETT, Secretary of War.'

the government of Peckard a conspiracy; expressing satisfaction with the inaugural of Hayes; and giving the Louisiana commission a hearty welcome. The Louisiana commission, on the 6th, visited both Peckard and Nicholas. Peckard made a brief statement of his case to the commission, and concluded by saying that he was satisfied that if he were recognized by the President, and reinstated in possession of the vacant buildings, arsenals and arms, of which he contended, he had been illegally despoiled, and accorded the moral support of the National Government, he could maintain himself without the intervention of United States troops. Nothing of importance has transpired since. The intervention of troops has been a subject of controversy with Nicholas, but it is understood he claims that his authority is undisputed and in the State outside of the State-house. The Louisiana Commission were in session eight hours on the 9th, and heard the committee representing the banking interests, a committee on behalf of the Southern Republican Club, a committee appointed by the Peckard House citizens, and other delegations. The result of all these meetings was not at all favorable to compromise or conciliation at present, but it was thought patience and pluck would possibly work out safe conclusions.

THE pipe which Captain Josiah Williams of Kittery, Maine, left on his mantelpiece just before his death sixty-one years ago, still remains in the possession, the family not allowing it to be removed. 'My dear Mother, I should have told you that the Irishman who thought the drugstore was the best place to get a pipe, is only surpassed in his parsimonious drollery by those who persistently adhere to the use of those nauseating, disgusting large and small pipes, which are par-caroted, and little larger than mustard seeds, will by their steady and gentle action on the liver, correct all torpidity, thus permanently overcoming constipation. In South America they have almost entirely superseded all other pills, and are relied on fully by the people, and often used as a preventive of the various affections of the stomach, liver, and bowels, so prevalent in that climate.
