The workmen threw mud at him and then dumped him into the river before police assistance arrived. Sprague was not seriously injured.

A MONARCHY IN HAWAII.

The Present Republic About to Give Up Princess Kaiulani in Luck.

Julius A. Palmer, who went to the Hawaiian Islands to investigate special correspondent of the New York Evening Post, returned to San Francisco on the Australia. He believes that there will soon be a crisis there, and that the end can only be the restoration of the monarchical form of government. He says there is a lower will be harmony until the monarchy is restored and Princess Kaiulani placed upon the throne.

The greatest fear of the Hawaiian government is Japan and they do not scruple to say so. Another danger to the government is themselves. The democracy, or American league, is taking umbrage at the new importation of Chinese. The financial condition is also one of the things that will help to bring on a crisis.

The loyalty of the natives to the government was as strong as now. Col Ashford, former attorney general of Hawaii, who arrived on the same steamer, expresses similar views.

A San Francisco paper prints a story, which it claims is from unquestionable authority, to the effect that ex-U. S. Minister Thurston advocates a change in administration, and that at a recent conference between Mr. Thurston and President Dole and members of the cabinet, the former declared that the only hope of permanent peace on the islands will be realized in placing Princess Kaiulani in the position which the former monarchy proposed that she should some day have.
