The iron horse was moving on the station master signaled with his arms in a curiou- fashion, and each of the four brakemen repeated the motion in turn. White puffs of steam rose high in the air from the fartherend of the train. A curious rattling sound spreads through the train, and the last car moved down, turned aside, and entered the siding, the station master left the switch, and came hastily toward the Good day, Alfred. Light freight today, only one car-by the way, the brake chain is broken, and you had better drop the car at the repair shops. The freight can be thrown out without leaving the So saying, the station master went on into the freight house followed by the rattling and rumbling cars. They gradually lost their speed and came to a stop with the end of the train lost in the dark cavern of the freight house. There was a shout from the building, and then one of the brakemen began to move his hands As lilies dare to be When fairies creep in their depths, and sleep Till the sun peeps over the sea. as a signal to go on. Again the white puffs of steam shot up in the distance, and with a jar and a quiver the train And Oh! her eyes they are blooms of light, started again.

Car after car rolled past them. There were hurried whispers, a warm bandshake and perhaps a kiss, and then the young man swung forward, grasped the ladder on the last car, climbed quickly to the top and sat down. She stood gazing after him as he was drawn away from
