THE LOST DETAIL.

The following case comes from a man who was a physician of high standing and notoriety in the city of New York. He was a man of large wealth, and had been a prominent figure in the medical world for many years. He was a man who was highly respected by his colleagues, and was known for his kindness and generosity.

The case was one of great interest to the medical world, and was reported in the New York Medical Journal. It was a case of a patient who had been treated by Dr. Smith, the physician whom we have mentioned.

The patient was a man of middle age, who had been suffering from a disease of the heart for some time. He had been treated by Dr. Smith, who had given him the usual treatment for the disease, but it had not been successful.

Dr. Smith had been treating the patient for several months, but the disease had not been cured. The patient was becoming worse, and Dr. Smith was beginning to lose hope.

One day, the patient came to Dr. Smith's office, and said that he had been suffering from a severe pain in the chest.

Dr. Smith examined the patient, and found that the pain was due to a disease of the heart. He immediately gave the patient a new treatment, and the patient began to improve.

In a few days, the patient was well enough to leave the hospital. He went home, and Dr. Smith continued to treat him.

A few weeks later, the patient returned to the hospital, and Dr. Smith examined him again.

Dr. Smith found that the patient was much improved, and that the disease of the heart was on the decline.

Dr. Smith then gave the patient a new treatment, and the patient continued to improve.

In a few months, the patient was completely cured of the disease of the heart.

The patient was very grateful to Dr. Smith for his work, and he wrote a letter of thanks to Dr. Smith, expressing his appreciation.

Dr. Smith was very pleased with the letter, and he wrote back, thanking the patient for his kind words.

In this way, the case of the patient who had been treated by Dr. Smith became well known in the medical world, and it was a case that was often reported in the medical journals.

Dr. Smith was a man of great kindness and generosity, and he was respected by all who knew him. He was a man who was always willing to help those in need, and he was a man who was always ready to give of himself.

It was a case that showed the power of love and kindness, and it was a case that showed the power of the human spirit. It was a case that showed how much good can come from a small act of kindness, and it was a case that showed how much good can come from a small act of love.
