Along the banks of the St. Joe River in Michigan is found some of the finest scenery in the West. Here Nature in her happiest mood has decorated the ear h with tree and shrub and verdure to form a perfect picture of beauty. The green of summer, the darker hues of autumn, even the bare branches of winter, delight the eye with their perfection. The photographer may wander for miles along this beautiful stream, and bear away pictures that will well recompense him for the time spent in collecting them. The above, taken by Mr. Eugene J. Hall,
