It don't matter much where he is, the man that wants to be mean will be mean, whether he drives a horse, rides a bicycle, steers an automobile, handles the electric car or locomotive.

One of the new laws provides that any school district which maintains a school during five months of the year, having children residents therein who have finished the studies of the eighth grade in said school, may at any annual meeting vote a tax sufficient to pay the tuition of said children to any high school which the school board may select and designate.

We hope that Congressman Townsend will see to it that those farmers who reside in various directions from Manchester, and are not served by the rural mail carriers, are given the same conveniences that their neighbors enjoy.

The amusement season will be opened at Arbelter hall next Thursday evening, Aug. 27 by the wonderful banjoist, Farland. The entertainment will be refined and highly entertaining.

Recently a bevy of young ladies of Osted went fishing in one of the little lakes adjacent to the village. Upon arriving at their destination, the question of an anchor for the boat came up.

Act No. 134, session of 1903, repeals Act No. 199 of 1901 and requires the librarians of each public library, whether township, school district, village, or city, to report annually to the county commissioner of schools, on or before the 30th day of June in each year, in regard to the condition and support of the library, and requires the county commissioner to file the reports with the state board of library commissioners before the first day of September in each year.

Recalled Bygone Days. In the winter of '45-'46, in an old rude log school house in what is known as the Wooden district, Marie E. Guston, now Mrs. M. Groger, of Springville, taught a room full of lively youngsters the studies of those days.

Some time ago Mr. Woodson and Seymour Hammond of Manchester decided a meeting of the old schoolmates would be enjoyable, so August 11th marked the assembling at their old teacher's home of several of the remaining scholars.

Those who hear Farland will hear more music than they ever heard before from a banjo. He plays the old pieces that stir one's heart with wonderful feeling.
