About 200 pages, size 5x71; neat paper cover; Price 75 cents.

"The Deutsch-Amerikanischer Gratulant," contains a standard compilation of friendly letters, to wit: Congratulatory letters, Poems and best wisites for Birthdays, New Year's days, Weddings and other occasions; letters of acknowledgments, accounts of travels, petitions, letters of consolation, recommendation, and remembrance, complaints, regrets and invitations, etc.; etc., including a well chosen selection of autograph yerses in the German and English languages, collected and arranged by Hosflich. The title of the above work indicates sufficiently its purpose and contents. There is no lack of similar books, but they are all printed in Germany and calculated for German customs and relations. Therefore their contents are unintelligible and worthless for the use of the American youth.

This standard compilation of letters is marked out very advantageously over similar books in as much as each class of letters is preceded by general introductions, outlines and hints as to the manner of composing the different letters. It would be an impossibility to give for each occasion a letter. But the instructions given in this work will enable any one to compose correctly. chable any one to compose correctly.

Most of the letters are from the well known collections of Rammler, while the poems are selected from Schellhorn's editions, all of which offer comprehensive ideas for composing letters, etc.

(As the English types are inbre easily read by the American youth—than the German types, and as a great many Americans understand only the English types, we have printed the above in roman letters.) ----

It was notified that the melting of the gold and silver would take place and that it would be the last opportunity of contributing. In one of the large rooms of the pagoda two large crucibles were placed, one for gold, the other for silver. Hundreds of men and women, girls, boys and small children passed by, dropping their silver or gold ornaments into the crucibles or handing their precious stones to the clerk for the purpose of being set in the bird's wing. Women gayly dressed and covered with lewels passed by, and, taking a couple of gold bangles from each arm, three words and covered with lewels passed by and, taking a couple of gold bangles from each arm, three words and lianded over offers to the clerk for the use of the purposa of being set in the bird's wing. "The Deutsch-Amerikanischer Gratulant," contains a standard compilation of friendly letters, to-wit: Congratulatory letters, Poems and best wishes for Birthdays, New Year's days, Weddings and other occasions; letters of schnowledgments, accounts of travels, petitions, letters of consolation, recommendation and remembrance, complaints, regress and invitations, etc., etc., including a well chosen selection of autograph yerses in the German and English languages, collected and arranged by Hedlich. The title of the above work indicates sufficiently its purpose and contents. There is no lack of similar books, but they are all printed in Germany and calculated for German customs and relations. Therefore their contents are unintelligible and worthless for the use of the American youth.

This standard compilation of letters is marked out very advantageously over similar books in as much as each class of letters is preceded by general introductions, outlines and hints as to the manner of composing the different letters. It would be an impossibility to give enable any one to compose corrective.

Most of the letters are from the well known collections of Points.

for each occasion a letter. But the instructions given in this work will enable any one to compose correctly.

Most of the letters are from the well known collections of Rammler, while the poems are selected from Schellhorn's editions, all of which offer comprehensive ideas for composing letters, etc.

(As the English types are more easily read by the American youth than the German types and as a great many Americans understand than the German types, and as a great many Americans understan only the English types, we have pristed the above in roman letters.)

Autograph Album Verses, collected and arranged by Hæflich.
64 pages; size 6x7; paper covers, 25 cents. In this copious collection of poetless thoughts can be found a bean-tiful line or verse suitable for expressing in choice language any senti-ment that is desired at that is desired.

Fine selections from the treasures of Gosthe Schiller, Bodenstedt, hefer, Hegner, and many other beloved German writers, have been mirably arranged for convenient reference, as are also the English lections of many beautiful thoughts from Shakespeare, Wordsworth, from Tanawan, and others. Moore, Tennyson, and others.

No book has been offered that contains such an excellent collection from both the German and English writers, and therefore it is the best book for every one that can be obtained.
