THE HAPPENINGS IN MICHIGAN BRIEFLY RELATED.

Creek by One of the Plotters Turning State's Evidence-Outcome of Feud of Long Standing A Plot of Kidnap and Murder Foiled. The most blood-curdling tragedy ever enacted was not more sensational than the dastardly plot which has been unearthed at Battle Creek by the weaken ing of one of the plotters, and which sulted in the arrest of Lawyer Charles R. Mains and Ed. Murphy on the charge of attempting to kidnap and murder Lawyer Stephen S. Hulbert. The plot is the outgrowth of a legal feud of long standing between Mains and Hulbert

Mains is charged with offering a man known as "Molly" McGuire, $300 to sandbag Hulbert and deliver him in a to him at the Union street bridge. McGuire revealed the plot to the officers. Detective Hamilton was dressed up in Hulbert's clothes and was taken by McGuire in a carriage and delivered to Mains at the place designated. There the officers were in waiting and arrested Mains. Upon Mains person was found a revolver, 30 feet of rope and a letter purporting to have been written by Hulbert to his friend, E. C. Nichols, in which he stated that Mains was innocent and that he was guilty and that his sins troubled him so much that he would commit suicide. It is expected that this letter would be mailed after the deed had been done was found secreted "Wall-Eyed" Murphy, an accomplice, who was to accompany Mains the rest of the journey. Murphy was confused and told the officers to go back where he was in biding and there they found a spade. A posse went to the place and found a piano cover in which was wrapped a 1897, 84,69, spade and a hatchet, Hulbert was to have been killed with the hatchet and camp stirre ouried near Homer. The entire conversation between Mc-Guire and Mains was listened to by Detective Hamilton, who was supposed to be the insensible Hulbert in the carriage and by Deputy Sheriff Shoup and Constable Moore, who were in hiding nearby. McGuire was paid $20 on the spot-by Mains with a promise of the rest later.

Maccabee Convention at Detroit. At the opening session of the great camp K. O. T. M. Great Commander Boyton reported that the order is in a sperous condition. He recommended the giving of larger powers to the ex-ecutive committee in the employment of district deputies. He also advo cated the division of the state into districts for the selection of delegates to the great camp, thus to reduce the number of delegates and lessen the ex ense of the conventions. Great Record Keeper Watson reported the total of life benefit members admitted during 1896, as 7,028, for whom certificates were issued amounting to $9,196,000; social members admitted, 1,065. The number of life benefit members admitted during 1897 was 9,448, for whom certificates were issued amounting to $11,454,000; social members, 1,373. The net gain in endowment membership for the 1896-7 term is 8,347, while the social membership decreased by 344, leaving a net increas of 8.003. During the term the number of deaths in the order was 738, or a death rate of 5.94 per year per 1.000 members; and the total amount of death benefits paid was $1,030,300.50. In addition to death benefits, total and permanent disability and old age benelits were paid to the amount of $79, 141.50, making a total amount paid during the term of $1.109,442. The total amount paid in death and disability benefits, since the organization of the order is $3,290,834.06. The number of new tents organized during the term was 42-23 in 1896, and 18 in 1897 with a total charter membership of

PANISH MAKE NIGHT ATTACKS ON AMERICAN MARINES.

Guerillas Creep Through the Bush and Shoot the Pickets at Camp McCalla on Guantanamo Bay-Marines Fight With Great Bravery.

The invasion of Cuba by the Ameri can forces began when 800 marines pitched their tents about the smoking ruins of the outer fortifications of Guantanamo, and the stars and stripes for the first time float from a Spanish flagstaff in Cuba. To Capt. Clark and the battleship Oregon belongs the honor of accomplishing the first successful landing of the war. Forty marines from the battleship went ashore and occupied the left entrance of the bay, until the troopship Panthe arrived with 800 mariñes. These, under the command of Lieut.-Col. R. W. Huntington, arrived at 3 o'clock, and within half an hour they had burned the buildings of the Spanish camp and had set fire to the miserable little village which crouched on the beach under the hilltop of Guantanamo.

Lieut. Col. R. W. Huntington's battalion of marines, which landed from the transport Panther and encamped on the hill guarding the abandone cable station at the entrance to the harbor of Guantanamo, was engaged in beating off a bush attack by Spanish guerrillas and regulars the second day and night after they landed. fighting was almost continuous for 13 hours, until 6 o'clock in the morning when reinforcements were landed from the Marblehead. Four of our men were killed and one wounded and the advance pickets under Lieuts. Neville and Shaw are unaccounted for. Among the killed is Assistant Surgeon John Blair Gibbs, son of Maj. Gibbs, of the regular army, who fell in the Custer massacre. He was a very popular of-Charles It Smith, Private William Dunphy, and Private James McColgan Corporal Glass was accidentally wounded in the head. D, who had been doing advance picket duty for 16 hours, returned to camp safely. About 9 a. m. the Spaniards attacked the camp at a mile range, but the day and several of the marines were wounded. It is known at least 10 Spaniard were killed. The battleship as arrived at Guantanamo hav as small detachment.

It was decided by Lient Col. Huntcupied as a camp, as it was known that a force of Spaniards six times more numerous than the marine battalion was in the vicinity. Therefore the crest of the hill was given up to batteries and rifle pits and the tents wer nitched on the side of the hill near the

The latter was instantly killed and Wallace had one leg fractured. Fifteen dead Spaniards, including one lieutenant, were found in the fort. During the attack several shots struck the ships in the harbor, one penetrat ing the pilothouse of the Associated Press dispatch boat Dandy, but no one was injured. When night had again settled down the Spaniards again crept forward through the bush like Indians and made the pickets on the crest of the hill their especial targets. The marines bravely stood their ground and supported by the warships in the bay, poured a constant fire into the sur rounding bush. The Spaniards began firing at 8 o'clock and the last shot wa fired by them at about 3 o'clock in the morning, and during the fighting Sergt. Maj. Thus far the marines have had the hest of the contest but the situation is grave and they are exhausted with repelling almost constant attacks. They have little chance to rest sleep. Were it not for the protecting guns of the war vessels the gallant little band would be annihilated. Estimates vary as to the Spanish attacking force, and the figurer run as high as 3,000.

Lieut.-Col. Huntington and Maj. ockrell gave high praise to the nerve and steadiness of officers and men, especially the young ones, as the er gagement was a baptism of fire for a large majority. The men were in darkness and in a strange land, but they stood to their posts with courage and fortitude and there was no symptom of panic. The marines, though much exhausted, were eager for more fighting, promising to inflict heavy punishment. The next day the amplest precautions were taken, and reinforcements were landed from the Marblebead.

Hong Kong: A report has reached here that Manila has fallen. It is said to be now occupied by the Philippine insurgents, commanded by Gen. Aguinaldo. The rebel junta and wealthy Philippine islanders resident here are jubitant over the news.

The American consul at Hong Kong Mr. Wildman, has been the recipient of hundreds of congratulations, for the junta gives him almost as much credit for the reported capture of Manila as to Gen. Aguinaldo himself, since Mr. Wildman has been their un swerving champion and has advised in all their plans. Consul Wildman does not credit the report that Manila has been actually occupied yet, but he believes that it will be very soon. The operations against Porto Rico will not depend upon what is to occur at Santiago.

There was however an accident on board the Alfonso XIII whose torpedo tubes proved defective, and she was compelled to return to the arsenal. This, it is said, causes the delay, but it is believed that the alleged accident is simply an excuse to keep the fleet at Cadiz.

Blanco Short of Supplies.

Madrid: Gen. Blanco having again telegraphed that in case the blockade becomes stricter it will be urgent to send war stores, as his supply is running short, the government has taken steps to dispatch abundant supplies by fast vessels from Spanish and foreign ports. The more important supplies from Spain will be strongly convoyed and will be sent immediately.

Big Fleet of Warships Convoy the Trans ports on the Way to Santiago-Only Two Regiments of Infantry Volunteers-Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

Delay after delay in starting the ransports with U. S. troops from Port Tampa for Cuba had caused so many disappointments that The troops scarcely believed they were going when they had really started. They had been aboard the transports several days with all arms, ammunition and supplies, but each day had brought forth a further delay, and only the day before the expedition actually sailed Mai-Gen Shafter and his staff had boarded the transport Seguranca and given orders to hoist anchors, when a dispatch was received from Washington saying "Delay expedition until further orders." Two of the transports had already started, however, and it required a hot chase on the part of dispatch boat Castine to overtake them with orders to return. It was learned later that plans had not been fully completed for warships to convoy the transports. This was arranged after a lengthy conference between the war and navy officials at Washington and the first expedition sailed the next day

Maj. Gen. Shafter, who commands this expedition, has with him a force of 773 officers and 14,564 enlisted men The U.S. regular troops make up the greafer part of the force, there being but three volunteer organizations on the ships. These are the 71st New York infantry volunteers, the Second Massachusetts infantry volunteers and two dismounted squadrons of four troops each, from the First U. S. volunteer cavalry, the regiment which Col. Wood commands and of which Theodore Roosevelt is a lieutenantcolonel It was difficult to prevail upon the mounted rifllemen to leave their mounts behind, but this was a matter of necessity, it is said, owing to the lack of accommadations for the horses on shipboard.

The full list of the troops that make up this expedition as reported to the war department by Gen. Shafter, is as follows:

Besides the Indiana, one other battleship and a first-classeruiser accompanied the fleet. The other ships are lesser cruisers, gunboats and auxiliary craft. Five of the war vessels first went to Port Tampa while 11 remained off Key West. When the five warships and the 32 transports reached Key West they were joined by the 11 others and the combined fleet of 48 vessels made a magnificent spectacle as they sailed to carry freedom's banner to the oppressed "Gem of the Antilles." ANOTHER BOMBARDMENT.

American Warships Drive Spaniards from Caimanera, 40 Miles From Santiago.

WHOLE NUMBER 1601.

Five American warships at 5:30 a. m. began to shell the fortifications of Caimanera, on the bay of Guantanamo, which cuts into the southern coast of Santiago de Cuba, east of the city of Santiago. The Americans' fire was most effective, driving the Spanish gunners in consternation from the delense of their works and then from the town of Caimanera, in which they took refuge. The inhabitants of the place also joined in the rout. The vessels which took part in the bombardment were the cruiser Marblehead, the auxiliary cruisers St. Louis and Yankee and two gunboats. The latter, however, paid little attention to the Spanish forts, directing their efforts to cut-ting the cables which run out of Caimanera, three of which were cut. The fire from the cruisers was rapid and well directed and was replied to with vigor by the Spanish. All the men on board the warships worked with enthusiasm, the New York Naval Reserves on board the Yankee earning their share of laurels at the guns. As the walls of the fortifications began to tumble upon them the Spanish gunners deserted their posts of duty and ran to the town, which was in a state of high excitement. A great panic fell upor the residents of Caimanera, who feared the Americans would complete their work by destroying the town and there was a general movement to places of safety. Many shells from the Amerito houses on the outskirts of Caimanera After the cessation of firing from the forts the fleet concentrated its fire upon

It is capacious and has 40 feet of water. The low lying hills can be easily crossed with trains of siege guns, and there are level roads to Santiago, 33 miles distant, where a few mountain batteries will be taken to an eminence commanding the city and the Spanish ships. Guantanamo has six miles of water harbor and will be of great value to the United States as a navy and army supply station; coaling depot and eable terminus. The navy now awaits the army. The fighting ships of Rear Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley have battered down the coast defenses of southern Cuba, have sealed up Admiral Cervera's fleet in the harbor, have cut the Haitien and Jamaica cables, and now hold 35 miles of the coast east of Santiago, including Guantanamo harbor. Under the cover of the guns of the fleet eastern Cuba may be safely invested by land and sea. Admiral Cervera's fleet annihilated and the entire seized and held after a short campaign

$200,000,000 War Bonds Anthorized ngress provides for the is 000,000 3 per cent bonds. The subscription for these bonds is now open at the treasury department and will close July 14. It is intended to make this loan a popular one and for this reason congress provided that the smallest subscriptions shall be first allested and the allotments made inversely in accordance with the size of the subscripions. All individual subscription must be allotted first, and therefore subscriptions from corporations and associations other than individuals woll only receive an allotment in the event that the individual subscriptions fall short of the $200,000,000 which are

"HELPFUL RELIGION." LAST SUNDAY'S SUBJECT.

From the Text, Psalms, Chapter XX. me S. as Follows: "Send' Thee Heli From the Sanctuary of the Lord.

If you should ask fifty men what the church is, they would give you fifty different answers. One man would say. "It is a convention of hypocrites." Another, "It is an assembly of people who feel themselves a great deal bet-Another, "It is a ter than others." place for gossip, where wolverene dis-positions devour each other." Another, "It is a place for the cultivation of superstition and cant." Another, "It is an arsenal where theologians go get pikes and muskets and shot." "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.

Now, whatever the church is, my text tells you what it ought to be; a great, practical, homely, omnipotent "Send thee help from the sanctuary." The pew ought to yield restfulness for the body. The color of the upholstery ought to yield pleasure to the eye. The entire service ought to yield strength for the moil and struggle of every-day life. The Sabbath ought to be harnesed to all the six days of the week, drawing them in the right direction. - The church ought to a magnet, visibly and mightily affecting all the homes of the worship-Every man gets roughly jostled, gets abused gets cut, gets insulted, gets slighted, gets exasperated. By the time the Sabbath comes he has an accumulation of six days of annoyance, and that is a starveling church service which has not strength enough to take that accumulated annoyance and hurl it into perdition. The business man sits down in church headachey from the week's engagements. Perhaps he wishes he had tarried at home on the lounge with the newspapers and the slippers. That man wants to be cooled off and graciously diverted. The first wave of the religious service ought to dash clear over the hurricane decks, and leave him dripping with holy and thee help from the sanctuary."

We hear a great deal of the art of singing, of music as an entertainment, time we heard something of music as, a help, a practical help. In order to do this, we must have only a few hymns. New tunes and new hymns every Sunday make poor congregational singing. Fifty hymns are enough for fifty years. The Episcopal church prays the same prayers every Sabbath, For that reason they have the hearty responses. Let us take a hint from that fact, and let us sing the Only in that way can we come to the full force of this exercise. Twenty thousand years will not wear out the hymns of Wm. Here are people who have not been in church before for ten years; what will your prayer do for them by rolling over their soul holy memories? Here are people in crises of awful tempspair, or wild blundering, or theft, or suicide. What will your prayer do for of giving them strength to resist? 10. "Go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee." According to his promise before he died, that he would meet them there (Matt. 28: 32). "And there shall they see me." He did indeed show himself before they went to Galilee, but the great manifestation to over five hundred at once who must have gathered for that purpose on account of the message, the great proof that he was living in his own human body, that he was living in mission by eating with the disciples, and the great commission to evangelize the world, all were in Galilee.

13. "Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept." (1) The absurdity and stupidity of this statement are apparent on the face of it. For if the guard were asleep, how could they know that the disciples stole him away? (2) The disciples could not have stolen the body away if they would, with the soldiers placed on watch especially to prevent it. Even the noise of rolling away he stone would have awakened a sleepy guard. (3) The disciples had no motive for steading the body. They did not expect a resurrection. They did not know its importance. What could they have done with the body to escape detection?

They would take all the responsibility, so that the soldiers need have no fear of the penalty for sleeping on guard, which was death.

15. "And this saying." The story made up by the soldiers. "Until this day." That is, when the Gospel was written, possibly thirty or more years after the resurfec-

One of the greatest mistakes made by stockmen is the overstocking of the pastures. The government has recently been investigating the great stock they have been overstocked to a point where they are about ruined. This is particularly the case with Texas, where the conditions are now so bad that it is feared the injury is permanent. The grasses and what serves for bears anything at all, will henceforth bring forth only weeds. The report says that it is not yet too late to recover, provided the land be given rest at one. The subject is a matter for consideration other than on the ranges. When our home pastures are overstacked they become permanentbe put into a rotation and gradually brought up again. With many pastures this is not practicable, as frequentif the ground is stumpy or s uneven that tillage is exceedingly dif-

When such a pasture becomes eaten down to the very soil the sod must necessarily become thin. If, through a whole growing season, the blades of the grass are not allowed to develop, the roots must become also thin and weak. When like conditions exist year by year is it any wonder that the sod becomes so thin that the total product is meager? We must work for a heavy and vigorous sod on our pastures. Overstocking is a bad practice and one that is being abandoned by our most progressive farmers. It will be found cheaper to have more grass grown than can be eaten than to have less grass grown than will satisfy the herds.

ture from this fate-to put so few cattle on it that they cannot eat all of the grass, or to feed additional rough fodder and grain in the barns before turning them onto the pasture. Rich-ard Baker has said that his plan is to and to turn only one on it. One would suppose that this would mean a great waste of material, but such is not the fact, as land so treated will probably bring forth twice as much as if treated will always be in good condition.

Inspect Watering Places.-In the pastures the principal drinking places should be carefully examined; first, to protect the source of supply if it be ondly, to remove the accumulations of pond can be thereby increased; and thirdly, to protect the whole supply ed far as possible, from that fouling can obtain free access to the water when the water is scanty. understood by the thoughtful reader that the terrors of a dry summer and to a certain extent by careful managenent, but no time should be lost in taking steps to remedy any defects which might exist, or other pressing work will shelve the matter once for all .- Farm and Home (England.)

that immortal line, "Let slip the dogs of war," he could have had no idea that his words would one day be used literally. Yet such will be the case, for there is little doubt that in the next great European war the words written so many years ago by the great poet and dramatist will be the very ones used by the officer in charge of the war dogs to set his pack of ferocious canines on the enemy. In the armies of almost every European country, except Great Britain, says a writer in the Rambler, dogs are trained either as spies, messengers, or to render help and assistance to the wounded. Germany, France, Russia, of trained dogs, although it is in the Gire the Alarm Another clever trick of theirs is to give an alarm at the approach of an enemy, a German being dressed up in the clothes of a foreign soldier for the purpose. In the early part of their education they are taken out with an the work. The young dog is first of all taught to find lost articles, this constituting the beginning of the delivery of dispatches.

One of the handlers, as the soldiers who train and look after the dogs are called, takes the young dog away, puts dummy dispatch into the small leathpocket in the dog's collar, and starts him off to find his master. Most of the dogs are exceedingly fond of this kind of work, which can be readily understood by all who possess dogs and have noted the eagerness they display carry home a walking stick or basket, or take it to any particular per-

Thus loaded, the intelligent beast does his best to reach the line of sharp-shooters, and, if successful, returns he himself is killed. It has been proved that if a dog is wounded while carry-ing out his duties, he can seldom be induced to again venture near the place where he has been shot.

However, the faithfulness of the dogs

Special breed is selected. Scotch collies are perhaps more widely used than any other, because of their wonderful intelligence, and in most cases cross breeds are preferred. All the dogs go through such an elaborate course that, when their training is completed, they carry out their duties almost automatically.

It is admitted now that the best sort of employment for these dogs is outpost duty, conveying ammunition to the fighting line, delivering messages and searching for wounded soldiers in battle. This has been recognized after several years of practice with them, and although they have efficiently carried out every other duty they have been put to slow work, such as drawing wagons, etc., is not, as has been proved, quite suitable. The wagons in which wounded soldiers are conveyed off the field, and which are drawn by the dogs, require attendants, and it is claimed with rea son that the attendants might just as well carry off the wounded men themselves. In discovering the wounded on field of battle the dogs are at their best. The qualities required work are inherent in the St. Bernard, the breed mostly employed for this special duty.

What better dog than a trained bloodhound or bulldog, too, could a sol-dier have to accompany him when on at a lonely outpost, and to give him timely warning of the approach of an enemy? Both breeds, properly trained, as is well known, make the est watch dogs in the world.

on the battery facing the bay an exposed situation if anything was to be feared from the sea. It was only reasonable to expect a tidal wave with such a shock, and when the earthquake came, the young man at once rushed to the window and put out his arms. Sure enough, he plunged them in water to the shoulders. He ran back, and threw those arms about the lady. "Come, O darling!" he cried; "let us die together!" So they stood, dying together, and the water stood also; for it did not come in at the window. After a time the father and mother ppeared, and found the pair in this alarmed embrace. They asked its neaning and were told, the story being illustrated by the young man's dripping, arms. Then the older people had an explanation to add. Their prospective son-in-law, said they, had not thrust his hands into the sea, but into an aquarium outside the window Nevertheless, he did not regret the shock, since it completed an uncertain business, and he and the lady had not died, but lived, together.
