

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES.

Locals on 4th. page. Chimney sweeper in town this week. Snowflakes were flying this afternoon. Look for change of time on the railroad next Sunday. The awkward squad in the Union Spy will make you laugh. Fred Kotts says that his dental business in Clinton is increasing. Miss Lizzie Burns, of Bridgewater, is visiting Mrs. C. H. Millen to-day. John Wuerthner has laid a new sidewalk in front of Youngmans' saloon. I and see Uncle Sam in the Union Spy, if you want to see a good negro character. Four generations of the Parks family had their pictures taken at Miss Green's gallery to-day. Wm. Kern is not clerking in Rehffuss meat market now. Ernst Haarer has taken his place. G. J. Parker, who spent the summer at Dakota, returned last night and will remain here this winter. The sidewalk in the western part of the village, which was torn up on Halloween, has not been replaced. Rev. Pope has visited the homes of 60 of the members of his church since he came here, in September. If you want to have a hearty laugh go and hear Thede Harris as Philip Van Donderspeck, in the Union Spy. There was a special meeting of the Alpha Sigma last evening. The regular meeting occurs next Tuesday evening. One of the most thrilling war stories we have read is "Daring and Suffering." It will be published in the ENTERPRISE. Some miscreants took the nuts from Mr. Yerdon's dray wheels a few nights since, and he has to use Kimble's wagon. D. O. Stringham has given up his position with Wm. Burtless on account of his health, and Dick Gilbert has accepted the position. The Clinton Local will be found on file and for sale at this office. Those wishing to see it are invited to call at the counting room. John Kensler, successor to Kensler Bros., will have a new advertisement next week. In the meantime you will find his store supplied with seasonable goods. "Daring and Suffering" is the name of a new continued story which will be commenced in the ENTERPRISE next week. Now is the time to subscribe. According to the new law and regulations a placard has been put up by the ticket agent at this station, announcing a change of time on the Lake Shore R'y next Sunday. Every householder should see that his chimneys are well cleaned before winter sets in. There is a chimney sweep in town, and it is a good opportunity to have the work done. The Manchester Enterprise thinks "there seems to be a demand for school ma'ams just now." There always was a demand for school ma'ams, especially when they are pretty. Argus, Now, Beakes, you've given yourself away. T. C. Harris, of the Bankrupt store, is booked for a part in the play, "Spy of Shiloh," which is to be played at Manchester next week by local talent. Thede's part is that of a dutchman and we have no doubt he will do the character full justice.—Tecumseh News. Set 'em up again. At the present state of the weather it is hardly necessary for our popular shoe dealer, C. E. Lewis, to tell our readers and his customers to keep their feet warm, but he takes time by the forelock, and if our readers will do likewise they will be supplied with good, warm shoes and boots from his ample stock. See his advertisement. Returning from Clinton last Friday we came by way of George Rawson's to see his gas well. The workmen were just pumping out the sand when we arrived, and as we could not remain long a match was applied at the top of the pipe and a flame somewhat higher than a barrel was obtained. A good many people went there at night to see the singular sight. The funeral of Dr. J. C. Burroughs at Clinton last Friday, was largely attended. The services were at the house and consisted of a prayer, singing by the choir and the masons' funeral service. Clinton Lodge and a number of masons from neighboring lodges attended. The casket was carried to the grave by masonic brothers and the apron and evergreen were deposited in the grave with the remains. Sheriff Whitmore and 12 of his deputies attended the funeral. We have received a letter from Spafard Chapman, who is attending college at Champaign, Ill., in which he says: "I have my hands full of work outside of my college studies, having a flourishing class in shorthand at the business college in the city, and being local editor of the Illinois, and assistant editor of the Sophomore, a class annual. I traveled for a county newspaper during vacation and learned many practical lessons about a newspaper that will be of value to me. Mrs. Chubbuck sends the Enterprise to me and I am always interested in its columns. My best regards to all my friends."

PERSONAL.

Harry Ide has gone to Jackson to work in a broom factory. Mrs. Wm. Brown, of Muskegon, is visiting at George Doty's. Mr. & Mrs. John Askew, of Grass Lake, were in town to-day. James Hendershot went to Tecumseh yesterday to visit relatives. John Wuerthner went to Adrian this morning to attend a funeral. Miss Nora Randall, of Jefferson, visited friends in town last week. Mrs. Fred Hodkins, of Jackson, visited friends in town last Saturday. Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Burtless visited relatives in Franklin over Sunday. Mrs. Lobdell and Mrs. Danforth Gage, visited in Tecumseh last Friday. Mr. & Mrs. Charles Nichols, of Grass Lake, were in town last Thursday. Mrs. Anna Miller, of Fargo, Dakota, is visiting her father, Mr. Hoffman. Mrs. Jane Kingsley is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Calkins, in Chelsea. Mrs. W. R. Bigham, of Clinton, visited her aunt, Mrs. J. L. Stevens, over Sunday. Mrs. Isaac Clarkson, of Detroit, has been visiting her sister Mrs. Root, this week. Mr. & Mrs. Burtless attended the funeral of Joe Burroughs at Clinton last Friday. Mrs. Elizabeth Briegel went to Marshall last Friday to visit a few weeks with her son Gus. Mr. & Mrs. Arch Gordanier, of Clare, have moved here and will live in the same house with Joe. Mrs. James Kelly visited her daughter, Mrs. Henry Cash, in Brooklyn, last Friday and Saturday. Mr. & Mrs. Henion returned from Mt. Pleasant last Friday, where they have been visiting friends. E. H. Russell arrived in town last Monday afternoon, to assist in presenting the Union Spy this week. Geo. W. Harris and S. W. Holmes, of Norvell, and Dr. Holmes, of Indiana, were in town on Monday. Mrs. Piper, who has been visiting at A. H. Green's the past two weeks, returned home to Chicago yesterday. Mrs. B. C. Withereil intends to go to Bay City on Saturday to remain two or three weeks with her husband. We learn that Dr. Utis, formerly of this village, but now of Lansing, is conducting a german paper there. L. L. Merriman returned home to Grass Lake on Monday, having settled up his business for this season. Giles O. Van Degrift came up from Adrian on Monday noon, to visit a few hours with Manchester friends. Frank Dorr and Frank Morey, university boys, came over last evening and will remain the balance of the week. Rev. & Mrs. John Patchin are visiting friends in town: They came from Manchester Tuesday.—Grass Lake News. Rev. W. B. Pope went to Tecumseh on Monday morning, to attend the ministers' meeting, which is held every two weeks. Wm. F. Rehffuss was in Toledo on Monday and he informs us that he investigated the introduction and use of natural gas there. We learn that Mrs. Bessac, of Milan, intends to join her husband in a few weeks, at San Diego, Cal., where he has been for some months. We learn that Frank M. Dean, formerly of this village, who has been editing the Coleman Advocate, has bought the concern. Success to him. Chas. Yarrington, of Norvell, and Charles Miller, of Isoco were in town on Friday last. The latter is a son-in-law of the late John Greenman, of Norvell. Dr. E. N. Palmer, president of the village of Brooklyn, favored us with a call yesterday morning. He was on his way to the north woods for two weeks of sport. Misses Alice and Frank Thorn are teaching school near Ossineke, Alpena county, and will keep posted on the home news through the columns of the ENTERPRISE. J. F. Nestell, Ed. E. Root, Dr. C. F. Kapp, F. J. Briegel and Mat D. Blosser were among the masons who attended the funeral of Dr. J. C. Burroughs at Clinton, on Friday last. Mr. Wood, of Ann Arbor, is in town this week taking orders for Goodrich's Animal Kingdom. It is a fine work. We have had a copy of one of the first editions, for a number of years. We received a line from O. D. Mordoff, of Belleville, on Tuesday, in which he informs us that "Uncle Ike" Wiborn is losing his eyesight and has not been able to read or even recognize anyone, unless they are very close to him.

DARING AND SUFFERING!

Our New Story—Splendidly Illustrated—A History of the Andrews Railroad Raid in Georgia in 1862. WILL BEGIN NEXT WEEK. For the first time the history of this most remarkable event of the civil war is fully, impartially told. The result is a story of surpassing interest, stranger than fiction, but the exact truthfulness of which it is impossible to doubt. The author has consulted all living witnesses, explored the files of confederate newspapers, and the archives at Washington, giving abundant quotations and references, as well as telling his own personal experiences. A score of federal soldiers in disguise penetrated 200 miles from their own lines to the heart of the confederacy, and seized a crowded railway train within the lines of the enemy's camp. Their intention was to burn the railroad bridges on an important line, and their success would have dealt a deadly blow to the confederate cause. Only the unexpected encounter of two extra trains as they flew northward prevented their accomplishing all they proposed, and this obstruction gave rise to a thrilling chase on the rail. When obliged to abandon the captured train the party dispersed in the woods, were hunted down with dogs, suffered a terrible imprisonment, and a third of their number perished on the scaffold! Of the remainder, eight escaped, and six were exchanged a year after leaving their own camp. They received medals and commissions for their bravery, and the whole exploit has usually been considered the most daring of the war. The author does full justice to the energy of the confederates who pursued, and these, on their part, have assisted by verbal and written narrative in making the story complete.

Blew Out the Gas.

A telegram was sent here from Ypsilanti last Friday morning, inquiring if such a man as M. McDougal was known here. Further particulars stated that he had retired the previous night after blowing out the gas at the hotel, and was in a critical condition. The dispatch was forwarded to Clinton, with instructions to deliver to his friends. Frank Brown, of Clinton, his son-in-law, started at once for Ypsilanti, and a telephone message summoned the family to Ypsilanti, but we are happy to state that the physicians were able to restore friend Mc to consciousness, and he was able to be brought home on Sunday. We understand that he had been to Ann Arbor on business and on his return stopped for the night at the hotel near the depot in Ypsilanti. Expecting to take the train for Manchester the following morning, on retiring for the night, he left orders to be called, but when they attempted to call him he made no response, and fearing something was wrong, they opened the door and found him nearly asphyxiated from coal gas. We also learn that McDougal claims that he had about $350 on his person when he arrived in Ypsilanti, but there was only about $30 in his pocket when his friends reached him and he naturally concludes that he has been robbed. The landlord claims that he was not under the influence of liquor when he retired, and we can scarcely account for the careless manner in which the gas was left as he certainly knows how to handle it.

Washtenaw County Items.

There are five prisoners in the jail. A sheep shearer's association has been organized at Chelsea to hold a festival there next April. The government has provided the G. A. R. post at Ann Arbor with 44 headstones, to erect over the graves of departed soldiers. H. M. Holmes, of Lansing, a newspaper man of considerable experience, has purchased a half interest in the Ann Arbor Register. The number of pupils enrolled at the Saline union school is 247. The average number belonging is 233.38, the daily attendance being 221.39. Ann Arbor boasted of a boom and the supervisors tucked the taxes on to make it seem real. What a board of supervisors don't know is hard to find out. A novel scene occurred at an Ann Arbor church a few Sundays ago. A deaf and dumb couple were in attendance and a gentleman interpreted the sermon for them. Charles Whitman has moved to Ann Arbor, and the removal causes vacancies in social and literary circles in Ypsilanti. His office in Ann Arbor is one of the finest law offices in the state. You can never tell what turn the inhabitant of a truly cultured town will do. At Ann Arbor on Halloween the gilded youth tore up the grave stones that marked the last resting place of some of the oldest inhabitants.

NOTICE.

The co-partnership heretofore existing in the village of Manchester, under the style and firm name of Kensler Bros., has this day been dissolved by mutual consent; and that John Kensler, one of the members of said firm, succeeds to the business of said late firm. All matters of business pertaining to said firm are to be settled with him. We thank the public for their past patronage, with the hope it may continue to the successor to the business. Dated, Oct. 28th, 1887. JOHN KENSLER, FREDK KENSLER, OF THE FIRM OF KENSLER BROS.

SHARON.

Frank Merithew has been in Jackson this week, on business. Mrs. Frank Baker and family left for Mattoon, Ill., on Monday. W. B. Osborn went to Detroit on Monday to serve as juror in U. S. court.

BRIDGEWATER.

Mart Dewey is reported somewhat better, but he is yet very weak, and it will be some time before he fully recovers. A large number of people visited Geo. Rawson's last Sunday to see the gas well, but the workmen had sealed the pipe and gone to Chelsea, so the curiosity of the visitors could not be gratified.

IRON CREEK.

Miss Louisa Payne is visiting friends in Saline this week. Mr. H. K. Wilbur, of Manchester, visited at R. B. Green's last week. Mrs. Laura Satterlee, of Montcalm county, has been visiting relatives here. Mrs. W. E. Mills, of Allegan, who has been visiting relatives here the past two weeks, returned home Monday.

NORVELL.

Miss Emeline Krause is on the sick list. Mrs. O. P. Burton is visiting friends in Springville. Martin Uptegrove, of Mason, visited in town this week. Miss Mattie Ashley has gone to Albion to attend school. James Lee is building a new barn at "Happy Valley." Chas. McLean, of Jackson, was in town last Saturday. Mrs. Peter Hyndman, of Tompkins, is visiting friends in town. Wm. Watling, of Ypsilanti, was in town last Thursday and Friday on business. We learn that John M. Colgrove, of Tennessee, an old settler of this township, is dead. Mr. & Mrs. John Hay, who have been visiting friends in Greenville, returned on Tuesday. Mrs. Geo. Osborn, of Grass Lake, visited her parents, Mr. & Mrs. B. G. Harris, Tuesday and Wednesday.

FREEDOM.

The fall term of school in district No. 5 closes to-morrow. The young people enjoyed a little hop at Tom Guffman's Tuesday night. Frank Dresselhaus, who has been teaching at Rowe's Corners, is having a week's vacation. School began in Silver Lake, Pleasant Lake, Rogers' Corners and in the Smith districts last Monday. Albert Uphaus, who has been working near Owosso this summer, returned last week and will spend the winter at home. George Hohenberger claims to have cut a cotton-wood tree on his place last week, which measured eight feet in diameter. The german school began at the Bethel church last Monday, with a good attendance. The new school will be in perfect readiness in a few days.

We learn that Mr. Mitchell, of Lima, who has been attending school at Lansing, will teach the young idea how to shoot, the coming winter, in district No. 7. Last Saturday night, people from all directions, and quite a number residing far from here, congregated in the brick school house in the western part of town, to see the exhibition given by the school and young people of District No. 7, assisted by a few members of the Brooklyn band. The house was filled as it never was before, and it is only justice to say that it was a very creditable entertainment.

Born. PHILLIPS—In this village, on Wednesday, Nov. 9, 1887, to Prof. & Mrs. W. A. Phillips, a daughter.

Married. HORNING—BRAMAN—In Jackson on Wednesday, Nov. 9th, 1887, by Rev. Mr. Holt, Mr. Homer D. Horning, of Norvell, and Miss Alice R. Braman, of Manchester. After visiting friends they will take up their residence in Norvell.

Died. ELEY—In Detroit, on Sunday, Nov. 6, of consumption, Mrs. Mary Eley, aged 59 years. The remains were brought here on Tuesday by C. W. and Theodore Van Horn, of Detroit, and buried in Oak Grove cemetery.

GREENMAN—In Norvell, on Thursday, Nov. 3, 1887, Mr. John Greenman, aged 77 years. The funeral was held at the baptist church in Norvell, on Saturday, at 1 P. M., and was largely attended. Rev. J. J. Phelps officiated. The remains were laid at rest in the cemetery by Comstock Post, G. A. R., of Manchester, of which he was a member.

SWEZEY—In Norvell, on Monday morning, Nov. 7, 1887, of old age, William Swezey, aged 84 years. Deceased was born in Long Island, N. Y., in 1803. At about the age of 24 he married Hettie Weeks, to whom was born seven children, four of whom—James H. Swezey, an attorney at Hastings, Mich., Dr. J. M. Swezey, of Cross Plains, Ind., Dr. W. C. Swezey and Mrs. Dr. McGregor, of Penfield, Kansas,—are still living. All, except Mrs. McGregor, attended the funeral.

His first wife having died about 30 years ago, he married Mrs. Eliza Griffith, who survives him. In early life he was a seafaring man, but gave up the calling and came to Michigan about the year 1833, when he turned his hand to agricultural pursuits. He never gave much attention to politics, at least, was not an office-holder, but was a well paying member of the church. The funeral was held at the baptist church in Norvell at 1 o'clock on Tuesday, Rev. W. L. Palmer, an old and firm friend of the family, officiating.
