MATTERS AND STUFF OF INTEREST TO FEMININES

BY MARY M. HARRISON

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1898

The supply of dressed meat is now fairly abundant and will be increased still more next week. A variety of meats from the United States is expected at the wholesale houses.

In the fight against the tuberculosis epidemic of the past year, it is difficult to determine the accuracy of these statistics, since the disease is still prevalent in many parts of the United States. In cities and towns, where the disease is most prevalent, the mortality rate is high. In general, the mortality rate is lower in rural districts.

The Indian policy now in vogue is usually called "recognition," but it is really a policy of suppression. The idea is to recognize the Indian as a civilized being, and then to suppress his native customs in order to make him adopt European ideas.

Many of the failures in New York, Chicago, and other large cities, are due to the influence of the "good times" spirit. This spirit is carried to a great extent by newspapers and magazines. Such publications spread the idea that it is possible to live without work and still enjoy life. This idea is pernicious, as it leads to carelessness in business and to the neglect of health.

The cotton harvest is now nearing its close, and the price of cotton is rising. The demand for cotton is being met by a decrease in the supply. The price of cotton is expected to reach a new high point.

Railway rates have been increased by the government. The increase is due to the cost of maintaining the railway system. The government has been unable to meet the expenses of the railway system from the revenue of the government.

The weather is cold and the Christmas season is approaching. Many people are preparing for the holiday season. The shops are filled with Christmas presents, and the streets are decorated with lights and garlands.

The football season is now in full swing. Many sporting events are being held, and the crowds are large. The football games are exciting and popular, and many spectators are present at the games.
