HAYTI ANGERS THE GERMANS

RELATIONS ARE STRAINED BY SOME FINANCIAL DEALS.

Island Government Also Refuses to Withdraw Language Offensive to the Kaiser's Minister.

Port au Prince, Hayti, Feb. 11.—The relations between the governments of Hayti and Germany are strained, owing to the refusal of the German bankers, Hermann & Co., by direction of the court at Port au Prince, to return to the Haytian government large sums of money alleged to have been obtained fraudulently.

Among the alleged transactions of Hermann & Co. with the Haytian government was one which is said to have proved favorable to the government. This was concluded by the Haytian minister of finance, the German legation and Hermann & Co. The German minister demanded that this transaction, as well as others, be annulled, but the Haytian government, in terms that the German minister deemed offensive, refused to acquiesce.

The German minister at the same time demanded the withdrawal of the phrase objected to. This also was refused.

Fears are entertained here of grave complications ensuing.

The Official Monitor recently published notice of the expulsion of Mr. Mansour, an American citizen, but Mr. Furniss, the American minister, believing the call for the man's expulsion unjustified, asked for the withdrawal of the order. This, however, was refused and Mansour has left for New York. The seal of the American legation has been placed on his shop.

BONILLA EXPECTS INVASION.

Says Honduras is Ready to Repel Nicaraguan Army.

Panama, Feb. 12.—The following dispatch from President Bonilla of Honduras was sent in reply to a message asking for the Honduran side of the actual conflict with Nicaragua:

Tegucigalpa, Feb. 11.—Nicaragua is concentrating a considerable armed force upon the frontier of Honduras without having made a declaration of war. We are assured an invasion will take place soon. Honduras is ready to repel the movement. Manuel Bonilla.

A well-known Central American merchant, who is familiar with the political designs of the various republics, informed the correspondent Monday night that President Zelaya of Nicaragua, believing he holds the balance of power in Central America, wants to put the matter to the test, and that he will oppose intervention by the United States.

JAPANESE ARE DRIVEN AWAY.

Railway Laborers Forced to Leave Town of Woodburn, Ore.

Woodburn, Ore., Feb. 11.—Much feeling was engendered here by the Southern Pacific laying off white men employed on the railroad section at this point and replacing them with eight or ten Japanese. The feeling ran so high that 50 Americans called at the section house Saturday night and warned the Japanese to leave town. There was no violence and the Japanese promised to leave, and Sunday morning they departed for Portland within the limit specified. A Schwabow, the section foreman, refused to work with them and resigned his position. Warrants will be sworn out Monday for the arrest of the ring-leaders of the crowd that drove the Japanese out.

COLORADO PRIZES AWARDED.

Winners in Contest for Best Descriptive Articles

Denver, Colo., Feb. 11.—The contest for the best descriptive article on Colorado inaugurated by the Denver Press club last summer for the benefit of the delegates to the convention of the International League of Press clubs, held in Denver in August, is closed and the prizes were awarded Sunday. The prize winners are: Guy L. Ingalls, Free Press, Detroit, Mich., $250; Opie Read, Inter-Ocean, Chicago, $250; Merton J. Keyes, Star-Chronicle, St. Louis, $200; R. I. Brinkerhoff, Blade, Toledo, O., $175; Lewis G. Early, Times, Reading, Pa., $125.

MAYOR OF KINGSTON IS DEAD.

Charles Tait Succumbs to Injuries Sustained in Earthquake.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 11.—Charles Tait, mayor of this city, died Sunday afternoon at the public hospital, as a result of injuries sustained at the time of the earthquake. He was then conducting a meeting of the council and the building collapsed. Mayor Tait was 68 years old and of Scotch descent.

Stevens Denies He'll Resign.

New York, Feb. 11.—A Panama dispatch to the Herald states that Chief Engineer Stevens makes emphatic denial of the report that he has said he would resign if the digging of the Panama canal was let to contractors. Mr. Stevens, the dispatch says, has in the past declared that he favored contracting for the canal work, and his latest statement shows he is still of that opinion.

Wisconsin Farmer a Suicide.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 12.—William Strigle, a farmer, living at Chaseburg, Wis., hanged himself Monday. Excessive Bible reading causing a derangement of his mind is alleged to have been the cause.

From the State Capital

Information and Gossip Furnished by Special Correspondent at Lansing.

Lansing—Superintendent McDonald of the Detroit house of correction, passed through Lansing on his way to Grand Rapids. In a professional way Mr. McDonald is interested in the binder-twine plant proposed for Jackson prison. It may mean the solution of the whole prison labor problem in Michigan, he said. "I understand the conditions in other prison plants, very few men are employed, most of the work being done by machinery. At Stillwater, Minnesota, for example, the making of binder twine is only one small part of the work at the prison. They have large steam contracts and other contracts. There is a peculiar fact about this discussion of binder twine making in prisons. The great criticism of prison labor is its competition with free labor. Yet the report of the Stillwater prison shows that the prison-made twine sells at nine cents, whereas the binder-twine trust sells its product at 17 cents. That is boldly stated in the report. The cause of the one-way trust, the question of 'free labor' is never considered."

The binder-twine trust apparently crowded out of Minnesota, Indiana, North Dakota and other states by prison work, seems nevertheless preparing to make a fight in Michigan. Literature has appeared in Lansing contradicting the "advance agent" prospectus of the proposed plant. There is a fight coming on the "economy" plea, anyway, and prison and free labor are to be discussed fully in this connection. The literature circulated gives a most depressing outlook for the whole plan. It is thought that if the manufacturers mean to fight in Michigan they will work through dealers in agricultural implements.

Money for Agricultural College.
The agricultural college is allowed one-tenth of a mill of the general taxes, with a limitation of $100,000 in lieu of other appropriations. Last session this limit was removed for two years and the institution has been getting about $150,000 a year. From what has been said an engineering and class-room building is now being erected. Now the board wants to have a general building to cost about $100,000. Representative Schwartz introduced a bill amending the law so as to permanently remove the limit and give the college the whole amount of the one-tenth mill tax. It was favorably reported out by the Michigan agricultural committee and now goes to the ways and means committee for consideration, with every indication that it will be passed.

Suggest Tax Apportionment.
Before adjournment the State Association of Supervisors adopted a resolution in favor of the apportionment of a portion of the money derived by the state from taxes on corporations to the general expenses of the state government. It was suggested that the subject be given consideration by the state constitutional convention. It is the idea of the association, expressed in a resolution, to incorporate the State Superintendents' association under a law to be passed by the legislature so that a committee from the association may officially appear before the state tax commission and be heard with reference to railroad assessments.

Move for Increased Salaries.
Representative Perry introduced a joint resolution in the house providing for an amendment to the salary schedule to increase the pay of members of the legislature and to limit the length of the session to 120 days. Mr. Perry's resolution provides for a salary of $2,000 a year for the regular session of three dollars a day.

A bill providing for an appropriation of $148,300 for general expenses and $125,000 for improvements for the Western State Normal school in the next two years was introduced by Representative Hudson.

Liquor on Election Day.
Two liquor bills have made their appearance. One introduced by Representative Vanderveen, of Grand Rapids, amends the general liquor law so as to permit saloons to open on election days after five p. m. The other belongs to Representative Anderson and is intended to prevent minors from entering saloons, a fine of $25 being provided for each offense.

Onaway Gets Circuit Court.
Senator Ming introduced a bill to give Onaway, Presque Isle county, two terms of the circuit court every year, providing the citizens secure a suitable building and erect a jail. Rogers City is the county seat and all the sessions of the court are now held there.

Trying to Evade Taxes.
The owners of the Au-Sable & Northwestern railroad filed on January 21 with the secretary of state a notice of the dissolution of that company. A certified copy of such notice of dissolution has now been served on the state tax commission, and an attempt will be made to evade the payment of the taxes assessed by the commission because of such dissolution. The points will be permitted to decide where the owners of the road can claim exemption from taxation by dissolving the corporation.

Auditors Must Look Out.
It took the house committee on towns and counties about ten minutes to report favorably on Representative I. Koenigs' bill providing that county auditors cannot hold office more than two terms in succession. Representative I. Koenigs made the point that it is un-Republican to place a life term on any office and he pointed out that town and county offices are subject to the restriction asked for in his bill. Members of the committee thought the point well taken.

SWALLOW'S FLIGHT IS RAPID.
Speed of 128 Miles An Hour Determined in an Experiment.

The French scientific weekly, Cleret Terre, prints an interesting article about the speed of several birds, as observed by August Vershcurin at Antwerp. The rapidity of flight credited to the swallow (290 feet a second) seemed exaggerated to him and he undertook some experiments on his own hook.

He sent several baskets of pigeons to Compeigne, France, and in a separate cage a swallow which had its nest under the eave of the roof of the railroad station at Antwerp. On November 7, at 7:30 in the morning, all the birds were liberated at Compeigne; the swallow took a northern direction as quick as lightning, while the pigeons made several spirals in the air before they started in the same direction. The swallow arrived at its nest in Antwerp at 8:25, a number of witnesses being present at its arrival.

The first pigeons only arrived at their destination at 11:30 of the same morning. The swallow had, therefore, covered the entire distance of 146 1/2 miles in one hour and 15 minutes.

TONIC IN A SUN BATH.
In Most Cases Better Than Any Medicine Taken Internally.

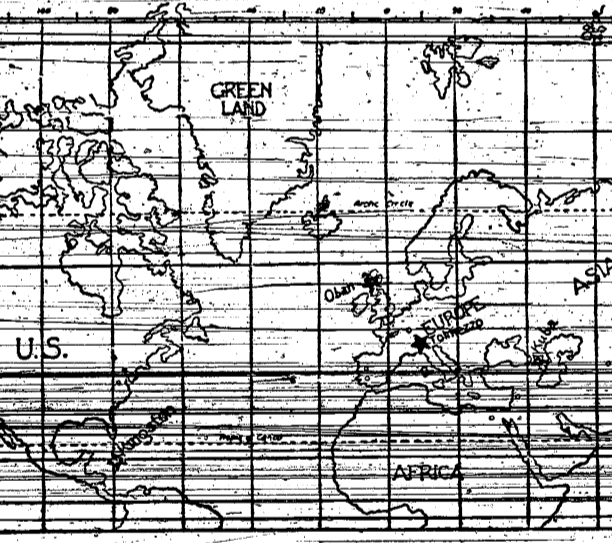

Some one called the sun God's anti-septic and sterilizer, and certain it is that not half the people on the earth realize how large a part sunshine can play in cleansing, purifying and making whole.

No one can overestimate the value of a sun bath, and each year you see an increased number of children wrapped up from the cold and comfortably tucked into the perambulators on the sunny end of the piazza, getting the benefit of this greatest of nature's tonics.

Sun-baths that are taken as a remedy for rheumatism, or to ward against sleeplessness, have better effect if they are followed by a warm sponge. If they are taken for any skin disease (and in such troubles they are exceedingly valuable), they should be followed by a warm bath.

Every winter there is no special disease to fight, but the sense of languor and fatigue, and a run-down nervous system; the sun bath will do good work—better than medicine.—Boston Herald.

NEW IDEA FOR INVENTORS.
Something the World Needs and Would Pay Well For.

"Inventors would get untold jobs of free advertising if they would give to their inventions names rhyming with some one of our 5,000 rhymeless words," an editor said.

"Take the word 'silver' rhymes no rhyme. It is a stumbling block to every poet. The poet uses it at a line's end and then has to destroy the line because there is no rhyme for it. Suppose, as he sought frantically, an invention called the 'diver' appeared. Then, in order not to lose his line, the poet would drag in the new invention, thus giving it an ad worth $5 to $10, an ad like this:

The moonlit sea, a sea of silver, As perfect as a perfect diver. "Do you catch the idea? Yet our inventors exercise their best talents in a new aeroplane a 'wolf' to rhyme with 'cof' a few soundless typewriter a 'gorange' to rhyme with 'orange,' a home-rec-making machine a 'kull' to rhyme with 'gull,' and so on."

Business Women of a Maine Town.
If Norway ever should have a mayor the chances are ten to one a woman would hold the office. This Oxford county village of 1,500 inhabitants has more than a dozen women managing progressive lines of business. The town physician is a woman. A woman is justice of the peace. A woman manages a dry goods store. Another is photographer, a fifth is bank cashier, a sixth is an undertaker, and still a seventh is an insurance agent. Until her recent resignation Rev. Caro-

Fact and Fancy for Little People

A PUZZLE FROM THE ENGINE YARD

Most boys are interested in locomotives and railroading and will take delight in working out the following problem, and perhaps the girls would like to help. The accompanying diagram represents the engine yard of a railroad company. Cut out the eight locomotives and place them upon the numbers in the diagram corresponding to the numbers on the locomotives. These engines are only allowed to be stationary at the nine points indicated, one of which is at present vacant. It is required to move the engines from point to point one at a time in 7 moves, so that the number of the engines shall be in numerical order around the circle, with the central point vacant. But one of the engines has had its fire drawn, and therefore cannot move. How is it to be done? And which engine remains stationary?

A PARLOR TRICK

How You Can Make Smoke Appear to Go Through a Glass.

We take it for granted that you do not smoke yourself, but it is just possible that your elder brother or your uncle may do so. If there is in your family any person who smokes you can turn this habit to good account by asking the smoker to help you perform a pretty little trick which will afford not only amusement but some scientific instruction.

The smoker is to undertake to blow smoke into a goblet which you have covered tightly with a plate or saucer.

It seems quite impossible, doesn't it? You put the plate on the goblet and at the same instant the smoker, standing several feet away, sends a vigorous puff in the direction of the glass, and lo! the glass is filled with a cloud of white smoke or what looks like smoke. But it isn't smoke at all; it is a cloud of fine particles of a substance known as sal ammoniac, or muriate of ammonia, or ammonium chloride, which you have probably taken, mixed with licorice, as a remedy for coughs and colds.

Sal ammoniac is a compound of ammonia and muriate of hydrochloric acid.

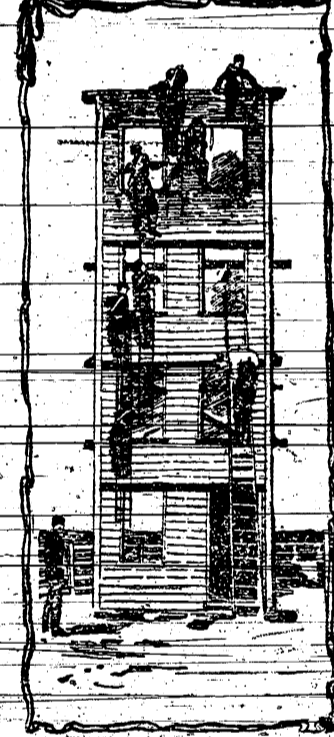

Now, how did this white powder get into the covered glass? It was forced there, explains Good Literature, because before you put the plate on you put a few drops of muriate acid in the glass and maintained the bottom with a little ammonia.

Now ammonia is really a gas. The liquid ammonia or "spirit of hartshorn" with which you moisten the plate is a solution of ammonia gas in water. Hydrochloric acid is also a gas, really, and the liquid acid which you put in the glass is a solution of it in water.

These two gases evaporate from their solutions, come together and combine to form the cloud of solid white particles of sal ammoniac which looks so much like smoke.

THE MAGIC GLASS.
Pour water into a wine glass until it is nearly full and place the palm of your hand squarely over the mouth of the glass, taking care to bend your

Boys' Life Brigade

Temporary House for Fire Drill.

A very original and useful organization for boys, which is making great headway in the Sunday schools of Great Britain is the Boys' Life Brigade.

This plan was chosen by a company of the brigade boys at the fire drill. A temporary house has been erected, and some of the boys are shown in the act of building it. The ladder and the bucket are imaginary burning rafters, while other boys are seen carrying from the "burning building" imaginary inmates whom they are supposed to have rescued.

Then, in connection with the fire drill is the ambulance work which all the boys are taught to do. This means, says the Los Angeles Times, that they will know not merely how to rescue people from burning houses, but also how to restore them to health and even life in case they have been injured or prostrated.

The boys wear a brigade uniform and many companies have made a great reputation for fire drill work. Wouldn't this organization be a fine thing for American Sunday school boys?

A Home-Made Toy.
Get two small wooden balls, paint them in bright contrasting colors, and fasten them to each other by means of a strong double cord of rubber. Twist the cord tightly by turning the balls in opposite directions, and then place them on the floor or on a smooth piece of ground. They will at once begin to revolve rapidly, and some pretty and curious figures will be produced.

"What a fool aphorism!" bawled the nervous man. "B'd'n't you ever hear of a bore?"—Detroit Free Press.

DENOUNCED BOON TO MANKIND.
Seventeenth Century Wicacres, Saw
No Good in Spectacles.

A certain English vicar made himself notorious by the vigor with which in the seventeenth century, he inveighed against the use of the newly invented optic glasses, since they perverted vision and made all things appear in an unnatural and therefore a false light. Microscopes and telescopes, with their array of lenses, he declared to be impostors, since a man could not see so well with two pairs of spectacles as with one. Some asserted it to be sinful to assist the eyes which were adapted by Providence to the capacity of the individual, whether good, bad or indifferent. It was argued that society at large would become demoralized by the use of spectacles; they would give one man an unfair advantage over his fellow, and every man an unfair advantage over every woman, who could not be expected on aesthetic and intellectual grounds to adopt the practice.

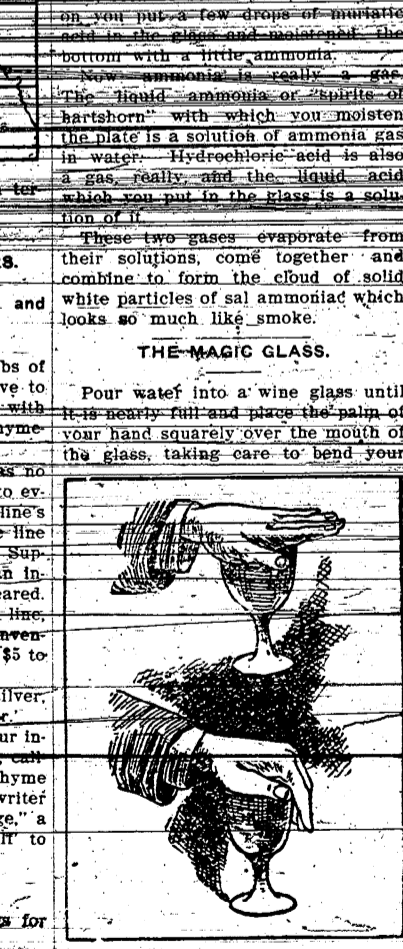

Only a twelfth as large as Holland, the little grand-duchy of Luxemburg is one of the most delightful of European countries. Yet it is almost always neglected by the tourist who travels from Paris to Berlin unconscious of its nearness; Luxemburg is free and independent, and according to Robert Shackleton, writing in Harper's Magazine for January, it is quaint and fascinating. It boasts free speech and a free press, it has free schools of commerce, philosophy, farming, gardening, manual training, and housewifery. But with all its modernity its ways are still old, and its customs characteristic, including an annual official hunt for wild boar, and when the city bells ring out the hours they play some operatic bit or a strain from a waltz.

Vendetta in Algeria.
A determined Arab vendetta has just run its murderous course at Fermaia in Algeria. A man named Fared-ben-Atissa had determined to kill a fellow resident of one of the mountain villages, named Hussein, who he hated and never went abroad without his gun. The other day the two men, both carrying loaded guns, met face to face in a quiet spot in the mountains. Instantly Fared drew his weapon to his shoulder and fired. Hussein fell, but rising, rapidly got his own shot in, Fared in turn falling, with a shattered thigh. He managed, however, to nerve himself for a second shot, and Hussein fell dead with his chest shattered. Fared will have to undergo amputation of the leg.

Peculiar Marriage Ceremony.
With the Jowans of India marriage is an affair of such importance. Should the parents object to the lover's advances, his friends rally, and abduct the girl. If the consent of the parents is obtained, three posts are planted, and between them the bride and bridegroom, with their intimate friends, assemble, and proceed to get intoxicated on a peculiar toddy. The young couple sit together, and receive frequent douches of turmeric oil, from gourds in the hands of wedding guests. Presents of all kinds, to propitiate the demons, are showered upon the contracting parties, and the close of the feast finds the whole set in a state of bacchanalian bliss. After this the parties are man and wife.
