and the Sheriff Mackey said: "Perry, have you anything that you wish to say to the crowd?" "No," was the reply, and then he continued, as if talking to an imaginary Bowsher: "Perry, nothing's going to happen." The rope was then tightly adjusted to his neck, the knot being placed to his ear. The flap of the death-cap was thrown down over his face, and at precisely anine minutes past eleven Sheriff Mackey thrown down over his ace, and at precisely nine minutes past eleven Sheriff Mackey touched the trigger with his foot, the trap-doors flew down, and Bowsher shot like a fissh through three feet of space. As his descent ended his neck cracked like a whip, and the general exclamation of "His neck's broke!" was made by those on the scaffuld. The death cap blew off his face, scaffild. The death cap blew on his face, which grew instantly terribly purple and livid. It was picked up and replaced, and then the doctors crowded around the pendant body and began to note the pulsations of the heart. In eighteen minutes life was of the near to the pronounced extinct. The strikes in the Lancashire cotton district are virtually over, the men returning to their work, after six or eight weeks of iddeness, at the ten per cent reduction in the start. It has been a severe lesson to the unfortunate operatives. They have suffered an aggregate loss of nearly $4,000,000 in wages, while the mill proprietors have mainstained their position and profted by the opportunity of working off their surplus proof the same thoroughfare, they were met by on the same thoroughfare, they were met by two intoxicated ruffiams, when one of them struck the young lady in the face and crowded her against a wall. She freed herself and ran across the street. Of course the uncle was incensed at the out age, and resented it. He asked them why they had hit the girl, and they replied by plunging a large knife, which they had stolen from a butcher shop, into his left side just below the heart. Not content with this, or fearing that they had not fatally this, or fearing that they had not issuif completed their infamens deed, they immed upon the prostate men and cruelly kicked him. Miss McConville uttered sehrick and ran backto her nucle. The assassins had done their work. They did not stop to rob or do further injury. They fied into the darkness. The murderers were not discovered until about eleven o'clock on the following Monday morning, when they were for the murder of Elijah Birdwell, Deputy old compositor: "You may talk about making

Fattening Brides.

Throughout the empire of Morocco there are villages where the elder members of the adult population follow professionally the pursuit of sattening voung ladies for the matrimonial market of Barbary. The Moors, like the Turks and most other Orientals, give a decided preference to "moonfaced" wives over lean ones, and are more solicitous as to the number of pounds which their brides weigh than about the stock of accomplishments which they possess. A girl is put under the process of fattening when she is about twelve years of age.
