Municipal Elections in Michigan. The results of municipal elections in Michigan cities on the 2d were about an even thing between Democrats and Republicans, the odds favoring the former. The issues as a general rule were purely local, but at the same time the lines were sharply drawn between the two parties mentioned. In some places Citizens', l'eople's and Non-Partisan tickets were placed in the field. At Hudson, Grand Haven and Eaton Rapids, the Democratic regimes were completely overturned, Republicans gaining the municipal offices and control of the councils. One of the surprises the councils. The Trial of Gen. Marsh was Commenced March 20.

MANY PEOPLE ARE IMPLICATED

The Testimony in the Marsh Trial is in and the Attorneys Have Commenced Their Arguments to the Jury—Sutton not so Anxious for Trial Ninth Day.

The prosecution in the Marsh trial n the 19th probed deep into the various banking transactions made by Col. Eli R. Sutton in his own name and that of his wife, in Detroit. The prosecution attempted to show that three days after the alleged Grand Rapids "divvy," Sutton deposited currency amounting to $8,200 in Detroit banks, accounting for all but $201 of the money, which Gen. White withdrew from a Grand Rapids bank. The clerk, of Sweet's hotel, Grand Rapids, testified as to the appearance of Bickerstaff, Marsh and White at the hotel The first time Marsh registered as John Grant of 'Detroit, so as to avoid reporters. for Tuttle concluded his ardays having been spent in getting a gument in the Marsh case on the 3d It was expected that he would talk much longer. He said, in resuming his talk to the jury, that on Mar. 31 he had followed the successive steps down through the devision of the spoils, and it only remained for him to conside the actions of Gen. Marsh from that time on to see if his conduct comp with that of an honest man. The pros ecutor dwelt upon the impossibility of the human heart to conceal crime. Attention was called to the fact that two days before the grand jury convened—Marsh went to Kalamazoo and persuaded Bickerstaff to accompany him to Detroit, the home of Col. Sutton, to consult White. This was done, the prosecutor said, because White and Marsh and Bickerstaff were allalarmed. A few days later, on Dec. 11, after Bickerstaff had been before the jury, all three are found at Sweet's botel in Grand Rapids, and here Marsh, he said, found it necessary to register the name of John Grant. Presecutor Tuttle was followed by Capt. Atkinson and had not finished his speech when court adjourned.

Gov. Pingree Asks White's Apprehension Gov. Pingree has acknowledged the receipt of the letter of Sheriff Porter in which the latter requested the governor's co-operation in securing the assistance of the general government, through its consular agents in South Africa, in apprehending Gen. White.
The sheriff is informed that the governor considers the suggestion a good one and has already written Secretary of State Hay concerning the matter.

Pingree at the time of the grand jury expose, and asked the governor to appoint a court of inquiry to investigate and report as to whether he knew anything of the military fraud, he has been anxious to resign, but did not propose to do so until his superiors vindicated him so far as that deal was concerned. It is now, hinted that this vindication will be forthcoming within a few days and that he will then gracefully retire.

Sutton May Ask for a Change of Venue. There is no doubt that, notwith-standing the eagerness displayed by Col. Sutton a month ago for an immediate trial, it is his purpose to not only seek a continuance, but a change of venue as well. In this connection an mysterious incident has transpired within the past few onymous letters were mailed in Lansing to all parts of the county, being addressed to all classes of citizens, but generally men of prominence in their respective localities.
