MICHIGAN MATTERS.

IN CONDENSED FORM FOR BUSY READERS.

The Knights of the Macabees Swam in Great Numbers to the Great Camp at Lansing—The Ladies There Too.—Severe Storm Does $100,000 Damage.

One of Old Boreas' Strong Breaths. Saginaw: During the gale a pile driver was blown from its fastenings up the river and crashed against the East street bridge, narrowly missing two electric cars loaded with people. The pile-driver weakened the bridge, and the heavy wind soon carried away two spans, entailing a loss of $6,000.

The fine steam yacht Alcatraz was struck by the falling bridge and sunk with hardly a scratch. The Palmerton Woodenware company's plant was damaged by the wind to the extent of $1,000.

Fullly a score of other places were damaged from $200 to $1,000. Jackson: A number of trees and a few houses were struck, but the damage was not serious.

Lightning struck his bed, splintering the posts and letting the mattress and Maxson fall to the floor, none the worse for his scare.

Fowler: Frank Gruler's store rooms were damaged $600.—The governor, State Savings bank, building, $200; a hay warehouse toppled over. The storm wove of town tore down windmills and fences and trees in its path, about four roads wide.

Atthens: Lightning destroyed the barn of Farmer Henry Smith, together with hay, wheat, implements and a stallion, valued at $3,000. A threshing machine was consumed. John Libhart's barn was struck by lightning; loss $2,000.

St. Joseph: The worst wind and rain storm of the season did great damage to fruit on trees, blowing down small houses, trees, etc.

Orleans: Lightning burned Leander Benedict's barn, with its contents; loss $1,000.

First: Large barns and other buildings on the farm of George Hincheley burned by lightning; loss $1,500. In Davison Wm. Bagley's house was considerably damaged.

Mt. Morris: The house of Charles Johnson was partially demolished. Richard Burgess, and wife and child were the only ones saved.

Niles: The wind unroofed houses, blew down scores of trees and badly wrecked corn fields and orchards.

Portland: Two barns belonging to H. H. Wilcox were burned and James Arma's house damaged by lightning.

Carthage: The electric light works were damaged $500.

Great Camp of the K. O. T. M. Probably the largest crowd that Lansing was ever called upon to entertain took possession of that city on the occasion of the fourteenth great annual convention of the K. O. T. M.

The annual annual convention of the K. O. T. M. was held at Lansing, Michigan, on the 10th, 11th and 12th inst. The officers awarded prizes as follows: The best uniformed tent in line a K. O. T. M. banner, valued at $30, won by Dimondson, tent for the best leaving the greatest number of members, a line of march, an elegant altar valued at $50, won by Charlotte tent; for the tent making the best appearance in line (marching, drill and dress to be considered), a Palace Regal coat heater, valued at $25, won by Olive tent; for the best band of Detroit, a second, and the Williamstons' normal band third.

The Ladies of the Macabees held their session in the senate chamber with about 500 delegates present. Great Lady Commander Eillian Hollister, of Detroit, presided. The report of the committee on the death order amounting to $13,100,000. During the year $46,450 were paid on death claims and $350 for disability. Receipts for the year were $62,449.78; disbursements, $68,302.92.

Gloomy Crop Prospects. Secretary of State Gardner, in the monthly crop report, takes a very gloomy view of the condition of crops since the drought. The report says: "The average rainfall in the state in August did not exceed three-fourths of an inch. In September it was only one-fourth of an inch. In July there was a deficiency of one and three-fourths inches. With a drought thus practically unbroken during the two principal crop growing months of August and September it is not difficult to estimate the condition of crops as they are dried up. Corn, potatoes and garden truck are damaged beyond recovery, the yield will be but a small percent of an average, and pastures afford little or no feed for stock. The fact that in a few localities rain was slightly more abundant, and crops are consequently somewhat better, does not disprove the general statement. There is little doubt that wheat will be largely fed to stock the coming winter. We hope to have estimates soon of the proportion of the crop. One countryman writes that he has already ground 1,500 bushels for feed."

Sebewaing's fireman's tournament for September 13 and 14 was canceled. Ann Arbor will entertain no tramps hereafter unless they work for their meals.

The wife of Justice W. O. Westfall, of Grand Rapids, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. She was alone in the house and her death was not discovered until night. She had been at the Kalamazoo asylum, but was recently back as cured.

1 Murder of a Miser. One of the most shocking crimes which has ever occurred in or about Detroit took place near Grosse Pointe, the victim being a historical Charles Chauvin, an old man worth probably more than a quarter of a million dollars, who has for many years lived as a hermit. The perpetrators of the deed broke into the back door of the little, tumble-down cabin, and killed the taciturn old hermit with an ax. Then they tumbled over all the articles in both rooms of the house, presumably in search of valuables, and made their escape. It is believed that they were unsuccessful in securing any money.

Will Try to Drown Haka Smith. Marquette: Motion for review of the case of the Michigan Land & Iron company vs. Amassa Daily et al., decided by Secretary of Interior Hoke Smith in favor of the latter company, will be filed within the statutory time of 20 days from the date of notice by Rush Culver, receiver of the land office. It is said to be the consensus of opinion in legal circles in Washington that the secretary is in error in basing his decision on the act of 1870. The 200 homesteaders affected will probably vacate. The majority of them are poor, and will be left without a cent.

NEWS IN GENERAL.

SOME ITEMS OF MORE OR LESS IMPORTANCE.

A Severe Electrical Storm Almost Totally Destroys Several Illinois Towns.—The Annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Pittsburg.

Towns Destroyed by Lightning. Lightning played havoc among the various small towns about DeKalb, Ill. As a result the business portion of Matra, a town of 600 inhabitants, is in ashes, with losses aggregating $30,000.

The little settlement of Hartsville, Mo., was also visited by lightning and completely wiped out. The loss will not prove very extensive. At Caledonia four buildings were struck at different times, and each of those structures was destroyed. Elmaurst, a big barn was struck and totally destroyed.

The people had hard work to save the schoolhouse, situated near by. Rockford came in for its share of flames, and in that town three fires were caused by lightning. At Belvidere a physician's stable was struck and consumed, together with two horses. Huntley suffered the loss of three buildings, one of which was a stable. In the latter instance four horses were cremated. At Herbert two buildings were burned. The northwestern railroad was struck for a stretch of 300 feet at Trout Park and washed out by the heavy flood. At Geneva also a washout occurred on the Air line, carrying away a large section of the roadbed.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT. The Veterans Meet Once More in National Reunion at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, the metropolis of western Pennsylvania, as the host of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, did herself proud. The number of people who took the occasion to attend was almost 100,000, and although the number of veterans present was not as large as at Washington, the enthusiasm was almost as great. Michigan veterans were interested in pushing the claims of Judge C. D. Long as their candidate for commander-in-chief.

Ohio sent a large delegation, as any state excepting Pennsylvania and New York. Indiana and Illinois each had a candidate for commander-in-chief, and of course a large number of veterans from those states were present.

The first spectacle of the encampment was the parade of the naval veterans. Over 1,000 men, under the command of Rear Admiral J. B. Osborn, were in line. The old salts were accompanied by a band of music. In the parade were carried many historic relics of naval warfare, among them the torn and time-stained banner which they over the good old Kearysarge when she added luster to the American standard on the high seas. Their ninth annual convention of the naval veterans showed an encouraging condition of affairs, and Francis B. Allen, of Hartford, Conn., was elected commander.

As is usually the case of the parade of veterans was the big event of the encampment. Over 40,000 of the nation's heroes marched through the streets of Pittsburg and Allegheny in time with music such as carried them away on the lofty flights of patriotism in their younger days. Between 500,000 and 600,000 people witnessed the spectacle and cheered the veterans.

Judge Long, of Michigan, threw a cloud of disappointment over his friends by withdrawing from the race for commander-in-chief saying that he would not drag politics before the encampment. He felt that his trouble with the Pennsylvania legislature would engender some hard feelings in the election.

50 Houses Burned in an Ohio Town. Twenty acres in the heart of the village of Dalton, O., were devastated by fire, and over 50 houses destroyed. Assistance was sent by special train from Columbus, Ohio, and Canton. The village water supply works were exhausted and then wells and cisterns were emptied. Early in the morning a welcome rain began to fall and the flames began to die out. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin. The entire loss is estimated at $200,000.

40 to 50 Killed in a Collision. Paris: The disaster to the Paris and Cologne express train at Aptilly, near Moreyville and Chauny, France, was more serious than at first supposed. The first estimates placed the number of persons killed at ten with 20 injured. It is now stated that from 40 to 50 were killed or injured.

NEWS IN BRIEF. The Populist state convention at Denver was a noisy affair, but Gov. Waite overcame all opposition and was renominated.

The fourth biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was held at Harrisburg, Pa., with 350 delegates present.

A dispatch from Shanghai says the Chinese transport Chean, with 1,400 troops on board, was wrecked, but nearly all escaped in the boats.

W. F. Collier & Co., general storekeepers at St. Petersburg, Fla., were robbed of $70,000 in bonds, notes and cash while the office force were out for a night lurch.

Ten persons were killed and 20 injured by the wreck of the Paris and Cologne express train. The accident happened at Aptilly, near Brussels, and was caused by a collision of the express train with a freight train.

It is believed that the forest fire death list in Pine county, Minn., will exceed 500, as something like 100 are still unaccounted for, according to Coroner Cowan's official statement.

The national convention of the Keeley leagues of the United States was held at the Coliseum, Colorado Springs, Colo. Fully 3,000 delegates from all parts of the United States were present.

Michael Koepfer was arrested and taken to Ashland, Wis., on a charge of setting fire to the forest. The loss of eight lives at High Bridge, Ill., was bound over for trial and lodged in jail. The feeling is intensely bitter against him.

AN ENGINEER'S FATE.

Wrecked Three Times at One Spot in Wisconsin—The Third Time Fatal.

Three years ago Fred Almquist, of Rockland, became an engineer on the C. M. & St. P. railroad, and since that time his life has been a series of accidents. About one year ago his entire train was wrecked at Adventure bridge, 305 miles north of Milwaukee, and the bridge was destroyed. Last June he was wrecked on the same train but nine miles south of the first wreck. His engine was thrown down a 10-foot embankment and several cars piled on top of it, but Fred crawled out of the wreck without a scratch.

During the recent forest fire he started north with the same engine and train. Fires raged fiercely each side of the track for many miles, necessitating a very careful watch and slow run; but in spite of all precautions, when he reached the spot near Adventure bridge, where he was wrecked a year ago, the rails spread, and the engine turned over on its right side in precisely the same manner as last June, killing Fred instantly.

A passenger was due in one hour. Scores of lives were in danger. Twice brakeman Crane started ahead to flag the approaching train, but each time he was driven back by the smoke, his face burned and hair scorched. The third time he succeeded, and stopped the train just in time. Brakeman Orton was found with a broken leg.

Two Killed in a Wreck in Hoosic Tunnel. A most horrible railroad disaster took place on the Fitchburg road in the Hoosic tunnel, near North Adams, Mass. A freight train had stopped to repair an engine which had broken down, and at about the same time a west-bound express train passed through the tunnel filling it with smoke. A second east-bound freight train was allowed to enter the tunnel contrary to the rules of the road, and the engineer being unable, on account of the dense smoke left by the passenger train, to distinguish the light from the train from the lights on the walls of the tunnel, went into it with a crash. A horrible disaster was the result, both trains being badly wrecked. The tunnel was blocked and two men killed outright and three seriously injured.

London Explanation to Lochren. Washington: Congressman Linton, of Michigan, called on the pension office to see Commissioner Lochren regarding the charges made in the commissioner's recent letters to the congressman that he has violated the regulations of the bureau and made false statements regarding claims for pensions now before the board. Linton's defense is based upon the carelessness of a clerk and his own lack of information as to the exact residence of certain claimants concerning whose status he had made inquiries. He also admits that he has inadvertently sent to the bureau slips containing statements not strictly true, but not intended to deceive or reflect on the bureau. His explanation was satisfactory to Mr. Lochren.

Condition of the Treasury Improving. Washington: Secretary Carlisle is much pleased with the condition of the treasury. Instead of a deficit the returns for July and August of this year show a surplus of nearly $7,000,000. This indicates an improvement over last year of more than $25,000,000. The cause of this is decreased expenditures, increased internal revenue and customs receipts and an improved condition of trade. Secretary Carlisle is now confident of his ability to meet all the treasury obligations without another issue of bonds.

Opium Smugglers Caught Red-Handed. Deputy Collectors John Denny, of Port Huron, and Samuel A. Harkness, of St. Clair at 2:30 a. m., arrested John Jacobs and John Green for alleged smuggling. The two men crossed the Canadian border at Port Huron with two trunks and about 350 pounds of opium and just after landing they were nabbed by the detectives, who had been lying in wait. The opium was obtained in Toronto, where the alleged smugglers are said to reside. The men were taken to Port Huron.

Seven More People Burned to Death. In the fires at Marengo a few miles south of Ashland, Wis., the bodies are so badly burned that recognition is impossible.

Reports from the north are to the effect that Carlton, Kerrick and Barnum, Minn., are in danger. The fires now surround these places, and are raging furiously. So dense is the smoke at Carlton that the operator there said he could not see across the street.

The Election in Maine. The results of the Maine election is thoroughly satisfactory to the Republicans. Gov. Cleaves was re-elected by nearly 40,000 majority, the largest in the history of the party. The legislature is in majority on the Republican side insuring the re-election of Senator Frye. Thomas B. Reed, C. A. Boutelle and other Republican congressmen are returned by majorities running from 10,000 to 6,000.

A Farmer's Thrift Saved the Train. A farmer near Stevens Point, Minn., drove off a band of train wreckers who were tearing up track on the Wisconsin Central. He then tore off his shirt, set fire to it and signalled the early morning train from Chicago, which was approaching, and which would otherwise have been derailed and thrown over a precipice.

The case of Judge Charles D. Long, of Michigan, against Secretary Hoke Smith and Pension Commissioner Lochren was before the district court at Chicago but was postponed until October 26.

AGAINST THE HOMESTEADERS.

Secretary of the Interior Decides a Big Land Case in Favor of a Monopoly.

Washington: Secretary of Interior Hoke Smith has decided the long awaited homestead case of Amassa Daily against the giant Michigan Land & Iron corporation. Fifteen thousand acres of land with some of the most valuable of the peninsula, depended on the outcome of this case. Over $1,000,000 worth of property.

Secretary Smith decrees that several hundred homesteaders shall be turned out and the title of the vast tract shall be confirmed to Lord Brassey, of England, and other millionaire stockholders of the Michigan Land & Iron Co. The 15,000 acres at issue—which is only a small portion of the 403,354 acres, of which 129,574 acres were fraudulently gobbled, of the monopoly claims—are located west of Ionia in the upper peninsula on the line of the old M. H. & O. railroad.

The pivotal point upon which Secretary Smith seems to hinge his decision is that the company was an "innocent purchaser" of the railroad land grant, notwithstanding that the existence of statutes known and read of all men seemed to stand against the innocent purchaser theory.

Shakespeare's Pension. A pension case of almost equal importance to that of Judge Long is that of Gen. Wm. Shakespeare, of Kalamazoo. The general has been informed that two persons have made affidavits opposing the pension, and if necessary, will appeal it to the highest tribunal. The legal question involved is one of constitutional right that it is the privilege of every man to be confronted by his accusers.

Canadian Lumber Free. Washington: Secretary Carlisle was notified by the state department that the Canadian government has advised the secretary of state that hereafter no export or stumpage dues will be levied by Canada on any of the logs, lumber, planing mill products, etc., which are included in the schedule of the new tariff bill. Acting on this information, Secretary Carlisle at once sent a telegram to collectors of customs
