SOME CHRISTMAS POEMS

Too Late!

'Twas Christmas Eve, and bitter cold, The snow was falling fast, The icy branches crackled and moaned, The stars shivered in the blast. He looked about the frozen road, A lead with yellow hair, And bore a bundle on his back, And hurried on his way.

When last he trod these hills and dale It was a summer's day, The birds were singing overhead, His heart was light and gay; His dress was light and sunny, His eyes were sparkling free; And in his mother's arms, He left her for the sea.

But after many a weary month Of hardship, toil and pain, He longed to see his mother's face, And at the window-pane, He saw her smiling face.

He drew a picture as he went Of walls with holly bright, A cozy table spread for two, And while the tale of foreign lands And stormy seas he told, She turned his loving, wrinkled hand Upon his curls of gold.

The dizzy dikes had ceased to fall, He strained his eyes to mark The glimmer of the lamp-lit pines, But all was still and dark; No joyous bark rang out to greet His footsteps as of yore, The cold white snows unbroken lay Around the silent door.

He saw upon the snowy sill A wreath of immortelles, And then his orphaned cry arose Above the Christmas bells, His mother's lonely watch was o'er, No mother was there to greet him, She walked in glory with the stars— He had returned too late.

—Minna Irving, in Leslie's Weekly.

Bethlehem-Town

As I was going to Bethlehem-Town, Upon the earth I cast me down All underneath a little tree, That whispered in this wise to me: 'Oh, I shall stand on Calvary, And bear what burthen saveth thee!'

As I went to Bethlehem-Town, I met a shepherd coming down, And thus he quoth: 'A wondrous sight Hath spread before mine eyes this night— An angel host most fair to see, That sung full praise to thee, That shall uplift on Calvary What burthen saveth you and me!'

And as I got to Bethlehem-Town, I saw a man that bore a crown, 'In there, cried I, 'in Bethlehem A King shall wear this diadem!'

And when I saw that man with crown, I thought I saw my King, and 'twas He That shall be lifted on the tree, And freely shed on Calvary What blood redeemeth you and thee!'

Into a child in Bethlehem-Town The wise men came and brought the crown, And while the infant smiling slept, Upon their knees they fell and wept; But with her babe upon her knee, Naught recked that mother of the tree That should uplift on Calvary What blood redeemeth you and me!'

Again I walk in Bethlehem-Town, And think on Him that wears the crown, I may not kiss His feet again, Nor worship Him as I did then; My King hath died upon the tree, And hath outpoured on Calvary What blood redeemeth you and me!'

—Eugene Field.

A Christmas Hymn

The stars were shining in Judea's sky, And all the air was ringing, Where angels, with their censers awaying, A golden light were bringing.

And deep below the glory of the stars, In humble peace reposing, A mother sat beside the manger bars, A tender babe disclosing.

O sweeter than Arabia's fragrant airs, From myrrid roses sweeping, Fairer than children laughing at their prayers,

This little babe lay sleeping, Can this be He, the King, upon His throne, This lowly lying stranger?

And it thus He comes into His own, Unscathed, in a manger? Yes, this is He for whom ye long have prayed, For Him bring dearest treasure, And lay beside Him all your toil and care.

In overflowing measure, Not the price of silver or of gold, Or shrinking lamb's oblation, But every jewel wrought of faith and love, and contrition.

—Louise Morgan Hill.

Christmas

The streets were full of speech, The winds were whispering each to each, The moon was calling to the beach, And the stars were shining each to each.

Christmas in Australia

A long, narrow track curls in and out amongst the forest trees like a great dirty yellow ribbon. The sun pours down upon it all day long, and the unceasing glare adds to its ugliness. There is no sign of moisture anywhere within sight; not a drop of water has fallen from the blue skies for six months past. The wheels of wagons and the hoofs of horses have churned and kicked the surface of the track into fine red dust—so fine that every passing breeze picks up the powdered earth and plays with it. On the straight stretches of the forest-trail, the breeze carries the dust into a flimsy haze, like the dun-colored mist one meets with at eventide in the China seas. Where the trail bends suddenly to right or left, the playful winds catch up the dust and whirl it round and round in swiftly revolving circles, lifting it higher and higher until its topmost spirals seem to melt into the very skies. All along the track the trees on both sides are covered with dust; it lies thickly upon the trunks. It clings to the boughs, it bows down the leaves, giving a straight up and drop them straight down again, seldom skimming the surface and never stumbling. They are due at the mining camp-to-night, for they are laden with Christmas cheer, and many a storekeeper, looking at his empty shelves, and at the crowds of diggers lounging about with well-stocked pouches, curses Said Mahomet, the owner of the caravan for not hurrying his men and his beasts; but the curse of a Christian storekeeper is only so much idle wind in the ears of the Mohammedan camel knag, though at the giving of excuses he is neither niggardly nor slow himself, for he hates all unbelievers, though he carries their trade and pouches their money.

Half a dozen horsemen come along the track, each riding a pack-horse by a halter. Long of limb are these men, bearded for the most part, with dry, thin, weather-tanned faces. They wear their broad-brimmed, soft felt hats pulled far down over their brows to keep the dust out of their eyes. They sit loosely in the saddle, with a stolidly, careless seat, and Little squads of horsemen dash in from the outside camps, wearing white, soft, slouch hats, blue or red shirts, breeches, and spurred boots. They sing and shout merrily, and get and return chaff with careless freedom. All is noise and motion, all is excitement and reckless freedom; for the diggers are out to spend their gold, and spend it they will, though the heavens fall. Little brown men and women, too, from Japan, dressed in all their Oriental finery, jostle their way amidst the eager crowd, the Japanese smiling gaily as the bronzed diggers toss them playful compliments. A serious-faced Chinaman now and then puts in an appearance, his big plated straw hat, long pigtail, and saffron-colored robe looking out of place amidst the whirl of Australian life. The Chinaman gets no compliments, he is not welcome on a gold field, and he knows it, and, what is more, he has no legal right there, a fact which he also knows as well as his neighbors.

The sun sinks in a blood-red bank of clouds in the West, there is a great cheer for quarrels; groups link arm-in-arm and go reeling down the causeway, shouting, singing, capering, laughing, ripe for fun or mischief. Hark! a bell rings out loud and high above the din, a bell that tells that Christmas day has come. Hark! yet again. A young girl's voice comes stealing sweetly through the warm night air, other voices join in and blend with it, strange sounds to catch the listening ear amidst such surroundings:

A Christmas Carol

Hark! the herald angels sing, Glory to the new-born King, Glory to the new-born King, Glory to the new-born King.

The Bethlehem Star

The Bethlehem Star! The Guiding Star Of Old Judaea's night, Has it become a faded star Across the orient night?

The Christmas Star

A little Star all undimmed, Stopped down the dusky way of night; White-footed, smiling, unafraid, It leaped from the folds of greater light.

The Christmas Feeling

I like the Christmas Feeling that is filling all the air, That fills the streets and busy stores, and scatters everywhere; I like the way the people on the streets are glad, and the shop-girls smiling sweet.

The Star of Bethlehem

Out of the past's dark night This shines one star, Whose light is brighter than the stars, Is more than countless constellations are.

Holly Song

The holly is for happiness; Hang it, hang it, when the holly comes, Shows its rose along the sky.

STODIES FOR THE CHILDREN

The Little Heart. A little heart had a thought of spite. It beat and buzzed and buzzed and buzzed. It was as if it said, "Nobody knows it, but I'll let you know."

There are exactly twenty mistakes in this story. What are they? They live in Tubes. There is a curious group of worms inhabiting the seashore, which attach to themselves along the length of the body, bits of shell, sand and minute pebbles, thus forming a sheath.

ON WHICH SIDE ARE YOU? Two children looking through colored glasses, one said, "I see red, blue and the other said, "I see light."

Russian Riddles. Here are some of the riddles which the boys and girls puzzle. The answers are given at the end, but see first how many you can find.

Frederick's Comb. A carpenter wrote a poem about $600; plastering; $25; painting and glazing; $75; making a total of $762.

The Little Bear. Every boy and girl using a comb to smooth their hair and a comb to comb their hair.

CRESTNUTS. An electrical awakening in India is supplementing the hydroelectric power of the country.

NEAT AND INEXPENSIVE HOUSE CAN BE BUILT COMPLETE FOR THE SMALL COST OF $975.

The accompanying sketch and ground floor plan are for a suburban cottage that should serve many who desire to buy a inexpensive house that will cost $975 and is set on clear spots or brick lots.

Ground Floor Plan. While the casings or trimmings of doors and windows are pure white, the interior of the house is of a light color.

Upper Floor Plan. The plan shows the layout of the second floor, including bedrooms and a bathroom.

Fireproof Paint. What is a good fireproof paint to use on excellent fireproof paint for a finished roof is red iron oxide.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1905.

While we were enjoying fine weather last week there was a blizzard ranging in the south from Arkansas to the Atlantic ocean.

The state food department has notified butchers that a law goes into effect, January 1st, prohibiting the use of color substances in sausage of all kinds.

The truancy law is being heeded generally throughout the state, though there is an occasional stubborn man, and in consequence there are over 5,000 more children attending school in the state this year than last.

A special meeting of Napoleon masonic lodge was held Monday evening to install the officers.

The state grange in session at Grand Rapids last week passed a resolution favoring government ownership of railroads.

It is unofficially announced that the running time of the Michigan Central trains between Detroit and Chicago is soon to be shortened about an hour.

Next Monday will be Christmas, the day that brings joy to more people than any of the holidays.

The new transient traders' law is to be tested at Millford. An agent of a Dayton, Ohio, firm has been ordered for delivering $600 worth of ordered goods there last week.

The contention over the sale of the Fred Campbell place to E. S. Haganam was heard before Judge Leland at Ann Arbor, Tuesday, Attorney Stivers trying to show that the place sold at too cheap a price and that there was an understanding that Elmer Stark had arranged to buy back the farm.

A large number of subscriptions expire next week and the week following. A good many have already renewed their subscriptions for the coming year and it has been very gratifying to us to have so many say that they would not attempt to keep house without the Enterprise.

Mr. & Mrs. I. M. Robison expect to have a family gathering on Christmas, C. J. Robison and family of Clinton, Mr. & Mrs. Sidney Case of Grand Rapids and C. W. Case and family will be there.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

A. J. Waters went to Ann Arbor Monday on business.

Judge Watkins of Ann Arbor was here on law business last Saturday.

Miss Winifred Cash of Brooklyn visited her grandparents, Mr. & Mrs. James Kelly, over Sunday.

George Burkhardt, postmaster at S. Line, was in town yesterday on business with Postmaster Bailey.

Mrs. Dr. Tracy, who has been dangerously ill for six weeks, is now able to sit up and can walk a little.

We learn that Robert Hildinger is improving and hope that he will soon be able to return to his work.

Mrs. Moon leaves Saturday to visit relatives and friends at Bad Axe, Cassville, Sebawing and Pigeon.

Our old neighbor, Caspar Bab, was in town yesterday. He intends to make his home with his son Harvey at Norvell.

Dr. & Mrs. George Torrey of Chicago are expected here Saturday to spend Christmas with their parents and friends.

Misses Alma and Louise Schmidt and Emma Niele went to Jackson last Friday night to visit friends and do some trading.

Misses Ida Stikworth, Julia Conklin and Marjorie Kingsley and Frederick and Roland Schmid visited Jackson last Saturday.

Rev. Manchester was called to Lyons, Ohio, yesterday to attend a funeral of a little girl who died at the hospital at Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Wm. Burlless and daughter, Hazel, Mrs. Wells Martin and Miss Thilie Grossman went to Jackson yesterday to trade.

We learn that Miss Gessie Hanham, who has been at Tecumseh taking care of her mother, who has been sick again, has returned to Ypsilanti.

Rev. Fr. McLaughlin went to Wyandotte Monday.

Peter McDermott will go to Lansing Saturday to visit his sister.

Nickle Senger went to Jackson today on business and to call on friends.

Miss Amelia Neyff of Ann Arbor will come home Saturday to spend Christmas.

Mr. & Mrs. J. B. Raymond of Grass Lake visited at John Deiker's in Sharon and at Perry Nash's last Saturday.

"Doc" is a brother-in-law of G. H. Putnam.

The addition to the Maple City sanitarium is nearing completion and when completed Prof. Wallace will use the lower floor of the east addition for his private office. The upper floors of both buildings will be furnished rooms for the sanitarium.

Mrs. Hardenburgh and Mr. & Mrs. W. F. Fischer left Thursday for California. They will stop enroute at Hot Springs, Ark. for a short time. Mrs. Fischer, who was one of our most popular young ladies, has been in poor health for several years and has been confined to her bed most of the time. Two months ago she went to Adrian, hoping that under Dr. Jones' treatment she might restore enough health to enable her to take the trip to California for the winter, she being in an utterly helpless condition at that time. A reporter called on Mr. Hardenburgh this morning and he said "Dr. Jones is deserving of all the credit you can give him for the wonderful work he did for our sister." She is able to walk and wait upon herself and when she went to Adrian she had to be carried out of her bed. She was unable to feed herself and had no control of her arms or limbs. After only 60 days treatment it seems wonderful to see her so nearly well. They are hastening to California to get away from the cold weather.—Tecumseh Herald.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

We have to issue a supplement again this week. More local and county news in the supplement. We wish our readers, one and all, a merry, merry Christmas.

O. W. Case received a letter from his son Lieut. Rolland Case, written on a government transport bond for Honolulu. It says that the trip was pleasant excepting the first two days out from San Francisco, when the weather was rough.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wolf, Jacob Bauer, Mrs. Wolf, Edward Rowe, Adam Miller and their families, making 17 persons in all, made Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Wolf a surprise on the evening of their 10th anniversary at their home in Grass Lake township, Monday afternoon.

FREEDOM. Adam Lamparter is on the sick list. G. H. Blumenauer has sold a valuable horse to Frank Hoeman. George Berke of Milwaukee is visiting his brother, Henry Berke.

Mrs. J. W. Payne and little daughter arrived from Cleveland, last Saturday night. Her husband will come Saturday. Rev. & Mrs. Addie Leeson of Caro, Mr. & Mrs. Chas. Leeson of Milwaukee and Clyde Leeson of Albion college will be here in a few days and there will be a family reunion next week at the home.

IRON CREEK. Mrs. Richard Green has been very poorly the past week. Miss Julia Hensie of Chicago is expected here to spend the holidays. Catherine and Philip Hensie made a business trip to Jackson Saturday.

The school in the Creek district will have a two-week vacation during the holidays. The teacher, Miss Anna Coleman, will visit at her home in Bad Axe. Mr. & Mrs. Harmon Clark and children and their families and Elmer Clark of Detroit are expected here Saturday night to spend Christmas at Richard Green's.

WAMPLER'S LAKE. Mr. & Mrs. E. J. Carpenter visited friends at Adrian last week. Mr. & Mrs. L. Darling of Onsted visited friends here a few days ago. Mr. & Mrs. D. S. Fuller left on the 16th for Chicago to visit friends during the holidays. George Crawford is enlarging his hotel and hopes to be able to accommodate all that come next season.

NORVELL. Cleora Hays has pneumonia. Wm. Bancroft of Ann Arbor was in town Monday. The plains school will have two weeks vacation. L. Whitney Watkins went to Chicago to the fat stock show.

Mrs. Inez Ray, who has been visiting in Nineveh was called home by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Pearl Aten, of Sand Lake. Mrs. David Woodward has been ill the past week. Mrs. Geo. Kies visited her sister in Detroit last week.

CLINTON. St. John's church ladies cleared $65 on their fair. Mrs. W. S. Whitely of Battle Creek has returned from visiting her father, E. W. Freese. Mrs. Chadwick has gone to Tecumseh to visit her daughter, Mrs. Crane, over the holidays.

BROOKLYN. Mr. Willber sold two fine trotters Saturday last to Fred Teachout of Tecumseh. All the churches here are making plans to entertain old Santa Claus Christmas eve. Miss Nettie M. Gillett was among the Brooklyn shoppers at Jackson Saturday last.

WILBUR AUSIN OF GRASS LAKE takes charge of the barber shop during Mr. Reed's absence. Many are glad to know that Mr. & Mrs. Will Lawrence will continue in the Brooklyn central telephone office with a raise of salary. After twelve years of steady work without a vacation, Herbert Reed, wife and daughter, left Monday for a well-earned vacation of several months in Texas and other points south.

SHARON. Randolph Fellows has gone to Detroit on business. Col. & Mrs. Feen of Bridgewater visited at Elmer Stark's Tuesday. Frank Smith and Josiah Sloat have gone to Chicago to see the fat stock show.

There will be no services at the Rowe's corner church on Sunday on account of quarterly meeting being held at Four-Mile lake, in Dexter. Charles O'Neill, son of our townsman, Henry O'Neill, is said to be the youngest locomotive engineer in the state and has a position with the Lake Shore, having passed an examination with markings at 100. He has recently taken unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Inez Rhoads of Adrian and ought to be happy. His home is in Adrian.

Mrs. Catherine Hezie will close her school in the Spafard district Friday afternoon for the holiday vacation with Christmas exercises, a tree and a visit from Mr. & Mrs. Santa Claus. The last meeting of the Alpha Sigma for the term was held Monday night, it was well attended and the program was quite varied. Bennett Rogot acted as critic. The paper by the seniors was an impressive feature. The officers for the next term were elected as follows: President—Lynn Weaver. Vice President—Mabel Spafard. Secretary—Louise Lehr. Treasurer—Ada Stringham. Maghall—Alvin Breitenweicher. Chaplain—Ralph Noggie.

At the residence of Mr. & Mrs. Frank Koebbe in Sharon, on Wednesday, Dec. 13, 1905, occurred the marriage of Lambert H. Gleake of Sharon and Miss Esther R. Sodi of Freedom. Miss Caroline Koebbe played the wedding march and the wedding party, headed by Rev. Pohly, marched into the sitting room under an arch of evergreen and flowers and the words were spoken that made Mr. Gleake and Miss Sodi husband and wife.

George Sodi acted as best man and Alma Koebbe as bridesmaid. After the ceremony and congratulations of assembled guests were over, all partook of an elegant repast prepared by Mr. & Mrs. Koebbe, assisted by Miss Sarah Koebbe. The happy couple left for their home on the Gleake farm near the center of the township, accompanied by good wishes of the many friends.

Fred Steinkohl sent each of the rooms a bundle of holly. The schoolrooms are dressed for Christmas and Santa Claus is almost here. School will close at noon Friday for the holiday vacation and will not commence until Tuesday after New Years.

BRIEF NEWS, ITEMS.

We wish you a Merry Christmas.

Hiram Pars lost one of his work horses Sunday morning.

A great crowd of men and boys were skating on the upper pond Sunday afternoon.

The roads continue in fine shape and the heaviest loads can be drawn over them with little effort.

Howard Clark is working on his own house trying to get the improvements done as soon as possible.

The telephone company will extend the cables up Ann Arbor street to do away with so many wires.

Wm. Burtless & Son will ship three carloads of sheep on Saturday, one each from Addison, Brooklyn and Manchester.

The streets were filled with people Saturday afternoon who had come in to do their usual trading as well as to select Christmas gifts.

Some of our citizens are intending to take advantage of the low rates offered by the railroads and will visit friends during the holiday vacation.

In order to meet the requirements of the insurance companies, Hildinger & Bowler have had the floor under their rendering kettle and engine cemented. They have also had the building re-wired by Doc Dowling and better electric lights installed.

The attention of our readers is called to the attractive advertisement of the Clinton Clothing Co., which will be found on the fifth page this week. One of our readers who lately visited the store said that they did not half express what they had to sell. He said that Charles Robison, the manager, was the same genial and accomodating gentleman as when in business here and seemed specially pleased to show his customers anything they wished to see.

Fred M. Freeman went to Gladwin, Monday on business.

Isaac Hall returned Tuesday from a visit with friends at Grass Lake.

Anthony Stalb of Norvell was calling on friends in town last Saturday.

Mrs. Arthur Lowery has been quite ill the past week but is able to be about again.

Fred Houck went to Tecumseh and drove from there to Britton and back on business, Tuesday.

Mrs. Florence Thomas of Clinton, a relative of Mr. Calhoun, came here to the methodist fair.

Newman Root of Lansing visited at his uncle's, H. L. Root, last Saturday and went to Adrian to see his mother.

Fred Lehman, who is clerking in the Peoples bank, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. & Mrs. Fred Lehman, in Sharon.

James Field, who has been in Cleveland and other places in Ohio the past summer, returned here last Friday. He says that he is "like a ship without a rudder."

Frank English of Brooklyn was in town last Saturday on his way home from visiting his agents in various parts of the county. He informs us that he has sold 34 carloads of fence posts this year.

Republican County Convention.

The Republicans of Washtenaw county interested in the adoption of the Primary Nominating Law for the nomination of a Republican candidate for congress for the second district of Michigan are requested to meet in the Court House at Ann Arbor, Wednesday, Dec 27th inst., at 1 p m., for the consideration of the above question and such other business as may come before the convention.
