teif in a measure responsible for such a state of things. He ought to have resisted...

Yes, it is a pity that the assurance of henceforth being a well-dressed man could but impart unqualified satisfaction...

His thoughts, having followed this track, naturally followed another akin to it. He thought of marriage...

He had not been invited to a dinner-party or ball in the gay place to which he lived...

Two thoughts made him smile. The incongruity of his name had been an annoyance to him...

But he was a lover of horses. His idea of physical enjoyment was a quiet ride through green country lanes...

From generalities to particulars. In his fortieth year Rev. Mr. Dollar could hardly accuse himself of an extravagance...

Most of us have seen Mont Blanc certainly. But the vulgar company, the crowding, the confusion!

How different travel that takes no account of the cost! Alas! the mind is refreshed, the body invigorated...

To lounge at will through foreign picture galleries, to float idly in gondolas, to be in no hurry to reach enchanted spots...

He was a lover of books. He was almost a bibliographer to boot. But he had never been able to indulge in this taste except on the most limited scale...

When Mr. Dollar reached the railway station he had spent hardly twenty-four hours ago...

But not without leaving a trace behind. When the patient quivered before his health, and learned that the minutest particulars about had taken place...

It was, moreover, a respectable thing to have a relation in the Church. He presented Rev. Mr. Dollar, therefore, with a living in an agreeable Midland county...

The Dispatch received a call yesterday from a Mr. H. B. Castle, the contractor and builder...

Little Morris and Castle, aged not quite five, is a very remarkable child, as children average. He has never been to school a day...

PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL. Carbonate, Colo., welcomed the first woman by giving her a town lot...

Frederick T. Stanley, who recently died at New Britain, Conn., aged eighty-one, was the first man to manufacture locks in this country...

Secretary Chandler's brother-in-law Mr. Kingsley, is the sole survivor of a large family, all of whom have died suddenly...

Yes, I sold Abraham Lincoln his first pair of spectacles, said a veteran oculist of Chicago...

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES.

Local news snippets including: Potatoes are turning out well; Dr. Conklin has a gasoline street lamp; A son of Fred Kurfess...

We were visited by a tremendous rain storm on Sunday afternoon and evening. It was accompanied by thunder and lightning...

There is another racket up street. J. H. Miller & Co. have upset the prices on crockery and there will be a big smash now...

J. H. Green the one price clothier has a new and enlarged advertisement this week, to which the attention of our readers is called.

We understand that the county school examiners told a gentleman here on Friday last that the graduates of the Ann Arbor and Manchester high schools stood the highest of any in the county...

The young people of the baptist church have formed a society and will hold socials, etc., during the fall and winter. The officers of the society are as follows:

President - Miss May Munger; Vice President - Sam. Bryman; Secretary - Mrs. Perry Nash; Treasurer - Miss Alta Dickerson.

There has been considerable talk on the streets that those who were disappointed at Rev. Combs not being returned here, are about to raise money to hire him to preach for them the coming year...

Thos. VanGieson, of Bridgewater, was in town on Tuesday and made the ENTERPRISE a pleasant call. He returned from Vermont last week, having spent two or three weeks among the green mountains looking at sheep and visiting with the prominent breeders.

Burr Robbin's circus was here on Friday last and astonished the natives in these parts. Burr wasn't very flush with his complimentary tickets, so his show didn't get much praise for being "the best on wheels."

North Case had a stroke of apoplexy on Monday forenoon. He was in Cash's office when he first felt a numbness in his right leg. He got up, went down stairs and asked someone to take him home as he felt sick.

John McMahon met with an accident yesterday noon that will cause him much pain. He had been at work with Mr. Unterkircher putting a new tar roof on the Goodyear House...

While in Toledo, Saturday evening, we met our friend George Allen, also his partner Mr. Parkhurst, with whom we enjoyed a short chat. We also spent a few moments at the central office of the Toledo Telephone Exchange...

When a man has an extra good calf, cow, sheep, watermelon, pumpkin, cabbage or beet, it is perfectly natural for him to tell of it and if he brings the article to the editor, it is expected that he will make mention of it in his paper...

A new telephone line has been constructed from Canton to Manchester and now we are not obliged to go around Robin Hood's barn to get seven miles, but can go across lots as it were, and talk to our neighbors down the Raisin. We can also get points in Southern Michigan and Toledo, much easier.

Dr. Taylor informs us that he is fearful that Mrs. Smith, who received injuries from being thrown from her buggy a week or more ago will suffer considerably from the wrist that was sprained. The one that was broken is getting along all right.

The band dance on Friday evening was a grand success notwithstanding the predictions to the contrary. After the circus was out their band came up and played for the boys, and they say that better music was never heard in Goodyear Hall.

PERSONAL.

Ben. Chase spent Sunday in Jackson. Charles Fellows is in Chicago this week. Alf Jaynes is again a resident of Manchester.

Miss Stella Saxton is teaching school near Saline. Munson Goodyear, Esq., is sight seeing in Chicago this week. Rev. & Mrs. McIlwain of Clinton, were in town yesterday morning.

Miss Maggie McMahon is making a visit at Ypsilanti and Detroit. Fred. Steinkohl went to Lansing to visit his parents over Sunday. Mr. J. P. H. Brown, of Detroit, spent Sunday with Rha Conklin and family.

We learn that Rev. J. A. Combs intends to make Manchester his home. Mrs. W. H. Webb has gone to Oakland county to visit friends a week or more. Mrs. J. L. Every, of St. Louis, sister of Mrs. Arthur Case, is visiting in town.

John Kensler, of Kensler Bros., went to Detroit on Tuesday afternoon on business. M. J. Baldwin of the ENTERPRISE office visited his parents at Williamston, this week. Cris. Bruckner has returned to Manchester and has gone to work for Farrell & Brenner.

Messrs. Bert Rowe and Jos. McMahon, left town Monday to attend the university at Ann Arbor. A. T. Bruegel left home on Monday for Cincinnati, Buffalo and an extensive trip through the east. Arthur Case who has been suffering severely from hay fever, is able to be on the streets again.

Rev. J. M. Houk, of Ionia, has been visiting in this vicinity and left here for home, on Monday. John Kensler ran against a post on Monday while chasing his hat and hurt his knee considerably. Mrs. Chas. Fellows and daughters of Sharon, and Mrs. Forbes of Saline, went to Chicago on Tuesday.

We learn from the Greenville Daily Call that Mrs. Frank Polhemus died on the 23d of consumption. We had the pleasure of meeting Rev. D. R. Shier, of Hudson, and Mr. Hamilton of Denver, Col., this forenoon. Mrs. Frank Morey went to Clinton on Tuesday and visited the Adrian fair yesterday with her uncle, D. Woodward.

David Woodward, of Clinton, was in town on Tuesday and as a matter of course he favored the ENTERPRISE with a call. W. H. Pottle and family arrived home on Saturday noon, and Pottle at once appeared behind the counter of his popular store. Mrs. Emily Spott, who has been visiting among friends here for the past two weeks, left for home in New York city, last Monday.

Mrs. Dr. Lynch and Miss Eliza English visited at Detroit last week, and also spent a few days at S. W. Clarkson's in Ann Arbor. We have received a card announcing the marriage of David R. Corey and Sarah E. Ingross, of Lansing, at Chicago on the 10th inst. Mr. E. A. Steadman left here on Monday for his home in St. John's, having enjoyed a brief but pleasant visit among old friends and neighbors.

Among those who went to Chicago on Tuesday morning were Mr. & Mrs. T. J. Farrell, Lyman Baldwin and his son Zell, Fred. Spafard and Timothy Hunt. Alonzo Case, of Knob Noster, Mo., arrived in town on Saturday. Mrs. Webster Case had a family gathering at her home, at which all her sons were present. Mr. & Mrs. G. W. Benoe went to Detroit yesterday afternoon, where they will spend a few days, when Mrs. B. will return home and Mr. B. will go to Cincinnati to be absent two months.

John Nestell was out to Pontiac last week to see Forrie Kief, who spent the day with him down town and appeared all right. The physician says if he has no set backs now he will probably be able to come home this fall. We enjoyed a chat with Rev. Dunning, late of Napoleon, on the train on Saturday. He was on his way to Clayton, where he will preach the coming conference year. He has before preached at Clayton, and is glad to go back there.

Arthur Case has handed us a copy of the Minnesota Tribune containing a report of the great fair in which the name of his cousin, George E. Case, of Kasota, Minn., is mentioned as a successful importer of horses on which they took many first premiums. Henry Calhoun and Henry Palmer of Bridgewater, returned home from Kansas yesterday. They enjoyed their visit very much. Henry Calhoun went down through the Arkansas valley and says the country is lovely. They had good success in disposing of their sheep.

Rev. J. A. Combs has withdrawn from the Detroit conference and will not hereafter be known as a minister of the gospel, at least not for a year or two. He is not yet fully decided what he will engage in permanently, but for the present, he will handle the Kalamazoo scales in this county, making Manchester his home. We wish him success.
