MICHIGAN NEWS.

UPPER PENINSULA TOWN IN RUINS FROM FIRE.

A town called in a Terrible Conflagration.

BLAZE AT ST. IGNACE.

The town is in great need of this news.

WEAVER AND FIELDS.

The People's Party Presidential Preferences.

G. M. Weaver, of Iowa, and Fields, of Iowa, are the candidates for the People's Party Presidential Preferences.

BIDWELL-CRANFILL.

CALIFORNIA AND TEXAS FOR HINT THE YEAR.

For Governor of the Republican Party, the candidates for the Governor of the Republican Party are Bidwell and Cranfill.

CAMPBELL DECLINES.

To Aid in the Campaign of the Republicans, the candidates for the Aid in the Campaign of the Republicans are Campbell and others.

ON TO WASHINGTON.

Washington, D.C., August 15. - The President of the United States has left for Washington, D.C., to attend the annual session of the Congress. The President is expected to arrive in Washington on the 16th of this month.

WASHINGTON SPECIAL.

The President is expected to arrive in Washington tomorrow morning. The President is expected to attend the annual session of the Congress.

NOTES.

The President is expected to attend the annual session of the Congress.
INDIAN ROYAL SPORT.

MOUNTING THE TIGER WITH ELEPHANTS IN THE EAST.

One day the sportsman, Mr. T. S. Smith, whose name is well known in hunting circles, was crossing the plains of India, when he observed a large number of elephants coming in sight. Suddenly he recognized a tiger, which was seen running away from the herd of elephants. He knew that the tiger was a dangerous animal, and that it would be impossible to capture it. But he was not deterred by this, and determined to try to capture it. He immediately sought the help of the elephant drivers, and started a hunt. After a long chase, the tiger was caught and mounted on an elephant. The elephant was able to carry the tiger, and the sportsman was able to keep it in check. He then decided to try to capture the tiger with the help of the elephant, and succeeded in doing so. He then proceed to a distant estate, and delivered the tiger to the master of it.

INDIAN ROYAL SPORT.

MOUNTING THE TIGER WITH ELEPHANTS IN THE EAST.

One day the sportsman, Mr. T. S. Smith, whose name is well known in hunting circles, was crossing the plains of India, when he observed a large number of elephants coming in sight. Suddenly he recognized a tiger, which was seen running away from the herd of elephants. He knew that the tiger was a dangerous animal, and that it would be impossible to capture it. But he was not deterred by this, and determined to try to capture it. He immediately sought the help of the elephant drivers, and started a hunt. After a long chase, the tiger was caught and mounted on an elephant. The elephant was able to carry the tiger, and the sportsman was able to keep it in check. He then decided to try to capture the tiger with the help of the elephant, and succeeded in doing so. He then proceed to a distant estate, and delivered the tiger to the master of it.

SICK HEADACHE.

CARTERS.

PATENTS

PLAAS.

LADIES

FLAS.

SICK HEADACHE.

CARTERS.

PATENTS

PLAAS.

LADIES

FLAS.

ADVERTISER.

SICK HEADACHE.

CARTERS.

PATENTS

PLAAS.

LADIES

FLAS.