SETTLING IN THE WEST

NEW YORK, OCT. 22.

The present conditions of travel by rail and steam are so favorable as to make a trip to the Pacific coast a matter of little inconvenience and greatly reduced cost.

Two or three large excursions are now being made to the West, and the demand for railroad and steamship tickets is unusually heavy.

The railroad rates are reduced, and the passengers are not required to stand for long hours in the heat or cold.

Arrangements have been made for the accommodation of the passengers, and the hotels are well supplied with the necessary comforts.

The climate of the West is very pleasant, and the vegetation is luxuriant.

The land is fertile, and the climate is healthy.

The people are friendly and hospitable, and the opportunities for investment are excellent.

The Western states are rapidly developing, and the future is bright with prospects of wealth and progress.

The following is a list of the places that may be visited:

San Francisco
Seattle
Portland
ynn
Vancouver

The railroad companies are making every effort to accommodate the travelers, and the steamship lines are equally effective.

The Western states are rapidly developing, and the future is bright with prospects of wealth and progress.
