MURDER AND SUICIDE CAUSED BY INSANE JEALOUSY.

A whirl end of the married life of a noted beauty of the Saginaw—two bullets for each sends husband and wife to the great beyond.

Saginaw is accustomed to murders, suicide and the like, but the latest is without a parallel.

Judd Fosdick was married three years ago to Cora O'Rourke, noted throughout the city for her rare beauty, and one child added to her happiness. Some time since the couple had trouble and Mrs. Fosdick went to her mother's home. Several times Fosdick has attempted to see his wife, but was kept away by her mother. At last, however, he gained admission to the house and was as pleasant as in his courting days.

After a short time Fosdick asked his wife to go to the kitchen for a private talk. She acquiesced and for a time all seemed progressing nicely when suddenly two shots rang out to the surprise of the other occupants of the house. Mrs. O'Rourke ran to the room, but Fosdick grabbed her and doubtless would have shot her had she not caught up his little child which turned him from his purpose.

Fosdick then ran out to the woods and fired two bullets into his chest, dying instantly. The wife was found when found. Insane jealousy caused the entire trouble.

The Phi founders. The tenth annual meeting of the State Pharmaceutical society was held at Grand Rapids. An address of welcome was made by City Attorney W. Taylor, and response by Arthur Bassett, of Detroit. In his annual report President H. G. Coleman, of Kalamazoo, said that the two great evils were still existing. Physicians buying supplies on the outside and the cutting of prices on proprietary medicine. James Vernon, of Detroit, secretary of the state board of pharmacy, reported candidates examined for registered pharmacist 375, of whom 164 passed, and 136 for assistants, of whom 84 passed. The number of registered pharmacists in the state is 3,792 and the receipts for the year were $5,459; disbursements, $9,704.81, and total in the treasury, $4,474.85.

Buried in a Grain Chute. Frank Busberry, aged 12 years, accompanied his father and the grain elevator of the Chicago & Grand Trunk depot at Hazellet Park, Lansing. He left his father to wander around and it is supposed fell into a bin. When the chute was opened his body was drawn down with the grain and choked it up where he was suffocated under 400 bushels of grain.

A Young Girl Suicide. Bertha Straube, a girl 17 years old, of Manistee county, after quarreling with her father, disappeared and later a note was found under the kitchen door saying she would be found in Lake Michigan and directing her mother to be given to her mother. She has not been seen since, and circumstances show that she must have committed suicide.

Sailor's Terrible Death. A sailor named Murdock Buchanan, from the schooner Cataract, was struck by a freight train at the Sarnia, Ont., and killed. His body was horribly mangled, the head being carried two miles to the tunnel depot before the accident was discovered.

Mrs. Emma Reed Currier, of Hastings, died at the Bethel home, at Kalamazoo, after giving birth to a stillborn child. She made no statement save that she was married. Humane Officer Merrill went to Hastings to look up her identity.

Sam Williams was found dead on the floor of his cabin in a lonely part of Alger county. It is thought he died about six weeks ago, and as no provisions were found in the house it is supposed he became helpless and then starved.

D. C. Eaton, of Saginaw, had a lot of dynamite stored in his barn. He finally concluded it was hardly fair to his neighbors to keep it there, so he lugged it off and hid it in the earth. It was a lucky move, for the next day lightning struck the barn.

Charles Sharon was instantly killed at Island Mill, Menominee. He was struck by a board from an edger. He was a middle-aged man and left a widow and three children. He lived at Sturgeon Bay and his wife was visiting at the time of the accident.

Jacob Greenwald, of Grand Rapids, wanted to kill his wife. He placed a revolver against her body and pulled the trigger three times, but the weapon missed fire. Then grasping it by the barrel he pounded her over the head with the handle, inflicting severe wounds. Greenwald is now in jail.

Pittsburg correspondence: The great lockout at Homestead is just one month old and has already cost over $1,000,000, besides the sacrifice of a half score of human lives and serious injuries to many times that number.

The loss in cash the military has cost in round figures $320,000, the workmen have lost in wages $180,000, and the Carnegies have lost and spent as much more in getting new workmen.

The great lockout at Homestead is just one month old and has already cost over $1,000,000, besides the sacrifice of a half score of human lives and serious injuries to many times that number.

The locked-out workmen have not met as yet been deprived of any of the necessities of life, and if the fight should last several weeks yet there is no danger of the workmen's families coming to actual want.

Since the departure of the large body of troops the strikers are congregating on the streets and discussing the fight in louder tones, but it is not probable that they will again attempt to so thoroughly control the situation as to kill any one. It is safe to say, however, that non-union men will not find their way unobstructed.

Speculation concerning Hugh O'Donnell's whereabouts is again on tip toe and all sorts of rumors agitate the locked out men who are not in the company of the advisory committee.
