Convict Delano, in the Jackson state prison, is getting rich making ornaments from onyx and agate stones. He has already purchased a $1,500 home for his family, making his money by overtime work. Lansing's council wants a monopoly of electric lighting and power there, and has refused to grant a franchise to A. A. Platt to construct a plant. Platt has a contract to furnish light for the Michigan Agricultural college. E. L. Ward, a barber, was arrested at Muskegon on the charge of counterfeiting. He confessed that he had silver plated pennies and passed them for dimes, but said that it was only a joke. He was held for a hearing before the U. S. grand jury.

The justice says the evidence was not obtained according to the statute. The bitter contest for the post master ship of West Branch—there were five candidates—has been settled by Congressman Crump deciding upon H. M. French, after he had tried his best to have the ambitious ones settle it among themselves, but without avail.

He had scarcely made his request when he fell to the floor and was dead before medical assistance could arrive. Isaac Ellsworth, who was captured in Toledo a week ago for stealing a team from Wilkins Bros. livery at St. Johns, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to Jackson for four years. When Ellsworth has finished his term, he will have served 24 years behind the bars, all for horse stealing.

DONS ARE AWFULLY MAD.

Want to Annihilate Us Because of Our Sympathy with Poor Little Cuba.

U. S. Minister Woodford's note delivered to the Spanish government as the reply of the United States to the note sent by Spain some two months ago has stirred up the wrath of the Dons and they are threatening all kinds of vengeance upon Uncle Sam. Gen. Woodford's note dwells at length upon the Spanish complaint against filibustering and other moral and material assistance given in the United States to the insurgents, which the Washington government re-asserts it has done all in its power to check, with the view also of satisfying the representations made by Spanish diplomacy, and praises the present home rule policy in Cuba, but the Spanish papers of every shade of opinion, including the ministerial organs, censure very sharply the conduct of the United States government and are unanimous in saying that all the compliments the United States pays the new Spanish colonial policy cannot make a proud nation tolerate the pretension of a foreign government to have the right to criticize and condemn the conduct of Spanish generals and of the late Spanish government in dealing with the rebellion. They equally resent the American pretension to interfere in the Spanish West Indies, which is so repeatedly claimed in the notes and the presidential message, and more recently, in Secretary Sherman's advocacy of relief for distressed Cubans. The press is most dissatisfied with the Woodford note on account of the arguments used to refute the Spanish complaints against filibustering. America is charged with 'infringing all the rules and usages of international law in order to suit the aims of its encroaching policy in the West Indies. The Imparcial (Madrid newspaper) urges that, in view of the character of the reply of Minister Woodford, it is necessary to increase the Spanish fleet as against the eventuality of a conflict with the United States. El Heraldico says: The encroachments of the United States on the international politics of Spain have become intolerable and must be resisted energetically. The situation is difficult, but, at whatever cost, the government ought to put an end to a shameful state of affairs for the sake of the dignity of Spain. The government cannot longer risk the accusation of not being in touch with national feeling which is getting weary of American interference.

SCHOOL TEACHERS OF MICHIGAN.

The best convention of the Michigan Teachers' association ever held was the forty-seventh, which occupied three days at Lansing. There was a larger attendance by several hundred than ever before. President Delos Fall, of Albion college, compared the change of half a century. In 1845 there were 1,214 male and 1,830 female teachers in Michigan, the former receiving an average monthly salary of $11.98 and the latter $5.24. Of the 16,000 teachers reported in 1895 more than 12,000 were women, who received an average salary of $35.09 while the men averaged $46.17. More and better educated women in our schools is now the rule. He also said that attention was being paid to the child's body as well as his mind. He strongly commended the law of 1893 making it compulsory to indicate methods of preventing the spread of communicable diseases.

Many subjects were discussed bearing upon the relations of teachers to pupils, to the general public and to their immediate employers—the school board. The star of the convention was Bishop John H. Vincent, of Chautauqua fame, who addressed a large audience at the First Baptist church. His subject was "Tom and His Teachers."

The State Association of County Commissioners of Schools held the annual meeting at Lansing in connection with the teachers' meeting. A multitude of matters of interest and importance were discussed. Officers elected: President, R. M. Winston, of St. Johns; vice president, R. D. Bailey, of Gaylord; secretary, Miss Flora Beadle, of Hastings.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The Canadian Pacific railroad has contracted for six light-draft, stern-wheel steamers to run on Alaskan waters in connection with the two ocean steamers which have been purchased in Scotland. James Bird, an aged colored man, was sent from Bellefontaine, O., to the county infirmary, but he had such a horror of the poorhouse that he slipped away at night. The next morning he was found frozen to death in the street at Huntsville. The Queen mine at Neganance has closed down for an indefinite time, throwing 250 men out of employment. In case the company can induce fee-owners to induce fee-owners to reduce the royalty, operations will probably be resumed, otherwise nothing will be done until the shipping season opens in the spring.

THE RECENT TRAGIC SUICIDE OF MISS WELLS.

The recent tragic suicide of Miss Wells, an accomplished young society lady of Washington who shot herself through the heart. She was much attached to Miss Herbert. The dreaded San Jose scale has surely secured a foothold in the western Michigan fruit belt. Clinton D. Smith of the Michigan Agricultural college, visited the orchard of a young farmer in Jamestown, Ottawa county and found his apple trees so badly infected by the scale that the young man was ordered to cut down and burn 1,200 trees. The farmer had mortgaged his farm to put out the orchard, which was only five years old, and had just come into the bearing stage. Lieut. Peary is making preparations to start for the north pole next July.

AFFAIRS IN GENERAL.

BRIEF MENTION OF EVENTS OF INTEREST.

Russia Takes Another Large Plea of China and is Evidently Desirous of Possing as Master of the Eastern Situation—Civil Service Reform Upheld

Russia Takes Another Grab. The most profound distress prevails among many thousands of people in Cuba. Starvation not only impends, but is, an actual fact. President McKinley has been informed of the facts from sources whose credibility cannot be doubted. He has gone to the length of his constitutional power in calling the state of affairs to the attention of the American people. The department of state has used all of its authority to mitigate the conditions there and a letter to the public has been seen out by Secretary Sherman setting forth the facts and appealing to the people to come to the relief of the distressed people by sending money, light-weight clothing or food supplies. Women's and children's clothing is most needed and food supplies should be canned goods (condensed milk for children is greatly desired), or other articles not of a perishable nature. Money is needed for medicines, nurses, etc. The Spanish authorities have consented to admit all supplies free of duty and U. S. Consul-General Lee will attend to the distribution.

British and Japs Oppose Russia. A special dispatch from Shanghai says: It is reported that 17 British warships are off Chemulpo, Korea, southwest of Seoul, supporting the British consul's protest, really amounting to an ultimatum, against the king's practically yielding the government of Korea into the hands of the Russian minister. The protest is specially directed against the dismissal of McLeary Brown, British adviser to the Korean customs, in favor of a Russian nominee. The news has produced consternation at Seoul, and is heightened by the knowledge that Japan has a fleet of 30 warships awaiting the result of the British representation which Japan fully supports. Japan is irritated by the arrival of Russian troops in Korea and it is believed that she will oppose them.

Russia, according to another dispatch from Shanghai, is preparing temporary headquarters for 10,000 troops at Port Arthur. She has obtained a half promise from the grand council at Peking to dismiss Sir Robert Hart, director of Chinese imperial maritime customs, and other high customs officials, in addition to the British railway officials and the German officers and instructors and replace them with Russians.

Want McKinley to Bounce Gage. A Washington dispatch says: The financial views of Secretary of the Treasury Gage have stirred up a hornet's nest. The criticism made is that if President McKinley does not openly repudiate his secretary of the treasury he will share with him in the attacks which are sure to come as soon as congress reconvenes. Mr. Gage by his persistence in advocating the gold standard has put the President in more than an equivocal position. It virtually announces to the world that he was not in earnest when he appointed an international bimetallic commission and held views contrary to the very instructions he gave the commissioners. The movement against Secretary Gage is said to be backed by a number of Republican senators who charge that Mr. Gage is not a Republican at heart, and that he is so pronounced in advocacy of the single gold standard that he would sacrifice his party, if necessary, to establish it.

The one who more directly feels the interference of Secretary Gage is Senator Wolcott. This senator is a free silver advocate, but he stood by the Republican platform in the last election because of the plank advocating international bimetalism. Mr. Wolcott went abroad as one of the commissioners, and labored zealously for an international conference. He is now in such a frame of mind that he may resign from the bimetallic commission. He is only held back because his colleagues assert that Secretary Gage misrepresents the President.

CABINET UPHOLDS CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

The senate resolution calling upon the executive heads of the several departments of the government for information concerning the application of the civil service law to their departments led to a general discussion of the subject by the cabinet. All the members of the cabinet were present, except Secretary Alger. There was no dissent from the proposition that the civil service law ought to be and would be upheld. The principle of the system, in the opinion of all, must be maintained, but there was some difference of opinion as to the extent of its application.

Mrs. Jarvis and her nine children, the youngest a baby, were burned to death in the burning of the dwelling they occupied in London. The husband and father died in an infirmary, from consumption, a few hours later. Walter Lepper, of Ionia, was arrested at Grand Rapids on complaint of a newsboy, who said Lepper had passed a lead nickel on him. Eight lead nickels were found in Lepper's mittens, and in his room there was a die and a mold. Francis Durrant, a hobo, was sentenced to jail at Niles for 60 days for threatening to burglarize a store. As he was leaving the courtroom he stole the justice's new hat. He had to be severely pounded before he would enter the lock-up. While the jailer was at dinner Durrant got hold of an ax and chopped a hole 12x18 inches through a two-foot brick wall.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE COLISEUM BURNED.

Very Quick but Costly Fire at Chicago—One Life Lost. Fire destroyed the Coliseum building at Sixty-third street and Stony Island avenue, Chicago, in which the Democratic national convention was held last year and which was used for football and other athletics during the fall. The fire was one of the quickest ever seen in Chicago. From the time when the fire was originated by the crossing of two electric light wires until the Coliseum was a pile of twisted iron and hot bricks was not over 20 minutes. The building had been rented for an exhibition of a manufacturers' exposition and was filled from end to end with booths, all of which were destroyed with all of their contents. It is supposed that a number of lives were lost in the flames as seven people were missing. The fire originated in a booth which was used for an exhibition of X-rays, the booth. About 300 people were in the building at the time of the fire and at the first alarm there was a rush for safety. Fortunately the aisles were wide and owing to the comparatively small number of people in the building there was little difficulty in reaching the doors. The total loss on the building and contents is said to be $478,000. Of this amount $350,000 was the value of the building and $128,000 the estimated cost of the exhibits and material in the exposition in progress in the building. Later developments make it almost certain that only one life was lost in the fire. The charred remains of N. H. Johnson, a fireman employed about the building, was the only body found and the missing people have all returned to their homes after narrowly escaping death.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

London dispatches say that the war scare in the far east seems to have been groundless. Dispatches from England indicate that an understanding exists regarding the action of the former concerning China. It is said that if Russia, however, does not leave Port Arthur by spring the game of grab may commence. In this event England announces her intention to have her share of the spoils, and is quietly preparing for all eventualities. What lends color to this view is the fact that Germany has been granted facilities for coaling at all the British ports of their way to Chinese waters. Government officials at Berlin are reticent concerning the operations in China. The reason is given that Germany herself does not know how she stands or how far the other powers will permit her to go. The mission of Prince Henry is characterized as "spread eagleism." A diplomat is recorded as saying that Russia's occupation of Port Arthur is permanent, thereby securing the much desired terminus for the Siberian railway.

Yokohama—Count Matsukata, the premier, and admiral the Marquis Saigo Tsugumichi, minister of marine, have resigned. It is probable that Marquis Ito will be the new premier. Cape Henry, Va.—The schooner Samuel Hall, Capt. Mumford, from Wilmington, N. C., went ashore at Chi-amicoico life-saving station. The crew of seven was saved. St. Paul, Minn.—Henry Lauterman, who was accused of being implicated in the hold-up of a Northern Pacific passenger train Sept. 25, near Moorhead, was released from custody. Benton Harbor, Mich.—C. R. Hollis, a jeweler of this city, died suddenly. He was 60 years old. Terre Haute, Ind.—Ten Vandalia brakemen were called before Trainmaster Raily and notified that as a Christmas present each had been promoted to be a conductor. New York—Moses E. Worthen, one of the leading men of affairs in Passaic, N. J., died of typhoid fever, aged 60 years. He leaves an estate said to be worth $1,000,000.

A CONGLOMERATE CHRONICLE.

Julia Marlowe, the actress, is seriously ill at Cincinnati with malarial fever. A special dispatch from Rome says that Italy has decided to dispatch a squadron to Chinese waters. While skating at Rifton, N. Y., Miss Mary Van Barber, aged 23, broke through the ice. Ed McMichael went to rescue her, but the ice gave way and both were drowned. Mrs. John Moore and Miss Clara Bratton were killed and Mr. Moore was badly injured by being struck by a train, near Noblesville, Ind. The Moores had been married three days. It is said that on Jan. 1 the American Window Glass Co., will raise its prices in proportion to the increase in wages recently granted its employees. This will be about 15 per cent. Chas. A Pillsbury, the famous flour manufacturer of Minneapolis, having sold his mills to the large English syndicate and having made $2,000,000 in wheat deals this year, has retired from business.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR, DEAR SIM! This was the cry that was uttered in the night, he reached out his hand to his brother and said, "Dear Sim."

They were more to talk, he was telling the girl that he had become engaged to her cousin Ethel, and was begging her to plead his case with the father and mother of his betrothed.

White man! White man!" he bellowed upon his feet and leaped to the ground, and then he turned to his brother and said, "Brother, I have a confession to make."

asthma, bronchitis, or whooping cough, there is no remedy so sure and safe as Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose its healing influence is manifest. The sufferer who has been kept awake by the cough falls into a restful sleep, and awakes strong and refreshed. It is now put up in half size bottles at half price, 50c.

"One of my children had croup. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it strangling. It had nearly ceased to breathe. Having a part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given the child's breathing grew easier, and in a short time it was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved its life."—C. J. WOODRIDGE, Worthen, Texas.

To Carry on an Almost Helpless Fight.
—At Last the Fight is Over.

(From the Battle Creek Moon.)
Our representative called at 26 Battle Creek Avenue, the residence of S. L. Robbins, and in an interview with him brought out the following facts. Mr. Robbins tells of his wife's experience in a manner that carries conviction with his words. He says: "I am sorry my wife is not at home this P. M., but no one knows better than I how she has suffered during past years. For twenty years she has been afflicted with the various forms of kidney complaint and an enlargement of the liver. She was often confined to her bed for more than two weeks at a time suffering untold agony. She has doctored constantly, and I have paid out in doctors' bills for her ailment as much as $500.00, and then her relief was only so long as the medicine was around for a spell. Some time ago she felt the symptoms of another attack coming on, such as a pain in through the kidneys and back. I hardly know what induced me to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, instead of sending for the family physician; however, I got some and she commenced their use. It was a surprise to us both to see their action; the attack was warded off, and she continued taking them with marked improvement each day of their use. She is better now than she has been in years, the pain in the back and others in the kidneys have entirely gone. Hardly a day goes by that we do not mention the great good Doan's Kidney Pills have done her. I was always opposed to patent medicines, but confess that my wife's experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has done much to change my opinions. If it were not for those pills she would not have been able to be out this afternoon."

THE GORDON HIGHLANDERS

Their Late Exploits in India in Accordance with Their Reputation.

The first battalion of the Gordon Highlanders, of whose exploits on the Indian frontier the cable has recently brought such sad yet stirring news, is better known to Scotsmen by its old title of the seventy-fifth, or Stirlingshire, regiment of foot, says the London Daily Mail. It was not until the year 1881 that the seventy-fifth Stirlingshire and the ninety-second, the original "Gordon Highlanders," were amalgamated as one territorial regiment under the foregoing title. This took place when the seventy-fifth foot were stationed at the Strada Reale barracks, Malta. Hence, they were immediately christened the Strada Reale highlanders, while a popular conundrum among military folk at the time was: "What is the difference between the ninety-second and seventy-fifth?" the answer being: "The first are real highlanders, but the others are Reale (y) highlanders." Of the two battalions, however, the seventy-fifth is the older, having been raised in the autumn of 1787, or seven years before the Gordon highlanders were formed. Strangely enough, the regiment's first taste of glory took place in India, where it was immediately ordered, taking part in the siege and capture of Seringapatam, 1790, and remaining there until 1806. In 1809 the designation, and with it the uniform, of the regiment was changed from the seventy-fifth Highlanders to seventy-fifth foot, which was retained until 1862, when it became the seventy-fifth Stirlingshire, in remembrance of its origin.

The regiment, unfortunately, did not have any opportunity of taking part in either the Peninsula or Waterloo campaigns, but it served with great distinction in the Kafir war of 1835 and during the Indian mutiny, where it took part in the siege and capture of Delhi and in the relief of Lucknow, 1857. The Egyptian campaign of 1882 found the seventy-fifth, as the newly united first battalion of the Gordon highlanders, marching side by side with the seventy-ninth, the forty-second and the seventy-fourth, thus forming a genuine highland brigade, under the command of Lieut.-Gen. Sir E. B. Hamley. At the storming of Tel-el-Kebir Gen. Alison writes that "it was a noble sight to see the Gordon and Cameron highlanders mingled together in the confusion of the fight, their young officers leading with waving swords, their pipes screaming and that bright gleam in the eyes of the men which you see only in the hour of successful battle." Before leaving Egypt the battalion served in the harassing Nile expedition of 1884-85, but was not lucky enough to arrive at Kirbekan in time for the last action of the campaign. In 1888 the Gordons proceeded to Ceylon, and in 1893 moved on to India, where, in the spring of 1895, they experienced a foretaste of frontier fighting, being included in the Chitral relief force under Sir Robert Low. In that "little war" the old seventy-fifth covered itself with glory at the storming of the Malakand pass, its list of casualties being the longest of any in the brigade. And recently the Gordons have been repeating their history.

Big Gold Story from Siberia.
Russell E. Dunn, a mining engineer, who has just returned from Siberia, declares that the mineral wealth at the head waters of the Amur river is very large. He developed some mining properties for a French syndicate in the mountains from which flow four streams that feed the Amur. "Near that place placer miners were taking out fortunes that make the Klondike seem poor. Out of one gulch not over two miles long coarse gold and nuggets amounting to $10,000,000 were taken. The country is no place for prospectors, however, as only a company can get a concession. All placer mines are worked by the government."
—San Francisco Dispatch.

In a Bad Way.
At the recent banquet of the New Haven chamber of commerce, Governor Cooke denied the old story that Connecticut once flooded the market with wooden nutmegs. "If we are not mistaken," says the New Haven Register, "this is the first time any official attempt has been made to relieve the state of this undesirable reputation, and if it is properly followed up will doubtless assume the proportions of a public service."

where the caddy was, and drop this lump of gum in it."

The Old and The New Year.

BY FANNY CROSBY.
The grand Old Year is dying,
His hour has come at last;
His brilliant reign is ended,
Its golden days are past.
He shakes the wreath that, withered,
Lies cold upon his brow;
His breath is quick and labored,
His eyes are closing now.

The grand old year is dying,
He bids the world good night;
A starry veil is lifted
That parts him from our sight.
A sigh of deepest feeling,
A tear, and then a smile,
For scenes of rarest pleasure
Our lonely hearts beguile.
Behold, the New Year cometh!
His face is young and fair;
The merry bells are ringing,
There's music everywhere.
Oh, happy, happy greeting!
Oh, happy, happy day!
That lights our path before us
And laughs our cares away.

MR. BENJAMIN DOTTEN

LITTLE POLLY went over to her grandmother's to see Aunt Viny, who had just come from Wisconsin.
"Your Aunt Viny's up-stairs unpacking," said grandma, "and it's cold there. Stay here till she comes down. Here are some peppermints for you."
Grandma handed Polly a little paper bag of peppermints. They were good and strong. Polly liked them.
Ten minutes later in came Polly's mother.
"Where's Viny?" she asked, and then she smelt peppermint. "Polly, Polly!" she said, "come right here. Was that bag full? You'll be sick if you eat another one. Give them to me!"
"Put them here," said grandma, pointing to an old china tea-caddy on the closet shelf. "That's where I drop notions."
"Polly did as grandma said; for somehow she trusted the caddy more than her mother's pocket. Then her mother carried her off to find Aunt Viny, and after that they went home.
The caddy was a good place for notions. It already held some shoe buttons, a bad quarter and a recipe for mangoes; also a little pocketbook containing ten cents. That was Ben's. He hid it there when he was going chest-nutting, because the clasp was broken. Now Polly's peppermints went in, and presently grandma, who had been buying nutmegs, put them all into the caddy because Viny was talking, and it confused her.
"Now, mother," said Viny. "I've come home this winter to help you. I'm going to regulate the closet so we shall know where everything is."
"I know where everything is now," said the old lady.
"But Viny was already clearing the shelves and putting on fresh papers. Then she set things back methodically.
"This old caddy of nutmegs," she said, "I'll put in the other closet where the eggs are."
"It's handy for notions," said grandma.
"Oh, well, this cracked sugar bowl will answer for notions. I'll set it

A New Year Song.
WHEN the year is new, my dear,
When the year is new,
Let us make a promise here,
Little I and you
Not to fall quarreling
Over every tiny thing.
But sing and smile,
All the glad year through.
As the year goes by, my dear,
As the year goes by,
Let us keep our sky sweet clear,
Little you and I,
Sweep up every cloudy scowl,
Every little thunder growl,
And live and laugh,
Laugh and live,
'Neath a cloudless sky.
When the year is old, my dear,
When the year is old,
Let us never doubt or fear
Though the days grow cold.
Loving thoughts are always warm;
Merry hearts know ne'er a storm,
Come ice and snow, so love's dear glow
Turn all our gray to gold!
—Laura E. Richards.

HE MADE HIS BEST BOW TO THE DEAR OLD LADY.

Too Many People Wearing Decorations.
There has been a growing complaint in Paris that foreign decorations are worn by many persons who are not entitled to wear them, and the French minister of justice has taken steps to stop the practice. He has issued a strong edict against the illicit wearing of foreign orders and decorations. The chancellor of the Legion of Honor, recently discovered that the number of persons exhibiting such insignias was in excess of the usual number of authorizations granted from his department, hence the ministerial circular.

straps he wanted, and the next he had a chance to buy another boy's knife. But he couldn't find the pocketbook. Perhaps Polly took cold the day she went where Aunt Viny was unpacking. She had a sore throat, and wore flannel around her neck for two weeks. The next time she went to her grandmother's it was Christmas. There was a roast goose for dinner and all kind of pie. Ben was there. He had never found his cent cents. If he had, he would perhaps have bought a sugar dove for Polly.
While the folks sat around the fire talking, Polly, perched in a tall chair with nothing to do, had a sudden memory.
She got down, ran to the kitchen closet, and saw the sugar bowl. It had buttons and alum and a broken spoon in it, but Polly was not to be imposed upon.
"Caddy! caddy! caddy!" she cried running up and down.
"It's the old tea-caddy that she wants," said grandma.
"That's in the other closet. We keep nutmegs in it," said Aunt Viny.
"Peppermints! mine peppermints!" clamored Polly.
The caddy was brought, and sure enough when she thrust her little hand under the nutmegs she found her peppermints and pulled out the recipe for mangoes.
"There, Mrs. Gray wanted that!" exclaimed grandma.
And now Ben was putting his own hand in. Yes, there was! his pocketbook and his ten cents!
"Well, I declare!" said Aunt Viny. Ben sat down to consider. It was not too late for Christmas, but he might do something for New Year's. He had heard Aunt Viny talk about calls and cards.
Only the day before a boy who had a printing press had offered to print cards, twenty-five for ten cents, and every card was to have a picture of a flower or a bird upon it.
"I'll buy cards," thought Ben, and he went at once to find the boy.
On New Year's-Day Ben, clean and shining, called Polly into the parlor.
"I'm making calls," he said. "This is your call. Choose the card you like best."
Polly was delighted. She picked out the prettiest card, with "Mr. Benjamin Dotten" and a pair of doves upon it.
Then Ben went forth from neighbor to neighbor impartially. He was very successful. He met with smiles everywhere, and in some places he met with apples and New Year's cakes. Everybody seemed glad to receive a card with "Mr. Benjamin Dotten" upon it, together with a picture.
When it came to the last he hesitated. He was tired and wanted to go home. It seemed to him he would rather see his good, kind grandmamma than anybody else in the world. The last card had roses upon it.
"I'll call on grandma," he said, and running home he made his best bow to the dear old lady, and handed her his card.
"You never saw any one so pleased. For more than a week she showed the card of "Mr. Benjamin Dotten" to every neighbor that came in, and when the excitement was entirely over, she put it away for safe-keeping in the tea-caddy."

A TALK WITH MRS. PINKHAM
About the Cause of Anemia.
Everybody comes into this world with a predisposition to disease of some particular tissue; in other words, everybody has a weak spot. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the weak spot in women is somewhere in the uterine system. The uterine organs have less resistance to disease than the vital organs; that's why they give out the soonest.
Not more than one woman in a hundred—to the stern necessity of helping one's self just as soon as the life powers seem to be on the wane.
Excessive menstruation is a sign of physical weakness and want of tone in the uterine organs. It saps the strength away and produces anemia (blood turns to water).
If you become anemic, there is no knowing what will happen. If your gums and the inside of your lips and inside your eyelids look pale in color, you are in a dangerous way and must stop that drain on your powers. Why not build up on a generous, uplifting tonic, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Mrs. Edwin Etnier, 413 Church St., Bethlehem, Pa., says: "I feel it my duty to write and tell you that I am better than I have been for four years. I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one package of Sanative Wash, one box of Liver Pills, and can say that I am perfectly cured. Doctors did not help me any. I should have been in my grave by this time if it had not been for your medicine. It was a godsend to me. I was troubled with excessive menstruation, which caused much trouble, and I was obliged to remain in bed for six weeks. Mrs. Pinkham's medicine was recommended to me, and after using it a short time, was troubled no more with pain in my kidneys. This, also, I have no more. I shall always recommend the Compound, for it has cured me, and it will cure others. I would like to have you publish this letter." (In such cases the dry form of Compound should be used.)
