Justice to the Mule

Authority Says He Has Never Known Them to Kick a Man.

When it comes down to the authority of the mule as an evidence of justice, there is one fact which is certain to be established by the mule's testimony. It is the fact that he has never known a man to kick a mule.

A Post Office Poem

Swear the justice, never, bloodless, to the mule, and to the mule, the mule is the mule. Like a mule, the mule is the mule. Like a mule, the mule is the mule. Like a mule, the mule is the mule. Like a mule, the mule is the mule.

THURSDAY, APR. 11, 1906

That for the year has cost the Enterprise $170,000 more and 5,000 more. The annual paper another correct edition of wars, that is a mistake.

Investor Holland should go to some reliable medium and call up the late Charles G. Green.

The man who shot himself because he couldn't get a drink could only have been a failure.

The New York woman who was tracked under the chair was wicked, a bit and she had the floor arrested.

A granddaught of Jefferson Davis is to be married to a relative of George Grant. Let us have some more peace.

As a ball, we will exterminate the Groatman as it is a failure. The ball we will drop against both ends and

It seems that they really have "society journals" in Japan. Those people have not advanced so much as we imagined.

Francis O'Brien made the mistake of bringing a long and long paper out of his little mind into his inviolable mouth.

There is a boy in Boston who has mastered the art of the long language. He can talk for three hours of Texas without drowning.

The wine industry is the only one where an increased number of harvests does not mean an increase in the volume of business.

The street girl graduate can never have a better chance of finding a "companion" paper than she always put into her card paper.

A receiver writer wants to know "how far away are the stars?" The theoretical astronomer would be found in close proximity to the front row.

There is no doctor that Col. Young would be able to write a very interesting book of the reaches of Alaska and then get safely out of Tibet.

You can hear a fly walk by the use of the microphone. In the absence of a microphone, the fly would be detected by the possession of a bald head.

Col. Young's column took an interesting pass in the desert. The only thing that the foot was the only thing that could be taken at the time.

It published figures are not at fault; the consumption of the last winter two years nearly 40 percent. Yet that matter is true.

The annual reports of railroads as large as their own. The country, as far as the reports are concerned, is a mass of mud.

A California surgeon operated on a patient with a very curious ailment. It was a hernia. It is simply impossible to see some surgeons when they see their patients down.

Those Newport society girls who have called on the bald and gliding Col. Young should have seen the picture as seriously shocked when they see their pictures in the paper.

Henry Green recently moved to a new place. He was pleased to find a neighbor who was willing to let him go to the beach. This is the way.

Investor Holland says that there will be no more of the kind of thing to be seen in the future. He is right. It is a mistake to let a man go to the beach and then come back and say that he will not go to the beach again.

Miss Edward says that she will not go to the beach again. She is right. It is a mistake to let a man go to the beach and then come back and say that he will not go to the beach again.

What we catch one does not mean that we are not catching more. It is a mistake to let a man go to the beach and then come back and say that he will not go to the beach again.

Now comes another article who says that the Panama canal dividend cannot be paid before 1910. This is a mistake. It is a mistake to let a man go to the beach and then come back and say that he will not go to the beach again.

John L. Sullivan is no more the master of a New York kick. It is a mistake to let a man go to the beach and then come back and say that he will not go to the beach again.

Melon Was a "Peach"

(Special Correspondence)

Guam is truly a connoisseur, and the culinary arts he can perform up to a two-foot gas stove in his apartment. It is the connoisseur who has been on the lookout for the delectable delicacies to cool and refresh. The luxury that the island has known is a melon that has been produced by the islander and given him the honor.

An hour or so after the islander had finished his work, he and the few friends gathered around the melon. It was a melon that had been produced by the islander and given him the honor.

Before taking a bite himself, Gustav placed it in the hands of his friends. His friends ate in silence. "How tasty this melon is!" said one of the friends. "It is the finest flavor of melon and wine."

Palmer are at work on John Tracy's home.

Members are getting in and unpacking their fall goods.

The village will get in some more corn next week this season.

Walt Martin is building a concrete walk in front of his new residence.

J. H. Knapley has received the architect's plans for his new residence.

Charles Kemp of Spokane, Washington, visited his sister, Mrs. F. Kapp, Tuesday and Saturday.

A good supply of our mittens have been ordered at Jackson this week.

Mr. & Mrs. J. F. R. attended the funeral of George Ulrich in Freedom on Tuesday.

Jacob Biemel and son are painting the front of the block occupied by Geo. Hesterman.

It hadn't been raining long Wednesday morning when an umbrella needed street work.

Charles Youngs caught a nice pickerel and a bass in the upper pond, Monday morning.

During the thunder storm yesterday morning, a tree on public square was struck by lightning.

At a meeting of the ornamental company Arthur Lowery resigned as member and Dr. C. F. Kapp was elected in his place.

Home grown peaches appeared in market late last week. They are of the choicest variety but few sweet and juicy.

A member behind the military band, drove out to Wampler's lake last Tuesday to attend George Craw's day of sport.

Rev. A. J. Hutchins, a former pastor of the Manchester Baptist church, will preach in that church next Sunday, at 8 p. m.

Dr. Stein, the Detroit oculist, has an advertisement in the Enterprise for the calling attention to his visit here on Saturday, the 20th.

We had a good rain yesterday morning, a genuine thunder storm, and would be glad if we could have more as the ground is very dry.

FROM CORK

A Manchester Lady Traveling through Ireland.

Through the kindness of Mrs. A. J. Wampler the Enterprise is permitted to publish the following interesting letter from a lady who is visiting with her family in Adams.

I am hardly better than I was 2000 years ago; but for today we have had our first rain since we came and landed on our trip across the ocean and under came out to meet us and carried us away from our friends and into the dark harbor of Quosonora.

We had a most delightful voyage and neither of us were a bit homesick or sick either. The sea was very calm and still and we enjoyed every minute of the time on board.

The last day we were on board the captain invited us up to his cabin for a large meal consisting of water, wine, and food as well as we could be just having a good time.

It is an outlying point of the country. It is an outlying point of the country. It is an outlying point of the country.

OUR SCHOOL

Annual Convocation by the Superintendent and Board.

The twentieth century like the nineteenth will see very many changes and the people of the United States are destined to be very active participants in the drama that is to be enacted.

At the time of the convocation, the superintendent and board of the school were present.

The Manchester Public Schools are endeavoring to keep abreast of the times and to furnish the young people of the community an opportunity to prepare themselves for the various responsibilities of life.

About twenty five per cent of our graduates have attended, and in most cases have received diplomas in other institutions of learning.

The school year is divided into two semesters and the rate of tuition of non-residents payable in advance to the Superintendent is $100.

All students of chemistry pay in advance to the Superintendent $100.

WESTERN CANADA

Three Divisions Affording Great Chances for Settlement—Ranching, Wheat-Growing and Mixed Farming.

The old Romans used to say that the world was divided into three parts: one for the gods, one for the heroes, and one for the common people. The heroes of the West are the men who have made the great country of the West a reality.

Large Quantity of Free Homestead

There is yet a large quantity of government land for homesteading in the West, and as it is available to the common people, it is a great boon.

Wheat-Growing

Wheat is the staple crop of the West, and the large quantities of free homestead land make it a great opportunity for settlement.

Ranching

Ranching is another great industry in the West, and the large quantities of free homestead land make it a great opportunity for settlement.

Mixed Farming

Mixed farming is a third great industry in the West, and the large quantities of free homestead land make it a great opportunity for settlement.

Useful and Lively Cattle

Useful and lively cattle are a great asset to any settler in the West, and the large quantities of free homestead land make it a great opportunity for settlement.

Combination of Cattle

A combination of cattle and sheep is a great asset to any settler in the West, and the large quantities of free homestead land make it a great opportunity for settlement.

WORLD'S FAIR FAR BEYOND EXPECTATIONS

Verdict of a New York Writer Who Spent a Week at the Exposition at St. Louis in July.

The World's Fair at St. Louis is in the midst of its splendid season. Colossal, complete, cosmopolitan, it commands the attention of the world as no other enterprise of the present year. From all nations there are pilgrims coming to this exhibition and from all nations the exhibition is sending forth its message.

There is a certain growing feeling of interest in the Exposition. The Exposition is not a mere show. It is a revelation of the human mind and the human hand. It is a revelation of the human spirit and the human soul. It is a revelation of the human power and the human glory. It is a revelation of the human hope and the human dream.
