FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

AN IMPROVED METHOD OF POULTRY COOKING.

In a recent issue of the "National Agricultural Journal" a description is given of an improved method of cooking veal and pork for the winter table, which is said to be highly commendable. The method is as follows: Select the dressed veal or pork, and cut it into small pieces. Mix the meat with a little flour and water, and add to it a pound of kept vegetables, such as cabbage, carrots, turnips, etc., and a small quantity of beef fat. Mix all the ingredients well, and put them into a loaf pan. Set the pan in a moderate oven, and bake the veal loaf for about 1½ hours, or until it is done. The veal loaf is then removed from the pan, and the meat is served hot, with a sauce of gravy made from the meat juice.

SPOONER GONE HENCE AND THE COTTON BLOCKING ARE IN RUMBULLION.

The funeral services of Spooner, a prominent citizen of this city, were held yesterday, and the remains were interred in the cemetery, concluding the services with a requiem mass at the Church of the Holy Family.

The Cotton blocking are in a state of great excitement, and the situation is considered critical. The rise in the price of cotton has caused a great deal of economic distress, and the farmers are demanding higher prices for their crop. The situation is being closely watched by the government, and actions are being taken to stabilize the market.

Boston, November 3, 1861.

A correspondent of the "Boston Herald" reports that the U.S. fleet is on its way to the foreign ports. The fleet is composed of the "Merrimack," the "Kearsarge," and the "P_posso," and is under the command of Rear-Admiral D. D. Porter. The ships are expected to arrive at their destination in a few days, and will remain there for a few months to protect American commerce.

The correspondent also reports that the British government has sent out a fleet to protect its own commerce. The fleet is composed of the "Ark," the "Hercules," and the "Victory," and is under the command of Admiral E. M. Parry. The ships are expected to arrive at their destination in a few days, and will remain there for a few months to protect British commerce.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I am writing to express my concern regarding the recent theft of books from our school library. As a parent, I am deeply troubled by this incident and believe it is necessary to address this issue with urgency and seriousness.

According to the information provided, a number of books, including textbooks and reference materials, have been stolen from the library. This act of vandalism not only compromises the educational experience of our students but also poses a threat to the integrity of our academic community. It is essential that we take immediate steps to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.

I understand that the school administration is already working on strategies to combat this problem. However, I urge my fellow parents to contribute their ideas and suggestions to ensure a comprehensive solution. Together, we can create a safer environment for our children.

Sincerely,

THE DEMAND

We have been made aware of the frequent thefts of books, clothing, and other items from the school. This issue has become a significant concern among parents and students alike. It is imperative that we address this problem with decisiveness and urgency.

In light of this situation, I propose the implementation of a strict monitoring system. This could include the installation of surveillance cameras, the establishment of a dedicated security team, and the enforcement of strict penalties for individuals caught engaging in such activities.

Furthermore, I believe it is crucial to educate our students about the importance of respecting property and the consequences of stealing. Regular workshops and discussions on this topic could help create a culture of accountability and responsibility among our youth.

I urge the school administration to take this matter seriously and to take immediate action to safeguard our property and ensure a safe learning environment for all.

Yours sincerely,

BANG OR BANG. - One of the most striking features of the present campaign in California is the great interest which the voters are showing. The state has never known a more exciting campaign, and the results of the vote will be watched with great interest.

The candidates are all active and are working hard to gain the support of the voters. The campaign is going on in a most energetic manner, and the results will be known in a few days.
