NEWS OF THE HAPPENINGS IN MICHIGAN.

the Situation of the Striking Miners in the Upper Peninsula Grows Worse.-Many of the Men Wanted to Accept Owners Proposals but Leaders Prevented.

It Looked Like it was Settled, but-

It Looked Like it was Settled, but—
The great miners' strike at Ishpeming and Negaunee, after lasting five weeks, is practically at its end. The majority of the men voted for a speedy settlement. They concluded to return to their different working places and learn the new scale. Many of the men applied individually at the mine offices and some of them were presented with the new schedule which shows an advance over former wages from 10 to 25 per cent, about the same as offered by F. Braasted to his men at the Winthrop mine. The threat by the companies to pull the pumps and the adoption of the cash system by the merchants thoroughly disheartened the men. the cash system by the merchants the cash system by the merchants thoroughly disheartened the men. The miners at the Champion mine sent a petition to Supt. Fitch asking that they be allowed to return to work. The business men and the miners generally are jubilant over the near approach of the end.

The Companies' Schedule Rejected. The Companies' schedule Rejected.

There was a big meeting of strikers at Union park where the scale presented to their men by the mines was discussed. The leaders and hot heads fought for continuance of the strike, and this was the decision finally and the strike of the strike. and this was the decision finally announced. There was a very bitter discussion of the matter. There are many miners who claim that the vote to return to work received a majority, but that the chairman did not decide it fairly. They claim the leaders believe the cause to be lost, but are making a fight, thinking they may get something out of it personally. They think they may not be employed when the mines resume, and for this reason are seeking to keep the fight up. the mines resume, and for this reason are seeking to keep the fight up. Many men left the park in disgust. The union is certainly much less in evidence than at any time since its organization.

Mine Owners will Stop Pumps.

The news soon reached the local headquarters of the mines of the rejection of the scale and in less than 20 minutes preparations were going forward to stop the pumps and let the mines fill with water. In the case of the Cleveland, Salisbury and Lake Angeline mines, the furnace fires have been wholly extinguished, and the water blown from the boilers. The owners say the prospects of re-opening their property are too remote to talk of. Their contracts for the present season have been broken by the strike, and an ample supply of ore for next season's delivery can be mined after February, 1896.

A $20,000 Find of Gold Nuggets

Lewis Potter, near Dimondale, says that Frand Lounsbury and Augustus Fox dug up a box on his farm which is said to have contained about $20,000 in gold dust and nuggets. Potter is going to institute suit to recover the find, which has tute suit to recover the find, which has been deposited in the Ingham County Savings bank. In explanation of how the gold came to be buried, it is said that an Englishman named Carr moved into Michigan in 1850. He died mysteriously some say of poison—but before doing so he buried this gold. He promised to tell where it was to a family named Swan, but he shuffled off the mortal coil too suddenly. It is said that Carr was on his way back is said that Carr was on his way back from California when he was poisoned, It is said that there is more gold in the neighborhood.

The sound of the ex-plosion was heard throughout the city awakening people in bed a mile from the scene. The force of the explosion carried away a large portion of the rear of the building adjoining the hotel. One wall crushed a stable and a small frame house, but no one was injured. A piece of the cornice of the Cheesman block; fully a block from Cheesman block; fully a block from the Gumry hotel, was torn out and fell to the street, narrowly missing several passersby. It weighed at least a ton.

The Gumry was a five story brick with stone front and was built about six years ago. It was of the better kind of second-class hotels, catering largely to the transient family patronage. Thus, many ladies and children were among the guests. The building was built as the Eden Musee by the widow of General Tom Thumb, and was so occupied fater, being remodeled for use as a hotel.

The investigation shows that Elmer

The investigation shows that Elmer Pierce, an irresponsible Tryear-old boy, had temporary charge of the boiler at the time of the explosion and he injected cold water into the boiler while it was red hot. He had attended a picnic during the day and was under the influence of liquor when he went on duty. How he escaped injury is a mystery, as he has fled. The boilers were in good condition just prior to the explosion. The loss will be about $75,000.

1Anxiety is felt for the safety of American misionaries at Marsovan, a small town in Asia Minor, owing to the campaign of Armenians against supected spies. Five professors of the American college have been marked by the committee owing to suspicion of their connection with the American movement. United States Minister Terrell, has protested to the porte and received the promise of a prompt inquiry into the affair.

The farmers of Nebraska who were The farmers of Nebraska who were on the verge of starvation last winter, and only pulled through on supplies sent from the east, are now in want of room to store their immense crops. This year's crops would feed the world for 12 months. The grain yield will not be less than 225,000,000 bushels. Of this 15,000,000 bushels will be of wheat, 30,000,000 of oats and 180,000,000 bushels of corn. Miscellaneous
