THE CAPTAIN'S GRIP.

An old California man, now, but a few years back, a ship's captain, and he had been stricken with a disease that had left him helpless. He was taken to a hospital, where he was treated with care, and finally recovered. He returned home, and was able to walk about again.

UNPROMPTED ODE ENDERS.

The poet's muse was, as usual, inspiring him with new thoughts and ideas. He would sit for hours, lost in thought, and then suddenly spring to life with a burst of poetic inspiration. He would write down his thoughts, and then set them aside, to be worked over later.

S. S. LESSON - OCT. 6.

Lesson I—Parables of the Wise Man.

The wise man said, 'Beware the unwise man.' He knew that the unwise man would only bring trouble and grief. He had learned this from his own experience, and he did not want others to suffer the same fate.
