News of the Week.

Further Self-Shooting.

Matthew Dempsey, twelve years old while carelessly handling a loaded revolver, at Youngstown, Ohio, accidentally discharged the ball entering his stomach, causing upward course. Physicians regarded the accident fatal.

Young Hunter Killed.

Charles Hill, of Alden, Ill., aged nineteen, son of Captain C. A. Hill, a prominent lumberyer, accidentally blew the top of his head off while out hunting. His brains were scattered in every direction.

Coal Oil Death.

Mrs. Lucinda A. Paris, living on Hammond street, Chicago, Ill., while lighting a fire, the other day, was so horribly burned by the igniting of a shawl which she had around her shoulders that she died a few minutes afterward.

Lexington Centennial.

Lexington, Ky., reached the ripe old age of one hundred years on April 2, and celebrated the occasion with befitting ceremonies. Processions, addresses and big crowds of people were the order of the day.

Murdered his Wife.

About six o'clock in the morning, recently, Dennis Hickey murdered his wife, Catherine Hickey, at the City Hotel, Warren, O., by emptying her brains with a butcher knife. Hickey was arrested. He did not give the motive that prompted him to commit the crime. Their home is at Kent, O.

Witnesses Assassinated.

The Galveston (Texas) News special from Bellos says a negro named Noman, living near there, witnesses against Canterbury and Dobbins in a rape case, were murdered at night. The man was killed instantly. The woman lived till morning. It is stated that one of the assassins said they should not live to appear against Canterbury and Dobbins.

Death of Hon. Samuel H. Buskirk.

Hon. Samuel H. Buskirk, ex-Judge of the Supreme Court, died suddenly at Indianapolis, on the evening of April 4, after an illness of two weeks. His condition had been favorable during the day and in the morning he said he felt better than for several days, but at night, in attempting to raise himself, he experienced a sense of fullness in the right lung, and expired almost instantly.

The Negro Exodus.

A call has been issued by many colored clergymen, teachers and social directors of the colored people of Louisiana for a convention to meet in New Orleans, May 4, to consider the condition of their race in Louisiana; they say: "We regard with grave apprehension the exodus movement of our race, which so many of our people suffer to lay, and its grave, which has already claimed the lives of a great many of our North Louisiana and the border-tier parishes in the State."

Blessed in Texas.

The Galveston News special says a shocking affray occurred at Stephenville in which Messrs. Ross, Keith and Robinson in attempting to serve a writ of arrest on one Halsley, were shot and killed. Three others were wounded. Another fight followed, resulting in the death of two others. Halsley, with his followers, were surrounded in a barricaded house, and repulsed all efforts to dislodge them. The Sheriff sent for posse, at last accounts, had left for the scene.

Murder and Suicide.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean's Marshalltown special says a shocking double tragedy occurred at Gilford, a small station on the Iowa Central Railroad, ten miles south, this morning. Mrs. Jones, a young woman, Miss Robbins, his lady friend, through the basement window. He then telegraphed the railroad officials to send a coroner and jury as he was going to kill himself. Shortly after he was found dead by railroad employees. The girl was most estimable, the daughter of a prominent merchant. No cause is assigned.

Burned to Death in Log Shop.

The body of George Rockey, whose home is near Andalusia, Ill., was found in a field near his home early the other morning, burned to a crisp. It was only identified by the clothing found in the ashes. The head had escaped burning. It is not positively known how he was burned, but, being found near a log shop in the neighborhood, it is supposed he had gone out to warm himself, and had fallen in. He had been at Addison the night before, and was under the influence of liquor.

A Whole Family Murdered.

A San Jose, Cal., dispatch gives a brief account of a tragedy in Fort Hill, near that city. Frederick F. Walker and family were horribly mutilated with an ax, or similar weapon. The mother of the family is missing. He is not known where. Walker's son-in-law, Louis Kohler & Co., $50,000, insurance $20,000; H. Mahr's Sons, manufacturing jewelers, Newark, N. J., packed with fine jewelry and precious stones. These were precipitated from the fourth floor to the rear of the building. The family had no property to excite cupidity.

Hot Law in Iowa.

Reports from Davis City, Decatur County, Iowa, say the citizens, in view of the long series of depredations, and the escape of a band of desperadoes, led by Irving Tucker and one Tartar, on Monday handed together, seized Tucker, and hung him to a tree, and also captured, and said he was ready to swing if he was allowed to kill Tuplit and Priebe, two of the original band, as he had a grudge. But he was taken from the mob and placed in jail. The mob then went to the house of Martin McCoy, tore down the house, and destroyed its contents. During the fray sympathizers of Tucker and Tartar set fire to the residence of Tuplit and Priebe, which was burned to the ground. Much excitement prevails, and more trouble is anticipated.

Complaining Farmers.

The Chicago Tribune's Omaha special says: The head of a delegation here from a council with General Crook, Standing Bear and Sabilo Chips drew a dismal picture of their sufferings, crops and stock of fortunes, and protested against being sent south to the Indian Territory, but acknowledged that after all must obey and go. They only asked that General Crook furnish them money to buy those of their number who had died on the route to go back and recloimed heir. Crook said all their sad story was known in Washington, and all help that could be given would be, and they would furnish rations for their southward journey.

Five Persons now here are already ill.

Terrible Accident to a Farmer.

A terrible accident happened a few miles west of Columbus, Ind., which came near, and may yet result in the death of James Barnett. He, with other farm hands, was taking up stumps, and placed some powder under one to assist in raising it, and, after waiting a while for it to go off, went up and began blowing at it first. When the powder ignited and exploded, blowing the stump into atoms, and breaking one of the young man's thighs, forcing one of his eyes from the socket, and literally tearing one side of his face off as well as injuring his neck and body. The injuries were regarded as necessarily fatal.

Hanged for Murder.

Walter Watson paid the death penalty at Newport, Ind., on Thursday for the murder of Asa Cousins, on the 9th of January last. Watson and his victim belonged to bad families, Cupidon being considered the best of the two, though he started life where what under a cloud, his mother's husband having been an inmate of the penitentiary previous to Elizabeth's. Asa Cousins, at the time he was killed, on the 9th of January, kept a store at Highland, and the cause of the murder was an error in charging Watson for a twenty-five cent cake of soap purchased by Watson's brother. Cupidon's offered to settle, but Watson was a quarrelsome, and a fight ensued, in which Watson got a bullet in Compton's abdomen, from which death resulted.

Elizabeth Patterson Bonaparte.

Elizabeth Patterson Bonaparte, widow of Napoleon's brother Jerome, died in Baltimore April 4, at the age of ninety-five. Her departure had been imminent for some days, and she had been declining for several weeks. Until a year ago her health was excellent for so old a person, and her belief that she would complete a century did not seem ill founded. Growing weak, she had an inability to walk or do anything, but lapsing was followed by first, erratic attacks of paralysis, to which she finally succumbed. After her death a pass manuia issued. The daughter of a rich merchant of Baltimore, her beauty and intellect were the heart of the Corsican, and then a French naval officer in his nineteenth year. He was equally handsome, and his nationality was a factor in the early doubt added to his attractions. Her parents were not anxious for the union, for their daughter was but sixteen, and the match was hurried. Their mutual love proved too strong, however, and on the 27th of December, 1803, they were married by Bishop Carroll.

Tragedy at Davenport, Iowa.

A very remarkable and tragic occurrence took place lately at Davenport, Iowa. A man named Harry A. Ware, a cigar maker, and considered an honorable man, was called up about midnight by his wife, who found him apparently in a trance, evidently and mysteriously sick while in bed. Hastily sending for a physician, pronounced him to be under the influence of opium. He was taken from the bed and placed in a chair. The physician went to the house, and destroyed its contents. During the fray sympathizers of Tucker and Tartar set fire to the residence of Tuplit and Priebe, which was burned to the ground. Much excitement prevails, and more trouble is anticipated

THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1879.

There were 225 flouring mills burned in the United States in 1878.

Secretary Sherman has ordered an investigation into the manner in which the Beal-Steere collection passed the custom house.

Judge Morris, the newly elected Judge, will hold his first term of court in Ann Arbor this week, beginning Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

The balance of cash in the State treasury, April 5, was $662,351.26; receipts for the week ending April 12 were $168,516.18; payments for same time, $33,818.02; leaving a balance, April 12, 1879, of $795,549.42; increase for the week, $133,198.16.

State Fish Commissioner Jerome announces that some disease has attacked the fry of the brook trout at the State hatchery and that they have died by hundreds and thousands, which will cut off the supply this year. The salmon trout, however, are very fine and the Commission is now distributing them.

The Triennial conclave of the Knights Templar of the United States will be held at Chicago in August, 1880. Extensive preparations are being made for the grand event, and it is presumed that the procession of Knights will be the largest and finest display ever made on this continent. We learn that Adrian Commandery are talking of making a pilgrimage to Chicago, carrying with them their camp equipage, provisions, &c. They expect to march about 20 miles a day, and will be about ten days on the road.

The Philadelphia Ledger, which always speaks wisely on school matters, says: "There can be no doubt that it should be made an object to keep first-rate teachers, and only such, in the primary schools, and that the young teachers who enter in the primaries should not regard their work there as a temporary occupation, from which their chief end and interest is to be removed into some higher grade of school. To render exact justice to our public school system and to preserve the highest salaried it should be paid to the most effective and faithful service, irrespective of the technical grade of the school among primary, secondary, and grammar."

A little fun enlivens the House proceedings. Mr. Thorpe, with his staid solemnity, indulged in a big joke last week. Speaking of a bill to prevent the sale of unwholesome meat, he said that "tastes differ; some men eat one thing and some another; there are even some who eat crow and say they like it." On another day a bill relative to the township of Grant, Mackinac county, being before the House, Mr. Robison moved to amend by inserting Jackson in place of Grant, because the name of living men should not be thus used. Mr. Catcheon moved to amend the amendment by inserting Coalition, if something else was deemed necessary.—Lansing Republican.

It is probably generally remembered that some years ago—in 1873—Congress passed a law providing for the erection of durable headstones over the graves of soldiers of the regular and volunteer forces of the United States whose remains are interred in the National Military Cemeteries. This law has been carried out, and the graves of the Nation's dead in these cemeteries are now permanently marked. At the instance of the War Department, Congress has recently authorized the erection of similar headstones over the graves of the Union soldiers who are buried in private and village cemeteries. This will be done as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. In the meantime the Quartermaster General, at Washington, will at once proceed to collect the necessary information as to where these headstones are required.

All persons having any knowledge of the burial places of soldiers in private cemeteries whose graves are not marked, are requested to communicate the fact to the Quartermaster General, at given regiment, company, and date of death of deceased, if known. Similar information is desired from parties in charge of such cemeteries.

Of course it is not intended to furnish headstones for graves over which monuments have already been erected by relatives or friends of the deceased

AT LANSING.

The bill authorizing the bodies of paupers under 55 years of age, to be sent to the medical department of the university, for purposes of dissection, when not requested to be buried by relatives or friends, within twenty four hours after death, passed the House on Saturday. An amendment, providing that the decreased shall have given his consent, was defeated, so that the bill, as it stands, carries a sort of "Kill him [cut him up] he's got no friends" spirit to many minds; neither does it except women or children, who may have become paupers through another's act.

The committee on the State Prison have reconsidered the appropriation bills and placed the total at about $15,000. $10,000 additional to purchase 27 acres of reputed coal land adjoining the prison is contingent upon the certificate of the Governor and Inspectors that coal in paying quantities has been found on said premises.

The Senate has agreed to the bill fixing the rate of interest at six per cent., where there is no contract, leaving the rate on contracts unlimited, and repealing the usury penalties.

The game laws have been so amended as to prohibit, in the Lower Peninsula, the hunting of deer with dogs; changing the time of hunting woodcock to between July 15th and Jan. 1st, and prairie chicken, partridge, grouse and duck, between Sept. 1st and Jan. 1st. Snipe are exempt, it having been shown that they breed in Labrador and simply migrate. The shooting of ducks upon Sunday is prohibited; or between sunset and sunrise, in the night-time. Penalties remain the same.

The Senate, on Tuesday, agreed to the bill establishing a system of County Examiners of schools, in connection with the existing Township Superintendents. The County Examiners are to examine all teachers and grant certificates, and the Township Superintendents to inspect the schools.

The bill to appropriate $1000 to build fire proof building for a museum at the University, passed the Senate by unanimous vote, on Tuesday.

BROOKLYN.

At our corporation election on Monday, the following ticket was elected:

President—A. P. Cook.

Trustees (two years)—Hiram H. Woodward, Dr. L. M. Jones, John De Lamater.

Trustees (one year)—F. J. Ellis, Dr. J. A. Porter, D. E. N. Palmer

Clerk—J. M. Griswold.

Street Commissioner—Wm. Ambler.

Treasurer—J. H. Drosser.

Constable—C. S. Webster.

Assessor—F. W. Bertram.

There were two tickets in the field, headed Citizen and Union. The first ticket was all elected except one trustee for one year. In that case the "Orangeman" ran ahead of the "Catholic, and was elected by seven majority. In my opinion this village will get all the tryste they want for the next year.

Last week Norvell "came to bat" nobly, sent a splendid "daisy-cutter over the left field," made a good start, but "got out of wind on the home run." Now, if he will acknowledge, that as far as he knows, Brooklyn, with the exception of two men, had nothing to do with changing the town boundaries, we'll call it square

SALINE.

A warrant was issued on Saturday morning for the arrest of a man who was caught stealing cigars from the manufactory of E. W. Wallace, but by the time the warrant was ready, the culprit had disappeared. It was soon discovered that he had taken the road to Bridgewater. Mr. Wallace followed on the 9:25 train, found his man and brought him back. He was sentenced by Justice Guildart to four days in jail, and taken to Ann Arbor Saturday afternoon. It is thought that nothing that he could lay his hands on came amiss to him, as his pockets seemed to be full of eggs, garden seeds, lunsats, &c. A.

When the ice melted out of Grass Lake, dried eels, twenty inches in length, were found floating upon the water. We understand that eels were placed in that lake about two years ago.

Joshua Walker, of Flowerfield, St. Joseph County, burned his barn, farmers' wheat crop and his house, and tried to burn himself and his wife alive. They were saved by a neighbor. Walker stabbed one boy who came to Mrs. Walker's rescue. He is subject to epilepsy, and was made mad into a small provocation in the family.

Shocking Death of a Boy.

John Leopold, a lad of fourteen years, an employee of a rod mill in the Eighteenth Ward, Cleveland, was terribly cut in pieces at half-past one o'clock in the morning by a red-hot rod as it came through the rolls. The rod encircled his legs, and before assistance could be rendered severed them from his body. The boy lived but a short time. He was employed in the mill as water-boy.

Frightful Accident to Two Boiler Makers.

Two boiler makers, A. Thalther and J. Cochran, were inside repairing an upright boiler at Brown, Bonnell & Co.'s mill, at Youngstown, Ohio, when it was accidentally densed from steam, which entered through a connecting pipe near the top, burst over them. Before they could be dragged out through the small hole at the bottom they were so scalded that the skin came off with their clothes. Their injuries were not regarded as necessarily fatal.

Soldier Killed and Scalped.

A party of seven Indians attacked Sergeant Kennedy, late Signal Observer at Deadwood, and a private soldier named Bader, of the Second Cavalry. The two men were eating lunch at Minpat, forty-five miles from Fort Keogh, their destination, when fired upon. Bader was instantly killed, and Kennedy badly wounded. The latter crawled into the brush and kept the Indians off with his six-shooter until reinforcements arrived. Bader was scalped. Kennedy will probably recover.

Municipal Election in St. Louis.

The six defeated Republican candidates for the Upper House of the Municipal Assembly have served notices of contest upon the Democratic candidates who were declared elected at the recent election. The grounds of the contest are generally fraudulent voting, and specifically that the

Have You Used Them?

The following are a few of the many thousands who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and can testify to its wonderful curative powers:

Mr. Wm. Hall, Jr., Bridgeport, Conn., writes: "I was troubled with a severe cough, and had a pain in my side, and was very much run down. I had taken a number of remedies, but they did me no good. I was induced to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and before I had taken one bottle I felt better. I have taken three bottles, and am entirely cured."
