

Manchester Enterprise

Published Thursday Evening. Has a large circulation among Merchants, Mechanics, Manufacturers, Farmers and Families generally in the village of Manchester, Chelsea, Saline, Clinton, Norvell, Brooklyn, Napoleon, Grant Lake, and all adjoining country.

Desirable Medium for Advertisers.

Rates Made Known on Application. Subscription $1.50 a Year in Advance. If not paid in advance, $2.00. One copy, six months, 10 cents; three months, 60 cents; one month, 14 cents.

Societies.

ANCIENT ORDER UNITED WORKMEN meet at their hall, over Geo. J. Haussner's drug store, on second and fourth Tuesday evenings of each month. M. E. ROOTH, W. C. W. HARRIS, Secy.

MANCHESTER TENT, No. 141, Knights of the Macabres meet at their room over Geo. J. Haussner's drug store, on second Friday in each month. Visiting knights are invited to attend. M. E. ROOTH, W. C. W. HARRIS, Secy.

LADIES' GOLF CLUB meet at their room over Geo. J. Haussner's drug store, on second Friday in each month. Visiting ladies are invited to attend. M. E. ROOTH, W. C. W. HARRIS, Secy.

MERIDIAN CHAPTER, No. 49, E. A. M., meets at their hall, on Wednesday evenings of each full moon. Companions cordially welcomed. U. W. CARL, H. P. GOSWAMI, Secy.

COMPTON POST, No. 357, G. A. R., meets at their hall, on Wednesday evenings of each month. Visiting comrades invited to attend. J. C. GUERARDI, Adj.

MANCHESTER LODGE, No. 145, F. & A. M., meets at their hall, on Wednesday evenings of each full moon. Visiting brothers are invited to attend. M. E. ROOTH, W. C. W. HARRIS, Secy.

GRESHAM WORKINGMEN'S AID SOCIETY meet at their hall, on Wednesday evenings of each month. Visiting members are invited to attend. W. H. KEARNS, Secy.

Business Cards.

A. C. TAYLOR, M.D., Office at residence on Ann Arbor street, Manchester. Calls by day and night will receive prompt attention.

J. D. CURRY, Conveyancer and Notary Public. Office at the corner of Second and Main streets. Visiting attorneys invited to attend.

THOMAS E. ELLEN, Auctioneer, will attend sale of all kinds of real estate, including farms and houses, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Office at the corner of Second and Main streets.

Attorney at Law.

Office over Robinson & Cooper's Clothing Store.

GOODYEAR RUBBER SHOP.

J. J. BRIGEL, Proprietor.

Laura Green.

Proprietor of the only Photograph Gallery in Manchester.

B. F. REYNOLDS.

Licensed Auctioneer.

DENTIST.

Office over, Fries & Son's store, Clinton, Mich.

JAPANESE CRAPE NAPKINS.

Just received at the Enterprise Office.

P. A. KOTTS.

Manchester, Mich.

Surgeon Dentist.

All dental operations done promptly. See our list of operations on page 1.

S. J. MARSTELLER.

Manufactured and dealer in all kinds of Cemetery and Building Work.

Granite Monuments.

A large and complete stock of selected monuments and tablets always on hand.

G. W. BROWN & CO.

Wholesale and Retail Grocers.

Groceries!

Provisions. Canned Goods.

Canned Goods.

Wholesale and Retail Grocers.

HARDWARE!

Paints and Oils. Glue, Putty, etc.

Come and See Us!

The Oldest Store in Town.

MARQUERITE AND PEGGY ANN.

Mistress Marguerite Anna Vandoecker and poor little Peggy Ann Bay before the most tempting windows. Passed a moonless cold winter day. The day was dreary in the worst. As well as the finest of clothes. And a pair of bright golden rimmed glasses. Being outside, the children were. But only a shawl, this and ragged. And Peggy for cloak and for hood. And she clasped in her arms, like a treasure, a bundle of street gathered wood.

Mistress Marguerite Anna Vandoecker.

With a look of deep thought, Peggy— Poor shivering Peggy Ann Bay— Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

With a look of deep thought, Peggy—

Poor shivering Peggy Ann Bay— Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

PLAYED HIMSELF FREE.

The Adventure of a Russian Pianist Who Wanted to Go to Germany. Arthur Friedheim, the famous pianist, wished to cross the western Russian border, for the purpose of filling his engagement to play in several German cities. As a Russian subject he was obliged to go through all sorts of formalities with Russian officials before leaving the country. Two weeks before the date of his first concert he asked the captain of the city of St. Petersburg, where he was stopping, to ask the governor of Livonia to ask the mayor of Pernau, where he was born, for the consent of the Pernau police to the departure of Arthur Friedheim to Germany. Of course, the mayor and the police of Pernau had nothing against Mr. Friedheim or his concert tour in Germany, and they said so in a letter which they sent to the captain of the capital by mail, on Monday.

The Adventure of a Russian Pianist Who Wanted to Go to Germany.

Arthur Friedheim, the famous pianist, wished to cross the western Russian border, for the purpose of filling his engagement to play in several German cities. As a Russian subject he was obliged to go through all sorts of formalities with Russian officials before leaving the country. Two weeks before the date of his first concert he asked the captain of the city of St. Petersburg, where he was stopping, to ask the governor of Livonia to ask the mayor of Pernau, where he was born, for the consent of the Pernau police to the departure of Arthur Friedheim to Germany. Of course, the mayor and the police of Pernau had nothing against Mr. Friedheim or his concert tour in Germany, and they said so in a letter which they sent to the captain of the capital by mail, on Monday.

Decay of Tradition.

The invention of Writing Seems to Have Put an End to Folk Lore. It is said that the invention of writing injured the power of memory, and years ago, before the schoolmaster was abroad, as he is nowadays, it was possible to meet with many instances of strong memory capacity among persons who could neither read nor write. Complicated accounts could be kept by the aid of a "tally" only, and the memory of many a small farmer or petty rural shopkeeper was his only ledger and order book. It is certain that since the art of writing has become an almost universal accomplishment the faculty of memory, being less needed, is less cultivated.

Fond of Noise.

It is not always easy to tell why woodpeckers select one tree rather than others of the same kind in the forest to begin their operations upon, or why they attack one side of a tree and leave the other untouched. Commonly it will be found, no doubt, that worms or ants are concealed beneath the point selected, and that the woodpecker is guided in his search by the sense of hearing.

But there are circumstances which go to show that the woodpecker is not always searching for food or guided by sound. In the winter, when worms are scarce and dormant and silent, he will make every chink for a long distance around by tapping on a dead, dry branch, or on the hollow trunk of a tree. He does not then apply his ear to the bark to listen for the noise of the worms beneath, but his object seems to be to make all the noise he can himself.

The yellow hammer, or golden winged woodpecker, is most easily studied, because he is most fearless and most nearly domestic in his habits. Where hollow trunks of trees are easily found, he usually confines his attentions to them; but in prairie regions he bores holes through hollow pillars, steeples of churches, and other structures which promise an opening into an interior.

At times, for the writer has watched him do this, he has noted in an unusual racket upon one side of an oak board, where by moving six inches he was at perfect liberty to look over upon the other side of the board and investigate whatever he could be hoping to reach by boring a hole through it. Indeed, it was perfectly immaterial upon which side of it he should begin operations.

One year the writer occupied a house which had large hollow pillars in front. Some smooth, round holes in them, about two inches in diameter, indicated what freedom the yellow hammer had used and would use again. In the early spring they began operations, and it was impossible to sleep in that house after daybreak.

The birds would not have been harmed for this, even if it had been and pich a tent on the spot; but some experimenting was done at their expense.

It was plain that noise was what they cared most for, as they would bore a hole within a few inches of one which was already formed, and which would answer every possible purpose as well as the new one. To try them on this point, a small, empty cask, probably of nail cask, was set bottom upward on a carpenter's bench in front of the house.

The yellow hammer could make no progress if their intention was to perforate the staves, but they could get out of the empty cask a wonderful volume of noise. They quitted work on the pillars at once, but the joke of this thing became apparent when it was found that, whereas they had drilled one hole, they now were working upon the whole town.—Youth's Companion.

It is not always easy to tell why woodpeckers select one tree rather than others of the same kind in the forest to begin their operations upon, or why they attack one side of a tree and leave the other untouched. Commonly it will be found, no doubt, that worms or ants are concealed beneath the point selected, and that the woodpecker is guided in his search by the sense of hearing.

But there are circumstances which go to show that the woodpecker is not always searching for food or guided by sound. In the winter, when worms are scarce and dormant and silent, he will make every chink for a long distance around by tapping on a dead, dry branch, or on the hollow trunk of a tree. He does not then apply his ear to the bark to listen for the noise of the worms beneath, but his object seems to be to make all the noise he can himself.

The yellow hammer, or golden winged woodpecker, is most easily studied, because he is most fearless and most nearly domestic in his habits. Where hollow trunks of trees are easily found, he usually confines his attentions to them; but in prairie regions he bores holes through hollow pillars, steeples of churches, and other structures which promise an opening into an interior.

At times, for the writer has watched him do this, he has noted in an unusual racket upon one side of an oak board, where by moving six inches he was at perfect liberty to look over upon the other side of the board and investigate whatever he could be hoping to reach by boring a hole through it. Indeed, it was perfectly immaterial upon which side of it he should begin operations.

One year the writer occupied a house which had large hollow pillars in front. Some smooth, round holes in them, about two inches in diameter, indicated what freedom the yellow hammer had used and would use again. In the early spring they began operations, and it was impossible to sleep in that house after daybreak.

The birds would not have been harmed for this, even if it had been and pich a tent on the spot; but some experimenting was done at their expense.

It was plain that noise was what they cared most for, as they would bore a hole within a few inches of one which was already formed, and which would answer every possible purpose as well as the new one. To try them on this point, a small, empty cask, probably of nail cask, was set bottom upward on a carpenter's bench in front of the house.

The yellow hammer could make no progress if their intention was to perforate the staves, but they could get out of the empty cask a wonderful volume of noise. They quitted work on the pillars at once, but the joke of this thing became apparent when it was found that, whereas they had drilled one hole, they now were working upon the whole town.—Youth's Companion.

It is not always easy to tell why woodpeckers select one tree rather than others of the same kind in the forest to begin their operations upon, or why they attack one side of a tree and leave the other untouched. Commonly it will be found, no doubt, that worms or ants are concealed beneath the point selected, and that the woodpecker is guided in his search by the sense of hearing.

But there are circumstances which go to show that the woodpecker is not always searching for food or guided by sound. In the winter, when worms are scarce and dormant and silent, he will make every chink for a long distance around by tapping on a dead, dry branch, or on the hollow trunk of a tree. He does not then apply his ear to the bark to listen for the noise of the worms beneath, but his object seems to be to make all the noise he can himself.

The yellow hammer, or golden winged woodpecker, is most easily studied, because he is most fearless and most nearly domestic in his habits. Where hollow trunks of trees are easily found, he usually confines his attentions to them; but in prairie regions he bores holes through hollow pillars, steeples of churches, and other structures which promise an opening into an interior.

At times, for the writer has watched him do this, he has noted in an unusual racket upon one side of an oak board, where by moving six inches he was at perfect liberty to look over upon the other side of the board and investigate whatever he could be hoping to reach by boring a hole through it. Indeed, it was perfectly immaterial upon which side of it he should begin operations.

One year the writer occupied a house which had large hollow pillars in front. Some smooth, round holes in them, about two inches in diameter, indicated what freedom the yellow hammer had used and would use again. In the early spring they began operations, and it was impossible to sleep in that house after daybreak.

The birds would not have been harmed for this, even if it had been and pich a tent on the spot; but some experimenting was done at their expense.

It was plain that noise was what they cared most for, as they would bore a hole within a few inches of one which was already formed, and which would answer every possible purpose as well as the new one. To try them on this point, a small, empty cask, probably of nail cask, was set bottom upward on a carpenter's bench in front of the house.

The yellow hammer could make no progress if their intention was to perforate the staves, but they could get out of the empty cask a wonderful volume of noise. They quitted work on the pillars at once, but the joke of this thing became apparent when it was found that, whereas they had drilled one hole, they now were working upon the whole town.—Youth's Companion.

It is not always easy to tell why woodpeckers select one tree rather than others of the same kind in the forest to begin their operations upon, or why they attack one side of a tree and leave the other untouched. Commonly it will be found, no doubt, that worms or ants are concealed beneath the point selected, and that the woodpecker is guided in his search by the sense of hearing.

But there are circumstances which go to show that the woodpecker is not always searching for food or guided by sound. In the winter, when worms are scarce and dormant and silent, he will make every chink for a long distance around by tapping on a dead, dry branch, or on the hollow trunk of a tree. He does not then apply his ear to the bark to listen for the noise of the worms beneath, but his object seems to be to make all the noise he can himself.

The yellow hammer, or golden winged woodpecker, is most easily studied, because he is most fearless and most nearly domestic in his habits. Where hollow trunks of trees are easily found, he usually confines his attentions to them; but in prairie regions he bores holes through hollow pillars, steeples of churches, and other structures which promise an opening into an interior.

At times, for the writer has watched him do this, he has noted in an unusual racket upon one side of an oak board, where by moving six inches he was at perfect liberty to look over upon the other side of the board and investigate whatever he could be hoping to reach by boring a hole through it. Indeed, it was perfectly immaterial upon which side of it he should begin operations.

One year the writer occupied a house which had large hollow pillars in front. Some smooth, round holes in them, about two inches in diameter, indicated what freedom the yellow hammer had used and would use again. In the early spring they began operations, and it was impossible to sleep in that house after daybreak.

The birds would not have been harmed for this, even if it had been and pich a tent on the spot; but some experimenting was done at their expense.

It was plain that noise was what they cared most for, as they would bore a hole within a few inches of one which was already formed, and which would answer every possible purpose as well as the new one. To try them on this point, a small, empty cask, probably of nail cask, was set bottom upward on a carpenter's bench in front of the house.

The yellow hammer could make no progress if their intention was to perforate the staves, but they could get out of the empty cask a wonderful volume of noise. They quitted work on the pillars at once, but the joke of this thing became apparent when it was found that, whereas they had drilled one hole, they now were working upon the whole town.—Youth's Companion.

It is not always easy to tell why woodpeckers select one tree rather than others of the same kind in the forest to begin their operations upon, or why they attack one side of a tree and leave the other untouched. Commonly it will be found, no doubt, that worms or ants are concealed beneath the point selected, and that the woodpecker is guided in his search by the sense of hearing.

But there are circumstances which go to show that the woodpecker is not always searching for food or guided by sound. In the winter, when worms are scarce and dormant and silent, he will make every chink for a long distance around by tapping on a dead, dry branch, or on the hollow trunk of a tree. He does not then apply his ear to the bark to listen for the noise of the worms beneath, but his object seems to be to make all the noise he can himself.

The yellow hammer, or golden winged woodpecker, is most easily studied, because he is most fearless and most nearly domestic in his habits. Where hollow trunks of trees are easily found, he usually confines his attentions to them; but in prairie regions he bores holes through hollow pillars, steeples of churches, and other structures which promise an opening into an interior.

At times, for the writer has watched him do this, he has noted in an unusual racket upon one side of an oak board, where by moving six inches he was at perfect liberty to look over upon the other side of the board and investigate whatever he could be hoping to reach by boring a hole through it. Indeed, it was perfectly immaterial upon which side of it he should begin operations.

Mistress Marguerite Anna Vandoecker.

With a look of deep thought, Peggy— Poor shivering Peggy Ann Bay— Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

With a look of deep thought, Peggy—

Poor shivering Peggy Ann Bay— Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Poor shivering Peggy Ann Bay—

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there, isn't it daisy! But I scarcely can't believe there can be! For 'twould make 'em so good they'd go halves."

Soiled: "Is there, I wonder, anything new to come every day? Oh, my! Is there

THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1889.

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES.

Alumni tomorrow night. They are putting up Dan Gage's house this week. The lake shore railroad paymaster was in town on Monday. Lewis Kobbe has moved his portable saw mill back to Freedom. There were over 80 persons in attendance at the M. E. Sunday school last Sunday. Mr. House of Clinton brought a lot of furniture to one of our citizens on Saturday. The baptist society and friends, will meet with Mrs. Wait, next Tuesday afternoon. We learn that Dr. Hunter of Clinton talks of coming here one day of each week to practice dentistry. Clark Bros have built a nice row boat for Charlie Van Valkenburg, and it will be put on Iron creek pond. Wool buyers have been here this week looking at the large piles of wool in the store houses of our local dealers. The ladies of the presbyterian society will meet at the residence of Henry Gilbert, on Thursday afternoon, July 4th. The subject of sermon at the universalist church next Sunday, June 30th at 10:30 will be "The Bow in the Cloud." Sunday being a pleasant day, it was greatly appreciated by those who wished to ride out and the livery men gathered in the checkers. Rev. A. A. Fries of Clinton will preach in the baptist church on Sunday, June 30th, morning and evening in exchange with Rev. Kerr. J. H. Kingsley's horse frightened at a paper blown under it, broke the fastening and ran away, breaking the buggy. Do not throw papers in the streets. We wish that those who wish copies of next weeks paper containing the report of commencement week exercises, would hand in their orders on or before Tuesday morning. The large crowd of people on the street on Saturday evening watched a paper balloon which was sent up, until it disappeared in the distance, towards the wilds of Bridgewater. A good deal to prove whether a horse is a "roarer" or not, is to pull his nose in towards the right side of his chest, and punch him slightly in the ribs. If he is a "roarer" he will show it at once. The east end of Madison street from J. F. Nestell's house to the river has been graded so that it is safe to drive down it. The street is not much used excepting by the ice men but it needed repairing. A new volume of Petersons magazine begins with the July number. Each fresh volume of the magazine offers new and varied attractions. It numbers among its contributors some of the leading writers of the country. They have been doing a little work on nearly every street in the village and on some streets a good deal has been done. The cross walks now require attention as they are nearly all too low, while many are in a dilapidated condition. J. J. Briegel proprietor of the Good-year house barber shop now has a bath room in connection, a convenience which will doubtless be appreciated by his patrons. Water is supplied from a tank in the basement and the water heated by a patent gasoline burner underneath the tub. Rev. Pope performed a very important part in the services at the M. E. church Sunday morning. The organist being absent he invited the best singers in the congregation to take seats with the choir, and seating himself at the organ, played and sang the hymns, then took his place in the pulpit and delivered an excellent discourse. Our readers should not forget the celebration at Wampler's lake on Thursday next, July 4th. Mr. Moore always tries to make it pleasant for his guests and he gives free use of his grove to those who wish to enjoy a picnic. Sports of various kinds will amuse the crowd and the torchlight procession band with displaying the music. A dance will be held afternoon and evening. The closing chapters of the Lincoln history, in the July Century, will be found interesting as they describe the president's re-nomination and Mr. Horace Greeley's self-suggested peace trip to Niagara. Lincoln's sagacity in dealing with men and measures, and occasionally his humor; Chase's appointment to the chief justiceship; the executive dealing with the "copperhead"; the account of the measures adopted by the religious denominations in support of the administration, &c.

It may not be generally known that the United States express Co. do business on the Lake Shore while the American have the Michigan Central. When the Lake Shore leased the D. H. & S. W. R'y the American had offices along the line from Ypsilanti to Hillsdale and they have remained so, but there is now likely to be a change and the U. S. will take charge of the offices and route. E. E. Hugel, an agent of the company was here a few days ago investigating the matter and it is likely the change will soon be made. The U. S. will have offices with only one express office, but then it matters not as there is no competition between them.

Mrs. Loomis has a brother and sister visiting her. Mack Robison went to Jackson Monday, on business. Miss Carrie Fowle of Moscow is visiting friends in town. Spencer Case went to Grand Rapids on Monday, on business. Dr. Kotts and B. W. Amsden visited in Saline on Sunday. Miss Metta Adams of Ypsilanti is visiting at C. J. Robison's. Mrs. Elmer Cushman of Delhi Mills is visiting in this vicinity. Will Gage came down from Jackson to visit and fish for a week or two. Wm. Baxter went to Jackson to attend Mr. Fountain's funeral on Tuesday. Miss Nettie Clarkon of Jackson visited friends in town a few days last week. Mrs. S. F. Twist went to Ypsilanti on Tuesday to visit friends a week or two. Albert Case of Summit was shaking hands with friends in town on Saturday. Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Wiggins of Adrian visited at Chas. Treftethers' on Sunday. Miss Ella Morey of Clinton came here yesterday to attend commencement exercises. Prof. & Mrs. Loomis will go to Cass county where his parents reside, in a few days. Jacob Perrin has recovered from his long and serious illness, sufficient to walk up town. Miss Ella Calley of Jackson, formerly a teacher in our school, is visiting at M. D. Case's. Miss Carrie Case came here on Monday to visit school friends on commencement week. M. McDougal of Bridgewater was in town on Saturday for the first time in about a year. Mrs. Theo. Crane of Tecumseh has been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. J. Robison, the past week. Prof. Thomas F. Moran of Elk River, Minn, arrived in town on Tuesday to visit his parents. Mrs. George Miller and daughter and Miss Anna Neesling, visited in Bridgewater on Sunday. Our venerable friend James Graham of Norvell, paid us a visit yesterday and renewed his subscription. Allie Hough who has been at New Era, Ind., with his brother Will, who is rail road agent there, has returned home. On Sunday last N. Schmid entertained Messrs. Moerhead, Hulbert, Lehr, Marx and Pfeiffer, at his cottage at Sand Lake.

We understand that Michael Brenner, of Ann Arbor sprained his wrist in getting off a freight train, at Pinckney, last week. Will Reichert and John Burkhardt who have been attending the university at Elmhurst, Ill., returned home last Saturday. Mr. & Mrs. Zell L. Baldwin arrived in town on Thursday last from the east, and visited here until Saturday when they continued their journey homeward. Dr. F. A. Kotts went to Saline yesterday afternoon where he acted as "right hand" for his brother dentist, Dr. Keller, in his marriage with Miss Collins. Marsteller, of the Clinton marble works was in town on Friday last and made us a call. He is getting ready to set some fine monuments in oak grove cemetery. Capt. Allen was in town a few hours on Saturday. He had been to Raisin Valley to attend the commencement exercises at the Seminary, where he delivered an address. We learn that Mr. & Mrs. J. J. Robison of Ann Arbor went to Phelps, N. Y. last week to attend the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the settlement of the place by his grandfather. We learn that Prof. J. W. Robison will not teach at Wolcott, N. Y. another year, but has secured another situation. We also learn that Mrs. B. will not teach at all the coming year but will take much needed rest. Sam Osborn, son of W. B. Osborn of Sharon, was one of the 78 graduates from the Ann Arbor high school this year and was chosen to deliver the oration. It is our pleasure to say that he stood at the head of the class. Cyrus H. Fountain, who many years ago was a resident of this village, but of the city of Jackson for the past 25 years, and he has held various prominent offices, was stricken with paralysis and died in a few hours, on Saturday. His wife died last fall. Ira B. Lakin of Ypsilanti township, died of consumption very suddenly Monday afternoon, June 17th, at his sisters in the city, aged 28 years. He formerly taught the Clinton schools and was engaged to superintend our schools, when he found that his health would not permit, and Prof. Phillips was engaged in his place. Since then he has gradually lost strength, yet he has made an effort to earn a living for himself and family, and worked until noon on the day he died.

Amsden informs us that he has sold 75 watches since he came here and has a fine line for hand, also silver wares, knives, forks and spoons. He makes a specialty of repairing.

After parading the principle streets it will march to the grove where the declaration of independence will be read, the national songs sung, and an oration delivered by Prof. Thomas F. Moran of Elk River, Minn. There will be all sorts of sports, for prizes, to amuse the people and lots of music to soothe the savage breast. In the evening the grounds will be illuminated with colored lights and a display of fireworks.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE.—In all wheat fields that I have examined there has been found a new enemy to our grain crops, viz: Siphonaphis, or grain aphid. They feed on wheat, oats and barley, but rye seems to be their favorite food and it is due to the general growing of this crop that this new enemy has been brought among us. I need not describe them, strike a handful of grain heads in your open hand and you will find hundreds of them. They feed on the kernel, puncturing and sucking the juice, causing the kernel to shrink away to a mere chaff. Entomologists estimate that a single female under favorable circumstances will within 20 days be the progenitor of more than two millions of individuals. Late reports state that these pests have already destroyed more than one-half the grain crops on large sections of Indians and Ohio. L. D. W.

Gen. Sherman never speaks but he says something worth hearing. In presenting diplomas to the West Point graduates, recently, he remarked that he had looked at one of their diplomas, and it was exactly like one he had received forty-nine years ago. Then he said: "Now, young gentlemen, after you get home and have a little vacation, which will slip by before you know it, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your cash box, or how many ten penny nails you can put in one keg. That's more than any of you can tell, I think, but to know how many is of more importance than some of the things you study out on the black-board. You have got to learn to account for everything put into your care. There's an old house built many years ago, and that I never saw that I had to pay for. Gen. Stanley here and I have been all through the mill boys. But the best of the lively old boy's remarks were these: "The army is no merely a school, but a man learns as long as he is in the army. Just as if he were a school, and when the time comes, and that will be your commission, which you should read carefully, and remember that it is a pledge on your part that you will serve with fidelity to the government. A little while after that you will go to some military post and perhaps be appointed as quartermaster and commissary. Then you will have to watch sharp and be ready when your superior comes around and ask how many dollars you have in your

BY MAT D. BLOSSER.

THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1889.

No. 482.—A Posing Puzzle. 1. X dawning man will catch at a strag...

Insert a vowel wherever there is an x in the fifteen sentences above.

No. 483.—The Maltese Cross.

The walks in a certain garden were laid out in the form of a Maltese cross.

No. 484.—Transpositions. My first's a simple piece of wood.

No. 485.—The Legacies. Near to my house there lived a bachelor.

No. 486.—A Hollow Square. The upper horizontal, "notes taken at a meeting."

Some Ages of Man. The infant's age—Cribbage. The collector's age—Dunnage.

Key to the Puzzler. No. 474.—Behaved Rhymes: (a) Chimes—lines. (b) Scorn—corn. (c) Block—lock.

No. 475.—A Date Puzzle: 1422. No. 478.—A Pyramid: G E M M E D A L C O R M O R A N T

No. 480.—Easy Word Squares: C A R E G F L E A A C I D L E A P

Every day that the sun rises upon the American people it sees an addition of $2,500,000 to the accumulation of wealth in the United States.

Wonderful Changes That Took Place in the City During Thirty-nine Years. I visited Naples, exclusively for reasons connected with the health of my family.

But at the later period there lay upon the surface every sign not only of change, but of transformation. There was a free press, free speech, free worship and freedom of person.

A supply of water, faulty alike in quality and quantity, had been replaced at a great cost by one of first rate purity and abundance.

A Peculiar Duel. A very peculiar preliminary to a death sentence that deserves to be put on record was that in vogue in Præconia in the Fifteenth century.

The nutmeg is the innermost kernel of the fruit of a small tree that grows about thirty feet high.

The Dime Museum Lecturer. A New York dime museum possesses a lecturer who sings oratory at the audience in this fashion:

This, ladies and gentlemen, is Cingalee, the sword and spike walker. She is a native of Lucknow, India.

A Maine Fish Story. A fisherman in Winthrop tells that he caught a pickerel through the ice on Lake Maranocook.

REVIEW OF THE QUARTER.

LESSON XIII, SECOND QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, JUNE 30.

Importance of the Lessons Here Reviewed. Alternative Possibilities of Happiness or Misery—Condition and Population of Palestine—Roman Law.

The lessons for the second quarter of this year deal with the later teachings and most momentous prophecy of Christ—that concerning the destruction of the Temple.

On the other hand, admit the truth of this narration and what awful conceptions at once rise to impress the mind: God, eternity, sin, moral accountability, retribution and liability to eternal woe.

First, it is to be noted that the four gospels were written in the Greek language, though there is evidence that Matthew first composed his in Hebrew.

The government was in like manner despotic. Hence the practice of the Romans to slaughter without mercy till a country was conquered.

The nutmeg is the innermost kernel of the fruit of a small tree that grows about thirty feet high.

The Dime Museum Lecturer. A New York dime museum possesses a lecturer who sings oratory at the audience in this fashion:

This, ladies and gentlemen, is Cingalee, the sword and spike walker. She is a native of Lucknow, India.

A Maine Fish Story. A fisherman in Winthrop tells that he caught a pickerel through the ice on Lake Maranocook.

—Birthday Card!— Plain or Colored, call at the

ENTERPRISE OFFICE. MICHIGAN SOUTHERN BREWERY

—AND— Bottling Works

MANCHESTER MICH LAGER BEER! By the Barrel, Keg, or Case.

For Family Use. J. KOCH, PROP. Traub & Mahrie, - General Agents.

One Dozen Desimon's Tourest's Taz! For attaching to Trunks, Baskets, Packages, etc.

With stout strings, ready to be on Best by mail on receipt of six stamps.

The New Vibrator. The Grain-Saving, Time-Saving, Money-Saving Thresher of this day and age.

AS MORE Points of Exclusivity Superiority than all others combined. EVERY Thresherman and Farmer is delighted with its marvelous work.

NOT only Superior for all kinds of Grain, but the only successful handler of all Seeds. ENTIRE Threshing Expenses (often 3 to 5 times that amount) made by extra Grain Saved.

VIBRATOR owners get the best jobs and make the most Money. INCOMPARABLE for Simplicity, Efficiency, and Durability.

BYOND all rivalry for Rapid Work, Perfect Cleaning, and for Saving Grain.

THIS is true of a large percentage of the Clothing in these days. It's slightly superficially, attractive, looks well.

It is true we have lower grades but as a matter of ultimate economy and permanent satisfaction by all means give preference to the higher grades.

ROBISON & KOEBBE

IF YOU WILL NOT SELL YOUR CREAM. SAVE MONEY BY Making GOOD Butter!

At home with the Buckeye Churn. Don't pass me by if you want

HARDWARE!

Get a GALE Plow!

The Marshall Sheep Shears!

Every Pair Warranted, by J. H. KINGSLEY.

BEFORE SUBSCRIBING FOR ANY PAPER

We wish you to Read the Following

POINTER!

And see what we are doing for the Readers of the ENTERPRISE.

1st. Grand Continued Stories.

2d. Best Selections of Prose and Poetry.

3d. Sunday School Lessons.

4th. Choice Piece of Music.

5th. Latest State News.

6th. County News from Papers, Telegraph, Telephone, etc.

7th. Correspondents in Surrounding Towns.

8th. Communications from People traveling.

9th. School Items from Village and Country.

10th. Reports of Club Meetings, Societies, &c.

11th. Market Reports at Home and in Detroit, set up New Every Thursday.

12th. Large amount of Local News, the largest of any paper in Southern Michigan. For proof count the items on 3d and 4th pages.

THE PHACA ORGAN. HALLETT & DAVIS, STEINWAY AND NEW ENGLAND PIANOS!

Dr. C. F. KAPP, Manchester, Mich.

ATTENTION EVERYBODY! CLARK BROTHERS, Contractors and Builders

Are prepared to take contracts for buildings of all kinds With our new Steam Planing Mills

We are prepared to manufacture on short notice Sash, Mouldings, Etc.

—And do— Turning, Planing, Scroll Sawing, Etc.

—It— First-Class Style

Mills at Cass's Lumber Yard, near Lake Shore Depot. Manchester, - Mich.

WE HAVE A FINE ASSORTMENT of

Blank Books!

of our own manufacture, such as

Notes, Receipts, Township Orders, School Orders,

60, 60.

They are all neatly printed on good paper and substantially bound. We make them for the trade and sell them in quantities or at retail. We also make

—TABLETS— of various qualities and sizes, also

Writing and Composition Books, and many other things for every day use by students and others.

CALL AND SEE SAMPLES at the Enterprise Steam Printing House

JUST RECEIVED A new lot and two sizes of Japanese Napkins!

of the latest designs and patterns, at the ENTERPRISE OFFICE.

LADIES' PERLES

No. 1000. These are the finest of the kind ever made. They are made of the finest glass and are of the most perfect shape.

They do not break and are of the most perfect shape. They are made of the finest glass and are of the most perfect shape.

Lyons & Co. and F. E. Steinhilber.