Interruptions by the witness were disdained by him; still he testifled to having aided Scoville in preparing his briefs. And the show goes on.

The examination of Thomas North, which had been begun, was concluded on the reasonability of Court on the eleventh day. Sometra John A. Logan detailed the extent of his acquaintance with the prisoner. Edmund E. Smith gave it as his opinion the prisoner was somewhat flighty. John A. Morse, a colored attorney, met Guitenu at the White House during the years old, she said, he lived with he was twelve years her family in Chicago and went to school. His only peculiarity at that time was excessive affection. Five or six years later he went to Ann Arbor to stead school. When witness visited him at Ann Arbor, she found he was neglecting has studies and giving his attention to studying the Berean and publications of the Oneids Community. She appealed to him to give up that ituff, but to no avail. She afterward visited him at the Oneida Community when she noticed hy acted like a person who had been bewildered, struck on the head, or partiy-lost his mind. When Macaulay, before proceeding to India, consulted Sidney Smith's experienced brother, the famous "Bobus," as to expenses at Calcutta, he was told that he could not be comfortable under £3,000 a year, and he could not possibly get through £5,000. This is in a measure safely asserted that in the whole of this true of the United States. It might be country there are not five persons, if as many, who spend on their establishments $100,000. A careful estimate, made a year or two ago by persons cominently qualified to make it, brought such ex enditure up to $95,000. It included a tract to Syracuse, and the work of conown house, a yacht, a villa at Newport, and a country seat. What runs away with incomes of from 50,000 to $250,000 in England is the keeping up of country-seats, hounds, ospitality, and game preserves. At rumlanrig Castle, for instance, one of ts owner's ten residences, there are eighty miles of grass drive kept in order-Gridge, more than forty. Add to these acres of garden and glass and the
